Mr. Sidney Brownstein has just shown me an odd, part of cover showing use of one of our current special delivery stamps along with Italian stamps being tied by means of an Italian postmark. No doubt the special delivery stamp was placed on the package in order to insure special delivery on its arrival in America. From certain countries believe U. S. air mail stamps are used when the letter is to be transported by air mail in the United States. However, was the first time that I have seen the use of the special delivery stamp in this manner.

Playing Card Variety

Mr. E. F. Robinson has just shown me a playing card variety that has been noted heretofore, namely one of the regular 2c blue, Scott's No. 344 overprinted in red capital letters in the lines, "VIRGIN ISLANDS 4 CTS." I am inquiring from Washington as to whether special playing card stamps were prepared for any of the other colonies.

AUSTRALIAN COMMONWEALTH.—The bulk of the 1d and 1½d stamps sold across the counter at the General Post Office, Sydney, have been perforated 14, and we have been informed that the "13½x12½" machine is being held in reserve, and only used to perforate small lots of stamps when the other machines are in employment. We can hardly reconcile this suggestion with the statement made some time ago that the "14" machines were worn out, and urgently needed replacement. Our advice to collectors is to secure any new varieties immediately they appear, for there is no saying how short-lived their issue may be.—Australian Stamp Journal [vide "S.C." March 26th].—Stamp Collecting.

BERMUDA.—Whitfield King & Co. and Mr. R. Roberts report the appearance of the 2sh6p on script watermark. The printing is from the same plate as before.

BRITISH POST OFFICES IN TANGIER.—Mr. R. Roberts sends for chronicle copies of the ½p, 1p, 1½p and 2p stamps of Great Britain with the one line surcharge "Tangier" in Roman capitals at the base of the stamp, in black.

CANADA.—Mr. William Butler (Toronto) and Major Morell (Quebec)

kindly send us further news anent the Jubilee commemoratives foretold last month. The stamps are to be bilingual, as announced in the Parliament House, Ottawa, by the Hon. P. J. Veniot, Dominion Postmaster-General on April 6th. In reply to a question as to whether it was the intention of the Government to continue the issue of bilingual stamps in the future, he stated that the Jubilee Committee had passed a unanimous resolution in favour of the issue of bilingual stamps for the sixtieth anniversary of Confederation, but that "so far as their being for the future is concerned," that "is a matter for consideration."—Stamp Collecting.

CUBA.—The following new issues have been received from Mr. R. Roberts: 1c blue-green, 2c rosine, 5c deep blue, all 1925 type, imperforate, watermark star, 10c blue air mail, perf. 12½, watermark star. The watermark is a large broad star spaced about 25mm apart from point to point, both horizontally and vertically, so that a row of ten stamps of the ordinary size receives nine watermarks and a vertical column of ten receives about nine and a half, so collectors must not be too exacting to have the watermarks "well centered." Whereas the watermark on the large size stamps of the air mail denominations it is possible to get two entire stars, four halves, two halves or only half and a quarter of a star on one stamp.

CZECHOSLOVAKIA.—Our Prague correspondent intimates the impending issue of the 5 koruny denomination foretold in these pages last November; he remarks that he understands it is not in the Hradcany type, but has a new view of the Tatara Mountains as seen from above Stary Smokovec, one of the well known resorts in this region.—Stamp Collecting.

DENMARK.—We have had come to hand from Whitfield King & Co. and Mr. R. Roberts copies of the 7 ore on 20 ore red, 5 ore brown and 10 ore green, se tenant, printed in rolls for automatic machines.

ITALIAN COLONIES.—Whitfield King & Co. send us the following information under date of May 4th last: The Italian Militia stamps have been overprinted for the four Colonies, Cirenaica, Eritrea, Somaliland and Tripolitania, 40+30c brown and black, 60+30c lake and brown, 1 lire 25c+60c blue and black, 5 lire+2 lire 50c green and black. You will notice that the colours of the two high values of these surcharged stamps have been reversed for overprinting, that is to say the 1 lire 25c+60c blue and black is green and black for Italy and the 5 lire+2 lire 50c green and black is blue and black for Italy.

JAPAN.—Mr. R. Roberts reports the 1 yen, type of Scott's A36, in chocolate and pale green, perf. comb machine 13x13 1/2.

Mr. Roberts also informs us that the 2 sen, commemorative issue, has just been received in a pale yellowish green shade, very much lighter in color than the original issue.

KENYA.—Mr. R. Roberts and Whitfield King & Co. have shown us the 5c green and 10c black in the current design. Both are new colors in these values.

MALTA.—A Valletta dealer, writing to Mr. D. Hepworth on April 2nd, says:—"I have much pleasure in reporting that not a single value of the 'Postage' set is on sale at the Post Office counters now. The remainders of the 1d, 2d, 2 1/2d, 3d and 10s are to be destroyed. The first four values named were issued in the new design yesterday [chronicled April 16th].—Stamp Collecting.

MANCHURIA.—We have received from Whitfield King & Co. a copy of the 1 1/2c violet stamp of China, with a one line surcharge in native characters for use in Kirin and Heilungkiang. Our correspondent adds that they have seen 1c, 1 1/2c, 2c, 4c, 6c, 7c and 10c denominations but they have recently been informed that other values have also been overprinted.

MAURITIUS.—Mr. R. Roberts informs us of the 20c lilac, unicolor, King George type, on white script watermarked paper, recently placed on sale in the colony.

NEWFOUNDLAND.—Mr. Frank F. Wills sends the following clipping taken from a St. John's paper of May 14th last:

Marshal Pilsudski. From the source we learn that a 50gr, in the illustrated, was announced for issue May 3rd.—Philatelic Magazine.

SOUTH WEST AFRICA.—Mr. R. Roberts sends for chronicle the 1/2p, Springbok, with overprint "Suidwes Afrika" on South Africa and "South Africa" on Suidafrika. Also the 4p triangular "South West Africa" slightly smaller type of lettering. The stamps of the latter are only received in single copies. Mr. Roberts advises that they are yet available in blocks.

UNION OF SOUTH AFRICA.—Mr. Roberts advises that following new issues have been received from this colony: new pictorial designs engraved and printed by Messrs. Bradbury Wilkin & Co., New Malden. All are inscribed alternately (reading from top left) "South Africa Postage" and "Suidafrika Posseel" 2p brown, purple and grey (Union Buildings at Pretoria); 3p green and black, (Residence of Prime Minister); 1sh bright blue and pale brown (Picture of pair of Gnus); 5sh green and black, (Ox-wagon at spanned). All are watermarked multiple Springbok head.

A new set of postage stamps will be issued about January, 1928, by the Department of Posts and Telegraphs simultaneously in London and St. John's. The proposed denominations and designs are as follows:

One cent—(Green) Map of Newfoundland including that portion of Labrador included in the Privy Council award. The border to be composed of the rose, thistle and shamrock.

Two cent—(Red) S. S. Caribou. Inscription, S. S. Caribou, 9 hours to Sydney, N. S.

Three cent—(Brown) Portraits of their Majesties the King and Queen.

Four cent—(Dark purple) Portrait of H. R. H. The Prince of Wales, Border, Prince of Wales feathers and motto Ich Dien.

Part I—Bureau Precancels

To collectors of these stamps, the new issues are not exactly a problem. During the month of February only 15 new varieties were ordered from six offices, all of whom previously were registered in the list of cities using Bureau precancels. The new perforation 11×10½ is easily told from the old 10×10, and adds much interest to the field. Collectors will do well to fill up on the perf. 10×10 stamps while they can be easily secured. With the specialism that is bound to arise in this group, perforations will come in for a great deal of attention. That fact, though not of interest to some, must bear direct influence on the prices of these stamps. The 7c, 8c and 9c will all be scarce in years to come and are a splendid investment at the present market quotations. The 1½c, 3c, 5c and 10c are now issued with the 11×10½ perforation, while the 4c, 6c, 8c and 9c are still current with the 10×10. The 7c is likely 10×10. During March, two new offices augmented the roll and 7 new varieties were ordered. Following is a list of the new issues to be expected, having been ordered from the Bureau during February and March.

February, 1927

Newark—3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10c ordinary.
Cleveland—7, 8c, ordinary.
Rochester—1½, 3c ordinary.
Davenport—3c ordinary.
Detroit—7c ordinary.
Tonawanda—1½c ordinary.

March, 1927

Indianapolis—7, 8, 9c ordinary.
New York—3c coil.
Saint Louis—2c ordinary.
Evanston—1½c coil.
Gloucester—1½c coil.

Part II—The Illustrations

Marshalltown, Iowa.—Replaces an electroplate of caps and lower case type, which always produced a neat and striking overprint, with a new style plate that is coming into prominence. Other cities now precancelling with a similar cancellation are Jacksonville, Fla., Los Angeles, and Kansas City, Mo.

Denver, Colo.—Which has had in constant use, the large U-1 style for 15 years is in receipt of a new plate. The illustrated cancellation is a decided improvement over the old and should result in a considerable saving of ink.

Sandy Creek, N. Y.—Differs only from Marshalltown in the fact that the type is lower case. However, I believe the cancellation to have been type-set locally, and not produced from an electroplate. I have seen it only on the 1½c perf. 10 rotary.

Part III—Miscellaneous

Ashville, N. C., has received its first electro. Prof. Gamber reports the cancellation to be of the same type as that of the new Denver.

Kent, Ohio, is using a new handstamp of thick capitals, spaced, between bars. The same general type is also in use at the following offices: Alva, Okla., Athens, O., Wooster, O., and Vale, Oregon.

North East, Pa., is precancelling with the U-53 handstamp. Have noticed it only on the ½ cent, which was shown me by Benjamin D. Hedding.

Millington, Mich., on the ½ cent, as well as Circleville, Kansas, are also shown to me by Mr. Hedding, and appear in the U-53 style.

Clarksburg, W. Va., has an U-5 electroplate, but is also precancelling with

WANTED TO BUY FOR CASH

We are short of the following numbers of United States stamps. We shall be pleased to receive any number of copies of these on approval at your best prices; good to fine copies only wanted, no torn or damaged ones can be used.

NINETEENTH CENTURY, USED

Numbers: 28, 31, 32d, 33, 35, 40, 42f, 49, 63, 64, 73, 84, 86, 87, 92, 93, 112, 113, 114, 134, 135, 137, 144, 148, 150, 165, 179, 190, 191, 213, 218, 227, 228, 229, 232, 238, 240 to 245, 255, 260 to 263, 276, 278, 292.

We need most of the unused nineteenth century issues if in good condition and with original gum.

TWENTIETH CENTURY

Numbers: 297, 298, 308, 309* to 313*, 315*, 316*, 318*, 321*, 322*, 325* to 327*, 328*, 330*, 339*, 341*, 342*, 350*, 351*, 354*, 355*, 356*, 357* to 358*, 369*, 388*, 399*, 401* to 404*, 407*, 419*, 421*, 423*, 438*, 440*, 446*, 447*, 456*, 457*, 458*, 460*, 461*, 462*, 464* to 478*, 519*, 520, 521*, 522*, 531*, 536*, 543*, 545*, 546*, 550*, 578*, 579*, 595*, 616*, 619*, 620*, 621*, 1456, 1459, 1460, 1461*.

Apart from the above numbers which we are especially in need of, we can buy practically everything else in these issues in singles, blocks, used and unused, etc., and shall be pleased to have your offer of these.

UNITED STATES REVENUES

Numbers: 3816, 3820, 3828, 3837, 3848, 3849, 3861, 3876, 3883 to 3900, 3903, 3908, 3910, 3913, 3914, 3916, 3917, 3919, 3925, 3926, 3927, 3946, 3948, 3950 to 3953, 3957, 3960, 3966, 3970 to 3977, 3985, 3994b, 3995, 4025, 4050, 4054, 4057, 4058, 4059, 4075, 4078, 4115, 4121, 4124 to 4127, 4144, 4145, 4147, 4149 to 4152, 4196, 4199, 4370 to 4373, 4501 to 4507, 4509, 4510, 4511.

Also United States stamps surcharged Shanghai and Postage Dues, numbers 2252 to 2266.

All lots submitted must be carefully sorted and arranged according to catalogue numbers. We cannot use mixed lots of very cheap stamps.

As we have stated before, we wish to buy practically everything in United States and the above numbers only represent a few of the stamps we are particularly in need of at the present time, to fill our stock out. We do not expect to buy good stamps for next to nothing, but are prepared to pay good prices for these.

the U-53 handstamp. Lexington, Va., which has done no precancelling since using a one line provisional type, hand stamped diagonally, in 1917, has now a handstamp of the U-53 style.

Hubbard, Texas, precancels are appearing in the U-51 type. Type I listed in the 1926 catalog, is probably a provisional roller cancellation.

Conclusion.—To Messrs. N. R. and W. B. Hoover, and Francis F. Greeley much credit is to be given for the compilation and publication of a very interesting little booklet called the "A B C of Precancel Collecting." It will introduce to any one the facts of the precancelling hobby and enable one to make an intelligent start. I shall be glad to forward, without cost, this booklet to any reader, upon receipt of four cents postage.

TEXAN ON TOUR

Mr. Edward W. Heusinger, San Antonio, Texas, whose allegiance to philately for many years has been unwavering, recently made a trip to Cleveland to attend a trade convention. A stay in Chicago allowed him the opportunity to renew acquaintances that were made in that city when he visited it in 1892. Thirty years ago, Mr. Heusinger was about as industrious a correspondent as could be imagined and he and some other collectors who were stimulated by his example placed his state in the live list of philatelic communities. Mr. Heusinger is a general collector who seems to ignore nothing as his albums contain postal cards, Russian and German locals, foreign revenues and other offshoots, as they are regarded today. The album problem with him is a difficult one, but he seems to have mastered it. Mr. Heusinger says that the convention of the Texas Philatelic Association held April 23, 1927, in San Antonio, was a pleasant occasion; and that in addition to the social diversions, exhibits that attracted favorable attention were made by Mr. Pfeuffer, German states; Mr. Flick, Hayti, and Mr. Heusinger, U. S.

ROBBERY IN NEWARK

We are advised by Dr. Samuel Konwiser that the Newark Stamp & Coin Company, 86 Park Place, was robbed early on the morning of May 25th. The criminals succeeded in breaking open the safe and they played havoc with its contents; and while the inventory of losses has not been made, it is evident that foreign stamps were not in the minds of the thieves as little in that class was taken. The total loss of about three thousand dollars was comprised largely of sheets of recent U. S. commemorative issues. For instance, a thousand sets of Lexington-Concord in sheets and 2,000 sets of Wallon, etc. A general lot of U. S., mint and on cover was stolen in addition and several trays of coins and foreign bonds and stocks, as well, were among the missing items. Dealers and collectors should keep their eyes peeled for the culprits.

WELL WRITTEN

We are indebted to Dr. Homer P. Macnamara, Springfield, Illinois, for a copy of the Illinois State Register, dated May 29, 1927, wherein there is a readable article, headed, "Local Postoffice Worker Has Great Collection of Air Mail Stamps, Envelopes." That the account is a timely one is shown from the start; and we shall make way for a good part of it. The letter from King George's secretary is the best sort of material for collectors and the public, and the fact that the preferred cover was returned gives it a special news value, so to say. Judge for yourself:

"W. A. Steiger, chief information clerk at the local postoffice and personal friend of Captain Charles Lindbergh, is the proudest man in Springfield with one of the greatest collections of air mail stamps and envelopes in this section of the country. Not only has Mr. Steiger a large collection of air mail stamps and envelopes, but he has several letters endorsed by Captain Lindbergh himself while he was a pilot on the St. Louis to Chicago air mail route before making his epochal non-stop flight from New York to Paris.

The prize of the collection and one of the most interesting letters ever collected by a stamp fan is an air mail letter addressed to His Majesty King George V of England and containing the signature of Captain Lindbergh as the pilot that sent the letter on its way. The letter, one of the first air mail consignments to be sent from this city is encased in one of the Abraham Lincoln envelopes with a ten-cent air mail stamp plate 18248 and a special Lexington-Concord five-cent stamp commemorating the one hundredth anniversary of the famous Lexington-Concord battle of the Revolutionary war.

The letter containing greetings to His Majesty from Springfield and also an air-mail route map of the United States was received and the envelope returned to Mr. Steiger together with a letter from the secretary to the king which was as follows:

WINDSOR CASTLE, May 2, 1926.

"Dear Sir:

"I am commanded to express the king's sincere thanks for the autographed envelope and stamps of the first flight of the Chicago to St. Louis route, air mail, which you so kindly sent his majesty. As, however, the king's collection is restricted to stamps of the British Empire, his majesty will not deprive you of these interesting specimens and I am therefore returning the envelope by registered post. The king further thanks you for the air route map of the United States of America forwarded with your letter of April 15.

"Yours very faithfully,

"Stamfordham,

"Secretary to the King."

Due to the philatelic value of the letter in addition to Captain Lindbergh's signature, Mr. Steiger has been offered to name his own price for the letter by

LINDBERGH

On one of the planes which carried the mail on the first flight over the St. Louis-Chicago air mail route, Charles Lindbergh was the pilot. Now that Lindbergh has become so famous by flying from New York to Paris, covers which he carried on this first contract air mail flight are of greatly enhanced value.

You may have one of these covers in your air mail collection. If you will send me a stamped and addressed envelope I will tell you how they may be identified.

CHAPTER A. P. S. No. 18, NOMINATES

At the meeting of Philadelphia Chapter No. 18, held Wednesday evening, 25th, the following nominations and commendation were made:—

President—A. H. Wilhelm, Calif.
 Board of Vice-Presidents—Wil-
 C. Kennett, Jr., Gustav M. Mosler, Leon Tedeshe, all of Ohio.
 Secretary—Dr. Holland A. Davis,

Treasurer—Howard H. Elliott, International Secretary—Eugene
 Pa.
 Directors at Large—Dr. J. B.
 Henden, N. Y., and Dr. S. G. Keller,

It was recommended that in the future,
 desiring the Convention, be placed the ballot the same as officers and for by the membership at large,
 saving the time of the Convention giving the members a direct vote on very important piece of legislation.

Chapter 18 endorses Philip H. Ward, plea to the Postmaster General Governor Fisher of Penn., for a "Squid" Commemorative Stamp for Vey Forge, one of the great shrines American Independence.

Chapter 18 further suggests to the Postmaster General a stamp or set of stamps to commemorate the great explode of the "Columbus of the Air,"

Cat. Charles Lindbergh, as a fitting tribute to that intrepid United States Air Pilot.

Mr. Eugene Lindaner was unanimously elected as Assistant Sale Manager of Chapter 18.

Mr. Eugene Klein, our able expert, gave us an explanatory talk about the
 and wonderful "Violet Rays Lamp" which detects all mended and repaired
 stamps and brings out defects no magnifying glass can detect. Mr. Klein generously offers the services of this lamp to all A. P. S. members at a reduced rate to examine and expert any of their stamps that they may doubt.

It was unanimously voted to take out a Life Membership for Chapter 18 and the Secretary instructed to send a check to Secretary Davis.

UNITED STATES CANCELLATIONS, 1870-1900

By DR. WM. EVANS, 313 E. Freemason St., Norfolk, Va.

The first one shown above was sent by Mr. Karl Koslowski. Of course it's not all there. It is on a pair of 6c Continental stamps and is so different from any other registered cancellation that it may well be unique. Can anyone tell us anything about it?

The next two are on stamps later than 1900, but are so odd that the temptation to show them was too great. The little square containing the letters and figures is on a 1c 1917. Looks like some of the numbers on automobile license plates, but of course it's not. The next one is on a 2c and 10c 1922 on a small piece of cover, not large enough to show anything except the stamps, with this purple cancellation on them. Why anyone would cut such an item as this out of the cover carrying it is a mystery. A few years ago, before postal markings were specially noticed, it might have been expected, but in these days it seems strange that all the identification marks should have been removed.

Can anyone send duplicates of either of these on covers or tell us anything about where, why, or when they were used.

They were sent by Mrs. Wm. Hudgins, who also sent the next four, and several other interesting items.

The 4th and 5th are on 2c 1890. The reversed S is just another example of the mistake made by someone who tried to save money by whittling out his own.

The 5th is in purple ink and while it is somewhat similar to other barred elliptical cancellers of the period, differs in the fineness and number of the horizontal lines. Can anyone tell where it was used, or show a cover on which it appears?

No. 6 is on a piece of cover postmarked
 Ulysses, Nebr., and the stamp is also a 2c 1890. The Z is probably the initial of the postmaster and this letter is seen so infrequently that it is worthy of notice.
 No. 7 is on a 2c 1895 on a piece showing the postmark Stockham, Nebr. These markings seem to indicate that the postmasters out in that state were not in a hurry to abandon their individuality and permit themselves to be swallowed up by the wave of standardization emanating from Government circles in Washington.
 Many of us would be glad to see some of that standardization displaced by some of the old-time freedom of choice now.

The last illustration was sent by Mr.
 George R. Cooley and is on a cover postmarked Westford, N. Y., and is one of the very few examples of the use of the Odd Fellows' emblem known. It must be rare from this little town. The stamp is a 3c 1857.

Referring to the "Ever Green" cancellation shown a short time ago, Mr. A. C.
 LeDuc writes that he remembers having seen it, and thinks it was in connection with the Columbian issue or some of them. He suggests that it may have been used at the Ever Green School for the Blind at Baltimore, where there may have been a branch post office or sub-station.
 Here is a chance for some of our Baltimore collectors to do some investigating
 "for the good of the order." Who will volunteer? It ought not to be a very strenuous assignment, since it was not such a long time ago that it was used,
 and there could well be some one or more people connected with the institution who were there at that time and could tell at once whether this surmise
 on the part of friend LeDuc is correct or not.

HISTORY ON SWISS STAMPS

By WILLIAM BORK.

There are few countries whose stamp issues present as nearly complete a history as those of Switzerland show of theirs. The main postal issues of the country have some claim to historical value, but it is in the semi-postal issues that one can find the greatest wealth of background upon which to base a study of the country's history. On these stamps
there are shown twenty-five different shields, in addition to a number of copies of the federal shield. Behind each one of these is an interesting history,
if one can search it out. My work along this line has so far been elementary and only on the surface in nearly all cases,
but already it is complete enough to give a short history of the country as it is today composed of French, Italian and German peoples.

How many Americans know that their present system of referendum on laws was put into practice successfully almost a century ago in Switzerland and was the outgrowth of the district assemblages
of landowners whenever an important question was to be considered. I found this out when I first began to investigate Swiss history.

The earliest written history of Switzerland is to be found in Caesar's commentaries in which he tells of the Helvetic campaign and in other works of Roman writers. From here we have a story of many invasions by less civilized people and then the feudal state of the middle ages during which time the whole or most of modern Switzerland was part of the Holy Roman Empire. In 1291 came the formation of the Forest cantons in a perpetual league, which was the nucleus of today's Switzerland.

This first league was formed against Austria and the first test of strength came in 1315, when the Hapsburg family sent a great force of armored knights to subject the revolted Swiss. These troops attempted to enter the forest cantons by way of the pass of Morgarten, and were very badly defeated by the Swiss patriots, who first let loose a deluge of stones and tree trunks on the oncoming host and then charged on them with their lances

made by tying scythes to their alpen-stocks. The next great Swiss victory was at Sempach, in 1386, where they showed Austria they meant to keep their freedom. At the time of the battle of Sempach there were eight cantons. In 1513 there were 13 cantons. The Swiss were then recognized as the greatest pike-men of the world. They had defeated Charles the Bold of Burgundy and his forces twice in 1476, at Granson and Morat (Murten). And in 1499 their independence of the empire was practically
a reality, although it was not until 1648 that it was formally granted by the Treaty of Westphalia.

During the fifteenth century the Swiss fought not only in self defense, but for conquest. In this way they gained control of Aargau, Thurgau, Tessin, and then by consent, other cantons were added as confederates, but not as cantons
with a vote in the central government.
The Reformation caused not a few struggles within the country, and for a time,
east and west Switzerland were divided on the question of Protestantism and Catholicism. International difficulties with government and religion kept them occupied until 1798, when the French seized
the whole country and formed a territory of it, called the Helvetic Republic.
It was closely allied with France and its "directors" were practically named at Paris. In 1815, by the treaties of Vienna, Switzerland was granted her independence. In 1830, at the same time as the French revolted, the Swiss undertook a wholesale "housecleaning" which was about completed in 1848 when the 19
whole cantons and 6 half-cantons set up stable "state" governments and took on their present form.

The coats of arms on the charity
stamps are as follows:

Purchase of the
FRANK H. ALEXANDER COLLECTION OF British North Americans

I have to announce the purchase of this large collection formed during many years
by Mr. F. H. Alexander of Winnipeg, Canada.

In Canada the collection contains stamps down to about 1900, in Newfoundland to 1911 and in British Columbia, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island, up to Federation.

This collection is a very large one, specially strong in all old issues in great quantities, in unused, used, and fine old stamps on covers. Selections of any issue or country can be sent on approval. Please state just what you want to see and I am sure I can please you with quality and price.

CANAL ZONE--MORE ERRORS

By HARRY E. HUBER.

Panama overprinted stamps and stationery which had been used in the Canal Zone for almost 20 years (from December 12, 1904), as the result of the modus vivendi promulgated by Secretary of War, William H. Taft, at Panama City, on December 3, 1904, were replaced on July 1, 1924, by U. S. stamps and stationery similarly marked.

The first consignment of stamps overprinted "CANAL ZONE" (flat "A" type) in two lines horizontally, by the Bureau of Engraving & Printing, Washington, D. C., was received on the Isthmus early in 1924, and comprised quantities estimated by the Director of Posts of the Canal Zone, as sufficient for a year's needs, $109,250. Panama overprinted stamps to the value of $93,523.29 and $95,458.07, respectively, were sold in 1923 and 1924.

* The $1 was printed in sheets of 200; the other values in sheets of 400.

As the design is treated vertically on the 1c to 15c, and horizontally on the 30c, 50c and $1, two sets of overprint plates, spaced differently, were required. No errors have been reported on the horizontal, and only three on the vertical rectangular stamps of the first printing.

1c Overprint Inverted.—As all the vertical rectangular stamps were overprinted in imperforate sheets of 400 before being perforated and separated into Post Office sheets of 100, originally there must have been a complete sheet of 400 of the 1c with inverted overprint. However, the only errors known are from the sheet of 100 sold by the Cristobal Post Office in March, 1925.

1c and 12c CANAL normal, ZONE Inverted.—This error occurred on No. 30 of the lower left pane of the 400 stamp sheet. As 2,500 sheets of (400) of the 1c and 125 sheets (of 400) of the 12c were overprinted, 2,500 and 125 respectively of these errors should exist, if all sheets were overprinted from the same overprint plate, or if the plate was in this defective state throughout the printing of these two values. That it was not so is evident from the fact that only 100 of the 1c errors are known, and a considerably less number of the 12c. The former was reported in October, 1925, and the latter in June, 1926.

For more detailed particulars of the errors in the first consignment, reference should be made to my article in the M. W. S. N. of July 25, 1926. No further errors have been reported in this printing, nor have any new facts concerning these three errors come to light.

On all stamps of the first consignment, vertical as well as horizontal rectangular in shape, the letter "A" of "CANAL" has a flat top, as distinguished from the sharp "A", which made its first appearance on the 3c issued June 27, 1925.

Between July 1, 1924, and June 30, 1925, stamps to the value of $218,500, almost a two years' supply, comprising 5,780,000 postage, and 130,000 due stamps, were dispatched to the Isthmus from Washington:—

* The booklet stamps were printed in sheets of 360 and issued in October, 1925.

The 1/2c and 1 1/2c were issued on April 15, 1925, and the 3c and 14c on June 27, 1925. All four, vertical rectangular in shape, were overprinted on imperforate sheets of 400 (in red on the 1/2c and black on other values), before being perforated and separated into Post Office sheets of 100.

Actual sales of overprinted United States stamps for the year ending June 30, 1925, amounted to $110,014.08, in which sum were included sales from the original lot received early in 1924, as well as from those which came to hand during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1925.

In the fiscal year ending June 30, 1926, the sale of Canal Zone overprinted U. S. postage stamps amounted to $113,657.74, and in the same period 2,370,000 ($76,400.) postage and 150,000 ($6,500.) due stamps were received from Washington.

EDITORIAL

It has remained for Arthur C.
Lueder, postmaster of Chicago, to institute a progressive step that will rebound to the benefit of the public and we should say that he is the first officer of high standing in the postal department to realize that the story of the postal service has its fascinations for the people. Postmaster Lueder has been quick to see that the task of interesting
the public in the affairs of the post office,
a work to which he dedicated himself
soon after he was appointed to office,
could be effected more readily by clothing his story in appealing guise. Dismissing the matter-of-fact tone that in-

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

A New Department

IN

SCOTT'S MONTHLY JOURNAL

ON

SPECIALIZED U. S.

In order to meet the growing need for accurate information regarding United States postage, we have instituted a new Department in Scott's Monthly Journal, devoted exclusively to Specialized U. S.

This will be a regular feature of the Journal, in addition to our many other features and noteworthy articles. Mr. Herman Toaspehn has agreed to take over this Department, and all additions and corrections affecting the Specialized Catalogue of United States Stamps will appear monthly. The importance of this to collectors of U. S. is readily apparent. All basic designs from which cancellation listings are made, will be illustrated. In cases of varieties, etc., same will be illustrated as far as possible and accurately described.

The April issue carries the first of these articles. Subscription to Scott's Monthly Journal is $1.00 a year, and we urge immediate subscription in order not to miss any of this new series. Be sure to have your subscription start with the April issue. [if have expressed which, in effect, are that the account of our postal growth is one to engage the ear of almost anyone and we are glad to see the evidence of action as submitted by Mr. Lueder in the following circular that he has issued from the Chicago post office.

* * *

The hope arises that the post office department may find some way by which it could secure the services of lecturers
upon its past, present and future accomplishments, who would be available for dates before luncheon and other clubs.
A talk of the kind could be polished off
so that it would prove much more acceptable than some of the addresses that are given by speakers. We hope the time will come when the demand for special talks on postal topics will be the rule rather than the exception. This is the Lueder letter: "Our educational work in the schools has aroused such interest in the postal service that many of the instructors are assigning it to the students
as a subject for themes. This is particularly true in high schools. A few days ago, a young man in search of material
asked when the special delivery service was begun. In digging up the data for him, we came across the following information about the postal service which we think will be as interesting to you as it was to us. Following are the dates on which the most important features of the postal service were adopted:
Postage stamps—July 1, 1847. Embossed stamped envelopes—July 3, 1853. Registered matter—July 1, 1855. Newspaper wrappers—February 1, 1861. Free city delivery service—July 1, 1863. (The above date is in dispute. Which is it, 1863 or 1864?) Domestic money orders—November 1, 1864. International money orders—September 1, 1869. Postal cards
—May 1, 1873. Pound rate of postage for newspapers and periodicals under second class entry—January 1, 1875.
Special delivery service—August 4, 1886.
International parcel post—September 15,
1887. Free rural delivery service—July
1, 1897. Postal savings system—August
1, 1911. Domestic parcel post—January
1, 1913. Air mail service—May 15, 1918.
Although postal service of some sort has existed since the dawn of civilization, it is interesting to note that every one of these additions, now considered essential parts of the service, has been in operation less than eighty years. It is indeed an interesting field of speculation to contemplate what progress shall take place in the next eighty years and what our contribution to that progress will be."

* * *

In view of the query marking the date of introduction of free city delivery service, in Postmaster Lueder's compilation, the following summary from the Act of March 3, 1863, applicable to
"letter-carriers" seems to establish 1863
as the year of the adoption of the system: Letter-carriers shall be employed as the Postmaster-General shall direct, at a compensation not exceeding $800 a year, which may be increased to $1,000
at offices where the income will allow,
on proof of the carrier's fidelity, diligence and experience. Carriers must give bond. Deliveries shall be made as frequently as the public interest shall require. No carrier's fee or extra postage shall be charged on letters delivered or collected by carriers. Separate accounts must be kept of the expenses of the carrier service, and of the receipts
from local mail matter; and all such expenses must be paid from the income of the office employing the carriers." We think that it has been definitely settled that 1863 was the year in which the delivery plan was placed in operation. In Rees' "Footprints of a Letter-Carrier," published in Philadelphia in 1866, we read that subsequent to the passing of this Act, in 1862, attempts were made to have the $800 replaced by $1,000, "urged by applicants in consequence of the high price of provisions." However, the carriers were not encouraged in their demands, because "in 1864 they were coolly informed that there were plenty of people outside ready to step inside at the same salary." If the statement is true, it is one that was cavalier enough when directed at a group of alert and intelligent men who work with a will.

The Lindbergh achievement of the century has not been without its ripple
on the placid waters of philately; indeed,
it may be said that it has started a wave
that may gain momentum as it goes along. The following communication from A. F. Henkels, president of the Philadelphia Stamp Club, was received and the briefest mention was made of the news in last week's paper: "At the

There has been a huge volume publicity given by the newspapers
otherwise to air mail covers that w-signed by Lindbergh as pilot when was a flier on the St. Louis-Chicago route that started business on April 1926. In five different newspapers h-illustrations been seen of such envelo-
which now possess an overwhelming terest and of which comparatively are available. Perhaps a single do-would be too liberal an estimate of number. Chicago and New York ne-papers have shown reproductions
these covers which were accompanied text more or less appropriate to the casation. In Chicago, Mr. A. Hippand Mr. Max Golding are proud own-of covers that are now in their hey-
and which were flown on the first d-April 15, 1926, to Peoria and Chic-respectively, from Springfield, Ill-
Both of the envelopes bear the endor-ment of William H. Conkling, Postmter of Springfield, Ill., and C. A. Libergh, Pilot. Too, Mr. Golding has letter that was carried by Lindbergh September 15, 1926, when his plaburned and he jumped thousands of f-near Ottawa, Illinois. The plane was wrecked, but the mail was saved; and salvaged letters were stamped to sh-that they had come a cropper. As w-the Lindbergh letters were in great mand as window displays. Captain Libergh little knew that his signature w-
make the letters that he marked in t-wise, worth their weight in gold.

Cayman Islands

A group of three small islands (Grand Cayman, Little Cayman and Cayman Brac) in the Caribbean Sea under the government of Jamaica, from which they are about 200 miles distant. They have a total area of 225 square miles and a population of about 6,000. The islands were discovered by Columbus in 1494 and named "Las Tortugas" by him on account of the numbers of turtles found there. Turtle fishing is still the staple industry of the islanders. Prior to 1900 this small group managed without its own postage stamps, but in that year special 1/2d and 1d values were issued, and these were followed by a more extensive set in the year 1901.

Cancelled-to-Order

A term applied to stamps which are sold in a cancelled condition, and which have never performed any postal duty. Whole sheets of stamps, usually with the original gum still adhering, are cancelled thus, either "by favor," for the benefit of collectors who insist on having used stamps, or so that the labels can be sold below face value. The issues of the British North Borneo Company from 1887 are notorious examples of the latter class of cancelled-to-order stamps. Sometimes, too, remainders have been cancelled so that they could be sold for a mere fraction of their original facial value, as in the case of the remainders of the St. Helena stamps. Fortunately, in the majority of cases, the marks employed for obliterating stamps of this kind differ materially from the cancellations applied to stamps which have been legitimately used for postal purposes.

Stamp News for the Juniors

Is there anything you want to know about stamps or stamp collecting? If so, write the editor. What would you like to see in this department? We have no way of knowing unless you tell us. Mr. Senior Collector, can't you give the boy collector about 50 words of encouragement along practical lines? Address your letter to the Beverly office.

Junior Activities

—Arthur J. Holmes says that he found a ten-cent green U. S., 1861 issue, on a letter and he intends to keep the stamp on the cover. The idea is a good one.

—Ray McMahon is only eight years old, but he has about four thousand stamps, including "some rare Japan." We hope that these Japanese are not the counterfeits such as are sold to tourists and others in Japan and elsewhere.

—Dwight G. Holtz wants to know what picture is on the 50c black of Peru; it represents the Lima post office.

—A junior, Lionel R. Richards, writes from London enclosing a half dozen or so British colonials asking that the stamps be given some boy in this country. It was not difficult to comply with Lionel's wish.

—Marvin Smith says that "when school is over he will have more time to give to his collection." That is the right spirit and we hope that Marvin passes for sixth grade.

—Juniors must give attention to condition because a few stamps in fine shape are more sightly than many more that are dirty and dog-eared. Common stamps in proper condition gain the respect even of the adult collector.

—Arthur Norris inquires whether the dog shown on the Newfoundland 1/2 cent is "some famous one." We have always understood that no particular dog posed for the portrait but that the animal is just a dog of the Newfoundland genus.

—Harry Garrett and Charles L. Loomis asks how to organize a stamp club among their friends; and we refer them to recent instructions in this regard that have appeared recently in this paper.

—Donald G. Jacks sends a story of Papua that he wrote for our benefit that is based on a book that he read recently describing this remote region, which is interesting even though it has little to say about the stamps of British New Guinea, as Papua was formerly known.

—Carter Albright is informed that the official imitations of the stamps of Alsace and Lorraine were made in 1885 and that if his 1c unused came from a collection made before this date, it is probably genuine.

—L. L. G. is only eight, but he asks who the "ladies are on the Luxemburg stamps." In 1914, the portrait of Grand Duchess Marie Adelaide was shown and in 1921, that of Grand Duchess Charlotte.

—The boys of the Palmer Club of Chicago have voted to buy the great book on stamps recently published by the Century Company, "The Pageant of Civilization." It will prove good reading and money well spent.

—There are three sisters in New York, aged eight, ten and fourteen years, respectively, and named Dorothy, Mildred and Ann Stillman, each of whom has a stamp collection. They like this column and want to see more girls' names in it.

—Philip Stacy sends a Turkish stamp for identification and his mother encloses a note in the letter to say that she encourages Philip in his stamp work. She says that he has gained much information from his stamps.

—John Hebard was in Bahamas with his parents recently and had the satisfaction of buying many of the current stamps at the post office at Nassau, some of which he traded with boy friends when he returned home.

—School is nearly over and here and there a junior may lose interest for a time in stamps, but our advice is to put the album away carefully and not try to sell it or give it away. Soon, the old stamp longing will reassert itself and then the stamps will look better than ever before.

—A teacher wrote that she has her pupils who are collectors show her any of the new stamps that they get; and that she often uses their stamps as the basis for a talk.

He's for the Boys

Mr. Henry A. Diamant, St. Louis, recently was the subject of a large picture of himself and a page newspaper article in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat Magazine. A special writer discoursed on Mr. Diamant's long allegiance to stamps and paid him all sorts of honor as has been told on a previous occasion when we first spoke of the article. There is one point that cannot be too thoroughly emphasized and that is Mr. Diamant's sincere regard for boys and girls as collectors and he goes to great length to invite them to become stamp collectors. He has given many talks and lectures on stamps and he has broadcasted the merits of philately. We commend the last paragraphs in the interview to general notice:

"I am 65 years old," Diamant declares, "but I feel young and will remain young as long as I have this hobby, which is to me the best kind of recreation; and as long as I have contacts with boys who come to my house to learn about stamp collecting."

"A boy who starts a collection of stamps of different countries will soon want to know where these countries are on the map; he will want to learn where and under what circumstances the stamps were issued; and will often learn from the mottoes on the stamps much about the countries from which they come; so that stamp collecting is an educational thing, as well, for a boy."

Diamant is president of the St. Louis Stamp Collectors Society, and a life member of the American Philatelic Society. He is also a member of the Royal Philatelic Society of London.

"About the only thing that I have tried to collect during my lifetime is money," Diamant tells one, "and I don't suppose I have been as successful with that as with stamps."

Junior Dictionary

Drijvenda Brandkast.—This inscription on a set of Holland stamps of curious design indicates their use on letters of certain declared value mailed in sinkable receptacles aboard Dutch mail steamers. The words mean simply "Floating Safe."

D. B. P.—These letters found on certain Russian stamps stand for "Dobro Vostochini Respublika" or "Republic of the Extreme East." In the disintegration of Russia and the establishment of the Trans-Baikalian Government under Gen. Semenov, Russian stamps of old régime were surcharged with letters D. V. R. in Russian script which appear like the English letters indicated.

Eastern Siberia.—An alternate name for the "Republic of the Extreme East" for which postage stamps were first issued in 1921. They bear the name of the country in an inscription in Russian "Dalni Vostochini Respublika."

East of Jordan.—A region east of the river Jordan in Palestine inhabited by Bedouin tribes or nomads for whom stamps were first issued in 1920, consisting of Palestine E. E. F. stamps overprinted in single line Arabic, "Sharki Erdon."

E. & C. Bothwell.—Clutha Mills. In the 1868 issue of Canada, parts of these letters may be found as watermark. They indicate the name of the firm that manufactured the paper.

E. E. F.—These letters on stamps issued for Palestine mean "Egyptian Expeditionary Force." The stamps were used late in the World War through that part of Palestine in British occupation, comprising an area of 9,000 square miles, all west of the Jordan, or 5,000 fewer than formerly, under Turkish rule. Stamps were first issued Feb. 10, 1918.

Estimaa.—Estonia as expressed in native dialect.

Eesti Post.—"Estonia postage." Eesti Post Virumaa.—Estonian stamps with this inscription are said to have been issued for Virumaa, a district in Estonia occupied by the Bolsheviks for a few weeks in the winter of 1918-19. They were not regularly authorized and are not recognized as genuine.

Eesti Vabariik.—Found on stamps of Estonia and means "Estonian Republic."

Ekaterinodar Issue.—The stamps of South Russia, Nos. 20 to 49, overprinted and surcharged at the order of General Denikin and Wrangel in Ekaterinodar.

Eleja.—A name applied to a local set of stamps said to have been used at Eleja, Latvia. The credentials of the set do not warrant a belief in their genuineness. Date of issue is described as Oct., 1919.

Encomendas Postais.—"Postal Parcels," an inscription found on Portuguese parcel post stamps.

RHODESIA

We have much pleasure in announcing the purchase of the magnificent collection of the stamps of British South Africa, Rhodesia, and "B. C. A." on B. S. A., formed by Mr. Arthur B. C. Dyer.

The stamps occupy five large volumes, and include singles, pairs, blocks and strips, unused and used, with many varieties, and most of the rarities.

The proofs, essays, etc., fill two volumes, and form a unique collection, illustrating the various stages in the production of nearly all issues.

The proofs, etc., are offered for sale in one lot. The stamps are being dispersed, and we shall be glad to receive want lists, or to submit selections on approval.

particular significance in view of the part which Geneva took in the Reformation. John Calvin, Guillaume Farel and other famous Reformists had headquarters in the city of Geneva and the doctrines which were first set forth there spread further than those of Martin Luther. "Post Tenebras Lux" in the mind of Geneva citizens of those days and now, when Geneva is still one of the most modern cities of the country, represents the changes and awakening which took place after the Dark Ages and, more recently, after the Napoleonic Wars.—Scott's Monthly Journal.

THE IRRESISTIBLE APPEAL

By EDWIN B. HILL.

At the threshold, one might ask, in all simplicity, "What is charm?" It may be described as that indefinable something which grips the personality and makes for restful delight,—that indescribable something which calls each to his own—the fireside fisherman to his Walton,—the booklover to his books,—the collector to his stamps.
He who does not know the charm of stamp collecting has missed one of the greatest joys of life,—perhaps the most restful of all pleasures, considered from the standpoint of self. It is not to be inferred that self by this designation means selfishness. Preferably, it may be termed that part of one's inner consciousness dominant of culture, of which observation is the most direct attribute. Stamp collecting demands a fine appreciation, a tireless endeavor, an acute observation, a persistency and an integrity which make for character.
He who "collects" knows the eagerness with which the new catalogue is awaited,—the anticipated advent of a favorite philatelic paper,—the delight in the altogether unexpected auction catalogue,— and, greater than the greatest of these, the unsurpassed pleasure of garnering in one's album the gap-filling stamp which has long eluded one's search,—always King Midas permitting. These are all charms indescribable.

Which of us older collectors does not remember most pleasurably and with a thrill living unto this day the first "Cape Triangular" which came to him! The joy,—the well-spring of romance! And who can ever forget rummaging amongst old letters and finding perhaps one or two beautiful gems to add to one's growing hundreds! How the eyes glowed! How the pulses beat! The joy of it,—the rapture! One did not think then what constituted the charm of stamp collecting,—the charm was so much a part of the life that it seemed a bit of the very essence of being,—a cause of and for existence.

The charm of stamp collecting includes also the fellowship of brother collectors and the rare joy of exchanging. Here, perhaps, one garners a needed Newfoundland or New Brunswick, or Canada, giving in its place a duplicate "U. S." or some other equally desirable stamp, never with the bargain idea, but always with that of equity.

Another charm of stamp collecting is in the arrangement of one's treasures, especially if they are placed in a blank album. Here is display of one's artistic sense. How beautiful the pages! How altogether restful! And the "writing up!"

Many of the great collections are now coming on the market. Who would miss the charm which opportunity presents to possess a stamp from the great Crocker collection,—one of the commoner Cape triangulars, should one's likes tend toward those beautiful stamps,—or, a low-priced British North American from the Sussdorf garnerings,—some fine though not rare gem from the Osborne books,—or, a United States from the collection of the late Lord Crawford?

Of a rainy day, when one cannot be out-of-doors,—of a cold raw snowy and blowy day,—or, alas! when the ills that man is heir to confine one to one's room,—what solace and rare delight and charm one finds in stamps! And in the prisoners' camps at various points in the war zone, how the long hours are made to pass by the collectors who can at least talk stamps even if they cannot possess them.

A dissertation on the charm of stamp collecting would be incomplete were one to neglect the pleasure of passing on some of one's accumulations to those who appreciate,—to the more humble collector who perhaps loves his stamps even more than you and I,—loves them and feasts his eyes on them, and feeds his soul! Let us not forget this, our brother, nor be ungenerous with our gifts.

There is also the charm of stamp collecting wholly indefinable. It dwells in the soul-sense,—the spiritual part of one's nature,—that Inner Shrine of which no man speaks but of which each man feels and knows and from which he draws sustenance equal to his daily needs.

Here dwells the better part of us,—the charm,—the "sweetness and light" of life, the dream and the reality. This comprises to the full the charm of stamp collecting.

ATLAS STAMP CO. (P. C. Smith)
W. Somerville, Mass.

INVERTED CENTERS

At the present time I am especially interested in purchasing fine copies of the scarcer United States and foreign postage stamps, as well as United States revenue stamps with inverted center—only copies in fine condition are desired.

Whether you have one or a dozen varieties, kindly submit on approval with net prices, as I prefer not to make offers.

U. S. MINT BLOCKS

I also desire to purchase anything fine in the way of early mint U. S. blocks, as well as the higher denominations from 50c up of the later issues. Can use any of the 1894-95 from 10c up, any of the perf. 10 50c and $1 and especially desire the 1919 blue paper blocks, 4c, 5c and 8c.

U. S. COVERS

What have you to offer in the way of fine early covers—the rarer the better? My market has reached such proportions that I can use practically anything in the way of United States issues (other than envelopes) of importance.

Also offer to the collector a wonderful stock to pick from—correspondence from serious collectors solicited.

I have $5000 worth of early U. S. am going to close out at this big discount, so let me know the numbers in cat. you need, and I will make up a book especially for you, with as many of your wants included as possible.

I do not care to send out lots at this disc. unless you have at least $20.00 to spend on your collection. The profit on these goods at 50 off is not great, and unless I can sell at least $20 from a book I cannot afford to tie up the selection.

United StatesProposed Lindbergh Stamp

In this column last week, mention was made of the fact that Hon. Ernest R. Ackerman, Member of Congress from New Jersey, and a well known collector of United States stamps, wired the Postmaster General suggesting the issuing of a stamp in behalf of the trans-Atlantic flier. Mr. Ackerman favors me with a copy of his communication to the Postmaster General dated May 26th, from which I quote—

"Dear General New:—

I telegraphed you last evening as follows: "Because of Charles Lindbergh's postal service connections and as a fitting tribute to his intrepid courage I respectfully suggest Post Office Department immediately surcharge five hundred millions two-cent postage stamps "Hail Charles Lindbergh" and sell them to the public for three cents each the premium of one-cent on each stamp to be collected for account Red Cross Fund for Southern Flood Sufferers. Five millions of dollars for this worthy cause would thus be secured for those sorely afflicted Southerners while fittingly commemorating epochal flight instanter. Whole world would become purchasers."

Captain Lindbergh's gracious act in giving the 150,000 francs presented to him to the families of the missing aviators is only an additional evidence of his high character.

Secretary Hoover says the Flood damage will amount to millions. The New York newspapers report interest in direct flood relief subscriptions lagging. Your acceptance of my suggestion would put vigor into the relief work and at the same time the burden upon the people would be "Nil" while the whole population of the U. S. would be glad to have a souvenir of this momentous occurrence. It is fitting to commemorate those who have passed to the great beyond by using their likeness on postage stamps. Why can we not create a precedent and do something for one who lives, in the manner I have indicated, for he has not only greatly strengthened the bonds of friendship between two great nations, but has by his courage, modesty and good sense contributed much to the welfare of the entire world.

With assurances of highest esteem, I am—

Sincerely yours,

(Signed) Ernest R. Ackerman."

The Postmaster General was greatly interested in the subject and immediately had his assistants look up the law on the question. It had been decided that the Postmaster General has no authority to issue special stamps in this manner and in this way collect in behalf of the flood sufferers. It is believed that an Act of Congress is necessary to empower the Postmaster General to take such action. Under the circumstances, it is not thought at the present time that anything will be done in regards to a Lindbergh stamp.

Later on should the Department find necessary to issue a further air stamp, it is quite possible that such stamp will show the "Spirit of St. Louis" the famous aeroplane which took Lindbergh to Paris. A very pretty design could be gotten up showing a map of the Atlantic Ocean with New York on one side and Paris on the other, the plane in transit. If we establish air mail service with Europe and say that such a service is not in the distant future, such a stamp would be appropriate.

The Department regrets exceedingly that it cannot see its way clear to issue a stamp at this time, for never in the history of the Department has so many letters been received suggesting such variety. In fact, the whole country is anxious to see the Department honor young flier.

Revolutionary Commemorative Stamp

Since my report in issue of May 13 no further information is available relative to the stamp issued to commemorate the Battle of Bennington, which the Department will designate as the "Vermont Sesquicentennial Commemorative," the Burgoyne campaign variety. proofs as described are still awaiting formal approval and until this has been granted, the Bureau will not proceed with the making up of the plates.

In view of the fact that battles of importance are being commemorated, writer feels that the famous V. V. Forge campaign is worthy of commemoration. The 150th anniversary will be celebrated next year and I have addressed a communication upon the subject to Governor, Senators and one of the representatives of the State of Pennsylvania.

Senator David A. Reed writes the date of May 24th, "I think your suggestion is a good one," and that he will take it up with the Post Office Department at once.

Hon. George B. Darrow, Member of Congress from the 7th District of Pennsylvania, which includes Germantown, writes that he will be in Washington early in June and will take the matter up with the proper parties.

It is seldom that we have occasion to commemorate events of such importance and it would be an excellent idea if the Department would issue a commemorative series devoted to famous Revolutionary battles. This would answer numerous requests being received almost daily for a stamp to commemorate or that event.

New Rotary Compounds

Under date of May 28th, the last of the compounds was changed, so that from that date on, all of the rotary compounds turned out by the Bureau will be perforated 11x10½. Through error in my chronicle of May 30th, I overlooked mentioning that the 4c, which had previously been issued precancelled, had been placed on sale at the Agency in un-

Flood Mail

Mr. W. L. Gardner sends me copy of a communication he has received from the Chief Clerk of the Railway Mail Service at Little Rock, upon the subject of mail interruption due to the flood. We are informed that on April 22nd and 24th an aeroplane carried mail from Little Rock to Batesville, one round trip being made on each day. During the three days of April 21st to 23rd inclusive, seven round trips were made between Little Rock and Memphis. On April 22nd only, one round trip was made to Clarksville.

We are informed that mail carried by plane did not receive a backstamp or any other marking to indicate that it was handled in this manner.

Under date of May 25th, the Post Office Department announced that Mr. Glover, the Second Assistant Postmaster General, was in Lafayette, La., viewing flood conditions, and that the Department is endeavoring in every way to keep intact the line of communications between marooned refugees exiled from their homes, and friends and loved ones outside of the flood zone.

The Department is confronted with a complete breakdown in east and west communication across the seventy-five mile lake that was once the Mississippi, leaving Memphis, Tenn., as the farthest south crossing for the transportation of mail between points in the south and those in Texas and further west states.

The Sunset Route has been the only link between these points for several weeks and it is expected that this will be discontinued very soon, leaving New Orleans isolated from the west. The Department has key men scattered all over the flood region with instructions to instantly adopt all possible expedients to keep the mail moving.

Mr. Glover reports that post offices under water are being supplied with mail out of Opelousas, Port Barre, Hazelwood, Leonville and Arnaudville. Postmasters are at refugee camps and supplying patrons by general delivery. The postmaster at Swayze Lake gets all mail by boat from Melville, while Levert is supplied from St. Martinville. Should they be cut off from these supply stations, arrangements have been made for mail to be carried from New Iberia. Boat service from Melville via Simmesport to Hamburg is supplying all intermediate offices. The crevasse break at McCrea will put out of business all post offices in parishes of Pointe Coupe, West Baton Rouge, Iberville and Saint Martin.

Freak Envelope

Mr. George H. Quintard has submitted for inspection a most unusual envelope, namely, a 2c Manila circular die A, size 13, unwatermarked, and in addition to the 2c stamp, we find a 1c oval die on the back partly over-lapping on the front. This envelope would be unusual even without the extra 1c, for it is on a peculiar type of manila paper different from any I have noted heretofore. The envelope bears the privately printed imprint of the Franklin Trust Company, 166 Montague St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

ABYSSINIA.—L'Echo de la Timbro- logie announces the appearance of the 1g on 12g purple and grey.

ALBANIA.—L'Echo de la Timbrologie informs us that they have received the two highest values of the current set with the surcharge Achmed and his Laurel Wreath, thus completing the series. The values are the 3fr brown and violet and the 5fr violet and black.

BULGARIA.—Whitfield King & Co. write that they have sent a new 6 levas stamp in blue and drab on the same design as the recently issued 10 levas. Their correspondent informs them that the 30 stot. and 4 levas stamps recently placed on sale are now obsolete.

Philatelic Bulletin prints the following: "Type 1—Further values are foretold in the current L'Exchangiste Universel, viz., 30 and 50 stot. No further details yet at hand. The same journal states that the Postage Due stamps of the values 6, 10 and 12 leva will be issued shortly for official use. The values will not be sold to the public.

CHILE.—Mr. C. P. Carlson has sent for chronicle a letter carried on the first trip of the Valparaiso-Santiago air-mail service. The cover is franked by the 10c stamp of the Maipu Centenary issue surcharged "Correo Aereo" in a curved line at the top while at the base is "40 Centavos." Also there are two 5c stamps, one 10c, and two 20c stamps of the current issue used as additional postage.

CHINA.—Champion's Bulletin furnishes the information that two new provisionals will soon appear. They are the 9c on 10c and the 14c on 15c.

CUBA.—The Economist Stamp Co. have shown us a copy of a new 25c stamp issued to commemorate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Republic of Cuba. The stamp is of oblong format with a central figure of the shield of the Republic with two women, one at each side the one at the left with a trumpet in her left hand and the one at the right with a wreath in her right hand. At the top is the usual name of the country and "1902" in the upper left corner while the upper right has "1927." In each lower corner are the figures of value with the two line inscription "25 Anos de Republica" between. The color is violet.

DENMARK.—We are indebted to Mr. A. E. Pade who is at present in Aalborg for a copy of the new 7 on 200, red provisional. The date mark is May 16th last.

NETHERLANDS.—75th Anniversary Se- ries. The Echo de la Timbrologie confirms the report published in our issue of April 16, adding that the date of issue will be October 1st. On the other hand, Mr. P. Gordon, of Rotterdam, writes that nothing is known of the matter in official Dutch postal circles.

Red Cross Series. On March 5th we reported a coming Red Cross series, and on April 2nd we published a denial from Rotterdam. The "Echo," however, now confirms our original information, adding that June 15th will be the date of issue and that the colours and designs will be as under:

2+2c, orange and red (Queen Mother, Emma). 3+2c, yellow-green and red (William III). 5+3c, blue-green and red (Prince Consort). 10+3c, carmine and red (Queen Wilhelmina). 15+5c, blue and red (Red Cross Allegory). The printing will be large, except for the 3+2c, but no figures are stated.

LATER.—We learn that the Red Cross series was authorised by a Royal Decree of March 25th.

New Watermark. Experiments mentioned in our issue of March 5th have led to the adoption of a new watermark of short lines in multiple formation placed vertically, but no stamps on the new paper have yet appeared.—Philatelic Magazine.

POLAND.—The Economist Stamp Co. have shown us a new issue of this country in a 20gr value. The stamp is blue on buff paper and shows a youth with a lighted lamp in his hand. The name of the country is at the top and at the bottom within a frame are the words "Na Oswiate gr 5."

ROUMANIA.—Geographical Commemo- ratives. We illustrate the recent commemoratives by courtesy of Bright & Son.

Fiftieth Anniversary of Roumania In- dependence. According to L'Echo, a series will be issued during the current month commemorating the fiftieth anniversary of Roumanian Independence. It is understood that this series is being printed in Munich and will consist of twelve values, 25, 30, 50 bani, 1, 2, 3, 4.50, 5, 6, 7.50, 9 and 10 lei. Each stamp will bear the inscription, "(AL) CINCIZECELEA AN DE INDEPENDENTA," meaning "in the 50th year of the Independence."

The designs will be (1) Kings Charles and Ferdinand, (2) King Ferdinand in a medallion between two soldiers, and (3) King Ferdinand and a "labourer soldier."

Also new pictorial issue of Union of South Africa, printed by Bradbury, Wilkinson & Co., overprinted locally "South West Africa" and "Suidwes Afrika" vertically in two lines (both reading upwards: 2p brown purple and grey, blue overprint; 3p scarlet and black, blue overprint; 1sh bright blue and pale brown, blue overprint and 5sh deep green and black, blue overprint.

TUNIS.—Whitfield King & Co. send the following:

The ordinary postage stamps of 1925-26 have been overprinted with an aeroplane and the words "Poste Aérienne." 1 franc dark blue and blue; 1f.75c on 75c red; 1f.75c on 5 francs-violet and green; 2 francs green and red on pink. These stamps have been issued in small numbers in consequence of which restrictions have been put on the sale of the stamps and a few sets only are sold to each applicant.

DOMINICAN REPUBLIC: U. S. OCCUPATION STAMPS

The postal vignettes issued in the Dominican Republic between the years 1916 and 1922 have a particular interest for American philatelists, since they made their debut under the auspices of the United States military government.

American intervention became necessary in 1916 owing to the chaotic state of the country's affairs, and on November 29th of that year U. S. marines were landed at San Domingo and a military administration set up. Subsequent stamp issues were made under authority of the Military Governor, the first to appear being the 1/2c on 1c stamp in the Arms type overprinted "1916" in red.

Ever since the outbreak of the world war the Republic Dominicana had been cut off from its normal source of stamp supplies, i.e., the German Imperial Printing Office, Berlin, but in 1915 a local and provisional issue had been produced by lithography in San Domingo itself, modelled on the Berlin printed stamps of 1911, but with slight modifications of the design. Of the 2 centavos value there are two distinct types, the second being denoted by larger and clearer lettering and the presence of a white dot at the end of the word "DOS."

The practice of overprinting these stamps with the date of issue was adopted as a safeguard against counterfeiting. On the appearance of a new issue stamps bearing the last date were demonetized, but could be exchanged at post offices during a given period.

The first stamps issued under the U. S. Military Government, although dated "1916," were not released until early in the following year, being:—

1/2 centavo violet and black (500,000).
 1 centavo green and black (1,000,000).
 Both of these stamps are known imperforate. A further supply of 1c and 1/2c red-lilac and black.

 1c yellow-green and black.
 2c olive-green and black.
 5c magenta and black.

The 2 centavos alone is known imperforate. A solitary 2 centavos stamp overprinted "1919" appeared towards the close of that year: printing, 1,670,000. Authority for the printing of an annual supply of postage stamps in seven denominations was contained in an official decree quoted hereunder, but there seems to be some doubt whether the highest value, 50c, was ever issued with the date "1920."

"The Military Governor of Santo Domingo by virtue of the authority vested in him in accordance with Article 84 of the Internal Revenue Act and Paragraph 3 of Article XXX of the Constitution of the Republic, authorizes the impression of 9,110,000 postage stamps of the Arms design as set forth below:—

(Signed) R. N. FULLER, Brigadier-General U.S.M.C.

Provisional Military Governor of Santo Domingo.

Santo Domingo R.D., July 12th 1919."

A later Decree dated March 10, 1921, and signed by Rear-Admiral Thomas Snowden of the U. S. Navy, as Military Governor of Santo Domingo, authorised the impression of the following postage stamps, bearing the date "1921":—

100,000 of 0.0 1/2c.

2,000,000 of 0.01c (yellow-green and black).

3,000,000 of 0.02c (olive and black).

50,000 of 0.10c (Express Delivery).

Of these the 1 and 2 centavos and 10c Express alone appear to have been issued prior to the establishment of a Provisional Government, to whom the reins of authority were handed over on October 21, 1922.—Stamp Collector.

Balance July 1, 1926, $180,478.18

There were therefore on hand at opening of the fiscal year (1926-27) stamps to the value of $180,478.18 sufficient for a year and a half's issue.

In October, 1926, the Canal Zone Director of Posts requisitioned 200,000 of the 5c Ericsson commemorative stamp overprinted for Canal Zone use. Post Office Department at Washington, however, refused to fill the order favoring the overprinting of commemorative issues. The request for the printed Liberty Bell stamp was cancelled as it was desirous of giving the widest possible advertisement to the Centennial Exposition, and it was explained that acquiescence was not considered as a precedent.

About May, 1925, a new overprint was brought into use, with letters differently formed, and giving sharper, cleaner cut impressions than the original 1924 overprint plate. The difference most apparent in the letter "A" has a sharp pointed top instead of flat top of the earlier type. This overprint plate was first used for stamps issued June 27, 1925, which is not to be confused with the earlier or flat "A" overprint. That the 14c issued at the same time (June 27, 1925) exists only with the "A" overprint (as do also the 1/2c and 1 1/2c placed on sale April 15, 1925) evidence that the two types of overprint plates (flat "A" and sharp "A") were then being used concurrently.

Commemorative Lindbergh Air Mail Stamp Issued by Post Office Dept.

The activities of Hon. Ernest R. Ackerman have borne fruit and the Postmaster General has decided to issue a special 10c air mail stamp in honor of Captain Charles A. Lindbergh. The stamp will be of the same size as the current 10c air mail variety which it will replace. The following letter which I have just received from Mr. R. S. Regar, Third Assistant Postmaster General, tells the story:

"Referring to your letter of May 27, addressed to the Postmaster General and your letters of May 28 and June 4, in regard to the issue of a special postage stamp commemorating the epochal flight of Captain Charles A. Lindbergh, you are advised that the Postmaster General has authorized the issuance of a special 10-cent Air Mail stamp commemorating this event.

The stamp will be of the same size, 75/100 by 184/100 inches as the regular 10c, 15c and 20c Air Mail stamps now in use. It will be printed in the 10c denomination which is the first letter mail rate of air mail postage and the most commonly used. It will displace the regular design now issued to postmasters.

Across the top of the stamp in white Roman letters are the words "United States Postage" with the words "Lindbergh-Air Mail" directly beneath. At the left of the central subject of the stamp appears the coast line of the North American continent; on the right side the coast line of Europe showing Ireland, Great Britain and France. Directly across the stamp from the right appears the words "New York" and a dotted line depicting the course of the flight to France, ending with the word "Paris." Directly in the foreground of the stamp appears the engraving of Lindbergh's famous airplane, "The Spirit of Saint Louis," in flight. At the bottom of the stamp in shaded letters is the word "Cents" and in both lower corners are the white numerals "10." The stamp will be printed in blue, the same color as the 10c Air Mail stamps now issued.

The new stamp will be first offered for sale at Saint Louis on the date of the celebration of Lindbergh Day, which will be on the day of his arrival there. The definite date, however, has not yet been determined and I regret that I cannot give you any information in that regard. The stamp will also be available at the Philatelic Agency on the same date for the benefit of collectors. The first day of sale of this stamp will be given to the press at the earliest practicable moment.

In regard to your inquiry, you are advised that the stamp will not be available for distribution on June 11. The Department, however, is making every effort to have one impression available at that time in order that it may be presented to Capt. Lindbergh by the Postmaster General.

The Postal Bulletin, as well as special notices sent out by the Department and the daily press, has repeatedly called attention to the fact that arrangements have been made for the delivery of special mail addressed to Captain Lindbergh at Washington. Judging from the publicity that these notices have received, it would not be surprising if ten or fifteen bags of mail will be on hand to greet him.

The Postmaster General announced on June 2nd, that he had detailed Shirley J. Short and Harry G. Smith, air mail pilots formerly associated with Captain Lindbergh, to be on hand to greet the Atlantic flier upon his arrival.

Pilot Smith is one of the best known fliers in the air mail service and has flown practically all parts of the trans-continental route.

Lindbergh Stamps On Sale At 4 Offices June 18

Washington, June 10.—The Lindbergh airmail stamp, the first copy of which is being mounted in a special album for presentation to Colonel Lindbergh, Saturday, by Postmaster General New, will be placed on sale June 18, at four post offices and the Government's philatelic agency here.

The post offices will be at St. Louis, the home port of the Spirit of St. Louis, and a terminus of Lindbergh's old air mail route; Detroit, his birthplace; Little Falls, Minn., his boyhood home, and Washington, where he spent a number of years, while his father was in Congress. The stamps will be issued to other post offices as fast as the Bureau of Engraving and Printing can turn out a sufficient supply.

"Approval Want-Lists"

The system of special selections from want-lists inaugurated by me years ago and under which 80% of my business is done. It gets us both immediately to the point of business—a valuable asset in these days when time is so precious.

There are just three steps in the system:—

(1) You send your want-list of United States stamps.

(2) You send the names and addresses of your bank and two stamp dealers, if unknown to me.

(3) I will send your wants on approval with the privilege of returning any or all copies.

THE CANADIAN SURCHARGES

To the controversy involving the philatelic purity of the recent surcharges of Canada, the WEEKLY is permitted to make the following somewhat unusual contribution. We are not attempting at this time to review the surcharge as a de facto issue or seeking to asperse the Canadian postal officials, in their public capacity. The writer of the following explanation prefers that his name not be broadcasted; and naturally, his wish is respected:

To MEKEEL'S WEEKLY:

We read in the Kitchener Stamp Herald a reprint of the questions you submitted to the Canadian Post Office and their replies concerning the two-cent Canadian Surcharge stamp. While your questions were all correctly answered, it would lead most readers to believe that there was no real object in surcharging these stamps as there were plenty of two-cent stamps left as the reply to your first question states. The reader, after reading your questions and answers would still be under the impression that somehow these stamps were printed without a postal purpose or to satisfy the demand of some speculators or something of that sort. As we are in a position to know that they were printed for quite a real postal purpose and in fact were partly responsible, we believe, for the issue or rather made the suggestion to the Post Office. We believe that we can at least throw some light into the real reason for these stamps.

We had at that time some ten thousand closed letters going into the United States and some to foreign countries. We told the Post Office that we did not like to use the green two-cent stamps on these shut letters as busy executives to whom they were addressed were apt to take one glance at the color of the stamp which, in any other country would imply a circular matter, and discard that letter unread and unopened into the waste basket. No doubt quite a percentage of people would have done so without examining the letter close enough to see whether it was a closed letter and examining the stamp close enough to see that it was really a two-cent stamp.

As they could not fill our demand for a red two-cent stamp, we suggested that they might surcharge sufficient for us to be used. The request was forwarded to Ottawa and we were told that they would do so and heard later on that the stamps would be available on a certain date. When we called for them instead of receiving the stamps, we were shown a letter stating that the job had been done, but had turned out so miserably that they did not want them to go out broadcast into the mail and had destroyed the bulk of the printing, keeping a certain number of sheets of the best of them, (if we recollect right it said five hundred,) and were turning them over to the Philatelic Department to be sold. Apparently other people had made a similar request or they were expecting similar requests as they seem to have surcharged a great many more than the ones we asked for, but that incident will show that although there were plenty of two-cent stamps available, there was still a perfectly legitimate reason and demand in this special case for the surcharge being made and you can quite see our reason for having made that request to get a red two-cent stamp for closed letters into another country while we use a green two-cent stamp in Canada right along where they are known to be postage for closed letters.

NEWS GLEANINGS

—We have received a catalog of the 135th Auction Sale of Vahan Mojian Inc., which will take place Saturday, June 25, and Tuesday, June 28, at 298 Fifth Ave., N. Y. City. The catalog lists over 1,300 lots and contains two full page plates of photographs of some of the gems of the sale. The two Lindbergh covers to be sold June 28 are at present displayed at the corner of 39th St. and Broadway in Clemon's store. The covers were presented by himself to Dr. Radasch of Philadelphia.

—Cincinnati Collectors Club, Branch 2, S. P. A., held its annual election of officers at the Cincinnati Club, Thursday evening, June 2nd. The following were chosen officers for the coming year: Chester E. Wing, Pres.; John H. Cost, Vice Pres.; Clem A. Schmalz, 2021 Auburn Ave., Cincinnati, Sec.-Treasurer for three-year term; Walter F. Gibson, Corresponding Sec.; Leon D. Peaslee, Director for three-year term and H. W. Dunseth, Director for two-year term.

New Lindbergh Stamp

On the day that Colonel Charles Lindbergh arrived in St. Louis a new ten cent air mail was issued in his honor. It was placed on sale on the first day in St. Louis and Washington.

Colonel Lindbergh is the most talked of man in the world today. What souvenir of the world's greatest hero could be more acceptable to a philatelist than a cover bearing the Lindbergh stamp, mailed in St. Louis on the day of the home-coming of the famous air mail flier?

I offer this fine St. Louis Lindbergh souvenir cover, a first day cover of the new stamp from Washington, and an unused single, all for only $1.00. The two covers are actually flown air mail covers, much more interesting and valuable than the many first day covers of this air mail stamp which were not flown.

If you want copies of the new Lindbergh stamp to show and present your friends I will supply them in quantities of 25 or more at 10% over face value, plus postage. This is a wonderful chance to advertise philately to your friends by showing the connection between stamps and world events.

United States "Educators"

This is the name we give to a series of approval books designed especially for those who want to know more about the 19th Century issues of United States stamps and who are interested in filling as many as possible of those empty spaces with stamps that are presentable in appearance and correctly classified.

These "Educator" approval books have helped scores of collectors to find the missing varieties they were not so sure of identifying, and have further given them some idea of values as governed by condition. They are priced for what we think they are worth, perhaps twice catalog, or perhaps 1/4 of catalog according to the desirability of the particular specimen.

SENIOR "EDUCATORS"

Are similarly arranged, but designed for those who want only fine copies and who are willing to pay for superior quality.

Both series of "Educators" represent all 19th Century issues with considerable completeness. Ask for any particular issue that interests you, or start with the 1847-51 booklet and work through the lot.

SPECIALIZED SELECTIONS

Made up to suit individual want lists, and include varieties of cancellation, of paper, of printing, of shade. Pairs, strips, blocks, covers; whatever your speciality our stock is at your service and should be of some use to even the most advanced specialist. [H2]

The above miscellaneous cancellations are among the more interesting on our early U. S. stamps. The oddities are what catch the eye in cancellation collections, and some of these are very odd, and the majority of these are unusual, some being taken from the only copy I have ever seen. Our No. 1 is the sheep, this is quite unusual. Several tell me that they have seen copies of this cancellation, and that those seen are all on the grilled 3c of 1867.

No. 2 may be common to many towns. The only copy I have seen on cover being from Spencer. It is printed in the "washy" ink prevalent on late 3c greens, black with a little blue in the ink. No. 3 is a very odd little affair, coming always on the 1857's so far as I have seen. It is generally cleanly hit, and often right in the middle of the stamp.

No. 4 is the well known potato or whatever else digger you have. I believe that this comes from somewhere in Connecticut, tho never located the town. No. 5 should come on 3c greens, the copy I had being on the postcard. It is a cleanly hit cancellation and would go well on 3c green. No. 6 is a fairly common cancellation from a good sized city, and I have seen several of these. It is called Baby Doll, etc., etc., and was used on the Nationals.

No. 7 is rather early for a skull and bones, and the P. M. did a pretty good job of it, as the cancellation is clear and easily seen, tho it seldom hits all on the stamp. No. 8 is an early barrel, that is, to cancel a stamp. This is a cleanly hit cancellation too, and very handsome.

No. 9 is a very odd form of the skull and bones. It covered nearly the entire stamp, and one had to look carefully to find that this was a 30c War, rather than the expected 3c War. No. 10 must please a Boston collector when he gets a nice cover with this cancellation. I have seen several of these, and am rather inclined to believe that there was another of the Lady in the Moon cancellations used concurrently with this type from the same town, as the two are a bit different, this may be caused by wear, however.

SOMETHING FOR EVERYONE

Rare items for the serious collector.
A historical cover sent to "Old Ironsides"
U. S. S. Constitution from Terra Haute, Ind., to Spazzia, Italy, June 16th, '57, 3c entire with pair 1c 1851 Impf. tied on, 6 foreign town cancels, a very rare piece, how much?
10c 1847 unused no gum line complete and a beautiful copy $45.00, returnable.
Beautiful pair $1.00 Omaha mint with plate No. sheet margin and imprint, $15.00.
Here is a souvenir every collector should have in his collection, a cover from the late C. H. Mekeel, father of the A.P.S. and founder of MEKEEL'S WEEKLY, each cover in his handwriting and his return,
some registered, some with Impf. and commemorative stamps priced at 25c, 50c and $1.00, returnable.

A beautiful used block of 12 5c Ericssons pre-can. Fairfield, Iowa, $3.00; a block of 12 2c black Hardings the same, $2.00.
U. S. Entirets unused, practically every die, including #2345, #2346, and #2600, what do you want?

A general collection mounted in Scott's 1897 album collected by a lady who quit
in 1898, every stamp 30 years old or over, over 1100 varieties, including two Cape triangles, and some high values, some defective, cat. value about $350.00, we do not handle foreign stamps and this collection is left with us for sale and sold as is, first check for $30.00 gets it.

We specialize in old U. S. on and off covers: tell us what you want.

The Connecticut Valley Stamp Clubs week ended at Hartford this year, with an attendance of over fifty at the banquet, where the customary much to be desired fried chicken held an important position in the entertainment.

While Col. H. S. Redfield is happily convalescing from an operation, it was our good fortune to be permitted to see some of his wonderful collections. The SRO sign should have been handy when the book of covers showing his Locals
was opened for the crowd gathered there

UNITED STATES INVERTED CENTER

15 cents 1869 issue, Scott No. 119b, $1,000 cat. value

We have received from one of our correspondents a beautiful and perfectly well centered copy of this rare stamp with the slight defect of having a few perforations dulled. Write for particulars as to price, etc.

We also have on hand a 90 cent Lincoln, Scott No. 122, color and centering absolutely perfect, A SUPERB GEM.

Victor Weiskopf, Inc., 505 Fifth Ave., (at 42nd St.) New York

in goodly numbers. It is a wonderful showing of these interesting U. S. covers. Every onlooker carried away an eyeful. The more you see, the less you remember as a rule at these public exhibitions. The one cover which I recall best is a legal size envelope having in the top center a beautiful copy of the rare
Wells-Fargo $4.00 black, this stamp being "tied on" by the Wells-Fargo cancellation in a manner that would suit the most doubting Thomas of stampdom.
His covers with the odd little fellow that rushed across the land and water with the Hartford Mail were there on all colors of paper that are known with this Hartford design. The pretty Pomeroy cancelled in red by the letters "Cd" found much favor. There were too many covers to look at in a short time.

Patriotics:—Mr. Olin H. Clark showed a large collection of these. They found favor with the collectors. One of the oddities of these was a cover with U. S. A. down the center of the cover in red and blue stars and bars. At left is a man in an easy chair, wearing a high nat, high boots, and sitting pretty, reading a newspaper, a carpet bag alongside the chair. He is reading very intently from appearances, and as the type is large, will tell you what he is reading.

"A collection of Union Envelopes in a few years from now will form a most valuable and pleasing curiosity, and will be sold at double the original cost."

This is a very nice cover to put in a collection as a sort of foreword, or preface. The cover was printed by Car Bell, Hartford, Conn.

To many collectors these Patriotics are fascinating, and some day these may be made into a list, Flags, Heads, Loyal States, Cartoons, etc., etc. Each must be limited in number, and from all collectors this list could be made with time and patience, if it is worth the time.

Today the collector will find many Patriotics bearing the name of the printer
along the side or bottom margin, or possibly on the back, as is the custom with some of the better grade of engravings,
as the Lincoln Cabinet, and various copies of what are called the "Hand Painted" series. These may all be classified in a way by grouping them under the printer's names. When you gather in all of one printer's covers that you are able to do,
you will find that there is a certain similarity in his printings, for there will be

DEATHS

Amuel Hamilton, formerly an assistant state's attorney at Chicago, died a short time ago at the age of fifty-two years and few will recognize in the announcement, a philatelic quality. Mr. Hamilton who had lived in Chicago for many years was buried at his old home, Persburg, Illinois. He lived for a time in Springfield, Illinois, before he went to Chicago and it was in the Illinois capital that he published seventeen numbers of the Springfield Philatelist, in conjunction with an associate or two, during the years, 1894-96. The editor of the WEEKLY was a contributor to this old paper and the contact established between Mr. Hamilton and him continued to the time of Mr. Hamilton's death. He attained some prominence in the philatelic field in Chicago and during his longer days his bent was indicated as he published a little work, entitled, "The Inside History of the Philatelic Sons of Africa campaign" (or similarly), in which he told of the reasons for his defeat as a candidate for the vice-presidency in the 1896 election of that lively society. Mr. Hamilton was an affable exponent of philately, even though he followed it distantly in his later years.

From Mr. Flerlage word comes of the death on May 27, 1927, of Professor Charles H. Lawrance, Lafayette, Indiana. Mr. Lawrance, who was a professor at Purdue University, had collected stamps for many years and his loss is deplored. He was a member of the International Philatelic Association.

OUR REVIEW

By C. A. HOWES.

We have received a sixty-page brochure entitled "The Stamps of the Treaty Ports of China and of Formosa," being a reprint from the pages of the Philatelic Journal of Great Britain of a series of articles on this subject contributed by Capt. Herbert R. Oldfield, LL.B. This is more or less "news" to present day stamp collectors, for these issues had their vogue from twenty-five to thirty-five years ago, were summarily "sat upon" by the ephemeral "S. S. S." (Society for the Suppression of Speculative Stamps), which itself is another echo of a past generation and were finally dropped from most of the "standard" catalogues as being purely "local stamps" and therefore not to be seriously considered with regular governmental issues.

Nevertheless, they had many partisans, notably among those who were interested in the stamps of the Far East and China, especially, for they were a manifestation of postal conditions in that vast Empire which obtained in no other country on the face of the globe. Before the Chinese Imperial Post was organized in 1897 to cover the country officially, the stamps of the Chinese Imperial Maritime Customs, which had been issued from 1878 for use between the Treaty Ports where Custom Houses were located, and which service was available to the public in those places, had also been through the same debatable phase as to whether or not they were merely "locals." That phase is long past and their place in the catalogue is secure at the head of the Chinese governmental issues.

The first of the so-called "Treaty Port" issues were the stamps of the Municipal Council of the Foreign Settlement at Shanghai, which appeared about August 1, 1865. As there were no other means available for the local postal needs of a large and important community, the institution of a municipal postal department was natural and necessary, and branches were soon opened in some of the other Treaty Ports, Ningpo being the first and Foochow, Hankow and Amoy being others whose postmarks can be found on the Shanghai stamps used in these branch Agencies. Thus the "Shanghai Local Post" met a real need and its stamps were actually more than merely "local," being used between the Treaty Ports as were the Customs stamps later on, the main difference being merely that a Government department was responsible in the latter case and the Municipal government of the largest and most important "foreign concession" in China in the other. These facts have kept the issues of "Shanghai" in all the leading catalogues down to the present time, although their issue ceased with the other Treaty Port stamps when the Imperial Post was instituted on February 2, 1897.

When we come to the stamps issued by other Treaty Ports (those that have become taboo in the catalogues), we feel that we can agree with Mr. Oldfield when he remarks that "there is no real difference between them [the Shanghai stamps] and those issued by other ports except in degree. The real original reason for these other issues was the fact that the municipality of Shanghai was unable to issue stamps to their agencies in other ports when the subscription system was abolished on 1st January, 1893. . . . The local authorities naturally said, 'Why not supply our own?' Hence the issue of the Treaty Port stamps erroneously called Chinese locals. . . . The stamps of Hankow, Kewkiang, Chinkiang and Amoy were issued by the municipal authorities, those of Chefoo, Ichang, Foochow and Nanking by local committees, and those of Chungking and Wuhu by private individuals; but all of them, in a greater or less degree, and more particularly Hankow, Amoy, Foochow and Chinkiang [and we would add Chefoo] were legitimate and bona fide postal issues actually required and actually used to secure postal services. . . . and they are justly entitled to claim admission to the ranks of collectible and recognized stamps."

Thus does Mr. Oldfield justify his monograph upon these once popular and subsequently despised issues. And he further adds: "Although I can understand the objection to the inclusion of any Locals at all in a postage stamp collection—upon the ground either that they were not issued under the authority of the Governments of the countries concerned or that they only covered a limited area within the country itself, I fail to see how any fair-minded and unprejudiced person who would himself include in his own collection such Locals as the Postmaster's stamps of the United States and of the Confederate states, the Lady McLeod of Trinidad, the municipal stamps of Shanghai, the stamps of the Suez Canal Co., or of the Pacific Steam Navigation Co. of Peru, the Carrier stamps of the United States (all of which are listed in the leading catalogues), and others of a similar nature, can reasonably contend that these Chinese Locals and the stamps of Formosa ought to be excluded from collections and from the catalogues."

Thus it all goes back to that old question, "What is a postage stamp?" To which there have been as many definitions as there are individual tastes in the ones who essay to answer. Where the interest lies, there will be found some justifiable reason for including almost anything that has even the remotest relation to the subject. And why not? Collecting anything is, per se, a "hobby," and the greatest delight of the "hobbyist" is to follow his subject out according to his own ideas. In this lies the delight of collecting. Why, then, should any one of us be hide bound or dictatorial about it? All of the stamps mentioned by Mr. Oldfield in the preceding paragraph were used for paying postage on mail matter, regularly carried and delivered, even if most of them were not "regular government issues." The same is true of the Chinese Treaty Port stamps and also of those of Formosa, which are included in the work under review.

Concerning Formosa there are nearly ten pages of interesting information, though much work remains to be done on this subject. The "laundry ticket" stamps, as they have been facetiously called, were issued by the Provincial Government of Formosa in 1888 in place of the engraved "horse and dragon" stamps ordered from England. This post functioned from that time until the Japanese occupied the Island in 1895, and the stamps are in practically the same category as the State issues of the Colombian Republic, which are listed in all the catalogues. The "horse and dragon" stamps unused are "stamps prepared for use, but not issued"; with apparent "cancellations" they are railroad tickets, thus converted and used on the Government railway in north Formosa as explained to me personally by Mr. H. B. Morse, formerly Chinese Customs Commissioner in the Island. The British Consulate had nothing to do with them except to order them from London for the Governor, Chang Chih-tung, who organized the Island postal system.

Mr. Oldfield devotes separate chapters to the stamps of Hankow, Kewkiang, Chinkiang, Amoy, Chefoo, Ichang, Foochow, Nanking, Chungking and Wuhu, giving details of the port and the organization of the post office in each case, describing the stamps and their designs, giving a list of the varieties and their dates of issue and the numbers issued where available. Chapters on the Wei-Hai-Wei Courier Post and Formosa make up a most complete and interesting monograph upon these little known (now-a-days) and seldom seen stamp issues of a controversial past.

There is so much of importance to enter into the philatelic records this week that there is no space for preambles. The newspapers as well as the WEEKLY have told of the proposal of Congressman Ackerman to surcharge five hundred million of the current two-cent stamps in honor of Lindbergh, indicating that the stamps are to be sold for three cents each, the premium of one-cent to be allotted to the relief of the flood sufferers. Our correspondent, Mr. Philip H. Ward, Jr., gave early news of the plan and here a word should be interpolated in recognition of the celerity with which this correspondent circulates the important news from Washington. Mr. Ward has shown unusual ability in getting early information on subjects of moment to collectors and in presenting the news in a compact manner that com-

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

IN

SCOTT'S MONTHLY JOURNAL

ON

SPECIALIZED U. S.

In order to meet the growing need for accurate information regarding United States postage, we have instituted a new Department in Scott's Monthly Journal, devoted exclusively to Specialized U. S.

This will be a regular feature of the Journal, in addition to our many other features and noteworthy articles. Mr. Herman Toasperm has agreed to take over this Department, and all additions and corrections affecting the Specialized Catalogue of United States Stamps will appear monthly. The importance of this to collectors of U. S. is readily apparent. All basic designs from which cancellation listings are made, will be illustrated. In cases of varieties, etc., same will be illustrated as far as possible and accurately described.

The April issue carries the first of these articles. Subscription to Scott's Monthly Journal is $1.00 a year, and we urge immediate subscription in order not to miss any of this new series. Be sure to have your subscription start with the April issue. [t]

mends itself to philatelists. While it is true that we have received forecast of the probable action of the post office department at times through the intermediary of an officer in one of the departments, it is Mr. Ward who is relied upon to furnish definite particulars; and he discharges his duty with alacrity and acumen. The plan of the Honorable E. R. Ackerman is one that has struck popular fancy and it is certain that it has received official consideration. The utilization of the post office department as an agency for relief is a drastic departure from routine, but the emergency conditions created by the disaster are such as to over-ride precedent and knock formality out of the picture. The question of the legality of a postal measure of the kind is one that is not easily disposed of and it is possible that the suggestion will be stopped by a stone-wall, but nevertheless the humanity and the ingenuity of the suggestion will be applauded and credit will not be withheld from Congressman Ackerman.

The story of the Associated Press dated June 4th, announcing that a special air mail stamp would be issued on short notice to commemorate the achievement of Captain Lindbergh, has been read by collectors throughout the country; and the intimation that this decision of the department may displace the thought of surcharging the half billion stamps as advised by Congressman Ackerman does not come from us, but from another source. However, the course of Mr. Ackerman is one that may well be registered at headquarters and the information that the postmaster-general was greatly interested in the suggestion is received with attention by those collectors who have been interviewed.

In his confirmation of the issue of the new air mail stamp of ten-cent denomination, the postmaster-general says that the department has no provisions by which it may bestow awards or give decorations to a member of the postal service for distinguished service and that in consequence, the only means for proclaiming extraordinary feats or merit is by the issue of a stamp dedicated to the individual worthy of the palm. Consequently, Mr. New says that it is appropriate that Captain Lindbergh be given the supreme distinction that a special postage stamp conveys. The new stamp, as collectors would surmise, will not bear the portrait of Captain Lindbergh, but will have as its central design a likeness of his monoplane, the Spirit of St. Louis. The new stamp will displace the one now in use and every effort will be made to have some of the stamps ready when Lindbergh arrives in Washington. The stamps are to be placed on sale in St. Louis on the date of the Lindbergh festivities there and the department recognizes stamp collectors by saying that on the same day at Washington, the stamp will be on sale at the Agency. Later, distribution to other cities will be made. The further description of the stamp is: Across the top of the stamp in white Roman letters, underneath the usual legend will be the three words, "Lindbergh-Air Mail." At the left of the picture of the air plane will be the map showing the route of his flight, with the names of the cities of New York and Paris.

The second story of philatelic kind that has been sent forth by the Associated Press and given wide currency in the newspapers is that involving letters bearing stamps and duly cancelled that were carried by Charles A. Levine on the trip of Chamberlin monoplane, Columbia, on its memorable flight. We read that two hundred and fifty letters bearing air mail stamps were cancelled by the postmaster of Hempstead, Long Island, among others, and delivered to persons without authority to transport United States mail. It seems that this postmaster upon being approached by an interested person with a proposal to prepare covers for a trans-Atlantic flight spoke to a post office inspector who in general did not discourage the plan. Later, a sergeant of the army air force took up the subject with the postmaster who cancelled the covers with the stamps to the number of two hundred and fifty. The action of the government is based upon the declaration that mail matter is to be carried legally by one who is sworn into the service.

The letter that was sent to Mr. W. A. Steiger of the Post Office Department, Springfield, Illinois, by the command of King George, returning the first contract flight that was sent to the King. Mr. Steiger is now the proud possessor of Mr. Max Golding of Chicago, whom it was given by Mr. Steiger; and it, with the air cover that was sent to the King make an exhibit of admiral interest. We shall transcribe the King's letter which is a gracious one, indeed, and the definite statement of the philatelic inclination of the ruler gives it distinction that appeals to all of us. The letter is dated at Windsor Castle, May 2, 1926, and is addressed to W. A. Steiger, Esq., Post Office Department, Springfield, Illinois, and reads as follows: "I am commanded to express my King's sincere thanks for the autograph envelope and stamps of the first flight, the Chicago to St. Louis Route, United States of America Air Mail which you so kindly sent for His Majesty's acceptance. As, however, the King's collection is restricted to stamps of the British Empire, His Majesty will not deprive you of these interesting specimens and am therefore returning the envelope registered post. The King further thanks you for the Air Route Map of the United States of America forwarded with your letter 15th of April. Yours very faithfully, (Signed) Stamfordham Private Secretary to the King."

Mr. Gordon H. Crouch, Toronto, Ontario, sends the following information: "Latest reports are to the effect that Canada will issue but one stamp for her Diamond Jubilee Celebration Confederation. It will be the first postage stamp outside of the 'Quebec' issue of 1908, to be worded in both English and French, thus indicating the two nations that were the joint source of the present great Dominion. The stamp, according to the Postmaster-General, will be issued primarily, as a part of a nation-wide celebration; and it is intended to be for general use. If it should be the case, the probabilities are that the stamp will be of somewhat restricted use, and therefore, one worth going after for purposes of 'stocking up.' More details are promised by the authorities, by the middle of July, information which is eagerly awaited by collectors, who have endured sufficient disappointments because of last year's fiasco."

In sending a copy of the 5c, 1908 Post Office Centenary, surcharged "G." the first that he has seen, Mr. T. Metcalfe, Rosario, Argentine, writes: "I heard to-day from a dealer in Montevideo that the new set of Artigas stamps that are being printed in London are expected early in June."

AS IT COMES

Edward C. Olds, Rochester, New York, is well within the bounds of probability when he says: "I note in your issue of May 2, that one of your subscribers wishes to locate descendants of James Buchanan, Pennsylvania, only occupant of the White House. As such as President Buchanan never married, I am afraid that it will be difficult to locate any descendants."

Writing from St. John's, Newfoundland, Mr. Frank F. Wills says: "In reference to the Italian aviator, G. E. He left Trepassy, Newfoundland, for Horta, Azores, at 4:27 A. M., May 23rd, taking four pounds of mail on board. The lot comprised only 225 stamps, and consequently, these covers are scarce."

The Philadelphia Stamp Club requests that the philatelic press support the movement to honor Lindbergh on one or two postage stamps in a letter sent out June 1st; and in it the suggestion was made "that such a stamp or stamps be in form similar to the Government Air Mail stamp, with the photograph of the aviator and the Spirit of St. Louis, and the date of the notable feat." In our opinion, the Philadelphia Stamp Club has turned the trick and may claim the honor of achieving its object: a Lindbergh stamp.

An Associated Press dispatch says that Suzanne Lenglen seems to be off her head since she has found a new hobby. She has been neglecting tennis in favor of stamp collecting and has been known to have bought four thousand dollars' worth of stamps in Paris in four days. We trust that this distinguished athlete will find the pursuit well fitted for one of sensitive temperament.

There is an international philatelic exposition scheduled for the Palais des Beaux-Arts de Monte-Carlo, from February 18th to 26th, 1928. The occasion will be an important one and under the patronage of Prince Louis II of Monaco. The general organizer is M. Theodore Champion of Paris. Particulars will be given later.

With Philadelphia and St. Louis are making plans for the national stamp convention to be held this summer in the two cities—the A. P. S. in St. Louis and the Society of Philatelic Americans in Philadelphia.

POPULARIZING STAMP COLLECTING

By HARRY M. KONWISER.

The Artists' Co-operative, a recently formed group of well known artists, a few weeks back had its first exhibition in the Altman Department Store, New York City, and the show was well patronized and no doubt the exhibition aided in the development of the liking for paintings, and presumably led to sales.

It is the idea of these artists to reach the masses through department stores and hotels and it may be an idea that can be developed for stamp exhibitions.

After the exhibit week was at an end in New York, the various paintings were sent out of town and it is the intention to show these in various parts of the country.

The idea is to market "art" to the general public which seldom visits the art galleries or the high-priced dealers.

There is hardly a town in the United States without a hotel or a department store that, if properly approached, would not lend its support to an exposition of stamps.

For this purpose it, of course, would be required to have the stamps in frames, with glass tops. The matter of easels or stands could well be left to the local exhibitor and there should be little or no trouble in getting a competent committee (of local collectors) to look after the exhibits and to chat to the interested persons.

If necessary a series of lectures could be arranged for various places and quite a hullabaloo could be raised in each exhibition place.

For such an exhibition there would be no need of very many—or any—gold medal collections. Several countries could be shown; the cancellation folks could have an inning as could the cover collections. Then those who favor stamps of certain colors, or of certain subjects could show their stuff.

All the idea needs, assuming it should meet with a welcome on the part of philatelists, is a central body to create the show places, and nothing loath I suggest the Association For Stamp Expositions put this matter up to Mr. Hugh M. Clark, asking him to do it for the Stamp Show organization.

I am still mindful of the fact that one of the "big lessons" taught by the last New York stamp show was "smaller shows held often."

This week we are pleased to acknowledge the receipt of three applications for membership in our Honor Club, from Allan P. Vestal, Indianapolis, Ind., August C. Kreutzfeld, Port Clinton, Ohio, and L. Lenz, Houston, Texas.

These names are added with pleasure to our steadily increasing list of Honor Club members.

GAMBIA AT THE COLLECTORS CLUB

Reported by CHARLES J. PHILLIPS.

Charles M. Ams, who, unfortunately, was not able to be present, sent a portion of his noted collection of Gambia to be shown at the last meeting of the season on Wednesday, June 1st.

Gambia is situated on Islands and on the banks of the Gambia river in West Africa. The capital is Bathurst in the District of St. Mary. Bathurst is on a small island in the mouth of the river connecting with the main land by a bridge. There is no other town of any importance in Gambia, but the leading trading stations are at Georgetown on McCarthy Island, and Abreda, a small port on the north bank of the river. In 1854 the population was only 5,690, but in 1907 this had risen to 163,000. Gambia was discovered in 1447 by Nunez Tristan.

The first note I can find of these stamps is in the Stamp Collectors' Magazine for April, 1869.

Mr. Ams' Collection is contained in forty-five volumes, five of them being extra large ones devoted to entire sheets or panes. Of these forty-five volumes, Mr. Ams kindly sent six of the early issues and the most important varieties among which we noted as follows:—

Die proofs in the accepted color of the first 4d and 6d the embossing standing out in high relief like a fine cameo. Die proofs of the Queen's Head on the pale blue oval.

In the issue of January, 1869, no watermark, the collection contains as follows:—4d unused, 74 singles and a pair; 4d used, 21 singles and a pair; 6d unused, 39 singles and a pair; 6d used, 53 singles a pair and a strip of four. There is also a 6d no watermark, with the unofficial pin perforation.

In the August, 1874 issue, wmk. Crown CC, Mr. Ams has uncut sheets of the 4d and 6d, fifteen in each sheet and with full margins. In this issue he also has, 4d unused, 27 singles and 13 pairs and strips; 4d used, 50 singles and a pair; 4d on cover but not used until March, 1882; 6d unused, 60 singles, and 28 unused in pairs and blocks; 6d used, 39 singles, and 3 pairs. From the above list of the imperf. stamps we see some reason why these stamps have become so scarce in the trade.

In the issue of June, 1880, Mr. Ams has practically everything in uncut sheets, all values, all shades and all perforations. Included in these we noted an extremely fine sheet of the 1sh green.

In the Crown CC issue, perforated, he showed all values with "Specimen" in various types, sets being shown with thin tall letters and with thick block letters.

In the 1880 issue the 1d, 2d, 3d, 4d, 6d and 1sh are shown with the watermark sideways.

Very interesting stamps are color trials of the 1886 issue, watermarked Crown CA. These are perforated 12, a trial perforation that was never used.

The varieties with normal watermark were, 1/2d wove, 1/2d pale carmine, 1/2d pale yellow-green, 1/2d orange, and with watermark sideways, 1/2d green and 2 1/2d slate.

In the Crown CA issue, Mr. Ams also has with watermark sideways, the 2 1/2d, 3d, 4d, 6d and 1sh, and with double embossing, one inverted, the shilling. Full sets were shown of imperf. proofs in correct colors.

The later issues were equally strongly represented, but only a small portion of the collection could be shown.

This is certainly one of the finest existing specialized collections of one single country and shows what can be done when a collection is arranged by a real student who loves his stamps.

Junior Glossary

Diligencia.—The only inscription, apart from the value, shown upon the stamps forming the first issue for Uruguay.

D. J.—These letters overprinted upon the 5c stamps of the 1892 issue for Obock signify they were intended for use in Djibouti.

Dragons.—These, with a few Oriental characters, form the chief portion of the design of the early stamps of Japan.

Duc. di Parma.—Duchy of Parma.

Eagle.—A double-headed eagle forms the main design on many of the stamps of Austria, Austrian Italy, and Bosnia. In the case of the latter only the numerals of value are given; the stamps for Austria have values in "kreutzer" or "kr"; while those for Austrian Italy have value in "centes" or "soldi." A set for use in the Austrian Post-offices in the Levant can be distinguished by the value which is expressed as "sld" instead of "kr."

Egyptiennes.—Egypt.

Emp. Ottoman.—"Ottoman Empire" or Turkey.

Escuelas.—The only inscription shown on many of the stamps of Venezuela.

Espana.—Spain.

During the absence of the Managing Editor in Europe, this page will be cared for by Editor Charles E. Severn, 713 Oxford Bldg., Chicago, Ill. He will render our Juniors any assistance that may be desired.

Junior Activities

—James R. Walsh says that his father brought him home a used five dollar stamp of the present issue that he got from a friend down town in New York. Lucky lad.

—Mrs. Nettie Tremaine in asking a question about the identity of a Polish stamp for her son, ten years old, says that "she will take away Jack's collection or start one herself."

—An inquirer is told that the Precancel Gazette is published by A. F. Gamber, Valley City, North Dakota.

—Charles N. Sterner is informed that if his "first stamp of India" is used, it should not be! This stamp while prepared for service was never postally used, although a quantity was sent to Bombay.

—Donald B. Race is right in thinking that a stamp that shows a watermark is not a counterfeit, as a rule, but watermarks have been counterfeited by the use of fatty substances that trace out the figure of the watermark, for instance.

—Juniors may as well leave the high-priced grills stamps of the U. S. alone until they are more experienced, as bogus grills are not unknown by any means.

—Charles McCabe bought a sheet each of the five-cent and the two Norse-American at face soon after they came out, or, rather his father did so for him; and now he asks if he should sell them to a dealer in his town, Chicago, who has offered him fifteen dollars for them. Excuse us, Charles, we have just thought of an engagement.

—We are pleased to see that the juniors are consumed with an eager curiosity that leads them to think that we can answer questions involving prophecy, judging by some of the questions that come in. This confidence is somewhat touching, but even though we must shatter illusions, it is admitted that we cannot predict the future with certainty. Too, many questions are asked that are answered in our "Stamp Collectors Guide" and not with the idea of pushing the sale of this 35c book, but to save ourselves work, do we recommend it to our young monied collectors.

Lively Los Angeles

The junior stamp collectors of Los Angeles have done themselves proud by an exhibit that is being held at the Los Angeles Junior Museum during the month of June. That the display is one carefully planned is proved by the rule that each contestant is required to display exactly one hundred stamps in any one of five classes, each based on length of philatelic experience of the exhibitors. Fifty-eight boys and two girls, all of whom are under eighteen years of age qualified as exhibitors on this great occasion, which is in charge of Mr. H. B. Smith and Dr. E. C. Bull of the staff of the museum. The exhibit will be open during the month of June; and we congratulate the sponsors and participants in the big celebration. Judging from the three large illustrations of the young collectors in action in the Los Angeles Evening Express, the event was given a decided news value by the discriminating editor and the paper's story of the show is a breezy one. Prizes of ribbons and valuable stamps are to be given deserving entrants. We thank Mr. W. J. Finn of Los Angeles for this information; and we hope that juniors elsewhere will take a leaf from the book of the Los Angeles juniors.

Proved By A Stamp

One of the best stamp stories that has ever been related is that which told of how this country was influenced to build the Panama Canal where it is. The tale is not a new one, but it bears repetition; and inasmuch as W. Edward Haskell of Ybor City, California, has sent in a version, it will be given space again, after a rest of some time. When Roosevelt was president in 1902, he, as well as Congress to a great extent, favored the route through Nicaragua. The question of selection was before Congress, at the time of the great eruption of Mount Pelee, which destroyed the city of St. Pierre on the island of Martinique. To quote Mr. Haskell: "A report was circulated that an old volcano, 'Monotomba,' was again active in Nicaragua. This was denied by officials of the republic. M. Varilla, a Frenchman who wanted to sell the interests and property of the old French Canal Company, which had started its work, years before, to dig across the isthmus of Panama, secured a quantity of the 1900 issue of Nicaragua, showing the volcano in eruption and people in flight! He sent one of the stamps to each senator with the message that here was an official witness of the volcanic activity of Nicaragua. Senators were impressed and even President Roosevelt changed his mind to favor the Panama route." After the revolution in Colombia, the republic of Panama was established and then the Canal Zone came into being.

Apotheosis De Miranda

(Apotheosis of Miranda). An inscription found upon a set of Venezuelan stamps issued in 1896 to commemorate the eightieth anniversary of the death of General Miranda—a Spanish-American revolutionist who succeeded in getting Venezuela proclaimed a republic.

Precanceled Stamps

Canada's first precanceled stamps came into being in 1888, when complete sheets of the 1, 2, 3 and 5-cent values of the issue then current were obliterated by the handstamp of the Ottawa office, a circle containing fine lines and the center design of figure, "1." These sheets were sold to firms in whole and in part, the government keeping a record of each sale. When the mail was brought in, the list was checked and the weight of one of the articles sent in duplicate determined; and so, all the other pieces of mail were sent without further ceremony. The saving of time due to the fact that each piece of mail did not have to be handled further for cancellation of stamps was considerable.

Helping Hand

Some time ago, we saw an offer in a stamp paper, of a packet of stamps for beginners, by C. R. Gadsden of Chicago. We remembered the name as that of the librarian of the old American Philatelic Association, now Society, in 1887; and as that of a president of the Chicago Philatelic Society at about the same time. Mr. Gadsden will be identified by many of the old boys of that period as a specialist in France and as a student of stamp literature. For many years, Mr. Gadsden has let the philatelic world roll by, but he has again made his entry into the lists with credentials of the finest kind. He is doing much to encourage the beginner by gifts of stamps and he has results to show that he is working to advantage. Recently, in send-

Junior Dictionary

Eo. So.—An abbreviation on certain Colombian Republic stamps representing "Estado Soberano" or "Sovereign State."

Estonia.—A former Russian province on the Gulf of Finland, Baltic and Gulf of Riga, with a Republic form of government and a population around two millions. Stamps were issued Nov. 25, 1918.

Eupen.—A German town away from Belgium as a result of the World War. During the first six months of the war, Belgium stamps were used overprinted "Eupen and Malmédy" in recognition of the award.

Exclusas de Gatun.—This inscription is found on Panama, 1915, 5c commemorative and means "Gatun Lock." Note that the Spanish spelling of the word is usually "Exclusas."

Far Eastern Republic.—A portion of eastern Siberia, which in 1920, during the disintegration of Russia, set itself up as a Republic. Its principal city is Vladivostok.

Faroe Islands.—These islands are situated in the North Atlantic Ocean between Iceland and the Shetland Islands. Population 13,000. The islands belong to Denmark, whose stamps are used, but in 1918, in consequence of the arrival of a new supply (conditioned by the allied blockade of the North Sea) a provisional 2 ore stamp was made at Thorshavn, the capital of the islands. The 5 ore Denmark was used for charging and 15,000 were overprinted "2 ore."

A STAMP PAGE

Henry A. Diamant of St. Louis sent in a striking example of the use of stamps as a background for a handillustrated page. He says that he does not know what paper the page
 was taken from as it was sent in to him without identification. The paper in it appeared to have been a
 C. A. publication. The words,
 "What They Say" introduces the quotation from Kipling: "But there is neither minor West, Border, nor Breed, nor When two strong we stand face to face, tho' they come from the ends of the earth." Room is made for the hemispheres, but the background is a mass of stamps each one of which is set forth plainly. The stamps shown are of the ordinary run, but include some desirable ones. The impression
 by the picture is a most pleasing

MEETING OF THE STIGGINS PHILATELIC SOCIETY

(More Candid than Truthful)
 Minutes of a meeting of the Stiggins Philatelic Society held at Poloni's Restaurant on Sunday last (as usual in reports sent us, the secretary has written to give the date.—Ed. P.M.).
 Present: the same old lot, and seven permanent visitors. The purpose of the committee was to welcome Mr. Stiggins on his return from Karelia, and to increase his collection of that country's stamps. The purpose of those present, however, was to play the well-known government office game of "Passed to please" with the pages shown, so that they were able without unduly interfering with their animated private conversation on other subjects.
 This accomplished, one of the permanent visitors, Mr. George Grossmith, of daily fame, was asked to say a few words on the stamps shown. From long habit he was unable to comply except in verse. Naturally he knew nothing about the stamps, but catching the strains of a passing barrel-organ, playing the tune of twenty years ago, he delivered himself as follows, to the air of "Believe" his old Gaiety success from "The Ord."

As a general collector, there are few stamps I care.
 I don't even know the names of more than half a score.
 But should I ever specialise I would at once select
 the issue of Karelia—the last you would expect.

Chorus:
 Karelia, I want to steal yer, I know your perfs.
 won't yield.
 I'll be your Stanley Gibbons, if you'll be my Francis Field.

 Oh! Karelia-elia-elia, I've made up my mind to steal yer,
 Karelia! My Postage Due!

When down the Strand, that happy land of all
 that's rich and rare,
 I've been in lots of dealers' shops to seek Ka-

 At present I'm a single man, but should I ever

 Imperf., or even pin-perf., rarest of all that's Karelia, my Bargain Square.

Karelia, dear, I do not fear your price will ever soar,
 I know quite well when you're sold out they're bound to print some more.
 I love your imperf. margins, and more keen

 So when the new ones come along I'll buy the

Chorus:
 Karelia, I'll have to steal yer—Karelia, for you I'd swing,
 I'll be your Percy Dunbar if you'll be my

 Tell me, my sweet Karelia, when stock is running low,
 For then I would support you (if no others knew I'd bought you),
 Karelia, I love you so.

The applause having subsided, the chairman announced that another visitor,
 Mr. H. A. Lytton, fresh from a successful tour of the provinces with the D'Oyly marks upon the Philatelic Congress which he had found in progress at one of the towns he had visited. To be in keeping with his friend Mr. Grossmith, he craved

 the indulgence of the audience if he, too, adopted a familiar rôle, and he therefore asked the band (conducted by Mr. W.
 Buckland Edwards) to strike up "No Possible Doubt Whatever" from the "Gondoliers," which he rendered as follows:—

The Congress followed a slow career
 (This statement can't be parried).
 It was highly respectable once a year,
 The rest of the time I very much fear
 Most people thought it very small beer
 For all the weight it carried.

The Executive hadn't got much to do (Perchance 'tis more the pity!)
 Whenever they got a bright idea
 They seemed to be seized with a sudden fear
 That it might be completed the very same year
 And appointed a Sub-Committee.

The Congress revelled in Votes of Thanks
 (They fail to have them never!)
 The visitors, too, haven't much to do.
 So they snooze and snore and sleep it through,
 But they have a good time, although they do
 No possible good whatever!

After this the meeting developed into a regular sing-song. Mr. Ernest Harmer recited "Rocked in the Cradle of the Postage Stamp." That ever-popular ballad, "Harris, where are thou?" was feelingly rendered by Mr. Vallancey, while Mr. Duncuff obliged with "How now, brown cow (why do you change to green?)" from "R.S.V.P."

As the hour was now getting late, a gentleman who had been wriggling in his seat the whole evening rose and faced his ordeal.

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen (he said), or Dear Friends, or Fellow Members or whatever else you are, I rise, it gives me much pleasure, er, er, I mean to say a few words to-night, er, to propose a very 'earty vote of thanks to our old friends Stiggins for coming 'ere tonight to say a few words on the stamps of Karelia. Speaking for myself, I for one have never seen such a marvellous lot of these stamps (applause). It is one I can hardly hope to see again, and I hope I never shall—(uproar)—I say, I hope I shall never forget the beautiful pair he showed us with inverted circle ('ear, 'ear). That to me was alone worth absenting myself from the pub—(more uproar)—public health committee,
 of which I am also a member.

We know now why these stamps are so scarce—Mr. Stiggins has them all (loud and prolonged applause, as always for this hoary sentiment). When I see his braces—(murmurs)—I should rather say his pairs—it is not surprising that there are none left for the rest of us. I have great pleasure therefore in proposing that we give him a really hearty vote of thanks (applause).—Philatelic Magazine.

NEW HEBRIDES

The Stamps of this Colony should be of interest to all Collectors not only because of geographical location, but also because the Post Office is administered jointly by Great Britain and France.

There has been a recent lack of interest in Australasians among American collectors and, as a result, these interesting issues are extremely cheap at the present time.

All the stamps offered below are mint and fine and many of them are quite scarce.

The logical time to buy is NOW!

ATLAS STAMP CO. (P. C. Smith)
W. Somerville, Mass.

INVERTED CENTERS

At the present time I am especially interested in purchasing fine copies of the scarcer United States and foreign postage stamps, as well as United States revenue stamps with inverted center—only copies in fine condition are desired.

Whether you have one or a dozen varieties, kindly submit on approval with net prices, as I prefer not to make offers.

U. S. MINT BLOCKS

I also desire to purchase anything fine in the way of early mint U. S. blocks, as well as the higher denominations from 50c up to the later issues. Can use any of the 1894-95 from 10c up, any of the perf. 10 50c and $1 and especially desire the 1919 blue paper blocks, 4c, 5c and 8c.

U. S. COVERS

What have you to offer in the way of fine early covers—the rarer the better? My market has reached such proportions that I can use practically anything in the way of United States issues (other than envelopes) of importance.

Also offer to the collector a wonderful stock to pick from—correspondence from serious collectors solicited.

U.S. Postage Stamps at 50% Off

Nearly all early U. S. in average condition on my approval books at fifty percent off Scott's cat., excepting a very few such as 5c, 10c, 47, 90c '69, etc. If you are not a condition crank, I am sure you will find these books just the thing. I have $5000 worth of early U. S. am going to close out at this big discount, so let me know the numbers in cat. you need, and I will make up a book especially for you, with as many of your wants included as possible.

I do not care to send out lots at this price, unless you have at least $20.00 to spend on your collection. The profit on these goods at 50 off is not great, and unless I can sell at least $20 from a book I cannot afford to tie up the selection.

the American Section of the International League of Aviators, to the air mail pilot who had done most during the year to demonstrate the reliability of the airplane as a means of transportation.

It will be noted from Mr. Regar's letter that it is the intention of the Department to have a copy of the Lindbergh stamp or rather a proof of the stamp ready to present to him on June 11th. The proof has been approved at this writing and the Bureau is making every effort to have the plates ready with as little delay as possible.

It will further be noticed that this new stamp replaces the former variety, which will be discontinued. As the former stamp has been widely distributed, there will be an ample quantity to go around.

Mr. W. J. Prinzing sends me an air mail communication from St. Louis bearing a special mark of one of the local business firms. This shows the Lindbergh airplane in flight and below in two lines, "THE SPIRIT OF ST. LOUIS REACHES EVERYWHERE."

Valley Forge Emission

Mention was made in these notes a few weeks back that the writer had appealed to the Department in behalf of a special postage stamp to commemorate the encampment at Valley Forge. The subject has appealed to the Senators from Pennsylvania and Senators Reed and Vare advise that the subject has been taken up with the Postmaster General. Senator Reed has received the following communication from the Third Assistant Postmaster General:

"The receipt is acknowledged of your letter of May 26th, enclosing correspondence between Senator Reed and Philip H. Ward, Jr., relative to a special postage stamp commemorating Washington's winter camp at Valley Forge prior to the crossing of his troops to Trenton.

I have taken this matter up with the Postmaster General who has asked me to advise you that the proposition is being given consideration.

Mr. Ward's communication to the Senator is returned herewith for your files."

It is to be hoped that those who are interested in the subject and feel that a special stamp should be issued to commemorate this most important turning point in the Revolution, will also write to the Postmaster General, for if it is shown that the variety will prove to be a popular one, it is quite likely that such a stamp will appear. I am still of the opinion that it would not be a bad idea

Playing Card Variety

In my chronicle for June 6th, it was made that the 2c blue playing stamp had been surcharged in letters in red, "VIRGIN ISLAND CTS." I am now advised by Mr. Hall, Director of the Bureau of engraving and Printing, that these were overprinted at the Bureau only the former 2c variety, but the 2c stamp known as the "Class A" has received the same overprint. Two stamps are the only two that have record of overprinting for either Virgin Islands or any of the colonies.

Air Mail Notes

The Philadelphia Inquirer in a notice from Washington dated June mentions that Chamberlin and I carried two hundred fifty letters to Lin. These communications, so informed, were cancelled by Postmaster Fred Seeley of Hempstead, L. I. Most of them were addressed to Berlin, Paris and Rome. It is said some of them are also addressed to turn via the regular mail from Germany.

Shortly before the ship sailed, master Seeley went to the Garden Hotel on Long Island. There the presence of State Senator Lockwood cancelled one hundred twenty-five. Later the postmaster was taken to Velt Field and it is said cancelled hundred twenty-five more for himself. Postmaster General Newt that Seeley had no authority to the stamps or receive the mail.

Mr. C. C. Bacon sends a clipping from a Memphis paper dated June wherein mention is made that a mail service will be inaugurated between Memphis and St. Louis. Warren Irving Glover, Second Assistant Postmaster General in charge of Mail, has recently visited Memphis the subject was discussed.

Canal Zone

Mr. Emil J. Rall shows us a copy of the new 1c Canal Zone envelope, right rectangular design showing seal in the center. The 2c variety issued sometime back.

I wish to thank Messrs. Arthur B. Jr., Brandon Beach and A. T. W. for notes of interest.

WORLD HISTORY IN POSTAGE STAMPS

THE PAGEANT OF CIVILIZATION.

World Romance and Adventure as Told by Postage Stamps. By F. B. Warner. Illustrated. 490 pp. New York: The Century Company. $6.

Nations have a way of honoring the great men and the great events in their history by picturing them, really or symbolically, on their postage stamps, and Mr. Warner has taken the unique method of looking through and beyond the stamps at the men and the affairs they celebrate in order to describe these heroic figures and dramatic moments as parts of the history of countries and civilization. His sturdy volume ranges widely over the earth and sweeps into its compass some portions of the stories of over a hundred nations. His method is usually to select some one phase, or perhaps several phases, in the history of a nation which is especially well pictured in its postage and tell briefly and dramatically and in swift and vivid style the story of that development, with frequent reference to the postage issues connected with it. Thus, one chapter takes up the development of transportation in America, backgrounding it with some colorful reference to early explorations and the method of dealing with mail before the Government took over its transportation and then carrying the story swiftly down through pony express, railroads and airplane. Interwoven with this are digressions into the stories of historical developments that have influenced postage issues, with occasional turning aside to comment on the reasons why some individual or some event has not been so honored.

In similar way he surveys and narrates important phases of the history of the great nations and gathers into his far-sweeping postage net interesting, astounding, appealing anecdotes of people and events in all the four corners of the earth. The story by postage stamps of the World War begins with the bizarre tale of the Ferrary collection and its romantic dispersal by auctions that ended two years ago. Postage as connected with charitable organizations has a chapter and another is devoted to postal rarities. Throughout there is attention to prices and frequently there is some reference or comment which will especially interest the stamp collector.

Mr. Warner has been ingenious and skilful in thus uniting national and world history with the story of that small but mighty instrument of civilization, the postage stamp. His narrative is always swift and colorful and usually his historical matter is dependable. But in the collection of such an immense quantity of the stuff of which history is made and of such vast numbers of tales and anecdotes it was inevitable that an occasional error should creep in and that in either statement of fact or manner of wording a wrong impression should be given. To cite a single instance, he mentions "the quickly conceived and announced Monroe Doctrine," when, as a matter of fact, the Monroe Doctrine was the outcome of years of discussion on the part of Amer-

SPECIAL MIDSUMMER OFFERS

In all my offerings I endeavor first of all to feature the stamps which are in special demand, and to offer them at prices which leave a real speculative inducement to the buyer. I do not believe in keeping all the profit and joy for myself! In making my special offers I try to follow the same policy:—I try to offer the stamps that "are in the lime-light"—and at rock-bottom-prices. Very many special offers contain nothing but "Cast-offs"—others do contain sound stamps—but I go one better by offering the "High Spots". Among others, I have this time included stamps just given a glowing write-up by one of the leading English modern B. C. market experts. I refer particularly to the scarce Turks & Caicos 2sh, #54, which I am here offering way below any quotations published here or abroad during the last year and a half, I believe. The expert mentioned forecasts a price of 45sh within a year for this stamp.

Early diligent purchases enable me to make these offers. Offered quantities are in all instances limited—so prompt orders must be sent. However, "limited quantities" with me are not small, actually speaking, and efforts will be made to satisfy distant applicants by placing aside a portion for them. The postmark date of your letter will count. And consider—all stamps are as usual with my offers:—Perfectly centered. (A few blocks offered at pro rata prices—except where differently quoted.)

Enquiries invited for anything in nineteenth and twentieth century British Colonials. I am always glad to help collectors, speculators and others with their problems—and give them a liberal share of the knowledge I have on my subject. So far, few of the "speculative plums" of recent years have escaped me, and many collectors have benefited by keeping in close touch with me. Why don't you "get aboard"?

ican statesmen, had been implicit in the public utterances of nearly all of them ever since the birth of the Republic, and had been for several years under consideration by the diplomats of England and the United States.

The illustrations comprise reproductions of great numbers of interesting stamps.

As a copy of the noteworthy volume, "The Pageant of Civilization," has not reached our desk, we present the foregoing review that has appeared in the New York Times, which is a readable generalization and no doubt is disposed to do justice to the great work that Mr. Warner has produced. We shall have our comments to make in an early issue.

SUBSCRIPTION RENEWALS

Some of our subscribers need to know our rule regarding discontinuances. We discontinue all subscriptions in arrears promptly the second day of each month. This means that your subscription should be renewed prior to expiration. The expiration number can be ascertained by consulting your wrapper. No free copies of the WEEKLY are sent out and this rule is as fixed as the laws of the M. P. Our older subscribers understand our rule and the newer subscribers should get acquainted with it.

EFFECTIVE WORK

The Edward P. Judd Co., New Haven, Conn., had what is believed to have been the first purely philatelic window display in New Haven, tying up with a first showing of the "Pageant of Civilization." The New Haven Philatelic Society furnished material to be used against a background of the book on postage stamps. Scott blank album pages showing the United States commemorative issues of the Twentieth Century in pairs, blocks and singles formed the chief stamp feature. A copy of the Gordon Ireland article on the New Haven Postmaster issue was opened in the center of the window at a page with an

BYAM, CARLTON MATCH WRAPPERS

By CHRISTOPHER WEST.

The six major die varieties of wrappers used by Byam, Carlton & Co. fall naturally into three groups, and there are two varieties in each group. Following the order in which they were used we have to consider first the two printed by the American Phototype Company; second the two printed from wood blocks, most of which, if not all, were printed by the Carpenter concern in Philadelphia; and third, the two "steel engravings,"—so called. The last were printed by the National Bank Note Company, by the American Bank Note Company and (?) finally by the Bureau of Engraving and Printing.

All of these wrappers were used in enormous quantities. The total period covered was nineteen and a half years and the total issue was nearly 370,000,000 stamps. The average issue per year amounted to over 18,000,000 and was about ten times as great as the number of adhesive stamps used by this firm during the tax period.

The basic reason for the fact that any match stamps were printed by the American Phototype Company during the period while the Butler & Carpenter contract with the Government was in force lies in the peculiar manner in which nearly all of the Byam, Carlton & Co. matches were wrapped for distribution and sale. Less than 10% of the firm's production was packed in boxes, or small containers to which an adhesive stamp could be affixed quickly and at little expense. Ninety per cent or more of their matches were "card" or "comb" matches. One of these cards before the writer measures 2 1/2 x 1 13/16 inches and is 3/32nd of an inch thick. Eleven saw cuts—probably made by a gang of several saws locked together—run parallel to the grain of the wood and to the longer dimension of the card from one end and stop 3/4 inch short of the other end. This results in twelve matches, each 2 1/8 inches long and about 3/32 inches thick, connected at one end by a strip 3/8 inch wide. This strip corresponds to the base of a comb and each match was like the tooth of a comb. The separated ends were dipped in the composition combining phosphorous and often sulphur. In use a match was broken off the card exactly as one would break the end tooth from a comb.

The central device on the D. F. Hutchinson match stamp is an excellent representation of one card in miniature. Eight cards, each containing twelve matches, would make a package on which the tax was 1c. Evidently it was inconvenient and expensive to wrap these cards in a package and then have to affix an adhesive stamp, and Byam, Carlton & Co., insisted that the Government supply them with "stamped paper" which under the law it was their right to demand.

The following quotation from a letter of Joseph R. Carpenter written to his partner John M. Butler, under date of August 17, 1864, shows the difficulty which confronted Butler & Carpenter and the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

"It appears that Mr. Carlton, the largest manufacturer in America, puts up his matches in a peculiar wrapper and manner; and he cannot use the Government stamp, save at great expense and trouble. Again, the ordinary private stamps applicable to boxes, etc., do not meet his case. Hence he wants a peculiar stamp: a stamp in the center of his label wrapper. * Now Mr. Carlton prefers steel-plate engraving as the best protection to himself as well as the government, but the cost would be tremendous."

"For instance, his label is 3 1/2 x 6 in., only nine (9) can go on one of our plates. His demand will be 144,000 per diem. Hence it would require 25 plates worked all the time to supply him; or sixteen thousand (16,000) impressions daily. His plates would have to be retouched every three days, allowing 50,000 impressions before retouching charges. Hence, he would have to pay yearly a sum (this was so badly blotted in copying as to be illegible)—It would cost us $24,000 at least to print his stamps, besides the engraving, ink, materials, etc. 16,000 imps. at 50c. per hundred is $80 per day for printer's wages. In other words it would cost him $30,000 per annum to have a private, steel-plate engraved, stamp. Hence, he cannot entertain the idea, though anxious, nor can we accept his stamp at a penny less under penalty of a ruinous loss."

The problem was solved by an arrangement between Butler & Carpenter and the American Phototype Company, whereby the American Phototype Company paid Butler & Carpenter a bonus and took over the production of the wrapper stamps. Their "beautiful, safe and admirable patent especially applicable to this purpose" seems to have been considerably overrated. Certainly there is nothing very beautiful, safe or admirable about any of the stamps or wrappers which this Company produced. Most of them, if not all, lack the charm and clearness usually obtained in a well executed and well printed wood cut. Their principal merit was that they could be produced quickly and cheaply.

1c Black, First Die.

The only data we have regarding the first wrapper made for Byam, Carlton & Co. by the American Phototype Company is contained in the Boston Book. The die was approved in August, 1864. The wrapper was first issued in September, 1864, and was last issued sometime in 1865. According to the personal recol-

Pursuant to the terms set forth on the front inside cover page of my 1927 price list, all prices quoted in that list are cancelled as of July 1st. The reason for this will be apparent when one considers that I issue my list each fall and that nine months see price changes in any line of business.

However, a large percentage of the prices will continue good until my 1928 list is ready in October.

Just order from the list as formerly but include a supplemental list of from 50 to 75 per cent. of the total amount of your order. That will give me the opportunity of selecting stamps the prices of which have not been changed.

H. F. COLMAN

lection of Mr. S. A. Carlton, the junior member of the firm, the total issue was approximately 25,000,000. The writer has never seen or heard of a pair and there is no evidence to show how many were printed on each sheet. The circumstances in connection with their issue, however, would indicate that several were printed at each impression.

The central portion of the design is composed of a rectangle measuring about 3 1/4 x 2 inches divided vertically into three sections. The section at the left is inscribed in five lines of uncolored letters appearing like type on a colorless ground, "BYAM, CARLTON & CO.—MANUFACTURERS OF—Wax Tapers, Water-Proof, Card, Block—Wood, and Paper Box—MATCHES." The second line is in small letters and the whole inscription reads upward.

The section at the right is inscribed in six lines of Roman and italic letters on a colorless ground "These Matches have been sold for nearly—thirty years, and have withstood the damp—and humid atmosphere of every climate—when all others have failed. Shippers and—Sea Captains invariably give our Matches—the preference. B. C. & Co.

The central section is nearly square and measures 1 1/4 x 2 inches. A central disk nearly 3/4 inches in diameter contains the portraits of Messrs. Byam and Carlton facing to the left. This is surrounded by a colored band inscribed in colorless capitals "U. S. INTERNAL REVENUE" above and "PROPRIETARY" below. This is surrounded by another band divided into sixteen sections each of which contains a colorless hand holding a lighted match. This band is surrounded by another band also divided into sixteen sections, each being in line with a section of the inner band. The outer edge of these sections is rounded and each contains a seated figure holding a lighted match. There are small ornaments in the spaces between the points at the outer edge of these sections. This part of the design forms an elaborate disk nearly 1 1/4 inches in diameter. A curved line of capitals above the disk reads "MANUFACTURED BY BYAM, CARLTON & CO." and a similar line below the disk reads "96 FRIEND STREET, BOSTON."

This central section of the wrapper is identical with the main portion of the large adhesive stamp printed by the American Phototype Co. for Byam, Carlton & Co. except that on the adhesive the band containing the hands is omitted and the complete disk therefore is smaller. Surrounding the three central sections of the wrapper is a rectangular band 8mm wide, composed of crossed diagonal lines in pairs. This band is in turn surrounded by another ornamental band about 5mm wide, which contains a series of poorly executed ornaments intended to represent fleur-de-lis. The other edge consists of two colored lines, the inner being much heavier, but on many stamps they are poorly printed and merge. The part of the design already described makes a rectangle measuring 4 3/4 x 3 inches. Adjoining the middle of each side of this large rectangle is placed a small rectangle. These four small rectangles are nearly 30mm long and about 10mm wide. Each is inscribed in two curved lines of colored capitals "U. S. INTERNAL REVENUE—PROPRIETARY" on a colorless ground. In each upper corner is a colorless shaded numeral "1" placed diagonally on shaded scroll work and at the bottom is a small colored panel bearing in colorless capitals "ONE CENT." Each of these four small rectangles is so placed that the inscription "ONE CENT" is next to the edge of the large rectangle. The outer and finer line of color surrounding the large rectangle does not pass between the large rectangle and these smaller rectangles, but passes outside the latter, thus connecting them to the main portion of the wrapper. The complete design measures 130mm x 98mm.

In all the realm of philately no stamp properly comparable to this U. S. revenue is so rare in the proportion which the number of specimens known to be in existence bears to the number probably issued and used and certainly no postage stamp in the world of which anything like 25,000,000 specimens were issued is so rare as this stamp. The present writer has seen less than ten different copies and considers this wrapper to be of practically equal rarity with the large Byam & Carlton adhesive. Of the lat-

On the day that Colonel Charles Lindbergh arrived in St. Louis a new ten cent air mail was issued in his honor. It was placed on sale on the first day in St. Louis and Washington.

Colonel Lindbergh is the most talked of man in the world today. What souvenir of the world's greatest hero could be more acceptable to a philatelist than a cover bearing the Lindbergh stamp, mailed in St. Louis on the day of the home-coming of the famous air mail flier?

I offer this fine St. Louis Lindbergh souvenir cover, a first day cover of the new stamp from Washington, and an unused single, all for only $1.00. The two covers are actually flown air mail covers, much more interesting and valuable than the many first day covers of this air mail stamp which were not flown.

If you want copies of the new Lindbergh stamp to show and present your friends I will supply them in quantities of 25 or more at 10% over face value, plus postage. This is a wonderful chance to advertise philately to your friends by showing the connection between stamps and world events.

Stamp only about one-third as many issued.

M. Sterling correctly described this stamp as early as 1888, and in his revues catalog for that year priced it at $5.00. Until the 1902 edition the Scott catalog either did not list this wrapper stamp or else confused it with the large thirty-cent or with the second wrapper.
The latter much resembles the first wrapper and these two have often been mistaken for each other. The 1898 edition of the Scott catalog listed this, the first Scott, Carlton & Co. wrapper correctly and from then until 1900 priced it at $15.00, from 1901 until 1909, it was priced $25.00. In 1910, the price was raised to $35.00, where it remained until the present quotation of $50.00 was established in 1922. All known specimens are on a Manila tissue paper.

Have You a Surplus of These?

We always want to buy for ready cash and at the top of the market anything fine in early U. S. stamps or covers. If you have a specialized collection of any stamps or series; a find of old correspondence; an accumulation of 3c '51s, '57s or '61s on or off cover; patriotic covers of the Civil War, either Confederate or Union, or of the Spanish American war; a few thousand Bank Note issues, even the common 2c and 3c stamps if there are enough to bother with.

Send them to us with your best cash price. Particularly if you have items you think are worth more than anyone else will pay, for that is just the kind we want. Our check or the stamps will come to you by return mail if you ask it.

Just now we are anxious to spend some real money for fine
items, but don't want the culls at any price.

PERFORATIONS, CANCELS, ETC.

By SEVARD.

King Louis Cross-Eye V never knew his spirit would fly to Paris and come back with an air-mail pilot sitting on top of the world. And with a philatelic prestige beyond all hopes and centenaries and newly erected monuments. We untie our earlarks and take off our chapeaux to the new stamp and its factor.

Which all means that the spirit of St.
Louis may show itself in the coming philatelic convention next August.

The rotary press compound perforations are coming out for general postage
in quick fashion, making many first day covers. Although a few of the stamps were issued precancelled first, still in all a first day enthusiast should not neglect
these first class covers.

A local wit assures us that the Turk
who claims to 156 years old, is decidedly not a stamp collector. There is consolation in knowing that real collectors don't have to live that long to get all the real fun of living.

Meters will soon reach the 6100 mark,
although there has been a gradual slowing up of late. A check list of meter users is an astounding index of the biggest mailers in the United States. The recent 17c meters have been most popular and the 4½c the rarest.

Cancels are so standardized today that it is rare that one finds any deviation from the machines, number handstamps, grids and bars on letters and rollers and ovals on packages. An official envelope from Washington recently bore a new cancel, which was entirely experimental.
This machine is a meter town mark with a set of seven wave lines printed in black. We can only assume that the counting of official mail by means of a meter machine yielded some figures of portent towards economy.

A French news item objects to "British Goods Are Best" as a slogan. Fume
Tobacco Cubano Que Es El Mejor Del Mundo doesn't appeal to those who smoke Melanchrino No. 9's or Camel 20's.

We noted that the coil plate number on the old flat bed paste ups has found its way to prominence in recent auctions.

Equally as uncommon is the coil showing a vertical guide line either to right or left of the stamp. Then there are those private perforations which always interest the erudite specialist. Whether it's booklets, coils, cut squares, entires, revenues, tax paid, or plate numbers, there always remain a few scarce items we can search for, and almost get.

Colored cancels are being seen less and less each day. The magenta machine in New York for Registry and a few Return to Sender machines in violet have at times cancelled, but we have never seen a colored wave mark. Most colored cancels are ovals, rollers, and line
stamps, with a handstamp now and then.
Has anyone a checklist of these current colored cancels?

Comparing current cancels with those found on the 3c, 1879, we find past cancels run approximately as follows:
Smudges, 24%; Corks, 27%; Targets,
22%; Cork Letters, 6%; Duplex Nos.,
5%; Pen Marks, 3%; Cork Grids, 3%;
Towns, 2%; Stars, 1%; Lesser groups,
7%; Total, 100%.

FLYING HIGH

By CHARLES E. ROE.

PNOM-PENK, April 1, 1927. Special Dispatch to MEKEEL'S WEEKLY. (Delayed in transmission.)

Postmaster-Generalissimo Gjon
Pzmaiffe announced today that the circuniterrestrial flight sponsored by his administration will start July 14 at 4 A.
M. (daylight-saving time). Pilot Joktan Yahudi, Vice-Admiral in the Pnom-Pen-kian navy is now putting the last touches on the Orc, which he designed and built himself.

The flight will be the first test of the new Yahudi motor, using a special fuel, yahudine, a solution of nitroglycerin in gasoline with the addition of certain essential oils whose identity is at present a secret. The trip will be made in four hops, the stopping places being the Isle of Yap; Counani, South America; Stella-land, South Africa; finishing at Pnom-Penk, which Admiral Yahudi hopes to reach about July 28.

Of interest to the stamp collecting world is the announcement that 447,000 letters will be carried on the trip. Local stamps will be affixed to these letters at each halting-place and cancelled with date and time. During the flight each

HIS ANGLE

That there are many men of many minds among the thinking collectors is proved by the following letter that came from that political and editorial writer,
Mr. Clinton L. Chalfant, of the Daily Times and Indianian, Warsaw, Indiana.
Mr. Chalfant has been cogitating on the subject of commemoratives which cannot come too fast for him but his idea in the following remarks is that his plan would dispense with the "dull portrait issue"
and make place for special subjects without the introduction of extra stamps.
Evidently, our national portrait gallery
does not impress Mr. Chalfant as vividly as it does some other collectors. Clear the track for him.

"The last general issue of United States postage stamps was in 1922 and 1923, four to five years ago. It is now time that the post office department should change the issue. In doing this the department would not be 'troubled'
with special issues as there are 23 different denominations issued. These special subjects could be put on the general issue.

Speaking frankly, some of the present
issue are a disgrace to the Government.
Take for example the 11 cent Hayes—the picture of the president looks like it was printed from a wooden cut. Another thing, why has the department insisted letter will be further cancelled with the special "Orc" mark, which is an orc in flight with the date, hour, minute, latitude and longitude, by means of a special machine invented and constructed by Pilot Yahudi, who will also autograph

a limited number.

Admiral Yahudi believes that these letters can be marketed for $5,000 each and has promised that the proceeds will be turned over to the Scarlet Swastika Society, of which he is president and treasurer.

GENEVA, June 10, 1927. (A.P.)

The Director of the Universal Postal Union announces that the Postmasters-General of Liberia, Liechtenstein and Barbuda have ordered special sets of postage stamps to be issued to commemorate the Pnom-Penk-Pnom-Penk flight.

BIG BUG, ARIZONA, June 4, 1927 (A.P.)

G. W. P. Hunter, representative from the Third Congressional district of Arizona, announces that he will use his influence to have a special postage stamp issued to commemorate the Pnom-Penk around-the-world flight.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 5, 1927 (A.P.)

Postmaster-General New, when interviewed today, refused to make any statement about the proposed Pnom-Penk flight stamp.

DE PINEDO AIR MAIL FROM NEWFOUNDLAND

By HARRY E. HUBER.

Col. Francesco de Pinedo started on his four-continent flight at Cagliari, Italy, on February 13th last and flew to Africa and South America; thence to the United States via Haiti and Cuba. At Roosevelt Lake, Arizona, his plane was burned, and another craft was sent out to replace it. In this, the "Santa Maria II," he flew over eastern and southern United States, and across Canada to Quebec, leaving there on Wednesday morning May 18, 1927, for Shippegan, New Brunswick.

In the St. John's, Newfoundland, daily papers of May 18th, there appeared the following Post Office Notice relative to a limited air mail which it was planned to dispatch to Italy and the neighboring countries, by Col. de Pinedo's plane.

"Royal Arms

Post Office Notice.

Air Mail Per De Pinedo via Trepassey, Newfoundland.

A limited number of letters, not exceeding 1 ounce in weight, prepaid with a sixty-cent Newfoundland postage stamp, endorsed "Via Air Mail," will be accepted at the General Post Office, and forwarded to Trepassey, for transmission by Air Mail to Italy, up to 5 p. m. Thursday, 19th. inst.

Letters for this despatch should be handed into the Minister of Posts' Office (Upper Flat, G. P. O.) between the hours of 10 a. m. and 5 p. m. It would be advisable for senders to have their address noted on back of letter.

The despatch of this mail is subject to consent and courtesy of Commander Francesco de Pinedo.

Signed, W. J. WOODFORD,
Minister, Post and Telegraphs.
G. P. O. May 18, 1927.
May 18. li. (news)."

For the prepayment of postage on this air mail, the Minister of Posts and Telegraphs, authorized the overprinting, in red, of 300 of the 60c black, Cabot series of 1897, in three lines:—

"AIR MAIL
De Pinedo
1927."

These stamps were sold only to those presenting letters for inclusion in the air mail and as the mail was limited in weight (approximately 3 lbs.), many were disappointed. Most of the stamps were purchased on the 18th May, and the few remaining were sold the next morning.

The 60c Cabot was considered most appropriate for overprinting, as the stamp portrays King Henry VII, by whom letters patent were granted on March 5, 1497, to John Cabot (a native of Genoa), and his three sons, to take possession on behalf of England of any new lands which they might discover.

In the mail was an official communication from the Prime Minister, Hon. W. S. Monroe, addressed to H. E. Benito Mussolini, of Italy—

"Prime Minister's Office,
St. John's, NEWFOUNDLAND,
May 19, 1927.

Your Excellency:—

Your great country, already associated with Newfoundland, through the discovery of our Island by John Cabot, of Genoa, in 1497, is again linked with Newfoundland by the glorious air flight of Commander Pinedo.

I take advantage of this first and historic Air Mail between Newfoundland and Italy to extend to your Excellency, and through you to Their Majesties and the people of Italy, cordial greetings and sentiments of friendship and goodwill, from the people of Newfoundland.

Commander Pinedo carries with him our sincere concern for his safety, and the hope that he may successfully finish his historic journey.

Signed, W. S. MONROE,
Prime Minister.

His Excellency
Benito Mussolini,
Premier and Minister of Foreign Affairs,
Rome, Italy."

The mail was sent down to Trepassey, by rail, on the morning of Friday, May 20th, and at 6 o'clock that afternoon, just a few hours before Capt. Chas. A. Lindbergh passed over Newfoundland on his historic non-stop flight of 33½ hours, from New York to Paris, the "Santa Maria II" arrived at Trepassey Bay, on the southern coast of the Avalon peninsula, about 80 miles south of St. John's, having flown from Shippegan, N. B., in five hours.

At 2.58 a. m. Eastern daylight saving time, on Monday, May 23, 1927, they took off for Rome, via the Azores, passing over St. John's, at 3.12 a. m. But later in the day, unable to make headway against the strong winds, and gas running low, it was necessary to alight on the ocean about 200 miles north of their objective. Near the landing spot was the three-masted Portuguese fishing schooner "Infanta Sagres", bound for the Grand Banks, which rescued the aviators and took the plane in tow. On the 26th, the schooner was relieved by the Italian s. s. "Superga", and the machine and crew were brought into port at Horta, in the Azores, Monday morning, May 30th.

Repairs were there made, and on June 10th the flight was continued; first flying from Horta to the place where the plane was forced down, and then to Ponta Delgada, so as to retain the continuity of the flight. Leaving Ponta Delgada on the 11th, they arrived at Lisbon that afternoon; at Barcelona, on the 13th; and the final leg to Italy was accomplished on the 16th.

The Cabot series of postage stamps, issued June 24, 1897, to commemorate the 60th year of Queen Victoria's reign, and the 400th anniversary of the discovery of the island, by John Cabot, comprised 14 denominations, 1c to 60c inclusive, line engraved and printed by the American Bank Note Co. of New York, in sheets of 100, on unwatermarked paper, and perforated 12 single line. Of these, a small stock of the 15c, 24c, 30c and 60c still remains.

Of the 60c, 100,000 were printed, and 55,000 were in stock September 10, 1897. In December, 1918, during a shortage of low denomination stamps, and awaiting receipt of the Caribou series (issued January 2nd, 1919), consideration was given to surcharging these down to 2c. A sheet of 100 of the 60c black was overprinted in red in 3 lines "TWO—2—CENTS", but it was so indistinct that the scheme was abandoned.

We read in the press that, at last, the three high values are to appear in pictorial form—which will obsolete those overprinted on Great Britain. Again 'twould be well to take time by the forelock:

EDITORIAL

We were told that Lindbergh carried a few letters on his flight to Paris with the expectation of sending them back to friends in America by mail; and now confirmation is made of the report by the Illinois State Register of Springfield, Illinois, dated June 8th, which tells the story in these words: "Carried from Lambert Field, St. Louis to New York and then across the Atlantic ocean on his epochal flight by Captain Charles A. Lindbergh, a letter, valued at more than $1,000, was received by Postmaster William H. Conkling of Springfield this morning. Postmaster Conkling refused an offer of $1,000 for the letter half an hour after he received it. 'Lindbergh remembers his friends,' was the declaration of Postmaster Conkling this morning when he received the letter by registered mail. As the in-

IN

SCOTT'S MONTHLY JOURNAL

ON

SPECIALIZED U. S.

In order to meet the growing need for accurate information regarding United States postage, we have instituted a new Department in Scott's Monthly Journal, devoted exclusively to Specialized U. S.

This will be a regular feature of the Journal, in addition to our many other features and noteworthy articles. Mr. Herman Toasperi has agreed to take over this Department, and all additions and corrections affecting the Specialized Catalogue of United States Stamps will appear monthly. The importance of this to collectors of U. S. is readily apparent. All basic designs from which cancellation listings are made, will be illustrated. In cases of varieties, etc., same will be illustrated as far as possible and accurately described.

The April issue carries the first of these articles. Subscription to Scott's Monthly Journal is $1.00 a year, and we urge immediate subscription in order not to miss any of this new series. Be sure to have your subscription start with the April issue. [t]

trepid flyer prepared to drive his plane from Los Angeles to New York a few weeks ago, Postmaster Conkling prepared the letter and sent it by air mail to Lambert field. When Lindbergh arrived there on the first leg of his record-breaking cross-country dash, it was delivered to him. With a few other letters and cards which he had received, Lindbergh placed Mr. Conkling's communication in his flying suit to be carried across the Atlantic. The letter was mailed by Lindbergh in an envelope bearing the return of the 'Embassy of the United States' at Paris. It was placed in the French mails on May 28th, reaching here today. The envelope bore Lindbergh's signature, with the notation 'This letter carried by Captain Charles A. Lindbergh in his monoplane, Ortege Contest, New York to Paris, and mailed by him at Paris, France.' Here, indeed, is a souvenir that is of unparalleled interest and the fruit of Mr. Conkling's enterprise is sweet.

In the foregoing story it will be noticed that Lindbergh was accommodating enough to take a few other letters and cards which, no doubt, have been returned to those addressees who were fortunate enough to be on Lindbergh's list. It was natural that the amiable airman, quiet and unassuming as he is, made friends while in the Chicago-St. Louis service and we have had particulars about the indomitable flyer from one collector who had established a friendship with him before his name electrified all nations. The several philatelists who have Springfield covers bearing the name of Lindbergh, autographed by himself as a pilot have reason to thank their lucky stars that fortune has found them out.

* * *

Mr. Max Golding of Chicago possesses one of these Lindbergh covers that is unique. It was sent to President Hindenburg of Germany as a memento of the first Springfield flight and with the intimation that if it was not of interest to him in a philatelic sense, the sender would appreciate the return of it. President Hindenburg was considerate enough to act upon the suggestion with the result that this envelope is now in Mr. Golding's possession. The letter that accompanied the envelope is one of interest and a translation is promised to us.

From Mr. S. Tanner Green, we have received the following account of Canada's new issue which is expected to appear prior to July 1st. The six denominations of this new historical set are now being printed and the values and designs are as follows: one-cent orange, head of Sir John A. MacDonald; two-cent green, picture of the fathers of confederation; three-cent red, picture of the central block of the Parliament Buildings; five-cent purple, head of Sir Wilfrid Laurier; twelve-cent blue, map of Canada, 1867-1927, and a twenty-cent, special delivery, red, showing five stages of mail transportation in Canada.

The following notice from the post office department is descriptive of the new Lindbergh stamp and is reduced to its essentials. The stamp will be placed on sale on June 18, 1927, in four different cities, "named especially because of their connection with the lives of either Col. Lindbergh or his mother, Mrs. Evangeline Lodge Lindbergh. They are St. Louis, Missouri; Detroit, Michigan; Little Falls, Minnesota, and Washington, D. C." On the same day the stamps will be on sale at the Philatelic Agency and other offices will be supplied as soon as possible.

The Philadelphia Stamp Club, which was early in the field with its suggestion that a Lindbergh stamp be issued has received a letter from R. S. Regar, third assistant postmaster general, with a description of the new air mail stamp, which will displace the regular design now issued to postmasters and be printed in blue. The Philadelphia Stamp Club loaned its influence to a good cause and may rightfully claim credit for starting the Lindbergh stamp, which will have made its appearance by the time these words are in print.

Mr. Paul R. Gardella, San Francisco, says that he has been collecting stamps since 1862, when he began operations in London. He was seven years old at the time and he has dim recollections of buying stamps, "in company with his mother at a shop in that city at a penny a stamp." Mr. Gardella is all too brief in his letter, which he ends by asking if there is any other collector living today who as early as he. He neglects to address, else we should ask him if he has any of the stamps he bought then "album" today, as well as other questions that come to mind.

From Mr. Vance L. Smith, Boston, we have received a vivid description of the hours that he spent recently at the stamp bourse, which were attended with pleasure, but little real philatelic. He observes that his French was understood better by the patrons of the change than by Parisians generally. He thinks that the bargains are few far between although there are a stories afloat of wonderful opportunities that have been seized to the advantage of the watchful customer. From his experiences in many of the stamp camps of Europe, we gather that the earlies are a dwindling factor and when they are found in good condition the prices asked are a check on the collector's enthusiasm.

"Die Postmarke," Vienna, for publishes a review of the first German stamp catalog which was published years ago in Leipzig, in the course of which a most revealing compilation made of prices now and in 1867. Of the advances stagger the imagination and as may be supposed, many of the German states that have been had for almost nothing are now so much more today as to tax credit. Then, there were about 1,550 stamps available for collecting purposes. Africa brought up in the rear of the seventy stamps. In the instance of S. stamps, the 5-cent of 1851 is priced at 80 marks, instead of one mark and the ninety-cent, 1857-60, 200 marks, was 2 marks.

We thank Mr. George G. B. New York, for two pages from American Stamp Mercury, Boston, containing an article by J. K. Tiffan, "A Few Hints on the Arrangement of a Collection and the Selection of Stamps," which was a wonderfully advanced study for its day and well worth one of America's greatest experts of philately, John Kerr Tiffany.

PHASE AT COLLECTORS CLUB

The May 19th meeting of The Collectors Club, New York City, was graced by the attendance of Dr. Carroll Chase who gave a large group of members and visitors an interesting talk upon the stamps of 1851 and 1857. Dr. Chase is an outstanding specialist and writer on the stamps, and in his talk used two of his Reference Collection albums.
If there is a limit to 'variations' in a stamp, it is possible to believe there are any beyond those discovered by Dr. Chase. A visitor of no mean philatelic ability asked that query, addressing the Secretary of The Collectors Club.
The visitor was told that, one might see so that Dr. Chase had evolved the ultimate in study of a stamp.

His meeting was apprised, through
Charles J. Phillips, that Charles Lathrop
Pak was donating a collection of Brazil stamps to the club. This collection received stellar honors in England and is twenty volumes or so. Mr. Pak's gift to the club was acknowledged by telegram, the thanks of the body being sent. The eminent philatelist and forestry expert.

TESTIMONIAL

The Manila, P. I., Daily Bulletin,
April 27th, contained a cut of the diploma that was given to Jose Castañer,
for its stamp embellishments somewhat colored in the picture. We read:
"Jose Castañer has been complimented
by Director Jose Topacio of the bureau of posts with commemorative stamps of the legislative hall, as a token of gratitude for his initiative and disinterested
work in connection with the impression of the legislative stamps. Mr. Castañer was the instigator of the surcharges made by the bureau of posts on the arrival of the Spanish aviators, Gallarza and Lliga in Manila. He is also the author of the post mark used by the bureau,
which bears the coat of arms of the United States, the Philippines and Spain with an airplane."

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., WINS
Springfield, Illinois, has hitched its wagon to a star and is now enjoying a ride that makes us all a bit envious of its good fortune. When he was a pilot on the Chicago-St. Louis route, Lindbergh was well treated in Springfield because of his engaging qualities, and that he warmed toward some of the folks there, we have no doubt. Now, Lindy has promised Postmaster Conkling that he will attend the ceremonies attending the dedication of Lindbergh Field in Springfield; and it was from this field that Lindbergh carried the first air mail from Springfield, Illinois, on April 15th, 1926,
when Contract Route No. 2 was inaugurated as carrying air mail. Springfield wanted to mark its festal day with something distinctive and how well success has crowned the intention is shown in the following paragraphs from the Postmark, issued monthly by the Springfield
post office. It is unfortunate that philatelists generally could not have been notified of this most interesting flight.
"The Second Assistant Postmaster General has granted authority for Springfield to have a Special Flight on this day, using a special cancellation stamp, and the new Lindbergh 10c Air Mail Stamp
will be available at the Springfield, Illinois, Post Office, if you prefer them,
and cannot get them at your local office."

Obsolete

Another familiar philatelic expression is obsolete. Stamps that are no longer on sale at a post-office owing to the fact that they have been superseded by a new issue are said to be obsolete. Many obsolete stamps are available for postage long after they have ceased to be in issue, but sometimes old issues cease to have franking power, and in this event they are said to be demonetised. A demonetised stamp, therefore, is always obsolete, but an obsolete stamp is not, of necessity, demonetised.

Grill or Grid

Another stamp-collecting expression requiring explanation is grill. This is a pattern of small embossed dots usually arranged in the shape of a square or rectangle and occasionally covering the whole of the stamp. It is found upon some of the stamps of the United States and Peru. The postal authorities had this grill (or "grid" as it is sometimes called) applied to make the cleaning of used stamps impossible. The embossing or grill effected a weakening of the substance of the paper and made it highly absorbent. Thus when the stamps were cancelled a fair amount of the postmarking ink was absorbed by the paper so that any attempt at removing the cancellation simply resulted in the destruction of the stamp.

Stamp News for the Juniors

Is there anything you want to know about stamps or stamp collecting? If so, write the editor. What would you like to see in this department? We have no way of knowing unless you tell us. Mr. Senior Collector, can't you give the boy collector about 50 words of encouragement along practical lines? Address your letter to the Beverly office.

Juniors—Please Note

During the absence of the Managing Editor in Europe, this page will be cared for by Editor Charles E. Severn, 713 Oxford Bldg., Chicago, Ill. He will render our Juniors any assistance that may be desired.

Color Charts

Juniors sometimes ask how they are to be trained in discriminating between colors as applied to stamps and without going into details, it is plain that they are confronted with a problem, since it is a question whether they may depend wholly on such aids in the form of charts that are available. Nearly thirty years ago Mr. B. W. Warhurst on behalf of a London firm of dealers published a color guide that was well conceived but it did not receive at the time the circulation that it deserved, as then more than now, collectors were disinclined to pay money for anything except stamps, themselves. Various color charts have made their appearance since then and some of them were very pretentious, even though they were issued only for the use of philatelists. One ingenious attempt was to identify colors by the stamps, themselves, common stamps being used to illustrate red-brown, live grey, etc. None of these productions attained general circulation among collectors. Five or six years ago, Stanley Gibbons Color Guide was offered to the philatelic public and since then, it has been improved. It lists one hundred shades; and by comparing the stamp colors with those on the chart, the collector may arrive at a true estimate of them. The price is about 75 cents (or 2s6d., net).

Junior Dictionary

Federal Republic of Central America.—The initial step for the formation of this republic was taken Jan. 19, 1921, when a treaty looking towards this end was signed by representatives of Guatemala, Honduras, Salvador and Costa Rica. This treaty became effective April 8, 1921, when Guatemala was the third state to ratify. The capital city is Tegucigalpa, the Honduran capital.

Festas da Cidade.—This legend appears upon two "Charity" stamps issued in Lisbon ("Lisboa") in 1913. It means "Festival of the City." The use of the stamps was compulsory, in addition to the regular fees, upon all correspondence (1c) from June 10-15 inclusive and upon all telephones (2c) for the same period.

Fez-Sefro.—Fake stamps were printed presumably for a mail service between these two Moroccan cities. They never performed any postal duty.

Freie Stadt Danzig.—This inscription is found on certain stamps of the former German port of Danzig, "Free City of Danzig."

Gl. O. Z. 7 Fev. 1914.—This overprint is found on Hayti stamps and is an abbreviation for Gen. Oreste Zamor with the date of his accession to the presidency. His success as a revolutionist was short-lived, for he was massacred in 1915 with two hundred other political prisoners, this act resulting in American intervention.

Future Delivery.—This overprint on U. S. documentary stamps indicate the purpose for which the stamps were used, viz., a tax on sales of stock for future delivery.

Gorny Slask.—This is the Polish name for Upper Silesia and is found on certain stamps issued for the towns of Beuthen, Kattowitz and Gleiwitz.

Control Marks

Control marks are overprints of more or less meaningless devices applied to certain stamps either as an additional safeguard against forgery or to prevent stamps of similar design, but without the overprints, which have been stolen from being brought into use. The 1899 issue for Persia will serve as an example.

Cabled Anchor

An incorrect term sometimes used in place of "foul anchor," that is, an anchor with which the cable has become entangled or "fouled." It is a watermark shown in all the stamps of the Cape of Good Hope.

Junior Glossary

Estero.—This overprint on Italian stamps shows they were for use in the Post-office maintained in the Turkish Empire.

Estensi.—The inscription identifying the stamps of Modena.

Figures.—None of the stamps of Brazil issued prior to 1866 bear any indication of their origin. The designs consist of large figures only (denoting the facial values) on an engraved background.

Franco.—This word, meaning "free," is the only inscription (other than the value) shown on some of the stamps of Switzerland.

Franco-Scrisorei.—An inscription shown on the early stamps of Roumania.

G.—This letter, overprinted on certain stamps of the Cape of Good Hope signifies they were for use in Griqualand.

G. & D.—These letters, overprinted on certain French Colonial postage due stamps, show they were for use in Guadeloupe and Dependencies.

G. F. B.—These letters were overprinted on some of the stamps of Tonga to convert them into Official labels.

G. P. E.—These letters were overprinted on certain French Colonial stamps for use in the colony of Guadeloupe.

Granadina.—This name appears on the 1859-60 stamps of Colombia.

Guyane Francaise.—French Guiana.

Guinée Francaise.—French Guinea.

Guy. Franc.—An overprint applied to certain French Colonial stamps intended for use in French Guiana.

Helvetia.—Switzerland.

H. H. Nawab Shah Jahan Begam.—The only English inscription on many of the stamps of Bhopal.

H. I. & U. S.—Hawaiian Islands and United States. This inscription appears on one of the rare 13c Missionary stamps of Hawaii.

H R Z G L.—Shown on the 1864 stamps for Holstein.

Marginal Markings

Reference to Marginal plate numbers or inscriptions is frequently made in stamp articles nowadays. The meaning of these expressions is obvious for, of course, they simply relate to anything engraved on the margin of a plate and thus printed at the same time and in the same color as the stamps. Any sheet of United States stamps will serve as an example, for the number of the plate is engraved, the imprint of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing is shown and there are generally initials of the plate-men who have had something or other to do with that particular plate. Marginal varieties are chiefly of interest to the specialist and their study alone is an interesting occupation.

Spandrels

A term sometimes used in describing a stamp design in spandrels. These are the spaces that appear between an oval or circle and the rectangular frame or border outside. Thus, in the case of the embossed stamps of Gambia the spandrels are the spaces, roughly triangular in shape, occupied by the ornamental scrolls.

Tete-Bêche

Tête-bêche is another familiar expression and one that often puzzles the novice. When a stamp on a sheet appears upside down in relation to its neighbor it is said to be tête-bêche as regards the surrounding it. Usually such varieties are due to an error in preparing the plate either a cliché being inserted wrong way up or one of the impressions roll on to the plate upside down. In the case of the 1883 stamps of Grenada, however, the tête-bêche arrangement of the horizontal rows was intentional, each alternate row being inverted. A vertical pair of stamps from any part of the sheets of this issue is, therefore, tête-bêche. These varieties must obviously be shown in pairs, as the stamps when separated show no peculiarities.

 donald. The two-cent stamp in a green color will carry the famous picture of the Fathers of Confederation. The three-cent stamp in red bears a picture of the centre block of the Parliament Buildings. The five-cent will be in purple and will show the head of Sir William Laurier. The ten-cent stamp will be blue, illustrating a map of Canada.
 The twenty-cent stamp will be a red color and will show the progress of five stages of mail transportation in Canada.

THE FIRST U. S. POSTMASTER-GENERAL
 By HARRY M. KONWISER.

Almost every schoolboy "knows" that Benjamin Franklin was the first Postmaster General of the United States, and most stamp collectors (including the philatelic group) believe that the first stamps of our country, the 1847 issue, carry the picture of Benjamin Franklin because that efficient man was the first to take charge of the post office of the United States.

What are the facts in the case?
 The American colonies struggled along with an indifferent postal service ("conveyance of the mails"—is what it was called) and various arrangements were made at different times, in several of the Colonies, until 1710 when the British Parliament passed an act authorizing the British Postmaster General to "keep one Chief letter office in New York, and other Chief letter offices in each of her Majesty's provinces or colonies in America."

Deputy Postmaster Generals for North America were subsequently appointed,
 from time to time, from London, Benjamin Franklin receiving such appointment in 1755. He was removed in 1774.

The Continental Congress, on July 26, 1775, appointed Benjamin Franklin "Postmaster-General for the United Colonies," allowing him "a salary of one thousand dollars per annum for himself and three hundred and fifty dollars per annum for a secretary and comptroller."

The Articles of Confederation of 1778 gave the "United States in Congress assembled the sole right to establish and operate post offices, from one state to another."

The first congress assembled, approved

of the establishment of post-offices, September 22, 1789, and by this act President George Washington appointed Samuel Osgood, of Massachusetts, Postmaster-
 General of the United States.

As Washington was the first President of the United States, so was Samuel Osgood the first chief of the postal system.

All of the above facts are gleaned
 from the report of Postmaster-General N. K. Hall, dated Dec. 2, 1851, this report having been made to Congress.

According to Mr. Hall "a John Haywood, scrivener, was appointed by the Court (Boston) to take and convey letters according to their direction." This was in 1667 and was done on the petition of several Boston merchants.

There are no earlier records of postal activities in America. The United States was then a part of what was just "America" to the rest of the world. So, until more definite data is available to
 "John Haywood, scrivener," goes the honor of first operating a letter-carrying service in the New World.

And, shall we say, that philatelic study has developed the fact that the study of American history is not quite correct in saying that Benjamin Franklin was the first Postmaster-General of the United States?

History, as a rule, contains a lot of bunk. Just why it should teach the young errors of fact is one of the mysteries of modern thought. Insofar as Franklin is concerned, he had served "his Majesty" as Postmaster-General, had joined the rebellion, was discharged—so doing his duty to this country. History tells us nothing much about Samuel Osgood, who no doubt was a genuine patriot—perhaps helped at the Boston Tea Party.

At any rate, the postal system, beyond
 this report, available in a few libraries,
 has made no mention of THE first postmaster General of the United States.

Why not a Samuel Osgood stamp in 1929—the 150th centenary of the establishment of the United States Post office?

A Lindbergh Special

On June 11, 1927, the day Colonel Lindbergh reached Washington, a special flight carrying air mail to New York was made. Mail thus carried bears a special postmark reading, "Lindbergh Day—Special Flight." On June 18th, the day Lindbergh reached St. Louis, the special air mail stamp bearing his name and showing the route he followed to Paris, was placed on sale in St. Louis, Detroit, Little Falls and Washington.

I offer one of the air mail covers first described together with a first day cover from each of the four cities where the stamp was first placed on sale together with a well centered block and single of the Lindbergh air mail stamp at a price of$3.50

With each order, when requested, a copy of the official order sent out by the Third Assistant Postmaster General announcing the variety, will be sent.

Don't forget I have a good number of the other first day covers, for instance, the 1/2c postage due, tied to the cover on day of issue,—did you ever see one? Less than 100 in existence. Price each$2.00
 All of the above described items at$5.00

Lindbergh Air Mail Stamp

The Post Office Department has formally announced that the new 10c Lindbergh air mail stamp described in this column last week, will be placed on sale for the first time on Saturday, June 18th, at Detroit, Michigan, his birthplace, at Little Falls, Minnesota, his boyhood home, at Washington, where he spent a number of years while his father was a member of Congress representing Minnesota, and at St. Louis, Missouri, the home port of the "Spirit of St. Louis," and a terminus of Lindbergh's old air mail route.

The proof of this variety has been approved by the Postmaster General, and a die proof was presented to Colonel Lindbergh on his arrival in Washington on June 11th. Plates are completed, and the supply will soon go forward to the several offices mentioned. I know of no stamp in recent years that has been prepared by the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, upon such short notice. The decision of the Postmaster General to issue such a variety was made just about ten days to two weeks before the appearance of the finished stamp. I overlooked mentioning that the 18th was selected as the day of issue, for it is at this time that Lindbergh will be welcomed by the city of St. Louis.

Lindbergh Special Flight

Under date of June 9th, Postmaster General announced that, because of the necessity for providing additional planes with which to bring to Washington the enormous amount of air mail being received at air concentration points for Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, and in response to numerous requests, that one of the planes will be made available for dispatch back to New York in time to make connection at Hadley Field with a special air mail dispatch which will attempt to reach San Francisco the following day by sundown.

The plane is expected to carry from Washington a considerable quantity of photographic and moving picture films and philatelic mail. It will leave Bolling Field at 4.30 P. M., arriving at Hadley Field, the eastern terminus of the transcontinental route about 6.30 Eastern Standard Time. The mail will be transferred to another plane which will take off immediately for Chicago where the program will be repeated early Sunday morning and another plane will be on the way to the Pacific coast.

For this occasion a special rectangular postmark was applied in magenta ink. It is 2 1/2"x15/16", and reads within, "Lindbergh Day, Special Flight, June 11,

Further Important Bargains

For M. W. READERS

do not advertise REGULARLY JUST FOR THE SAKE OF ADVERTISING BUT UNTIL SUCH OPPORTUNITIES ARISE AS ENABLE ME TO ADVERTISE BARGAINS THAT ATTRACT ATTENTION.

Two purchases (one exceedingly important one) enables me to offer TEMPORARY things that will make you rush around chasing a few greenbacks to send before too late.

A little while back I offered some British Guiana at cheap rates that I have since to raise and last issue I offered the 10frs Claret Belgium at 10c. Well, I will buy all those 10frs at 75% profit on what you paid me!

I have purchased a huge parcel of High Values from big-firm correspondence that enables me to offer at wholesale rates.

The Second is the collection of 40,000 different stamps in 19 albums and books covered over a long period by Mrs. Albert Jones of Kenilworth, Eng.

The Edwardian and Geo. Colonials are nearly complete to £5, with only one or two rarities missing. Amongst others: Malta, all the rare 10sh's, in fact complete in all modern issues. Gibraltar Complete from first to last except the 10c with no value.

The £1, £2, 50 Rupee Geo. and Eds. of all colonies. The lot prices nearly $50,000. The majority are MINT. (A) Average copy. (B) Best.

Single pairs, strips and in combinations as desired at 1/2 cat. are less than usually asked for indifferent condition.

Brazil—Collection 54 stamps, including rare Scott's Nos. 23-4, 58, 72, 86, 91, 87a, 75, 92, 99, 99b, 100-2-3, 109, 110 (5 varieties), S. G. No. 221, Scott 111 (3 vars.), 112-14-15-16-18-20, S. G. Nos. 275-56, 345-6, 377-9-80, Scott 159-60-61, 174-5-6-7-8, 186, 203, 360-1-2, 129 rare, 131-2, 54 stamps (cat. $6.32), (S. G. reckoned 2c to 1d), all good copies, for 75c. Better than 1/2 cat.

Fresh arrivals of postally used brilliant used copies of scarce stuff to London Banks and business houses.

Netherlands—2 1/2 gulden, No. 86, superb, 6c.

Liberia All On Pieces or Entire Envelopes and not to be confused with the postmarked to order junk (I can do the latter Very Cheaply If Wanted). These have entirely different postmarks, one or two have the "paquet" postmark. Where cat. prices are given it is for the "unused", as these are genuinely postally used are certainly far rarer than the unused. 5c, No. 184 (cat. 10c), 3c, No. 212 (cat. 20), for 4c; $1, No. 213 (cat. $2.00), for 40c; No. 218 (cat. 20), for 4c; 50c, No. 223 or 897 (cat. $1.00), 20c each; 3c, No. 135 (cat. 8c), 2c; 10c, No. 865 (cat. 20c), for 5c; 20c, No. 894 (cat. 40), for 10c. I have a number of provisionals used together with ordinary and O. S., but it's not practical to list here—if interested send for approvals—on the usual terms.

Mozambique—No. 225, 40c (cat. 7c), for 2c; No. 226, 60c (cat. 9c), for 2c; No. 227, 80c bright rose (cat. 12), 2c; set 3 for 5c (cat. 28, less than 1/2). $1 rose, No. 228 (cat. 15), 3c; $2, No. 228 (cat. 30c), for 6c. 10 copies superb for 50c and some low values on the pieces thrown in. These come in two perfs. (as also the other colonies offered). 1 1/2 and 1 1/4, either or both perfs. may be had (say).

Angola—218, 30c, 1c (cat. 6c); 40 (cat. 7c), 2c; 60 (cat. 9c), 2c; 80 (cat. 12c), 2c; set of three 5c (cat. 28); $1 rose, 22c, 5c (cat. 25); $2 (cat. 30c), 5c. Also a very fine lot of other colonies cheap singly and combination pieces.

Belgium—2frs. 159 (cat. 15c), 3c; 1fr. 158, 1c (cat. 5c); 5fr. 137 (cat. 35c), 8c.

Iraq—No. 1, 1c; Nos. 2, 3, 4, 1c, cat. 5 to 6c each; No. 5, cat. 10c, for 4c; No. 6, 4c; No. 7, 4c, cat. 15; No. 8, 8c, cat. 18; No. 9, 1 rupee, cat. 35, for 10c; 5 Rupees, No. 11, 80c (face is $1.35); 2 Rupees, No. 13, 35c. Last chance, as these are becoming obsolete, the New Rupee Head of Feisal already out. I can offer Superb Copies of it at 20c each.

Brit. Guiana—No. 51, cat. 60, very fine, 15c; perf. 15, rare, cat. $2.00, for 60c. (These two items were offered cheaper in my last advt, and the wise ones got in. My stock is now depleted and Scott's price is now up on these and the trend of the market is still upward.)

Natal—No. 69, 4d brown, cat. 15, for 3c only (wholesale is about 3sh doz. here!). New Air Mail Label.—Our Winnipeg correspondent, Mr. Robt. A. McAlpine, writes:—

"A new Canadian Air Mail stamp was put on sale at the Winnipeg G.P.O. and the other principal cities of the Dominion, May 1, 1927. The stamp is bi-coloured, printed in sheets of fifty, and shows an aeroplane with pontoons for landing flying over a lake. Behind the plane the sun is shining between six hills. Above the plane is the inscription, 'Western Canada Airways, Limited.' Below the plane a cachet reads: 'Air Mail Service One Oz.' In the upper left- and right-hand corners of the framework are the letters 'W.C.A.' woven together. The stamps sell at 10c each ($5.00 per sheet), and will carry mail from Rolling Portage (Hudson) to the Red Lake and Woman-lake gold-fields.

First flight will take place May 15th, the day the Company's contract begins.

Stamp Collecting.

ITALY.—Mr. R. Roberts sends for chronicle copies of the Lire 1.85 slate

15.00. CC. Frame, 1d, No. 16, rare, cat. $5, for only 90c. 4d blue in shades, No. 17, cat. .80, 15c each (unless something very rare I give my customers every benefit on shades). 6d violet, cat. $1.50, 15c. 1sh, cat. .85, 20c. 4d on 6d, No. 20, cat. $2.00, 48c. 1d on 1sh green (underrated), cat. 4.00, $1.50. Most of you will find this a "missing" stamp in your collection. CC, no frame, 1/2d, cat. .50, 10c. 1d, cat. .15, 3c. 4d (variety of shades), 9c, cat. .50. 3d, No. 29, cat. $3.00, cinch at 50c. 3d on 3d, No. 30, cat. $1.50, 38c. Do., No. 31, cat. .30, 7c. Cr. CA. 33-4-5, any at 1/4th Scott. No. 36, 10c, cat. .40. 6d, No. 37, cat. $1.00, for 19c. Anchor 6d, No. 44, superb copies on pieces, singles, pairs, strips, in shade variety at Only 2c per stamp, cat. 10c. 2 1/2d on 3d, No. 47, cat. .25, 5c. 2 1/2d olive, 2c, cat. .10. 4d blue, No. 49, superb in singles, pairs, strips, on pieces, shade varieties, at 3c each; almost a gift in this brilliant condition and not nearly the price of very ordinary copies. 1d on 2d, No. 51, pairs, singles, etc., at 3c each, cat. .10. 3d, No. 59, 10c, cat. .40. 4d, No. 60, cat. .25, 5c. 3d, No. 62, rare, for 20c, cat. .75. 2d, No. 65, for 5c. 2 1/2d, No. 66, for 35c. 3d, No. 67, for 2c, cat. .12. 4d, No. 68, 2c; No. 69, 2c; 70, 1c. 5sh, No. 71, for 75c.

Monaco—2frs olive brown, No. 75, cat. .30, for 10c.

Uganda—5sh postally used on pieces, 80c each.

These do not touch upon the 19 Vol. collection of 40,000 Varieties of which it is impossible to enumerate here and which are being mounted in approval books. Suffice to say the Ed. and Geo. Colonials are practically complete to £5. All the rarities are there, like the 8sh-£1 single and Mult. Gib. Eds., the 8sh Script Cyprus, the rare 10sh and £1 and all the smaller fry. Lagos 10sh Ed., CA, N. Nigeria, S. N., St. Vincent, Gold Coast, Virgins, all the £1 Values of these and the other Colonies. All the rare Rhodesian £1s, in fact as stated Nearly Complete.

The Modern Foreign are also a feature. French Colonies very strong, 25 and 50 franc Obock, Djibouti, Surinam, Curacao, D. In., the very rare Jubilee sets to 5 Guild. U. S. A., the Columbians, Omana and all the prior high values and Canadian Jubilees mint, Danish W. Indies, Iceland nearly complete, the whole lot pricing to nearly 50,000 dollars.

I have now a very nice series of approval books (many priced in U. S. A. currency) at prices that generally speaking are a revelation to those accustomed to pay high figures. I have literally dozens of letters from both collectors and dealers in the U. S. in most appreciative terms and once I have secured business it's very few that drop out.

The duplicates from this vast collection and other sources I have made up into some very nice "to-re-sell" books at $2.50 and $5.00 per book. They differ very considerably but all cat. 6 times the price asked and your money back if not satisfied.

Please ask for a selection of your favorite country (absolutely with cash deposit or reference where valuable stamps are required)—you are sure to find something you want at less than half Scott's and in many cases much less.

If anyone has answered one of my prior advts. please write me again if it's not answered and you'll get a reply with premium for delay.

Premium given on all orders sent by Dealers where on business heading.

and Lire 2.65 purple, both line-engraved, the King's head being of the same type as the jubilee issue in a different frame.

NEWFOUNDLAND.—Special Issue.—In a very splendid letter from the Minister of Posts and Telegraphs, William Woodford gives us some interesting information about the new proposed issue, which we pass along:
"In designing a new set of stamps for Newfoundland, we had in mind, first to show all our territory, and to emphasize the fact that Labrador is separated from the Island of Newfoundland by the Straits of Belle Isle. The border surrounding the map will have engraved the Rose, Thistle and Shamrock, the emblem of the countries from which the people of Newfoundland came. The War Memorial will also appear on one of the stamps. Our nearness to the American Continent and also the British Isles will be emphasized by an engraving showing the class of ships plying on these routes. We will also have approved photos of Their Majesties King George and Queen Mary, as well as the Prince of Wales. The photo of Grand Falls, Labrador, now Newfoundland, greater than Niagara, will also appear, but, of course, I cannot say very much about how these will turn out, and it is just possible that some of these suggestions may not be able to be engraved on the postage stamps."

This issue will be put out by Whitehead, Morris & Co., Ltd., who have printed other issues for Newfoundland. —Airplane Stamp News reprinted by Philatelic Magazine.

COVERS AND CANCELLATIONS

The writer of the following observations is Mr. Claude W. Parker, secretary of the Fort Worth, Texas, Stamp Club, and, incidentally, in the employ of our government. Collecting is a recreation with him, and in the past he has been helpful in different ways in our work, especially among the girls and boys. He is a free-lance collector with a penchant for covers with cancellations out of the ordinary and his notes are of interest. Covers are gaining friends and in this connection it is to be said that some time ago we received, through the kindness of Mr. R. D. Everard, Vancouver, British Columbia, a long list of the covers that comprised his fine collection. Mr. Parker is now at bat.

I read everything that you publish in your paper relative to cancellations, air mail notes, etc. Recently you have been publishing some good notes on United States stamps used abroad, used in France, and used on steamship and battle-ship mail. I take this opportunity to write you a few notes from examples in my own collection.

Mr. Douglas Armstrong states that he is not familiar with the type of postmark used on covers bearing U. S. stamps from U. S. Virgin Islands. I have one cover from Christiansted, Saint Croix, dated October 16, 1926. The postmark is the ordinary circular one with Christiansted and Saint Croix in circular form immediately inside of the circle line of the postmark. The month, hour, and year date are inside the town name in three horizontal lines like similar cancellations in this country. To the right of the postmark and extending across the 2c U. S. stamp are seven wavy lines. I also have a cover dated October 26, 1926, with a U. S. 2c stamp on it, from Pago Pago, Samoa. Our small city or town flag machine cancellation is used.

He also states that U. S. postage stamps are not uncommonly met with bearing postmarks of different foreign ports, these being ship letters, and that "their philatelic interest is small." I think that this point is worthy of discussion, and I am not inclined to agree with him. Personally I fancy collecting samples of United States covers, modern, current, or old, as the case may be, from every state in the union, from its outlying possessions (Hawaii, Porto Rico, Canal Zone, etc.), from Trans-Atlantic and Trans-Pacific mail steamship lines, from battleships, from railway mail lines, and from air mail lines. If Mr. Armstrong considers covers from most of these classifications as rubbish, then I partly agree with him on the question of the value of ship letters.

On the other hand, I consider that modern U. S. covers are worth collecting, and that many of them will have a good value in later years for study purposes. Every collector to his own taste and ideas is my view. If relative scarcity of a type of covers in a collection means anything, I believe that ship letters are a long ways from being common, even far less so than current railway mail cancellations on covers, and what present day collector would turn down any good modern railway mail cancellation. Personally I have a collection of U. S. covers of I suppose many thousands carefully filed away according to my own ideas of classification, but my total accumulation of ship letters totals just 25. Of these I think that I purchased two or three, obtained a few in trade, and got the rest either sent to me direct from a friend whose business causes him to do a lot of steamship traveling during any one year or from friends who received them from relatives who were traveling. The point I am getting at is that a great part of my regular covers, railway mail covers, and ship letters were collected at no expense, and that a large part of the balance did not cost very many cents per cover, being purchased in fairly large odd lots or procured by exchange. I have not made any attempt to go into the market and buy a collection of ship letters and do not know what the market price per cover would be, but judging from the relatively small number I have under these conditions of collecting in proportion to other covers, and even to railway mail covers, I should say that they are uncommon modern covers. Of course 24 out of the 25 covers in this special section of covers have United States stamps on them.

Some further notes on this lot may be of interest. I have only one cover in the lot that was mailed on the Atlantic Ocean. It was mailed in May of this year on board the Clyde S. S. Algonquin and bears a "Mailed on High Seas, etc." cancellation in green, which ties the stamp to the cover, and the Hudson Terminal New York cancellation (machine) of May 16th. One piece of cover with 10c in U. S. (not Canal Zone) stamps on it bears the following handstamp cancellation on it five times, "Balboa, C.Z. Paquet Jan 31 w 30 PM" "1925" "1". One cover with a 10 centimos Costa Rica stamp, addressed to a man at Cartagena, Colombia, S.A., has the stamp tied on with a cancellation like the last one mentioned from Cristobal, C.Z., of October 18, 1926. The cover was not cancelled at Costa Rica, but has a Cartagena, Colombia, back stamp. Ten covers of various dates in 1924 and 1925 have U. S. Trans-Pacific Sea Post cancellations on them with various San Francisco Postal Clerk numbers. Six covers have U. S. T. P. Sea Post, East or West, cancella-

All Prices Cancelled

Pursuant to the terms set forth on the front inside cover page of my 1927 price list, all prices quoted in that list are cancelled as of July 1st. The reason for this will be apparent when one considers that I issue my list each fall and that nine months see price changes in any line of business.

However, a large percentage of the prices will continue good until my 1928 list is ready in October.

Just order from the list as formerly but include a supplemental list of from 50 to 75 per cent. of the total amount of your order. That will give me the opportunity of selecting stamps the prices of which have not been changed.

tions on them during 1926, with the name of some "President" ship. These covers were forwarded from different ports in Hawaii, Japan, etc., but only one of the last two groups has a port city cancellation on it to tell the tale. The stamps on these covers are 2c stamped envelopes, 2c regular postage stamps, 2c Liberty Bell, 3c Ericsson, etc. I have one U. S. Sea Post cover, Hav. & Can. Zone, and another sea post one with Cristobal Canal Zone on it. Then I have three U. S. stamped envelope covers and one 2c Lexington-Concord stamp on cover that have no cancellations on them except the Japanese, in purple or black, Tenyo-Maru, Taiyo-Maru, or Shinyo-Maru S. S. cancellation with "I. J. Sea Post." One also has a long narrow rectangle in purple, framed by a heavy line and containing "Paquebot."

Regarding U. S. postage stamps used abroad, I have a 2c Pilgrim on cover cancelled from the U. S. Pos. Service Shanghai, China, in 1922. I also have the top part of a 3c envelope bearing a Censored cancellation and manuscript notation, a U. S. Army Postal Service cancellation, and a cancellation reading "Recd From Army, Bordeaux Jan 1919," and a piece of cover with two 3c purple stamps on it bearing a censored cancellation and a machine cancellation "Recd From Army Bordeaux Dec 7 6 PM 1918." These covers are mentioned for the benefit of the discussion of U. S. stamps used in France during and following the World War. I have a few "Soldiers Mail" without stamps covers from France.

I have covers with Canadian and U. S. stamps on them for air mail purposes, although a few never flew for certain reasons. I have a Christmas Island local stamp used with U. S. air mail stamps in connection with a cover mailed on that island that flew from San Francisco last year to New York. I have a cover used in war times from London to New York with both British and U. S. stamps on it, but this was entirely accidental and, although cancelled, the U. S. stamps had nothing to do with paying the postage.

I have about 40 battleship covers that are interesting, but they are more common, I should say, than ship letters.

This letter is much longer than I thought it would be, but I hope that it is of some interest to you and that it may add a little bit to the discussion. I believe that all the discussion and stamp paper articles on modern covers help to place the collecting of them on a better basis. I am acquainted with a number of collectors, and several of them save current U. S. covers.

Regarding commemorative stamps, I am inclined to think that the issuing of just one stamp to celebrate an important national anniversary is a good thing in this country, even though during this period a number come through. It adds variety to a first day cover collection, it gives us a chance to increase that section of our air mail collections for first day covers of special stamps by air mail, and it gives us a new stamp or stamps to use in combination on future first flight air mail covers. That may be a new idea on the subject. Also, why not have a charity stamp of some sort to raise money to relieve and rebuild the flood sections?

ON THE SIDE

The annual outing of the New England Philatelic Association and the American Envelope Society was scheduled for Marblehead on Saturday, June 25, 1927. We have no doubt that the customary high jinks were enjoyed by all.

Mr. Paul H. Carter, Arlington, Texas, takes his pen in hand to say: "In the issue of June 13, page 343 you show the cancellation or mark 'N P - 79-751' in two lines in a single line box, which I can explain in a plausible way. Being an old bank clerk and now in the post office department four years, this mark is as familiar to a bank clerk as it is unfamiliar to the P. O. clerk and it means, 'No Protest,' on checks cleared; and the numbers are the bank's district and operating number. This was probably stamped on the cover by design or accident and should cause no furore in cancellation circles."

LINDBERGH SOUVENIR COLLECTION

The greatest accomplishment of any individual during our lifetime was the flight from New York to Paris. Colonel Lindbergh is the world's greatest hero. A wonderfully interesting collection of souvenirs for any philatelist is offered as follows:

1. An air mail cover actually carried by Lindbergh on the first flight over the St. Louis-Chicago route on April 15, 1926
2. National Capital to Golden Gate. A cover mailed in Washington on Lindbergh Day, the day that the flier first set foot on Amer. soil after his great flight. Has the special Lindbergh Day cachet provided by the Post Office Department. This cover reached San Francisco on the day after it was mailed in Washington, a record flight.
3. Special flight, Washington to New York, June 11, 1927.
4. First Day cover of Lindbergh air mail stamp from St. Louis, present home of the flier, showing special Lindbergh Celebration cancellation.
5. First Day cover from Little Falls, Minnesota, Lindbergh's boyhood home.
6. First Day cover from Detroit, his birthplace.
7. First Day cover from Washington.

The entire set of seven fine air mail covers for only $7.50. A magnificent collection of Lindbergh souvenirs.

United States "Educators"

This is the name we give to a series of approval books designed especially for those who want to know more about the 19th Century issues of United States stamps and who are interested in filling as many as possible of those empty spaces with stamps that are presentable in appearance and correctly classified.

These "Educator" approval books have helped scores of collectors to find the missing varieties they were not so sure of identifying, and have further given them some idea of values as governed by condition. They are priced for what we think they are worth, perhaps twice catalog, or perhaps 1/4 of catalog according to the desirability of the particular specimen.

SENIOR "EDUCATORS"

Are similarly arranged, but designed for those who want only fine copies and who are willing to pay for superior quality.

Both series of "Educators" represent all 19th Century issues with considerable completeness. Ask for any particular issue that interests you, or start with the 1847-51 booklet and work through the lot.

SPECIALIZED SELECTIONS

Made up to suit individual want lists, and include varieties of cancellation, of paper, of printing, of shade. Pairs, strips, blocks, covers; whatever your speciality our stock is at your service and should be of some use to even the most advanced specialist. [H2

SPEAKING OF THE FLAG STAMP

We have been favored by the following story of the first unfurling of the Stars and Stripes in Baltimore, through the courtesy of Mr. C. H. Eglee, Jr., New Haven, Conn., who says that he alighted on the information by chance. He says that the incident described precedes the famous raising of the ensign on the flag-ship "Alfred" by John Paul Jones, the senior lieutenant aboard, which was the same device. This historical data makes it evident that the circumstances surrounding the early display of the American flag will be thoroughly considered, as a consequence of the decision of the government to issue the Fort Stanwix commemorative next August:

"Relative to the forthcoming issue of a two-cent stamp to commemorate the battle at Fort Stanwix where the Stars and Stripes were first flown and received their baptism of fire, I have recently come across an interesting statement in the book, Joshua Barney, by the late Ralph D. Paine. This is a biography of that active old sea dog who played an unsung but important part in our embryo navy of the revolution.

At one point in Barney's career, early in the revolution, he was in Baltimore for the purpose of recruiting a crew for the ten gun sloop Hornet. After making considerable racket with fife and drum, Master's Mate Barney kept open house all day at the tavern where the rebels of Baltimore trooped to sign shipping articles. Let me quote the next paragraph as Mr. Paine has set it down.

They saw a sight that thrilled their hearts. In front of the rendezvous was displayed a flag that they beheld for the first time. It consisted of thirteen stripes, alternately red and white, with the combined crosses of St. George and St. Andrew in the corner. This, the first American ensign, was known as the Grand Union flag. The field of stars supplanted the crosses later in the war, but the glorious stripes were thus emblazoned to signify that the thirteen colonies were one and indivisible. Commodore Ezek Hopkins had ordered this flag sent from Philadelphia to be flown on the Hornet. Perhaps it had been sewn by Betsy Ross, but the fame of this industrious dame is beclouded in legend and contradiction. It is certainly known that there was a flag-maker of that name in Philadelphia.

At any rate, there is convincing evidence that Joshua Barney unfurled the flag as a recruiting officer and that it was mightily effective in arousing enthusiasm.

Mr. Paine was noted for his stories of the sea and for his veracity in describing the incidents and customs of the times. To obtain his information he has delved into every available source and in the author's note at the beginning of this book he states as follows: The material for this book was assembled from several sources. By far the most helpful of these was the Biographical Memoir of the late Commodore Joshua Barney, from Autobiographical Notes and Journals in Possession of his Family, edited by his daughter-in-law, Mary Barney, and printed in 1830. This memoir, prepared almost a century ago, and long out of print, has been freely used. The library and documentary records of the Navy Department were also of much assistance.

This incident took place either in late November or early December of 1775. In October, Joshua Barney had returned from a foreign cruise in a merchantman to learn for the first time of the open rebellion of the colonies. In December the Hornet set sail with its new crew and joined the other vessels of the squadron at Philadelphia. The flagship Alfred also flew the Grand Union flag as did the rest of the fleet, and all ships of the United Colonies until the adoption in June, 1777, of the Stars and Stripes."

THE LABRADOR

By HARRY E. HUBER.

A recent statement in the philatelic press relative to the settlement of the Labrador boundary dispute between Canada and Newfoundland, on March 1, 1927, might convey the impression that in the past the Labrador has not been postally served by Newfoundland. This is quite incorrect, inasmuch as Newfoundland Post Offices are in operation in over 250 settlements on the North American mainland, in Belle Isle Straits and Labrador north. Ordinary Newfoundland stamps are used, which may be identified by the postmarks.

During the summer season, the northern route coastal steamers from St. John's, make Battle Harbour, bringing passengers, freight and mails, and there connection is made with a smaller steamer serving the settlements to the north. After the close of navigation, mails are dispatched fortnightly from St. John's, overland, via Quebec.

In 1922 and 1923, when Major F. S. Cotton, the Australian aviator, was trying to secure from the Newfoundland Government an air mail contract, he carried a number of local mails to the northern settlements of Newfoundland (St. Anthony, Fogo, etc.), and several to the Labrador. No special stamps were issued, and only the inland letter rate of 3c was charged.

The Newfoundland Government owns a chain of wireless stations along the Labrador Coast, which are operated under an agreement with the Marconi Wireless Co., Ltd., of Canada, on a royalty basis. The business exchanged passes through the Marconi wireless office at Fogo, northern Newfoundland.

In the new series of postage stamps, which the Minister of Posts and Telegraphs announced on February 10, 1927, would be issued "as needed," the 1c will show a map of Newfoundland and its territory on the Labrador. Newfoundland proper is displayed on the short-lived 2c Map stamp of September, 1908, but the new stamp is to show as well Newfoundland's territory on the North American mainland (120,000 sq. miles), which has almost three times the area of Newfoundland proper (40,200 sq. miles). The border design of this stamp will incorporate the rose, the thistle, and the shamrock as representative of the early settlers of Newfoundland, who came from England, Scotland and Ireland, and which emblems form the design of the first issue of Newfoundland postage stamps (January 1, 1857), following in a measure the designs of the postage stamps of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick issued some six years earlier. Inasmuch as 1927 marks the 70th year the 15c bistre on rose, at 1,300fs.

Another item comparable in rarity to the 5 F. Empire was 25c ultramarine, 1827, types I and II se tenant, obliterated.
Very few are known to exist, yet this one found little competition and went for 1,560fs. The 20c blue Type I, not issued, made 3,600.

Essays in general went very high,
links to the collectors present, although the highest prices for these were paid by dealers, few went under 150fs. each. A series of Bordeaux essays in black fetched 1,450fs., while the essays of the 4c and 5c se tenant made 1,250. Letters showing cachets of the Commune went for 200 and up each. The red cachet of the Special Bureau of the Emperor made nearly 1,500, whereas a much finer one, Palace of Fontainebleau brought only 11. An imperforate 20c 1863, on cover addressed to the Sucrierie Lebaudy, made 50 francs, while a price of twenty-five cents each was established for Corps
d'expeditionnaire letters from Mexico, Italy, Crimea and the orient. A block of four, 5 F. Empire, brought only 1,000, while a pair and a single with blue cachet
went for 200, which was cheap enough.
As might be expected, the Bordeaux essays went for very large prices, as these stamps are highly favored here. The condition in general was not superb by a good deal, but the pace was set by dealers. The 2c in used block of 10, it too good, made 550fs., but a good
block of four 10c brought 720, and a slightly defective block of the 80c went for 1,100fs. A band of five 80c, with four good copies, made 600. A defective block of four, 10c bistre of 1852, fetched 360—which was quite enough, too.

THE QUESTION OF STAMP IL- LUSTRATIONS

One of the questions that suggests itself is that involving the legality of the distribution of foreign catalogues that do not comply with regulations as they are understood by the American cataloguers. It is doubtful whether the subject has been properly interpreted and published heretofore and through the interest of Mr. J. J. Klemann, Jr., we are enabled to provide particulars covering the case. A London publisher wrote to the Nassau Stamp Company for a report
and in order that an official opinion might be had, the Treasury Department was written to; and a copy of the letter from the Deputy Commissioner of Customs follows. A perusal of it allows of definite deductions as it tells clearly what restrictions are placed upon the importation of works, with stamp illustrations, into this country; and it is well that publicity be given to the statements.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT
Bureau of Customs
WASHINGTON

June 8, 1927.

Mr. J. J. Klemann, Jr., Sec'y and Treas., Nassau Stamp Company, 70 Nassau Street,
New York, N. Y.

Sir: Receipt is acknowledged of your letter
in which you state that a publisher of a stamp catalog in Europe has written you for information in reference to the law regarding stamp illustrations and the interpretation of that law by customs officials; that according to legal advice
given by an American lawyer in London,
the law covers only the making and use of stamp illustration blocks produced in America and should not be enforced against publications coming in from foreign countries.

The Department has been advised by the Postmaster General that the Post Office Department has always held that the reproduction of postage stamps,
either cancelled or uncanceled by photographing, printing, lithographing, or otherwise, is prohibited by Sections 147, 150 and 177 of the Criminal Code; and that to support the opinion that these sections are intended to prevent the reproduction of United States postage stamps for any purpose whatever, even when no fraud is intended, an Act of Congress (42 Stat. 1437) was approved March 3, 1923, in favor of philatelic publishers, defining the existing laws and making it permissible to reproduce as illustrations in stamp catalogs, sections of borders of U. S. stamps at least four times the size of such stamps, as well as the reproduction of complete foreign stamps for the same purpose, the latter to be printed from defaced plates in black and white only. In view of the foregoing the Post Office Department has caused the recall and destruction of all printing plates used in preparing reproductions of complete U. S. stamps, either cancelled or uncanceled.

Under Sections 150 and 161 of the Criminal Code, it is unlawful to bring into the United States from foreign countries reproductions of foreign or domestic postage stamps unless such reproductions are executed in the manner
provided by the Act of March 3, 1923, above described. The importation of reproductions not so executed, subjects the importer to a fine of not more than $5,000 or imprisonment of not more than 15 years, or both, in the case of U. S.
stamps, and a similar fine and imprisonment of not more than 5 years, or both, in the case of foreign stamps. The reproductions would be subject to seizure and forfeiture.

It will be seen therefore that reproductions of foreign or domestic postage stamps unless executed in accordance with the requirements of the laws and regulations heretofore referred to are unlawful reproductions, and consequently would be prohibited importation into the United States.

Respectfully,
(Signed) J. D. NEVIUS,
Deputy Commissioner of Customs.

FURTHER BALLON MONTE NOTES

By H. BEDFORD-JONES.

The first sale of single Ballon Monté items in Paris was held today, with some interesting results for air mail collectors.
Usually these first air mails are lumped;
ordinary letters have always been sold in groups.

Your French collector, who some years ago could buy them at five francs each,
shrieks in horror at now finding them catalogued at thirty francs—so, it is whispered, that they may be bought near that price—but on the actual market they fetch much more. In England, the advertised price of Bigsby is $7.50.

Today's sale held a few rare items
and a nearly complete file of Gazettes, and it was an eye-opener. No more will batches of Ballons Montés change hands on the bourse at two dollars each. The prices for ordinary letters jumped a hundred per cent over prevailing market

prices, and for Gazettes about twenty-five per cent. The pigeon post photostats, on the contrary, fell heavily, because one dealer here is said to manufacture them, and it is practically impossible to tell genuine from fakes.

The rare items went cheap, surprisingly
so. Two years ago the owner paid $6 for a letter bearing four five-centime stamps. An Irish collector sent in a limit bid of $30 for this item, but secured it for $16. Gazette No. 1, for which the owner paid $75 two years ago,
sold today for $70—partly because the cachet was illegible. A Christmas letter bearing a combination affranchisement,
on the other hand, went to five times the usual price, and passed across the sea to Ireland.

It was in the ordinary letters and Gazettes that the steep advance was made,
thus marking a milepost in Continental sales. This, to be fair, was largely because the rare items were in some cases wrongly described—imagination helped the expert in charge, who knew all about books but nothing about stamps. A complete file of unused and bound Gazettes,
which should have gone for a very high price, was in reality incomplete and in sorry condition, and fetched only $25.
A file of the Gazette reprints, on vellum,
an item far rarer than the originals,
started at eighty cents and went for $6
to a collector who was prepared to pay
three or four times the price.

Gazette No. 32, equally rare with the first number, was listed as having flown.
Before the sale three of us informed the expert that its cachet showed it had not departed by balloon at all, but by the post. He shrugged, said it did not matter, and sold it as catalogued. That is the ethics of the Paris auction room—sometimes. American collectors should always watch out for No. 32, because a great number of them are on the market with the proper date cancellation, but a reading of the cachet shows that they were obliterated after the last balloon departed, 6 a. m., Jan. 28, 1871.

Ireland

We read in the press that, at last, the three high values are
to appear in pictorial form—which will obsolete those overprinted on Great Britain. Again 'twould be well to take time by the forelock:

EDITORIAL

The new Lindbergh air mail ten-cent was available on June 18th at the cities named as distributing points on the first day of issue and by June 20th, collectors whose orders had been sent to the Philatelic Agency, Washington, had received the stamps, if they were not too far from that city. St. Louis used a special cancellation, "Lindbergh Celebration—Spirit of St. Louis—(Picture of the plane) St. Louis, Mo., June 18, 1927—Use Air Mail—It Saves Time," which gave the envelopes that bore it a special touch. The Bureau of Engraving and Printing has reason to feel satisfied that its resources were such that it was able to produce the first order of fifteen million of the stamps at the appointed time; and it thus established a record for celerity that is creditable. The postmaster general says: "The Post Office Department is being

IN

SCOTT'S MONTHLY JOURNAL

ON

SPECIALIZED U. S.

In order to meet the growing need for accurate information regarding United States postage, we have instituted a new Department in Scott's Monthly Journal, devoted exclusively to Specialized U. S.

This will be a regular feature of the Journal, in addition to our many other features and noteworthy articles. Mr. Herman Toasperi has agreed to take over this Department, and all additions and corrections affecting the Specialized Catalogue of United States Stamps will appear monthly. The importance of this to collectors of U. S. is readily apparent. All basic designs from which cancellation listings are made, will be illustrated. In cases of varieties, etc., same will be illustrated as far as possible and accurately described.

The April issue carries the first of these articles. Subscription to Scott's Monthly Journal is $1.00 a year, and we urge immediate subscription in order not to miss any of this new series. Be sure to have your subscription start with the April issue. [tf

SCOTT STAMP AND COIN CO.

1 WEST 47TH STREET,

NEW YORK, N. Y.

overwhelmed with demands from postmasters throughout the country for supplies of the new Lindbergh Air Mail stamp. This demand far exceeds that received by the Department for any previous issue of a commemorative stamp. Heretofore, commemorative stamps were sought in only those sections of the country affected by the event for which the stamp was intended. In the case of the Lindbergh stamp, however, the demand for it is universal. There is not a post office in the country that is not clamoring for them." It was predicted that by the 22nd or 23rd of June, all the large offices from coast to coast would be supplied with the stamps, sufficient for their needs. Here we have an example of expeditious accomplishment that may be without parallel. The finished product came so soon after the inception of the idea of issue that the romance possessed by the stamp is heightened by the facility of its execution.

The cities that got their supply of stamps for sale on the 18th of June were notified by wire from Washington that the Lindbergh stamp packages were not to be opened until 7 A. M. on that date and then, in the presence of a government inspector. Consequently, none of the stamps were sold officially until that time. We have a story that came to us from a substantial source to the effect that Henry Ford sent twenty letters bearing the Lindbergh stamps by special messenger to Chicago with instructions that they were to be returned to Detroit by the 8:30 flight from Chicago. Thus, Mr. Ford has twenty letters flown from Chicago to Detroit on June 18th, or two days before the Lindbergh stamps were on sale in Chicago. The Lindbergh stamps were sold in Chicago on June 20th and the rush for the stamps on the part of the public as well as collectors was unprecedented and the clerks from different windows were impressed into service to sell to customers whose queues made the post office a scene of activity.

Mr. M. A. Vogel, Chicago, has shown us one of the Springfield covers, 4:30 P. M., April 15, 1926, sent from that city to Peoria, Illinois, and signed by Lindbergh as Pilot and Mr. Conkling as postmaster that was received in Peoria at 5:30 P. M. Perhaps, this envelope was the first one autographed as it bears two of the red Springfield flight cancellations. (one over the stamps and one under) as well as one in black, flanking the picture of Lincoln on the envelope. It is possible that the postmark was being "tried out." Too, Mr. Vogel's envelope bears a pair of the 5c Norse American stamps and in view of the fact that Lindbergh is being called the Viking Flyer, these stamps may be said to lend themselves to the picture in a happy manner. Mr. G. W. Angers, the air mail cover king of Springfield, Mass., has a Lindbergh envelope that is illustrated in the Springfield Union and which was sent him from Peoria, on the 5:30 P. M. flight of April 15, 1926. The text that accompanies the cut tells of other rare pieces in Mr. Angers' collection which is known to be an exceptionally good one. It seems that Mr. Angers did not remember that he owned this envelope until he saw in a Washington newspaper, a reproduction of a Lindbergh that Walter Johnson, the famous pitcher, had received; and then he found that he had been entertaining an angel unawares.

It is certain that the concentration of the public mind on a single stamp will have direct influence on collecting. Those who have pondered stamps with the idea of attracting the eye of outsiders in the hope of interesting them in stamps as objects of collection realize that it is difficult to include a wide audience, as it were. Here, we have succeeded through a series of circumstances that shaped themselves suddenly in securing the consideration of outsiders for a stamp. We know that the Lindbergh stamp will be the cynosure of all eyes for the time being. Many specimens will be kept by those who ordinarily feel no appeal to save a stamp. Here and there, individuals will be swayed to philately by them. The single stamp may provide the incentive to obtain other specimens. Every person who has sentiment enough to keep the Lindbergh issue as a souvenir has the nucleus of a collection.

tenor to the incomparable work. H we have criticisms on the book pages scores of publications that present lately in a most attractive frame. S eral of these reviews have been seen one is so searching in its understand of collecting that it must be given a p atelic airing. In his "Periscope," in Chicago Daily News of June 15, Mr. Keith Preston makes his notice the work the feature of his departm Mr. Preston has shown that he is stranger to the thrall of philately by telligent comments on it, at different times in his column. He, like Briggs, cartoonist, knows his Perus and Qu manes. It is in this manner that P on begins his criticism, heading it, "Postal Hall of Fame:" "Those of us v once collected postage stamps know t we learned more geography, history, zoology out of the so-called past than we did at school. As a commer course, also, stamp collecting was to boys of our day what horse trading to adults. We dare say that many big business man today owes to what learned swapping stamps or selling 'proval sheets.'" For a tribute to p lately unqualified by any ifs or ar this appreciation is about the most di and deserved that we have ever read the outside press. Then, Keith (our familiarity does not breed contem proceeds to tell of the wealth of "eclectic aggregation" comprising postal hall of fame in the way of assayer who can recognize values. I concluding sentence hits the person whom stamp collecting is a thing at right between the optics: "We cordia recommend 'The Pageant of Civiliz tion' not only as an outline of histo but as an introduction to a fascinat pastime. COLONIAL NOTES

By "CALABAR."

New Zealand and Dependencies.—New for the 2s and 3s duties are expected to arrive shortly in the Dominion of London, when the current values of the much-criticized "Admiral" type will be superseded by printings of the new plates. To date, the "Admiral" type stamps have been overprinted in several of the N. Z. Dependencies, viz., Rarotonga (2s); Samoa (2s); and Niue (2s). These items, together with an unoverprinted copy of value, are well worth laying aside for the future, as they will very likely be superseded as soon as printings from new plates are ready. The Niue stamps, in particular, seems a good buy, it being issued only a short time ago.

Islands.—According to the latest Crown Agents Bulletin, new printings of the 2 1/2d and 3d are "on order," but the type, etc., as before; so that prices of these two duties in excess of the current issue rates are not at all warranted. A new printing of the 1d (in colour, etc.) is also on order. Making of the latest Crown Agents Bulletin, I note the following new printings, in addition to those mentioned above, which may interest those who collect the West India Colonies. Barbados (New printings) 1/4d, 1/2d, 1d, 2 1/2d, 3d, 6d. Bermuda (Booklet printings) 1c green (Plate 1) and 2c "blue-purple" (Plates 1 and 2), made up into booklets containing twelve 1c and twelve 2c. Grenada (New printings) 1c green (Plate 3 1/2d, 1d, 3d, 3s. Leeward Islands (New printings) 1/4d, 1/2d, 1d, 2 1/2d, 3d, 6d. Plate 16 1d "blue-purple," 3d purple on yellow (change of colour and type script wmk. on yellow paper). Lucia (New printing) 1/2d Plate 16. St. Vincent (New printings) 1d red, 1s brown.

Bermuda.—The 1s "ship" type, olive green, has turned out quite well. Recent, mint copies were quoted at more than eight times face, 8s6d to be exact. What this is the first time I have seen the stamp offered for quite some time, and it seems little reason for questioning its value; and one may safely take it as presenting the approximate market value of this scarce little stamp today.

Ascension.—Rumor has it that the current 3d blue of this Island is obsolete, and already several British dealers are offering copies at figures slightly in advance of those obtaining for other current 3d duties. At any rate, one cannot lose anything by picking up a block of this stamp; and in this connexion, I might add that a block of the 1s is also being bought. Its present colours (black and brown) may be changed, one of these days, as they do not conform to the given in the Crown Agents Colour Scheme for the s. duties, viz., black on green.

NEWS GLEANINGS

—Fred S. Martin of Greene, N. Y., writes us that Esthonia Nos. 1 to 4 have been forged. The paper is whiter and is watermarked along one side showing usually on the twenty stamps along the right side of sheet. The gum is thicker and brighter than the originals and inclined to crack. There are many differences in design readily noted by comparison with originals.

—Our first copy of the new Lindbergh stamp was received on a cover mailed in Plainfield, N. J., by Hon. E. R. Ackerman, and postmarked with the date of issue. Five subscribers favored us with first day covers from St. Louis, Mo., Harry Ioor, H. A. Diamant, Fred Slack, Harry Shacklett and H. H. Griffin. These covers all bore the new Lindbergh stamp with the "Air Mail Saves Time" cancellation, and also the special circular Lindbergh celebration rubber stamp. A first day cover was sent from Washington, D. C., by Albert E. Gorham, also from Minneapolis, Minn., by Leonard F. Hartman and G. E. Tisdale. We thank these friends for their kindness in remembering the WEEKLY office.

—Many newspaper clippings regarding the new Lindbergh issue have been received from our readers, too numerous to make individual mention, but we appreciate the courtesies extended.

Chinese Locals

These were stamps issued by various towns in China and though some of them may have had a limited postal use it is to be feared that the majority were made simply for sale to collectors. Most of them had franking power only within the town of issue, though others, by special treaty, carried letters from one town to another. These private posts were suppressed in 1897 on the creation of the Imperial Chinese Post.

Junior Dictionary

Gueudecourt.—This word on the Newfoundland 3c Caribou stamp issued in 1918, indicates a World War action in which Newfoundland troops took part.

Hamburg American Packet Co.—The headquarters of the West Indian Line of this company was at St. Thomas. A stamp with the inscription given above, value 10c, blue and yellow, was used on mail despatched on the steamers of this company to various points in the West Indies prior to the entrance of the several countries into the International Postal Union.

Hic Manebimus Optime.—This inscription is found on the stamps of Fiume bearing the head of d'Annunzio and means:—"We cannot do better than remain here." Subsequent events demonstrated that there were those who thought differently.

Hivatalos.—This word found on the official stamps of Hungary means "Official."

Hochwasser, 1920.—This overprint on a set of Austrian Charity stamps means, "High Water." The stamps were issued for the benefit of flood sufferers and sold for three times their face value.

Karnten-Abstimmung.—A surcharge applied to the Austrian stamps used in the plebiscite zone in Carinthia. The words are German for "Carinthia-Plebiscite." They were in use from September 16th to October 10th, 1920.

Stamp News for the Juniors

Is there anything you want to know about stamps or stamp collecting? If so, write the editor. What would you like to see in this department? We have no way of knowing unless you tell us. Mr. Senior Collector, can't you give the boy collector about 50 words of encouragement along practical lines? Address your letter to the Beverly office.

Juniors—Please Note

During the absence of the Managing Editor in Europe, this page will be cared for by Editor Charles E. Severn, 713 Oxford Bldg., Chicago, Ill. He will render our Juniors any assistance that may be desired.

Suggestions for the Junior

Mr. Charles E. Roe made some interesting comments in the March 14 issue, referring to cancellation and literature.

Here, however, is a suggestion leading towards specialization—and even the juniors are nowadays confining their attempts somewhat more than we did 30 odd years ago. I found it most interesting, way back in the '90's, to hunt for stamps cancelled from the capital city of the country of their origin. The cancellation should be clear, and dated if possible.

We prate often about the educational value of philately—and nobody nowadays denies this—but the best way to scare a youngster is to stress this very point.

My method, I maintain, accomplishes this, and at the same time, proves most interesting, beside the fact that it also aids the collector to study cancellations rather more than he would otherwise do.

Briefly the idea is to hunt for stamps of any denomination cancelled clearly, and dated plainly from the capital cities of as many countries as possible; keep them as separate collection, and label each stamp on the sheet with the name of country, capital city and the year, etc.

Norway for instance requires two stamps. Russia is intriguing, but not so undecipherable as it looks. After Russia, Greece is easy.

I might say I still have my own little side collection of stamps as above commenced some 35 years ago, and it is not complete yet.—EDGAR SCHOLES.

Paper No. 1—Wove

This is the ordinary paper of commerce and the sort upon which the vast majority of stamps are printed. In making wove paper the "dandy-roll" is covered with a fine wire gauze similar to the bed upon which the pulp was distributed in the first stage of its manufacture. It varies greatly in substance and quality but its general characteristics are the same—it is a plain paper showing no watermarked lines other than the lines of the device of crown, letters, star, etc., intended to be shown. The coarser sorts appear to be watermarked with innumerable tiny dots. The WEEKLY is printed on wove paper and as examples the current stamps of the United States will serve.

O. G.

Sometimes the letters o. g. follow the description of an unused stamp, and the uninitiated may be puzzled as to their meaning. The letters are a contraction of the term original gum, which refers to the fact that a stamp has the full gum with which it was originally supplied when issued.

Millimetre

Millimetre is a familiar term in connection with all sorts of stamp measurements and one that is now universally adopted by philatelists. It is, of course, a measure in the metric system signifying the thousandth part of a metre. Perforations are gauged by the number of teeth or holes that may be counted in the space of 2 centimetres—i.e., 20 millimetres. Measurements of stamps and of surcharges are always expressed in millimetres, so that a collector will find a millimetre gauge a very useful item in his collecting equipment.

Cabo

An overprint found on many of the stamps of Nicaragua issued since 1904. These stamps are used at Cabo Gracias á Dios, in the province of Zelaya, on the eastern coast, and the reason given for the overprinting is that the currency in this district is on a silver basis worth 42c to the peso, while elsewhere in Nicaragua paper money worth only 25c to the peso is generally used.

(Insert in Your Album)

CEYLON was known to the Greeks as Romans as Taprobane, and then later as Serendib, which is said to be a corruption of the Sanscrit name Sinhala-dvīpa which word dvi="two," and water, i.e., "water on both sides" "island"; and sinhala="sinha"="lion" and la an adjectival suffix, thus the crit name means "lion-island." I am sure there is no historical evidence that there were lions there once, but there may have been, just as in India, where lions died out in the middle of the last century, except in one place where a lion survives.

COLUMBIA (British).—The southern portion of this territory lies in the mouth of the Columbia River, nearly one thousand miles in length, and named after the ship "Columbia" by Captain Robert Gray, supplanting the old name "Oregon." Columbia, Columbus, &c., are all derived from Latin columba="a dove" Stamp Collecting.

Jubilee Pane Lines

Around each pane (or the block of stamps if the sheet is not divided into panes) of most of the British and other Colonial stamps printed by De Rue & Co. since 1887 what is known as a Jubilee line is shown. This is in the same color of the stamp—or color of one or both sections of the stamp if the stamps happen to be bi-colored—which is placed about one-eighth inch from the outside margin of the outer stamps, so as to prevent pressure occurring on the edges of the plates. At first the lines were continuous, but for the last eight years or so lines have been cut into lengths corresponding with the height of the stamps on the side margins, and with the height of the labels on the upper and lower margins. They are known as Jubilee lines from the fact that they were first shown in 1887—the Jubilee year of the reign of Queen Victoria.

SUBSCRIPTION RENEWAL

Some of our subscribers need to know our rule regarding discontinuances. We discontinue all subscriptions in arrears promptly the second issue of each month. This means that your subscription should be renewed prior to expiration. The expiration number can be ascertained by consulting your wrapper. No free copies of the WEEKLY are sent out and the rule is as fixed as the laws of the land. P. Our older subscribers understand our rule and the newer subscribers should get acquainted with it.

AUSTRALIA.—We have received from Mr. Frank Halloran a first day cover of the new 1½p Commemorative stamp. It was issued at all Post Offices throughout the Commonwealth simultaneously on the 9th of last May with a total printing of 20,000,000. The sheets are of 80 stamps.

PRE - STAMP COVERS

I have just purchased three small, but choice lots of pre-stamp covers, showing postmarks previous to the issuing of stamps. It will be recalled that in the olden days, the letter was folded, and the postmarks bearing the date and name of city, were usually applied, in addition to such words as, "10", "5", "Paid", "Mis-sent", and the like. The value of postage payment at times, appears in manuscript. In this lot, I notice covers from Baltimore bearing the well known figure "5" in an oval, the stamper later being used to make the famous Postmaster Provisional. The cover just described is identical with the Provisional Envelope, with the exception of the fact that, the Buchanan signature is lacking. There are also some covers from Chicago, containing the numeral "10", with fluting around the edge like the old-fashioned home made pie. There are some from New Orleans, showing back printed figures about one inch high. Numerous covers from smaller cities are to be found. I will gladly send 10 different varieties including the three especially described above, at $1.00. If you want two or three lots I will endeavor to pick out as many different kinds as possible. A page or two of these covers should be mounted in every United States collection.

LONDON, S. W. 13, ENGLAND

10x8 with margins all round, no imprint or lettering of any kind upon same, unwatermarked paper, perf. 11. Designed by W. R. Harrison of Melbourne, dies engraved in England by Waterlow & Sons and printed at the Commonwealth Note and Stamp Office at Melbourne by A. J. Mullett, Government Printer. Official color is carmine-red and size of the design is 31½mmx22mm. It is known as the Canberra stamp and pictures a large group of buildings in the centre while to the left is the likeness of a woman with a spray in her left hand and a shield is at her right hand. Above is the country's name and in the upper left corner the two line inscription "Canberra 1927." At the base of the stamp is "Three Halfpence" with "1½d" just above the last word. Canberra is the new capitol of the Australian Commonwealth.

BELGIUM.—Stanley Gibbons' Monthly Journal publishes the following "We shall soon have to pay in 'belgas' for stamps of Belgium and the Congo State. Stamps with values expressed in the new currency are expected very shortly."

BULGARIA.—The recently issued 30 stotinki and 4 levas stamps are now obsolete. A new 6 levas stamp printed in blue and pale green has been issued and is of the same design as the recent 10 levas stamp.—Whitfield King & Co's Philatelic Bulletin.

CHINA.—During the General Strike in Shanghai the Municipality established an emergency post for the reception and despatch of letters destined for foreign countries only. The stamps used were the current British; the first day 2½d stamps were used; the second day, Saturday, these were sold out and 1½d stamps were on sale and every letter had to be prepaid by two of these stamps. On the following Monday the Chinese Post Office resumed work and this emergency post was discontinued.—Whitfield King & Co's Philatelic Bulletin.

CUBA.—We are informed that a new 25c stamp was to be issued on May 20th to commemorate the opening day, twenty-five years ago, of the First Independent Cuban Parliament. The stamps are of large oblong shape and two million copies have been printed by the Canadian Bank Note Company. We are distributing this month the 2c rose-red Postage Due stamp; this is really not a new issue, but an error of colour, and our agent informs us that the stamps were printed some considerable time ago. They are likely to be quite scarce and are selling at high prices in Habana.—Whitfield King & Co's Philatelic Bulletin.

FRANCE.—Two new stamps will be issued in connection with the International Philatelic Exhibition to be held at Strasbourg, 5 francs blue and 10 francs red, both of the Sower type of France. These stamps are to be printed in small sheets showing one of each denomination on a sheet with the word

"Strasbourg, 1927" between the two stamps. Only one sheet, that is, one each of the stamps, will be supplied to each purchaser of a ticket of admission to the Exhibition. We understand that 50,000 copies are to be printed. The Exhibition is to be open from June 4th to June 12th.—Whitfield King & Co's Philatelic Bulletin.

FRENCH COLONIES.—Stanley Gibbons' Monthly Journal announces that the L'Echo de la Timbrologie states that a new series with values in annas (2 annas = 1 fanon) will be issued shortly for the Indian Settlements. Also that new stamps are on order for Madagascar and Dependencies one of which will bear a portrait of General Gallieni. On the others some native ladies will appear.

ITALY.—Whitfield King & Co. inform us that they have received copies of the 4 lire grey, same design as the recently issued 3 lire (value on white ground).

MEXICO.—Whitfield King & Co. advise that they have received the 20c blue, watermarked and rouletted.

NEW ZEALAND.—Admiral Type.—It is reported that new plates for the 2sh and 3sh Georgians are on their way to the Dominion from England. An improvement on the present ones is hoped for.—Philatelic Magazine.

NICARAGUA.—The Metropolitan Stamp Co. send for chronicle the following values of type A24 and A25 surcharged "Resello, 1927" in two lines: 1c violet, with the surcharge "R. de C." in blue (R); ½c green (B); 1c violet (R); 2c carmine-rose (B); 3c olive-grey (B);

NORWAY.—Messrs. Stanley Gibbons Ltd., inform us that the 45 öre, Lion and possibly the same value in the Spitzbergen type, are to be charged 30 öre in black. There will be about 4,000,000 of the former, but quantity available of the latter is about 500,000. A 50 öre air post stamp is expected.—Stamp Collecting.

PARAGUAY.—In calling our attention to the 50c on 75c blue Official stamp recently issued, Whitfield King & Co. advise that 200,000 were surcharged.

POLAND.—Whitfield King & Co. report the 20 groszy red, head of President Moscicki.

SAAR.—Whitfield King & Co. call attention to two more values in the new set. The 3 francs olive and the 5 francs brown have both been placed on sale at the post offices.

ST. HELENA.—1s6d, 2s6d, 5sh. See foretold in our issue of January 2d, are now reported by Oswald Mayall, 1s6d, green on emerald; 2s6d, red on pale yellow; 5sh, green on pale yellow.—Philatelic Magazine.

ST. KITTS-NEVIS.—Stanley Gibbons' Monthly Journal states that Continente journals forecast a new pictorial set which is said to be in preparation.

SPAIN.—In the course of an interesting resumé on the philatelic portrait of King Alphonso, Mr. Fred J. Melville tells us, in his Daily Telegraph article last week, that the new Jubilee portrait stamps have been engraved by Enrique Vaquer, who has lately been elected to the Royal Academy of Arts, at San Fernando, and who has long been known in bank-note printing circles as one of the best taille-douce engravers of our time, his name not being familiar to the collecting public, however, as most of his stamp engravings until recently, had been done for engravers in England which rarely disclose the names of their engravers. A few years ago Señor Vaquer became Chief Engraver to the Mint at Madrid, devoting his talent to engraving for security printing. He did the excellent portrait of King Alphonso on the stamps of 1901 and 1924. At present only one value has appeared with the newest portrait, viz., 25 centimos, this having been placed on sale in time for the recent celebration in Spain, but other denominations will follow in due course.

At the same time (says Mr. Melville) a new stamp for use on express letters has been produced by another prominent Spanish artist, Camilo Delhom, who has not hitherto been associated with stamps. The large oblong format for these "Correspondencia Urgente" stamps is recommended for labels of normal stamp size. The design shows the winged horse of Greek legend.

25 centimos carmine.
Express Delivery, design as above
20 centimos red.

In the above are several that come on issues later than the 1869s; but this was begun long ago, before the later than 1869 issues were divided into another group under the care of Dr. Wm. Evans.

Some readers will perhaps know what some of these odd looking things are.
No. 1 looks like it might represent a part of a rail fence, am in the country
now, and that looks very familiar to me.
No. 9 is undoubtedly what Mr. Eager names it—a Harpoon, this showing the metal barbed shaft. If you will look closely you will see a bit of the rope at the right of the head on the harpoon.
No. 3 looks like an "X," for 10c maybe;
but why a small town should employ an X is more than I know, for 3c rate was probably their most used rate in the sixties. As for the rest of these cancellations, your guess is better than mine.
"I never can see a shift"—this is a sad saying handed me orally, or in writing, every once in a while. Some say it with pathetic finality, others with wistful hopefulness. There is much hope for these of the latter class, and some hope for the former of course.

First you must have a microscope. By this I do not mean a powerless discarded monocle or some reading glass without power to magnify. Get a glass that truly magnifies, this will give you a fair chance for a critical examination, and shifts require all of that.

Now comes the important part of hunting for shifts. You must know your stamp in normal condition. Get a clearly printed unused copy if possible, not a smudgy printing; but a clear one. Then study every line of that stamp. Become familiar with it in all of its details.

Let's consider that 2c U. S. 1863. If you have no mint copy, take one cancelled in color, for the black cancelling marks might be taken for a part of the design, while blue would readily be seen

not to be a portion of the design. Now, providing we have a little mess of duplicates at hand, we are all set for our lesson.

First we study the stamp without using any glass. We note that the medallion is very large. We look at the odd corners, those at the top being circles with pure white figures in them. Now see the lower "circles" enclosing the large "U" and "S." They are not circles; but rather oddly shaped things,
they are not ellipses or ovals, maybe spliced hyperbolas, or what have you.

You now have a good mental image of the design of this stamp—a large medallion with lumps at the corners, a few sprigs of leafage to fill in the awkward junctions of the small curves with the big ones at sides and top and bottom of the medallion. Add the lettering to top and bottom curved panels, and the head with its bushy white hair, and you have a striking stamp. All the above must be studied in order that you may know your stamp.

Now take your microscope. Examine all the outer curved lines around the perimeter of the stamp. These lines are double. Examine the large letters "U" and "S." Imagine how odd they would look if isolated on a sheet of paper all alone in their present positions. Each letter is made of a decently heavy silhouette line, and the letters are not solid;
but made to appear gray-black by closely drawn vertical lines, which might be counted if this article were as carefully
compiled as is our old friend the "Album Weeds." This is not necessary to our study.

It is in the double outer lines, the letters U and S, and the two labels, that

UNITED STATES

We are constant buyers of United States stamps, spending several thousand dollars
every month to keep our stock of these stamps in shape. We have just purchased a very fine collection of both nineteenth and twentieth century, running into five figures
and have at present nearly everything in stock, including such items as the blue paper set complete, the 4c and 8c being the finest copies we have ever seen, perfectly centered. We have in stock practically all blocks of the twentieth century.

A want list will receive our best attention and you can rest assured that the majority of the stamps can at the moment be supplied.

If you have not yet got our twenty page U. S. list, we would be very pleased to send it to you upon receipt of your request.

CANAL ZONE FOR THOSE WHO "KNOW"

I am just breaking up a very fine little collection of these stamps. There are many errors and varieties from the early issues to the current; some few of which, I believe, are unique. For those who specialize and are interested in the different printings of these stamps, there are sure to be many interesting items. There is also a wealth of material for those who are in the habit of sticking to Scott's catalog price for this material. However, such stamps as Scott's No. 32b, cannot be sold at catalogue quotation. Only 19 or 20 unused copies exist, and there is a horizontal pair of this stamp in this collection.

TELL ME WHAT YOU NEED.

H. F. COLMAN

we look for shifts principally, as the extra, or shifted, lines show most noticeably at these points. We do not look in the head of Jackson as these shift lines would be so small that we could make almost no use of them in a written description or otherwise.

If in looking at your double line under the U or S, you see three or four lines in the curve, you have found a shift. Same at sides, or top, or bottom. If the "S" for example has the vertical shading lines running through the silhouette line downward, you have a shift. If any of the white letters in the inscriptions show tiny black lines, they are shifts. These are always in the color of the stamp—black in our case. Always compare it with your normal copy which is to be kept right alongside of the stamp you are studying. Any deviation is a shift, if it is not a flaw in printing, or a double strike, and the latter are rare.

All of these tiny shifts are caused by the transfer roll being lowered into an incorrect position on the plate while the plate is soft. This roll is raised up, and lowered into its correct position, and then rocked into the soft plate, passed by the workman as OK, for he has ignored these tiny marks which we are "trying" our eyes on, and which we call Shifts for brevity, instead of Double Transfers.

I picked the Black Jackson for several reasons—easy to see as it is black. There is a big percentage of shifts on the stamp. I have possibly 150 different shifts, and there are seven plates of 200 stamps each, total of 1,400, over 10% of these are shifted.

Some plates had few shifts. Other plates had many shifts. The gray-black stamps show the most shifts. The plates which were used the most, apparently, had the most shifts, so if you look over ten copies, you should find at least one copy that is shifted at some point. A white spot cannot be a shift, as only the parts of the plate which are indented show printing ink, and a white spot would be the reverse on a steel plate. These white spots are merely lifted off places where the ink was too thick and stuck to the other sheet in printing as it dried. They are nothing to wonder at.

The upper right "2" has a small black dot in the thinnest part of the white stem as it comes down to join the lower stroke making the tail of that 2. It may be the exact center of the circle enclosing the numeral, and caused by a center dot on the transfer roll. If all of the other parts of each 2 are not white, look sharp, it should be a shift.

The white letters in the labels often show little markings. The "G" of Postage and the "W" of Two, and many of the letters in "Cents" (not all on one stamp of course) show small black lines—they are shifts.

This idea holds with any engraved stamp. The color, if blue, will show the shifted lines in blue, etc. When you know where the lines ought to go, you will recognize that you have a shift if you see lines going where they ought not to go.

Try this on 1c, 1851s, there are many on this stamp. 3c, 1851s have many shifts too. The 1861 issue, aside from our Black Jack, are uninteresting as to the majority of their shifts, and are hardly worth trying to find. A little practice will make you proficient.

IN BRIEF

In his next mail auction sale, Mr. A. Hippchen, Chicago, has included one of the Lindbergh autographed first flights, Springfield contract mail inaugural, which has had the benefit of wide-spread publicity in his home city and throughout the country.

The Precancel Stamp Society has given a charter to the Chicago Precancel Stamp Club, recognizing it as Section 3 of the parent organization. The Chicago club already has fifty-three members. Meeting place: Hotel Sherman.

The Detroit News of June 18th has a breezy account of the scenes attending the sale of the Lindbergh stamps on the first day at the Detroit post office. A number of the local collectors receive attention and Fred E. Farnham of Chicago is cited as one of those in line.

Mr. Ralph Eilers informs us that a stamp exhibition will be held in the St. Louis Art Museum during and after the A. P. S. convention; the building is fire proof and is visited by thousands daily.

A new book, the Junk Snapper by C. R. Clifford, has been published by the Macmillan Company, March, 1927, in which there are a number of observations made about stamps and collectors.

Mr. B. L. Voorhees, Chicago, has been away for ten days on a trip up north and is now attacking accumulated correspondence.

The Los Angeles club that was organized recently in that city is composed of selected members, as it were, and has already made an impressive showing.

The Lindbergh stamps has made June the most prolific month of clippings from the newspaper press, having a stamp interest of any known, thus far.

LINDBERGH SOUVENIR COLLECTION

The greatest accomplishment of any individual during our lifetime was the flight from New York to Paris. Colonel Lindbergh is the world's greatest hero. A wonderfully interesting collection of souvenirs for any philatelist is offered as follows:

1. An air mail cover actually carried by Lindbergh on the first flight over the St. Louis-Chicago route on April 15, 1926.
2. National Capital to Golden Gate. A cover mailed in Washington on Lindbergh Day, the day that the flier first set foot on American soil after his great flight. Has the special Lindbergh Day cachet provided by the Post Office Department. This cover reached San Francisco on the day after it was mailed in Washington, a record flight.
3. Special flight, Washington to New York, June 11, 1927.
4. First Day cover of Lindbergh air mail stamp from St. Louis, present home of the flier, showing special Lindbergh Celebration cancellation.
5. First Day cover from Little Falls, Minnesota, Lindbergh's boyhood home.
6. First Day cover from Detroit, his birthplace.
7. First Day cover from Washington.

The entire set of seven fine air mail covers for only $7.50. A magnificent collection of Lindbergh souvenirs.

American Beauties

Too often the American Bank Note issues of 1879 to 1888, with their thick, soft paper, are gloomed and dull. By a freak of chance we have secured from Europe a little lot of high values that are fresh and fine beyond all reason. Every stamp is brilliant in color and lightly cancelled. All are well centered, but we have put them in two classes to satisfy those who insist on practically perfect centering. Class "B" are not so well centered as class "A".

THE TRAIL OF OLD STAMPS

By PHILATELIC NUTT.

Here are two rough charcoal sketches, so to speak, which depict the fascinating thrills of questing for old stamps. Both are true stories, but the names of the actors are withheld for the sake of modesty. An ardent collector had a friend who did considerable traveling in the state of Indiana, visiting most of the towns of that state on his rounds. He was asked to look out for leads which might turn up old stamps. He brought back the following tragic tale of a lost opportunity which is enough to make any stamp collector tear out his last remaining locks of hair:

"I got a line on a man who ran a transfer and storage business," the traveler said. "I thought it possible that he might know of some old stamps, so I went to see him. He listened politely to my importunities. Then he said: 'Yes, I've run across quite a lot of old letters and papers in the last few years. Folks moving out of old houses often have an accumulation of such stuff in their attics. Boxes and trunks full of it, sometimes. As boxes are always handy around a storage house, we usually ask for them and people give them to us, contents and all. We had a dozen boxes and ancient trunks full of old letters—dating back to 1840, some of them, bundles tied up, and loose masses. The stuff was just cluttering up space in the warehouse, and the boxes were all we wanted, so about a week ago, we carried the letters and papers out and burnt the whole lot of it.'"

Think, oh, think, what treasures probably went up in the smoke of that bonfire!

The other story has a happier ending. In a small Illinois town, there is a physician who is something of a stamp collector. A superannuated lawyer in the town passed away. The brother of the dead man remarked one day to the doctor: "You're a stamp collector, aren't you, Doc?" Receiving an affirmative answer, he continued: "Why don't you go over and look through the attic of my brother's old home. There's a mass of old letters and papers up there. Take a look. If you find any old stamps, you're welcome to them."

The doctor took him at his word. He spent the leisure time of a week going through the accumulation of musty papers and letters. The old lawyer had preserved every bit of correspondence, in the original envelopes, back to the early years of the Nineteenth Century. The lucky delver found, among other lesser rarities, the following: Thirty-three copies of U. S. 5-cent, 1847 issue, and fifteen copies of the 10-cent, 1847 issue. There were even half-a-dozen or so New York provisionals in the old attic. And stamps of the 1851, 1857, 1860, 1866, 1869, and later issues too numerous to count.

All real dyed-in-the-wool stamp monomaniacs will heave a sigh at the thought of such a find. The writer can hear them sighing now. Has life anything greater to offer a human being than the supreme ecstasy of such an experience? No, there could be no greater thrill possible to mortal man.

NEWS GLEANINGS

—We have received from the Frank P. Brown Co., 5 Bromfield St., Boston, Mass., their new price list of United States stamps from 1847 to 1926. This is a very complete list and prices in both used and unused condition. This firm is the representative of Harry Wennberg of Sweden, and they also send us a price list of the stamps of Sweden which is very comprehensive and well illustrated. Either of these lists may be secured upon application to the Boston firm.

—Postcard greetings have been sent to the office of the WEEKLY by our former advertiser, M. J. Fenster, from the city of Jerusalem.

—The Holden Stamp Co., formerly of Detroit, Mich., announce in this issue their removal to 1988 Shattuck Ave., Berkeley, Cal., where they will be pleased to serve both new and former patrons.

—C. L. Carter, 2761 Constitution Road, Camden, N. J., would like to hear from anyone who can tell him the present addresses of the following:—Michael Scheiner, 419 E. 73 St., N. Y. City, F. Prissock, 1314 40th St., Brooklyn, N. Y., and J. W. Morrison, 325 Riverdale Av., Yonkers, N. Y.

—Our Canadian subscribers have been very kind in sending first day covers bearing the new Jubilee stamps. V. Ruggeri sent one from Montreal, Gordon H. Crouch one from Toronto and George Eppstadt from Toronto. The latter cover was printed with a design in color showing a border of maple leaves and the seal of the Dominion of Canada and all three bore special cancellations.

A FINE OPPORTUNITY occurs to obtain choice early BRITISH COLONIAL STAMPS in superb condition. They can be selected from at under 1/2 catalogue. Also EDWARDIAN AND GEORGIAN issues, either mint or superb used, mostly at 1/2 catalogue. Approval, references.

Important Announcement

TO

OUR RETAIL CUSTOMERS AND COLLECTORS IN GENERAL

We have just purchased a very large collection consisting chiefly of British Colonial stamps of the 19th and 20th Centuries. We are now breaking this collection up and pricing the stamps ready for sale and suggest that you send us your want lists at once as the items are mostly represented by one of each.

ANTIGUA, BAHAMAS, BARRADOS, BERMUDA, CANADA, CAYMAN ISLANDS, DOMINICA, GRENADA, LEEWARD ISLANDS, MONTSERRAT, ST. KITTS, ST. LUCIA, ST. VINCENT, TANGANYIKA, TRINIDAD, TURKS & CAICOS are exceptionally well-represented in both 19th & 20th Century items.
Likewise GAMBIA, HONG KONG, SEYCHELLES and some others are here!
Strong—including all the sleepers and hard-to-find stamps. Most of the countries named above are complete to the latest Pound values.

WHAT DO YOU NEED OF THESE?

Our new list of Germany—pricing each stamp individually is out and is yours for the asking.

OF INTEREST TO DEALERS

Our new Wholesale List of Germany is just off the press and will be sent with our Wholesale Set List upon receipt of your request made on your business stationery.

MAINE STAMP COLLECTORS ORGANIZE

Stamp collectors representing four philatelic organizations throughout the State of Maine, met at the Augusta
House, June 25, and organized the Maine
Association of Philatelic Clubs with John
B. Thomes of Portland as the first president. Ruel Smith of Auburn was elected vice president, A. B. Craig of Waterville, secretary, and Mrs. Roger North of Augusta, treasurer of the association.

Four clubs in the State are charter organizations of the Philatelic group.
They are the Collectors Club of Portland, the Androscoggin Stamp Club of Auburn, the Kennebec Philatelic Club of Waterville and the Penobscot Collectors Club of Bangor. These clubs are all active and reported a very progressive year.

J. W. Sampson, noted philatelic writer of New York City, and W. B. O'Connor of Bangor, United States specialists, were at the meeting and spoke. At the close of the business session and banquet stamps were auctioned off.

FINDS ERROR ON NEW STAMP

The new Lindbergh stamp issued by the United States Post Office Department in honor of Colonel Charles A.
Lindbergh's non-stop flight to Paris depicts the map of Newfoundland incorrectly, according to Herman Toasperi, philatelist, of 51 West 48th Street, N. Y.
City.

"Take a look at the map of Newfoundland, at the left of the center of the stamp," he said, "and you will find that the designer has cut Newfoundland up to resemble three islands, instead of a solid piece of land with a few small lakes. This is rather hard on Newfoundland and I hope the country won't take it up with the League of Nations."

The Postoffice very seldom makes such errors in its designs of stamps. The Norse American Centennial stamp issued in 1925, however, showed the viking vessel of Lief Ericson with an American flag floating from its rigging; and in 1893, in honor of the Columbian Exposi-

CANAL ZONE ROTARIES, 1927

By HARRY E. HUBER.

Late in 1926, a requisition was received by the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, Washington, D. C., from the Canal Zone Director of Posts, C. H.
Calhoun, for a quantity of 2c (sheet and booklet form), 3c and 10c stamps, and these "Canal Zone" overprinted, (sharp
"A") in 2 lines, horizontally, were received on the 1st of December about 1st December. Both flat and curved plate printed stamps were used for the 2c sheets and booklets, but curved plate only for the 3c and 10c. The flat plate printed stamps are perforated 11 single line, and those from curved plates, single line 10.

*Booklet stamps are printed in sheets
of 360; the others in sheets of 400.

The 2c was issued in January, 1927,
and the 3c and 10c at the Philatelic Stamp Agency, Balboa Heights, on May 9, 1927. (In unoverprinted form, these curved plate varieties were issued: 2c
in April, 1924, 3c on August 1, 1925, and 10c on June 8, 1925. Booklet stamps, rotary printed, did not appear until August 27, 1926. In most cases curved plate printed stamps were issued pre-cancelled before being distributed to the Post Offices without the special marking.)

The flat "A" overprinted 2c and 10c
were issued July 1, 1924, and the sharp
"A" varieties, from flat plates, in September, 1926, and August, 1925 respectively. The 3c flat plate does not exist with the flat "A" overprint, but with the sharp "A" was issued June 27, 1925.

In his report for the year ending June 30, 1926, the Director of Posts of the Canal Zone, stated that—"As soon as funds are available for obtaining the required dies for printing of a distinctive series of Canal Zone postage stamps and other stamped paper, it is proposed to discontinue the use of surcharged U.
S. stamps." It does not appear likely that this change will be introduced during the coming year.

1927. Contemporary postage stamps of U. S. A., overprinted by the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, Washington, D. C., "CANAL ZONE," sharp "A," in 2 horizontal lines, in black. Periorated 10, unwatermarked. Rotary press printed.

Stamp booklets—overprinted same as above. Rotary press printed. Periorated 10, unwatermarked.
2c (25c) carmine.
2c (49) carmine.

Since July 1, 1926, all postage stamps of the regular series of the U. S. A., 1c to 10c inclusive, have been printed by the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, on rotary presses, exclusively, although prior to that date, these denominations
were being printed on rotary presses,
though not exclusively, as some flat plates were still in use. Flat plate printing is now reserved for stamps of denominations above 10 cents and those of special character, such as commemoratives, postage dues, special delivery, air mail, etc.

The plates from which rotary press
stamps are printed are of 400 subjects (the same as the flat plates), two of these plates being curved to fit around a cylinder. The same die is used for both the flat and curved plates, and both are recess engraved. Although stamps from the curved plates are from 3/4 to 1mm longer (higher) than those from flat plates, (i.e. 23mm as compared with 22 1/4mm) this difference is due to the plate being curved to fit the cylinder which holds it.

Although rotary presses permit of speedier printing, at about 60% of the cost (5 1/2c per thousand as compared with 8 1/2c for flat plate work), the stamps are not as fine in appearance as those from flat plates.

The printing is done on long rolls of paper, which is cut into 400 stamp sheets,
as it comes from the press; perforated,
and then cut again into Post Office sheets of 100. These Post Office sheets of 100 have a narrow margin on all four sides, and none of the stamps have straight edges. The plate number is in the side margins, opposite the first stamp of the upper left pane (of the 400 stamp sheet), 10th stamp of the upper right, 91st stamp of the lower left,
and 100th of the lower right pane, reading up in the left margin, and down in the right.

A characteristic of rotary press printed stamps is the colorless horizontal lines, or ridges, about 1/4mm apart, in the gum, right across the sheet, which

We read in the press that, at last, the three high values are
to appear in pictorial form—which will obsolete those overprinted on Great Britain. Again 'twould be well to take time by the

At first the perforation of rotary printed stamps (in Post Office sheets of 100), was 10, single line (instead of 11,
as for the flat plate prints), but between November, 1926, and June, 1927, the perforating machines, used with these rotary presses, were gradually changed
over to 11x10 1/2, to enable easier separa-

Every Reader of This Paper Should Bear in Mind These Instructions.

It is earnestly requested that every person dealing with this publication during May, June and July shall observe the following instructions—

All matters concerning new issues or varieties must be addressed to either Mr. Ward or Mr. Smith, and remember they live 300 miles apart. Mr. Ward takes "United States" and Mr. Smith foreign.

Complaints should be addressed to Mr. Severn at our CHICAGO office. He will also deal with matters requiring editorial attention.

All moneys and advertising copy should go to BEVERLY as usual.

EDITORIAL

Reports have come from several cities that the supplies of Lindbergh stamps were exhausted before the demand, public and philatelic, was satisfied. One reason for the heavy drain was because of the enterprise of a number of advertisers who saw that the new stamps were exceptionally good couriers for their publicity. The nature of the stamp's introduction was such as to give it the distinction of being the most popular issue ever sold over the counter; and a good many of the first day covers that fell into hands that ordinarily consigned air mail envelopes to the wastebasket were preserved in this instance. We agree with prophets who say that the new stamps mean the accession of thousands of collectors to our ranks, but even in the face of this enthusiastic comment, it is worth while to say that the

IN

SCOTT'S MONTHLY JOURNAL

ON

SPECIALIZED U. S.

In order to meet the growing need for accurate information regarding United States postage, we have instituted a new Department in Scott's Monthly Journal, devoted exclusively to Specialized U. S.

This will be a regular feature of the Journal, in addition to our many other features and noteworthy articles. Mr. Herman Toaspehn has agreed to take over this Department, and all additions and corrections affecting the Specialized Catalogue of United States Stamps will appear monthly. The importance of this to collectors of U. S. is readily apparent. All basic designs from which cancellation listings are made, will be illustrated. In cases of varieties, etc., same will be illustrated as far as possible and accurately described.

The April issue carries the first of these articles. Subscription to Scott's Monthly Journal is $1.00 a year, and we urge immediate subscription in order not to miss any of this new series. Be sure to have your subscription start with the April issue. [t]

Lindbergh stamp has made one collector. A business man took the trouble to call at one office where stamps were sold and said that he had received one of the new air mails and that he thought that inasmuch as he was interested in the flying mail, he would like to obtain all the preceding air mail issues that had been issued, as "curiosities."

Two readers have asked for news about the Levine packet of letters that was carried by Chamberlain and Levine across the Atlantic and which was the subject of inquiry by the post office department. The story was played up variously in the newspapers and the reference that was made in the WEEKLY to it seems to have covered the incident. The Associated Press disposed of the circumstances by saying that the Hempstead, Long Island, postmaster was very sorry that unwittingly, he committed a breach of the regulations and we can understand his statement that he just wanted to be obliging and favor a personal friend in postmarking the envelopes. One of the officers of the Levine corporation dismisses the assertion that has been made that the envelopes would bring a thousand dollars each by saying that it was the intention to deliver the envelopes that came back to the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences with the gracious offer that the Institute could keep what it wanted and use the others as traders with other museums. The institution that was selected for this distinction was well chosen, at any rate, since the Brooklyn Institute was the first educational organization to recognize philately and install a section of philately in 1899.

A reader says that he knows that there are others who feel as he does in opposing the elevation of the U. S. perforation varieties that are being issued to the class of major varieties. He wishes that something could be done to put the minor varieties in their place, so that they would not intrude themselves in select stamp society. There are collectors who share his opinion and a few words on the subject may not be amiss. First off all, it should be known that the battle for the right to collect what the collector pleased was won some decades ago and since that time, there has been no general disposition to dictate what the collector should or should not interest himself in. As a matter of fact, there are many collectors who are glad enough to give attention to these perforation and impression varieties, in the case of the issues of their own country, where if they were foreign products they would look askance at them. The knowledge that these varieties are not being made as a consequence of philatelic demand is enough to make them fair game to those who attend closely to stamps. It may be said that they are the results of experiment that is based upon a desire to improve the production of stamps in a practical sense and the circulating of them with the speed that is a requirement of today. We are afraid that the wishes of collectors in this regard will have to give way to the department's idea of the general good of the order.

The ruling passion that the one tangible foundation on which to build for the advancement of collecting through notices of it in the outside press does not blind us to the fact that some of the stamp pabulum that is dished up to innocent readers is rather raw. Unquestionably, the literary aspirant, who is uncertain in his understanding of philately, thinks that he has discovered an almost uncultivated field, when by chance he learns of the existence of the stamp world; and he dresses up a stamp story in clothes that are not of the fashion of the day, to put it mildly. Howlers sometimes characterize the attempts of these writers to assume an easy attitude in shaping the stamp theme and one need refer to a story that appeared recently in a leading Chicago newspaper to prove the point. A young man and Clarissa Jewell were traveling in a parlor car, on their several missions. Evidently, each had an attraction for the other, but conventionality held its sway and no words were spoken. In the diner they happened to be seated at the same table, but even so, silence still reigned. The window was open and suddenly a little bit of paper blew and settled on the table and they grabbed for it. The girl got it and then her pent-up eloquence gushed forth and the following enchanting dialogue ensued:

"It's a blue 24-cent of 1835, with a picture of President Monroe and no perforations," she exclaimed excitedly,

AIR MAIL NEWSPAPERS

By H. BEDFORD-JONES.

Little is known in America regarding the news letter-sheets produced in Paris
 during the siege of 1870 for balloon
 mail; yet abroad, these have a most carefully differentiated value, and the distinctions will certainly be of use to Air Mail collectors here, as the tremendous jump
 in prices during the past two months has brought a good many of these pieces on the market, which are being rapidly absorbed at the new high rates, and some of which are now en route to America.

The best known of these letter-newspapers—half newspaper, half letter—is the Letter Journal, or Gazette of the Absent. Of these, 32 numbers were issued during the siege, others later. It is possible to get 32 flown numbers, then.
 Some contained supplementary sheets;
 others, supplementary illustrations and pictures, which are very rare. Any of the supplements are rare, but that of No.
 4 is worth several times the price of an ordinary Gazette. The chief Paris dealer tells me he has seen just two in the past four years.

Rarest of the Gazettes is No. 1, worth from $60 upward, according to cachet and stamp. No. 6 is worth half as much; No. 11 is very scarce; and No. 32
 rivals the first—provided it bears a date of Jan. 27, 1871, or previous. If dated Jan. 28 or after, it is not flown. These are the rare numbers, yet any number may be a great rarity, depending on the cachet.

During the siege, eleven letter-newspapers were produced, and sixteen pure newspapers. All, except the Gazettes, are extremely rare. The only one apt to come on the home market is the Depeche - Ballon, a letter-newspaper, worth from $30 upward. Any of the others that appear on the market are due for French collections, huge prices being paid for nearly all.

One complete file of flown Gazettes was recently offered in Paris at $400, but I understand that the price has now nearly doubled. Unused single items are practically of no value, but a complete unused file commands a high price,
 and the reprint, made after the siege, is still more rare.

Paris being the home of forgeries, it is needless to say that these abound.
 They fall into two categories. First,
 pure forgeries—unused Gazettes or other sheets provided with stamps, letters, and cachets. I have not seen any which would deceive a collector of any experience—but many Air Mail collectors
 lack experience in this particular line.
 Second come genuine flown sheets from which stamps have in other days been cut or removed. Two Paris dealers make specialties of these—I do not say why, but I have my suspicions. Some beautiful repair work is done in Europe.

In a previous article, I believe I made some disparaging remarks about Ballons Montés from captured balloons.
 Well, we live and learn—if there were nothing to be learned every day, collecting would have no value. These items are actually very rare, and are publicly frowned upon in Paris, in order that they may be snapped up at low prices.
 They bear no arrival cachets, and the

Peru's First Stamps

Some time ago, a young collector asked about the circumstances of the use of the Pacific Steam Navigation Company's stamps as the first stamps of Peru; and while the catalogue tells the story in a nutshell, the following paragraph gives a few of the details.

"In 1857 the Peruvian Government decided to follow the lead of other countries and give postage stamps a trial. Not being particularly optimistic as to the success of the venture the postal authorities decided to limit expenses as much as possible, so instead of causing special stamps to be printed they borrowed a supply from the Pacific Steam Navigation Company. The two stamps were placed on sale in the towns of Lima, Chorrillos and Callao only on the 1st December, 1857. The experiment was eminently successful and four months later these 'borrowed' stamps were replaced by a regular issue bearing the Arms of the Republic. The stamps used by the Peruvian Government can only be distinguished from those used by the shipping company by the postmarks."

Antique Type

A variety of printer's type sometimes used in surcharging postage stamps in making provisionals. Examples of "lower case" letters may be found upon some of the stamps of Siam from the 1895 issue onwards while antique capitals are shown on some of the Canal Zone stamps. The letters in this type are, generally speaking, broad, with short serifs of the same thickness as the body of the letter.

Stamp News for the Juniors

Is there anything you want to know about stamps or stamp collecting? If so, write the editor. What would you like to see in this department? We have no way of knowing unless you tell us. Mr. Senior Collector, can't you give the boy collector about 50 words of encouragement along practical lines? Address your letter to the Beverly office.

Junior Activities

—Barton L. Keller says that he had a meeting of boys at his home in Chicago that was attended by nine collectors ranging in age from ten to fourteen years, at which stamp games were played. The Senn Stamp Club of the Senn High School, Chicago, which is rated A1 among organizations of the kind, recently held its Soiree at the Edgewater Beach Hotel, and it is needless to say the fun was fast and furious; and some of the philatelic diversions showed that their sponsors had a lively wit.

—The Junior Stamp Echo has been combined with Sunshine Stamp News and is now sailing forth as the Stamp Echo, says the editor, F. L. Wilson, who seems at home in his work.

—A Palmyra, N. J., reader sends the following staple for the column: "The usefulness of a postage stamp depends upon its ability to stick to one thing until it gets there." This serves as an introductory to a few remarks on removing paper from stamps. When the stamps are line-engraved, they will stand water. Typographed stamps do not have the same fixity of color, and aniline inks, chalky papers and early Russians are spoiled by immersion. Never pull the stamp from the paper, but the paper from the stamp. Elsewhere, we shall have complete details on this subject that some of the younger collectors are interested in.

—We have heard that remark on the 2c and 5c Norse-American that appeared in the issue of June 20th has puzzled several readers. Charles McCabe asked if he should sell a sheet of each of these stamps that his father bought at face, for fifteen dollars, the amount offered by a dealer in Chicago. We dodged the question intentionally and it is just as well that we refrain from circulating market news. Suffice it to say, just after the paragraph appeared, we were told of an offer of $20 for a sheet of 5c, alone.

—Jack R. Robbins says that his father thinks that the commemorative stamps are without an equal in bringing historic events to the eyes of boys and girls and that as pictures, they are worth their price and more. All fathers are not as wise as Jack's.

Paper No. 2—Laid

In manufacturing this paper the "dandy roll" is covered with longitudinal wires separated by a space equal to the width of one of the wires. These are held in position by small wire rings placed at regular intervals and in the finished article the paper appears to be watermarked with parallel lines. When the watermarked lines run from top to bottom of the stamps the paper is called vertically laid, and when the lines run across the stamp the paper is known as horizontally laid. If the lines run in a slanting direction then the paper is diagonally laid. Practically all the stamps of Russia issued between 1868 and 1905 are on laid paper.

Corner Letters

Arthur L. Stanwood asks where he can get an explanation of the duty that was done by the letters in the corners of some of the early stamps of Great Britain and he inquires whether the "different letters make them different stamps" in a collecting sense. While it is argued that these letter variations make as many collectible varieties as there are letter combinations, only specialists collect them all and then when they want to reconstruct sheets. Here is what Mr. Bertram W. H. Poole answered on this subject:

"When adhesive postage stamps were first introduced into Great Britain in 1840 the great fear of the authorities was that they might be successfully counterfeited, which would, of course, mean a great loss to the revenue. To guard against forgery a special watermarked paper was used, and as an additional safeguard it was decided that letters should be placed in the lower angles, these differing on each stamp in the sheet. The sheets consisted of 240 stamps arranged in twenty horizontal rows of twelve each. The stamps in the top row were lettered AA, AB, AC, etc., to AL; those in the second row BA, BB, BC, etc., to BL; and so on to the twentieth row which was lettered TA to TL. Thus by these letters the position occupied by any particular stamp on the sheet can be readily ascertained. The letter in the left-hand corner denotes the row and that in the right-hand corner the number of the stamp in the row. By these means we can tell that a stamp lettered, say, EG was the seventh specimen on the fifth row of the sheet.

Later on, in 1858, letters were added in all four corners, those in the upper angles being the same as those in the bottom corners but in reverse order. That is, if the letters at the bottom were GB, they would be BG in the top corners. This system was retained for all values issued from 1858 to 1887 with the exception of a few denominations of the 1881 set."

Care In Collecting

The tendency of the young collector is to be none too critical in selecting stamps for his book and even after he has them in place, he does not always treat them as gently as he should. In fact, a pair of tongs is indispensable in handling stamps and an investment in that useful tool is well-advised. Clean stamps, well-centered and not disfigured by cancelling ink are a joy to behold even though they are of the commonest kind. Better a blank space than a torn or heavily canceled stamp or one with the perforations partly clipped off or otherwise damaged. In some cases of great rarities this rule will not hold good because one is glad to get some of them in any condition, but this class is small, and with the great majority of stamps, and particularly the low-priced ones, there is absolutely no necessity for any but fine specimens, and if the collector takes pride in his stamps, which means he will be careful in collecting, he will find it pays in the end. Care should also be used in removing paper from the backs of specimens mounting them, pulling off hinges often damaging the stamp. Most can be soaked, preferably in hot and dried on blotting paper, but like Russians, early Bulgarians, United States due stamps, 1835, China, recent British and British stamps having green in their ing, and stamps printed on "chall faced" paper are affected by water should not be immersed in it. A of wet blotting paper against the until the paper is damp enough to is the best way to treat them. Of mounting is only to be done with h and care should be used not to soil or page when it is done.

Great Barrier Island

A junior has a Great Barrier showing a carrier pigeon in flight told that the stamp is one that was in 1898-99 when Great Barrier which is about seventy miles from Zealand, used this novel means of communication with Auckland, Zealand. The homer pigeons were from the Island by boat to Auckland then released, each one with five sages, a fee of one shilling being for each letter; and the stamp was dence of payment. They are stamps were popular at one time because romantic conditions under which were used and forgeries were made them. The stamps are private local the use of them was suppressed by Zealand as an infringement on its monopoly.

At the time this Pigeon Post wstituted the island was only visited a week by a small vessel so that the habitants did not enjoy very extensive postal facilities. As a rule, too, the made such a short stay it was generally impossible to reply to important communications by the same boat.

Air Mail Notes

The Post Office Department has announced, that under date of July 1, that portion of the transcontinental route lying between Chicago and San Francisco, will be taken over by private contractors. Arrangements have been made for the use of a special postmark at each of the dispatching post offices along the route. These are: Chicago, Ill, Iowa City, Iowa, Omaha, and North Platte, Neb., Cheyenne, and Rock Springs, Wyo., Salt Lake City, Utah, Elko and Reno, Nevada, Sacramento and San Francisco, California.

It is expected that the remainder of this route from Chicago to New York, will go under private contract on August 1st, but this date has not, as yet, been definitely decided upon. Dispatching offices in this case will be, New York, N. Y., Cleveland, Ohio, Chicago, Ill.

In a circular sent out by the postmaster of Springfield, Ill., under date of June 10th, announcement was made that Monday, June 20th, would be Lindbergh Day, and that a special cancellation would be used. It was hoped that Colonel Lindbergh would be present in person, and dedicate the air mail field to be named after him. As the covers have not, as yet, come to hand at this writing, there is no doubt that the special dedication has been postponed.

Under date of June 28th, the postal bulletin calls the attention of postmasters to the fact that numerous requisitions are being received for 2c Lindbergh stamps, and that no such variety has ever been issued. No doubt, the rumor relative to the overprinting of our current 2c stamps received wide publicity, and many of the smaller offices are under the impression that such a stamp exists.

Special Delivery Imperforate

Mr. Henry C. DeWitt, Jr., has shown me a cover to which is attached one of the current 10c blue Special Delivery Stamps, in an imperforate condition. This was used on business mail, and it is to be regretted that it is not in a pair of larger, so that it might be recognized for what it possibly is. Mr. De Witt endeavored to have further copies located in the office that sent it, but unfortunately without success. It was used by one of the Westinghouse subsidiaries, in San Francisco.

Philippines

Mr. M. C. Comfort has kindly submitted for inspection one of the new locally prepared two centavos, green, envelopes. It is printed on white, and shows a portrait of the Philippine Patriot, Rizal. The envelope is lithographed, and is indeed a poor piece of work. It is oval in shape, with "Philippine Island, U. S. A." around the top, with the figure of value enclosed within a square at the bottom.

I recently ran across an express label upon a cover, and submitted it to Mr.

MAXWELL KRAUSE, Lebanon, Pa.

Henry C. Needham, our foremost authority on Local stamps, and asked him if he considered it a local or a label, and how he distinguished between the two.

Mr. Needham writes under date of June 27th as follows:

"Broadly speaking, every stamp, impression or seal, used to indicate prepayment of postage, express or revenue rate, is a Frank. For the purpose of indicating to a collector the point at which a certain Stamp or Frank might be accumulated, within the lines of his specialty, I would suggest as follows:

1. LOCAL STAMPS. An adhesive or envelope stamp, indicating value on its face, issued by a company or individual delivering or collecting, or both, letters or packages within the prescribed limits of a restricted area such as a city or town, and also those companies issuing stamps for local, state and interstate business; all of which stamps are sold to the general public and recognized by the issuing company, its correspondents,
 agents, and connections.

2. FRANKS. Any impression, other than a stamp as above described, placed,
 printed or impressed upon an envelope or wrapper, generally addressed to and destined for other than the local point of origin, and always so applied under authority of the individual or company engaged in collecting and delivering such matter, and used by such individual or company in the transaction of its business or sold or presented to its customers or friends, and always used to indicate prepayment of carrying charge. Prepayment may or may not be indicated by the impression Free, Paid or the words or figures of value; such indications,
 however, usually appearing.

Now, as to these definitions, there are,
 of course, certain exceptions; Some Local Stamps do not bear on their face
 an expression of value, but nevertheless were sold to the public, the reason being that occasionally the rate varied for different purposes or distances. This exception applies to a case similar to Barnard's, Fisk & Rice, &c.

As a matter of fact, Barnard's is a British Columbia rather than a United States Local, but probably was included in the Catalogue for the reason that the stamp was used in combination with United States or British Columbia, or both."

PRE - STAMP COVERS

I have just purchased three small, but choice lots of pre-stamp covers, showing postmarks previous to the issuing of stamps. It will be recalled that in the old days, the letter was folded, and the postmarks bearing the date and name of city, were usually applied, in addition to such words as, "10", "5", "Paid", "Mis-sent", and the like. The value of postage payment at times, appears in manuscript.

In this lot, I notice covers from Baltimore bearing the well known figure "5" in an oval, the stamper later being used to make the famous Postmaster Provisional. The cover just described is identical with the Provisional Envelope, with the exception of the fact that, the Buchanan signature is lacking. There are also some covers from Chicago, containing the numeral "10", with fluting around the edge like the old-fashioned home made pie. There are some from New Orleans, showing back printed figures about one inch high. Numerous covers from smaller cities are to be found. I will gladly send 10 different varieties including the three especially described above, at $1.00. If you want two or three lots I will endeavor to pick out as many different kinds as possible. A page or two of these covers should be mounted in every United States collection.

Mr. Needham especially mentions the Barnard's, because I took exception to this being listed as a local, feeling that it is nothing more than a label.

AUSTRIA.—Whitfield King & Co. reports the appearance of the 4gr turquoise, and in the postage due series the 14gr blue.

BELGIAN EAST AFRICA.—Mr. Henry Hooreman reports that he has received the 1fr50c stamp of Congo surcharged for use in this colony with the added overprint of "1.75" in black. Two parallel lines are surcharged across the original value.

CHILE.—Air Mail Stamps. Further to our note of April 2, we now learn from L'Echo that 5 different values will be surcharged on the (unissued) Maipu Commemorative as follows:—40c on 10c, 50,000; 80c on 10c, 20,000; $1.20 on 10c, 20,000; $1.60 on 10c, 20,000; $2 on 10c, 20,000. Each value will also bear the overprint, "CORREO AEREO."—Philatelic Magazine.

CONGO.—Mr. Henry Hooreman has shown us the 1fr50c, pale blue, surcharged "1.75" in black beneath the figures of former value. Two parallel bars obliterate the original value.

CUBA.—Mr. R. Roberts reports the 10c brown, watermark star.

CZECHOSLOVAKIA.—Whitfield King & Co. send copies of the 1k20 mauve, with a view of Strahov in the centre and the 5k green, in the larger size stamp with a country scene in the central part.

FEDERATED MALAY STATES.—Mr. R. Roberts and Whitfield King & Co. send for chronicle the 3c brown, script watermark.

FRANCE.—Strasbourg Exhibition Stamps. We have now received an illustration of these stamps, which shows the millésime to be "STRASBOURG 1927." 50,000 sheets have been printed.

Postal Changes. The following changes will be made in the current stamps:

- Postage Stamps.
- (a) New values: 45c, 65c, 90c, 1fr10 and 1fr50 (all in the small format).
 - (b) Pasteur new values: *30c, green; 90c, red; 1fr50, blue.
 - (c) Semeur new values: 25c, "chamois"; *45c mauve; 65c, bronze green; 75c, "iris"; 1fr10, red currant.
 - (d) Change of colour: 40c to violet, 50c to geranium red.
 - (e) Suppression of the following values: 35c, 60c, 1fr25, 1fr40, and 3 francs.

The current series of stamps will, therefore, be composed of the following values:—1c, 2c, 3c, 5c, 10c, 15c, 20c, 25c, 30c, 40c, 45c, 50c, 65c, 75c, 90c, 1fr, 1fr10, 1fr50, 2fr, 5fr, 10fr and 20 francs.

Postage Due.

- (a) Issue of 60c and *3fr, dull red values.
- (b) Suppression of the 20c, 40c and 80c.

So that the series will be composed of the 5c, 10c, 30c, 50c, 60c, 1fr, 2fr and 3 francs.

BRITISH COLONIALS

Among the following stamps will be found several which recently have been marked up in price by Scott's. Revised prices given in (). Don't miss this chance—they are likely to sell a good deal higher when the fall season opens.

A Rarity!

I have a copy of the rare NIEUE 1sh. #11. Only one sheet was printed of this error—the famous "thief shilling". It is a real rarity—in spite of Scott's "rating". Gibbons don't commit themselves—but Scott's have it marked down for $40.00. The last copy brought $62.50 in auction—I am asking $52.50. There may not be another chance in years.

GREAT BRITAIN, Offices in Morocco. Mr. R. Roberts has shown us the bistre, new watermark, surcharge in two lines in black "Morocco Agence".

HEDJAZ-NEJD.—Mr. R. Roberts submits for chronicle copies of the 3p green, 5p pale reddish-brown, 1p (postage due) and 2p violet (Peag due). Mr. Roberts adds that these in addition to the six values represent some time ago. Also the stamps together with the 18d pale orange-brown, 1/4 green, 1/2 rose, 1 violet, 1 1/2 rose, 10 chocolate have been overprinted in black commemorating the creation of the Nejd Sultanate into a Kingdom.

HONG KONG.—20c and 30c are replaced by Oswald Marsh in deeper shades of purple and deep olive-green; 30c, green and yellow.—Philatelic Magazine.

HUNGARY.—Whitfield King & Co. show us the 30 filler green and 46 blue, both in the design recently issued.

NETHERLANDS.—Whitfield King & Co. advise that the 3c green, design as Scott's A24, has appeared watermarked Gies.

NEWFOUNDLAND.—Mr. Frank F. informs us that the present pictorial stamps will be allowed to "run out" no new supplies will be ordered except the 1c, 2c, 3c, 4c, and 5c values. The value of this set is now obsolete and 24c is also getting very low.

POLAND.—Whitfield King & Co. show us three values in a set of stamps issued for the Medical Congress. All bear the likeness of Dr. Karol Jozefski and are of the following value: 10gr green, 25gr carmine and 40gr.

POLISH DANZIG.—Whitfield King & Co. advise that they have had confirmation of the 20gr in red.

SAAR.—Whitfield King & Co. show us two additional values in a new set of stamps. They are the 10c sepia and 75c puce.

UNION OF SOUTH AFRICA.—Mr. R. Roberts has submitted for chronicle copies of the 1/2p green and grey-black on 1p carmine and grey, local printing watermarked multiple Springbok. They are easily distinguished from the London printing by the Vignettes which are very flat and pale looking compared with the London printing, which show up the light and shade and details much more clearly than the local production. The 1/2p green is paler and greyer in color also the 1p carmine. Also we have received from Mr. Roberts and the Economist Stamp Co. copies of the 1p carmine postage due, inscribed "South Africa" at the top "Suid Afrika" at the bottom "Postage Due" on the left and "Betaal" at the right, no watermark. The shape of the figure is different from previous issues.

No One Throws Away Precancels Now Days—A few years ago Precanceled stamps were cast aside. It was often a common occurrence to find them advertised at smaller prices than ordinarily cancelled United States stamps. But "Them Days Are Gone Forever!"

You are one of those judicious collectors who save precancels; and you may also be one of those who have not yet been bitten by the fascination of the precancel hobby. We would advise you to investigate its hobby possibilities—

But If You Are Not Interested Just Now—Send All Or Part Of Your Precancels To Us For An Offer.

We can use everything which you send, providing they are soaked clean from paper and do not send skinned or torn copies.

As soon as we receive your lot, we will send you our offer in the form of a net purchase credit offer which is good for purchases from our approvals of foreign or United States stamps. You may reject or accept this offer.

Indicate the type of approvals that you are interested in. Medium grade foreign stamps, cataloging 2c to 10c. Higher priced foreign stamps, cataloging 10c to $2.00. Medium priced United States, cataloging 1c to 25c. Higher priced United States.

If you have any serious country preferences in foreign indicate them. (Do not send us want lists on this type of transaction.)

Remember that our offers on precancels are necessarily wholesale offers. We are a large concern paying office rent, telephone bills, salaries to five clerks and the like. Our offers will represent the fair wholesale market worth of the precancels you submit. The small collector or trader may be able to offer you more than we do because he has no overhead, but remember that (1)—We Will Take Everything Which You Send; (2)—We have a large stock of foreign and United States Postage stamps and will liquidate your credit promptly and courteously.

ROTNEM STAMP CO.,
809 Northwestern Bldg., Minneapolis, Minn.
P. S.—Don't bother to write us about your lot first. Send the stamps to us, we will make the offer and send you a selection with our offer. We always insist upon seeing lots before making offers. Such offers are appraised by our stock expert once each week.

BARBADOS TRICENTENARY, 1927

By HARRY E. HUBER.

Following the decision of the Executive (H. E. the Governor, W. C. F.
Robertson, Esq. C. M. G.) in council to commemorate the 300th anniversary of the founding of Barbados, by the issue of a special postage stamp, announcement was made in the Official Gazette, and in the daily papers of the Colony, as follows:—

"POST OFFICE NOTICE.

The Governor in Executive Committee has decided to commemorate the Tercentenary of the settlement of the Colony of Barbados, in February, 1927, by the issue of a postage stamp.

Persons wishing to submit specimens
for the design of such a stamp are asked to forward same to the Colonial Postmaster at his office by the 16th August, 1926.

The designer of the specimen approved
by the Governor in Executive Committee will be granted a gratuity of £10.

Signed, H. H. HEATH.

Colonial Postmaster.

July 21st.

4 n. o. a. w."

The Colonial Postmaster explained that what was wanted was an original design,
and not one which had been used elsewhere, and simply adapted to local conditions. Local response was generous, and by August 16th, some 47 or 48 designs had been submitted.

Those submitted by three local ladies, Mrs. E. L. Delamer, Miss Laurie, and Miss Cox, were thought most suitable of the lot. The design submitted by Mrs. Delamer was very appropriate, but with details which could hardly be reduced to stamp size without destroying its effectiveness. It represented the sun rising over the Hole, the little opening into the sea, in the parish of St. James, where the Tercentenary monument was erected in 1905, with settlers of 1627
standing on one bank, and those of today on the other. Sugar cane, cabbage and cocoanut palms were introduced into the design; in the upper corners the dates
"1627" and "1927," with "Postage and Revenue" between, and at the foot of the vignette, the inscription "To commemorate the anniversary of Representative Institutions." The value "One Penny" was at the bottom of the design. Miss Laurie's design was somewhat similar.

At the time of advertising locally, the Crown Agents were cabled to secure stamp designs in England, and that submitted by Messrs. Bradbury, Wilkinson & Co., Ltd., was accepted. This design was along the same lines as that submitted by Miss Cox (of Barbados), in double medallion type, with the heads of Their Majesties King Charles I. and King George V.

It had been suggested that the special design be used for a short series from ¼d to 1s, or at least the three denominations most used, ½d, 1d and 2½d, but the Colonial Postmaster decided to have one value only, 1d, and placed an order for 1,000,000 of these. This same design, with the head of King James I.

substituted for that of King Charles I.
had been suggested in the Bermuda House of Assembly, at the time the Legislative Tercentenary series was being discussed in the summer of 1920.

In the Crown Agents Bulletin, for the fourth quarter of 1926, they formally announced the design of the Tercentenary stamp, and stated that it would be recess printed in carmine, on script CA watermarked paper. The stamps were dispatched from England, by the Harrison Line s. s. "Inanda," and arrived at Bridgetown, on Thursday, January 27, 1927. The actual landing of the first settlers was on February 20th, and that date falling on Sunday, it was the intention to issue the commemorative stamp on February 21st. But when Monday, February 21st was declared a Public Holiday, for the civic celebration of the event, the stamps were placed on sale Thursday, February 17th. It was desired to have the stamps in issue before the celebrations rather than after. On February 11th orders from abroad were being filled, so that they might be sent off by the outward mail of February 17th. Miss M. Gittens, one of the lady assistants in the G. P. O. deserves much credit for so carefully selecting well centered stamps, and preparing them for dispatch.

The stamp was designed, engraved and recess-printed in rose-carmine, on script
CA watermarked paper, in sheets of 120 stamps, (8 horizontal by 15 vertical), not divided into panes. There is no plate number or marginal line, and the only marginal marking is the printers' name (Bradbury Wilkinson & Co., Ltd., New Malden, Surrey, England) in the lower margin under the 4th and 5th stamps, in small colored caps.

The design, practically the same as that submitted by Miss Cox (daughter of Mr. G. B. Y. Cox), and who received £5, half of the prize money offered by the Colonial Postmaster, is a horizontal rectangle measuring 39x25mm, with the heads of Their Majesties King Charles
I (at the left, facing three-quarters right), and King George V (at the right, facing left). The portrait of King George V is new to postage stamps, and pictures His Majesty much younger in appearance than even on the 5c of New-foundland's Royal series, issued in June, 1899.

The denomination is expressed in words at the bottom, and in numerals
(1d) in the upper corners, with "BARBA-DOS" between, in a curved line, at the top, over the two medallions. In the lower left corner is the year "1627," and in

UNITED STATES

We are constant buyers of United States stamps, spending several thousand dollars
every month to keep our stock of these stamps in shape. We have just purchased a very fine collection of both nineteenth and twentieth century, running into five figures
and have at present nearly everything in stock, including such items as the blue paper set complete, the 4c and 8c being the finest copies we have ever seen, perfectly centered. We have in stock practically all blocks of the twentieth century.

A want list will receive our best attention and you can rest assured that the majority of the stamps can at the moment be supplied.

If you have not yet got our twenty page U. S. list, we would be very pleased to send it to you upon receipt of your request.

CANAL ZONE FOR THOSE WHO "KNOW"

I am just breaking up a very fine little collection of these stamps. There are many errors and varieties from the early issues to the current; some few of which I believe are unique. For those who specialize and are interested in the different printings of these stamps, there are sure to be many interesting items. There is also a wealth of material for those who are in the habit of sticking to Scott's catalog price for this material. However, such stamps as Scott's No. 32b, cannot be sold at catalogue quotation. Only 19 or 20 unused copies exist, and there is a horizontal pair of this stamp in this collection.

the lower right "1927." All inscriptions and numerals are colorless. In the center between the ovals, which are placed off center, is a bit of tropical scenery depicting a coconut grove with natives gathering coconuts.

The stamps will remain on sale until September 30, 1927, when the remainders, if any, will be destroyed. On May 31, 1927, 630,000 were still in stock. At first the stamps were sold only on request, but from the 1st June, the 1d Postage and Revenue (Colonial Seal type) was taken off sale, and the 1d Tercentenary sold exclusively.

February 17, 1927. Tercentenary of Founding of Barbados. King Charles I (1627) and King George V (1927). Designed, engraved and recess printed by Bradbury, Wilkinson & Co., Ltd., New Malden, Surrey, England. Watermarked multiple Crown and script CA. Perforated single line 12.

1d rose-carmine.

For the old widely-circulated story that Barbados was settled in 1625, the evidence consists merely of inferences drawn from incidental statements, and there is no first hand recorded evidence of any person claiming to have been present at the time of the settlement. On the other hand, on four different occasions between 1647 and 1660, the master of the ship that brought out the first settlers, testified that in the year 1626 (old style) he landed about 40 men at Barbados which previously had no inhabitants, and on some of the occasions he was corroborated by members of the crew and other persons that were aboard.

The facts are that at the close of 1624 or early in 1625, a ship belonging to Sir William Courteen on its way to Pernambuco touched at Barbados; John Powell, the commander, surveyed the southern and western coasts and found no signs of occupation, and on reaching home, reported to his employer. Thereupon, Courteen prepared an expedition under the command of John Powell to take possession; Powell sailed with letters of marque, but never reached Barbados, for the reason that at sea he captured a Spanish prize, with which he returned to Cowes in July, 1626. Later in the year, a second expedition was equipped, and the "William and John," commanded by Capt. Henry Powell, reached Barbados on 20th February, 1627, and landed 40 white men and 8 blacks near the spot where the sailors of the "Olive Blossom" landed in 1605, and there laid the foundation of the Colony.

A few months after Courteen's settlers had taken possession, King Charles I granted by letters patent, dated June 2, 1627, a charter of ownership of Barbados and other Caribbees, to James Hay, Earl of Carlisle, who exacted a payment of 40 pounds of cotton per head as tribute from the inhabitants. Thus Sir William Courteen lost the £12,000 which he had expended in the enterprise.

DENMARK'S PHILATELIC STAMP AGENCY

By A. E. PADE.

The Philatelic Agency of Denmark was established in November, 1926, by the Danish Post Office Department as an accommodation for stamp collectors and dealers all over the world.

Such agencies have been in operation for several years in the United States, Canada, England and France and possibly other countries and have proved to be of great benefit to both the stamp collecting public and the respective Post Office Departments.

Denmark is the first of the Scandinavian countries to recognize stamp collecting in this way and has already made a success of it. On a trip to Denmark, I recently had opportunity to visit this new Philatelic Agency. It is located in a large office in the Central Post Office in Copenhagen and is under the management of Postmaster Forum who proved to be one of the most courteous and accommodating Postal officials I have ever come in contact with.

In the interest of collectors and dealers who may want to use the Danish agency, I shall give some necessary details in regard to how to take advantage of the facilities it offers.

The Danish name for the agency is "Postvaesenets Salgskontor For Frimaerkesamlere" (which means P. O. Departments sales office for stamp collectors) and this title should be used. The address is simply Copenhagen, Denmark. All current stamps, as well as postferry, airmail and postage due stamps and all kinds of stamped paper are carried in stock and as perfect specimens as possible are furnished to the buyers. In addition a supply of some of the more recent issues is still on hand, among which are the jubilee issues of 1924 and 1926. The 1926 surcharges are, however, sold out.

Everything is sold at face value and all orders must be accompanied by International Money Order in Danish Kroner or bank draft on Copenhagen for the amount plus return postage and registry fee. Personal checks or postage stamps are not accepted in payment and stamps are not sent on approval or C. O. D. Purchasers and others who ask for it are placed on a mailing list and will receive notification of future new issues.

LINDBERGH SOUVENIR COLLECTION

The greatest accomplishment of any individual during our lifetime was the flight from New York to Paris. Colonel Lindbergh is the world's greatest hero. A wonderfully interesting collection of souvenirs for any philatelist is offered as follows:

1. An air mail cover actually carried by Lindbergh on the first flight over the St. Louis-Chicago route on April 15, 1926.
2. National Capital to Golden Gate. A cover mailed in Washington on Lindbergh Day, the day that the flier first set foot on American soil after his great flight. Has the special Lindbergh Day cachet provided by the Post Office Department. This cover reached San Francisco on the day after it was mailed in Washington, a record flight.
3. Special flight, Washington to New York, June 11, 1927.
4. First Day cover of Lindbergh air mail stamp from St. Louis, present home of the flier, showing special Lindbergh Celebration cancellation.
5. First Day cover from Little Falls, Minnesota, Lindbergh's boyhood home.
6. First Day cover from Detroit, his birthplace.
7. First Day cover from Washington.

The entire set of seven fine air mail covers for only $7.50. A magnificent collection of Lindbergh souvenirs.

Some Days It Rains

Taking a blind "Steve" in a recent European auction we bought among other things a little lot of 12c 1867 grilles, Scott's numbers 90 and 97. Expecting only second rate, big discount stuff we were pleased to find nice fresh stamps, and after identifying two fine "Z" grilles, to discover that we had a little specialized lot including and a couple of new ones. They include the double line and shifted ornaments at top; doubled line and shifted ornaments at lower right; widely doubled lines at both top and bottom; doubled ornaments at upper right. A nice little lot for someone and priced about 30% below catalogue because they were "sleepers". There were others.

All The Listed Shifts

ICELAND, 1873-1922

By C. A. HOWES.

THIS ancient colony of Denmark has led a quiet philatelic life in general, with but few "high spots" to enliven it, and has therefore attracted many collectors who found they could readily obtain a representative collection at reasonable cost. Indeed, a practically complete array of the island's issues would not be prohibitive in price, though a few of the minor varieties of surcharge might be quite difficult to locate. Though known to Europeans for over eleven centuries, the island is really in the Western Hemisphere, being the easternmost of the great archipelago which tops the North American Continent. It was settled by the Norsemen and finally came under the rule of Norway in the middle of the thirteenth century; somewhat more than a century later both Norway and Iceland passed under the Crown of Denmark, where Iceland has since remained. It is a Colony but has had home rule for most of its seven hundred years as such. There are about 70,000 inhabitants of which the capital, Reykjavik, claims 10,000. The latter is reached by steamer from Leith, Scotland, which arrives about every ten days or fortnight in the summer time, but less frequently in winter. This is naturally an event of the greatest importance, for outside of cable connection it is the only personal contact with the civilized world. Though Denmark issued stamps in 1851, it was not until twenty-two years later that a special issue was made for Iceland. They were naturally very similar to the design of the Danish stamps, but were printed in one color each instead of being bi-colored. Four values were issued on January 1, 1873, viz., 2, 4, 8 and 16 skillings, while a 3sk was added in March, 1873. They are inscribed "ISLAND (pronounced Eesland) at the top of the oval band and "POSTFRIM" (an abbreviation of Postfrimerki or "Postage Stamp") at the bottom followed by the value; 96 skillingar making a rigsbank daler (or "royal bank dollar") as in Denmark, the value in American currency being about 55 cents. The design and engraving of the die were the work of Ph. Batz of Copenhagen, the central circle and lower portion of the oval band being left blank for the value, which was engraved by hand in the process of constructing the plates, which were of 100 subjects, ten by ten. These were made and the stamps printed at the establishment of H. H. Thiele of Copenhagen, where the Danish stamps have been manufactured since the beginning. The paper was white wove and the regular crown watermark of the Danish stamps was used. Two perforation varieties are known, 12½ made with a guillotine machine which was used on the 1864 issue of Denmark, and 14×13½ made with a comb machine which was the regular perforation of the then current Danish issue. The 3s is perforated only 12½, and the 2 and 8s only 14×13½, but the 4 and 16s come with both. The 4s perforated 12½ and the 16s perforated 14×13½ are quite rare. Unperforated copies of all values exist, but it is doubtful if they were regularly issued. It is claimed that the 4s was used, however. The numbers of each value printed were: 2s, 8s and 16s, 40,000 each; 3s, 25,000; 4s, 100,000. Besides the chief post office at Reykjavik, postmasters were appointed at fifteen other towns or districts in the island and postmen or collectors of letters in some fifty odd places. Postmasters were obliged to keep their premises open for eight hours a day for ten days previous to the departures of the mail steamer, and for four days after its arrival. Following upon the change in currency in Denmark in 1875 to the krone of 100 ore, Iceland followed suit, the new set being issued on July 1, 1876. The krone was of half the value of the rigsbank daler, or about 27 cents, and the new values approximately doubled the old: thus the 5a blue replaced the 2s blue, the 6a the 3s, the 10a the 4s, the 16a the 8s, and the 40a the 16s, with a new value of 20a for international postage. The monetary unit, abbreviated as "Aur." for "aurar," is the Icelandic equivalent of the Danish "ore." These stamps were printed as before in sheets of 100, but divided into four panes of 25. The perforation is again 14×13½ for all values, but the 5a comes with the 12½ also. All values occur imperforate, but only the 5a is with watermark, the others being evidently proofs. In July, 1882, the 5a and 20a were changed to the Postal Union colors, viz., green and blue respectively, and the 40a, formerly green, took the discarded violet of the 20a. A new value of 3a for printed matter was added also. In October, 1892, two high values, 50 and 100a, were added, both being bi-colored. All details of printing were as before.

M. G. HANNA

In October, 1897, because of the delay in the mail steamer which had a new consignment of 3a stamps, the latter ran out of stock and recourse was had to surcharging. At first 86 sheets of the 5a were surcharged "3" in red, two varieties of type being used; but before issue they were additionally surcharged with the word "Prir" (the first letter is not really a "p" but the Icelandic letter thorn, representing our "th"), in two varieties of type in black. There were therefore 8,600 of these, beside which 50 sheets more of the 5a were surcharged with the word in black only making 5,000 of the latter in the two varieties of type. The double surcharges were issued on November 1st, and the single surcharges on the 3rd of the same month. By the 13th they had all been "absorbed" (we cannot say used) and are now catalogued at around seven dollars, used or unused. It is evident that some parties made a good thing out of these provisionals. They are found mostly perforated 12½, but some of the double surcharges occur perforated 14×13½, these being decidedly scarce. The double surcharge is known inverted in both types.

The new perforation of 12½ used in Denmark in 1896 began to appear on the Iceland stamps in 1897, the 5 and 20a at least appearing in that year (the surcharges described above were mostly on the new perforation as there stated). But the rest of the series probably appeared in 1898, from the 3a to the 16a. A new value of 4a in two colors appeared in December, 1899, and another new value, 25a, also bi-colored, in December, 1900. Both the 20a of 1882 (perf. 14×13½) and the 20a of 1897 (perf. 12½) occur in two distinct shades of blue, a bright blue and an ultramarine.

In 1901 the 3a stamp was re-engraved, the figure in the center being made larger, and it was printed in yellow rather than orange. In 1902 the 50a was issued with the 12½ perforation, but is rather scarce as it was soon used for surcharging. The 40a was ready for issue in the new perforation, but was used entirely for surcharging.

In 1902 a new set of stamps was designed showing the head of King Christian IX, the portrait being engraved on wood by Prof. Tegner. The notice announcing their issue is dated October 9, 1902, and they come in the same values as had been in use, with the addition of two high values of 2 and 5 kronar in 1904. At the same time the notice states that "all old ordinary postage stamps and post cards are still to be available, under the following conditions, along with the new postage stamps and post cards, at the post office, until 31 December next year (1903). These old postage stamps and post cards will be overprinted with the following—I Gildi, '02-'03—and will be available until the end of the year 1903. After that time only the new postage stamps and post cards to be in use." The words "I Gildi" mean "available" or "valid," being similar in import to the Spanish "Habilitado."

The surcharge is normally in black on all the values except the 5, 6, 20 and 25a on which it is in red; but these latter are also to be found with it in black. Both types of the 3a perforated 12½ were used and all values of the old set perforated 14×13½. Various errors of surcharge occur which will be found duly listed in the catalogues by those interested. One important error occurred in the first setting: the "I" was omitted on the sixth stamp in the first row (and the 56th in the sixth row, as the surcharge was applied to panes of fifty at a time). This was soon corrected, however. The issue of these provisionals was quite unnecessary, unless from a philatelic standpoint, as they could just as readily have been used up concurrently with or previous to the issue of the new series without any distinguishing mark.

EARLY POSTAL REFERENCES

By N. R. HOOVER.

In 1906 Rogers Bros., the silverware people of Meriden, Conn., issued a very interesting advertising supplement in the form of a tabloid newspaper bearing a monthly date of 1847, the year this concern started. This monthly was interspersed with ads for the Rogers silverware. The reading matter was made up of articles taken from Graham's Magazine, New York Sun, Fisher's Magazine, Hunt's Magazine, American Review, etc.

It was in 1847 that the United States started the use of postage stamps, seven years after Great Britain. In this year's assortment of 12 monthly numbers three references to the new idea in transmitting mail appear.

In the June issue is the following:

"Of all the manifold devices supplied by the ingenuity of man to promote the progress of civilization, the idea of a National Post Office stands in the foremost ranks of importance.

Correspondence by letter is speech at a distance.

A tax upon letters, is, in fact, a tax upon speech. It is worse. It is a fine levied upon the affections. It is an impost upon the love of kindred. It is a duty laid upon friendship. It is a penalty on commerce, an amercement on the diffusion of knowledge, and a drag on the progress of civilization.

The United States presents a territory forming a large section of the globe inhabited by a sparse population, separated by distances not to be traveled over, even by the aid of the marvelous powers of steam, in less time than can be expressed by weeks. Among such a people, correspondence, so desirable to all, becomes a want of imperious urgency.

Now, in England, the people have risen, and with one consentaneous voice uttered their will in accents neither to be taken nor resisted, and extorted from unwilling legislature and reluctant government the most stupendous official reform of which the annals of civilized nation can afford an example. Any individual of the population of the United Kingdom can now transmit packet weighing half an ounce to other individual, no matter how remote his position within the country, at a cost of two cents!

Penny stamps are issued by the Post Office, coated with adhesive matter on the back, by which they are readily and permanently attached to the letter. They are sold at thirteen-and-a-half pence a dozen. The writer, however, has the notion of paying the postage according to the above rates, when the letter is delivered at the Post Office.

The necessity of radical reform being conceded, it is for the general Government and the Legislature to consider whether it be more consistent with policy and wisdom to adopt, with suitable modifications, the system which has produced the results so satisfactory in Great Britain, or to adopt a new system."

It would appear that this article, (from what paper it was clipped is not given) was a type of propaganda put out to influence the Government to adopt the English system of adhesive stamps. Probably the subject was then up in Congress.

In the August issue of the imitative newspaper of the day appears a short article commenting on the new postage scheme which apparently had just gone into use.

"In a New Hampshire village several young ladies entirely ignorant of the name and use of the new Post Office stamps, applied at the Post Office for mottoes, and instead of placing the stamps upon the face of the letter, placed them immediately over the seal on the back of the envelope."

In the December issue is an interesting comment but undoubtedly picked from some publication issued later than 1847:

"The deficit of the first year after the act, was $800,000; the deficit of the last year was $640,000; while the deficit of the year is only $40,000. It is rumored that a plan will be introduced into the next Congress to reduce the rates of postage and make all letters be prepaid. This would indeed be salutary Postal Reform and we hope to see it."

PEARL HARBOR PHILATELIC SOCIETY
By Pvt. A. H. WRIGHT, Sec.

The Pearl Harbor Philatelic Society held its first semi-annual banquet and dinner party on the evening of June 10. The dinner was held at Child's Restaurant in Honolulu; and the theatre party at the Hawaii Theatre where Herald Lloyd was playing in "The Kid Brother."
Pvt. Emil R. Browning, USMC, presided at the meeting of the society; and
P. W. B. Jackson, USMC, was toastmaster of the banquet. The special guest of the evening, Mr. C. M. Young of Honolulu, was introduced to the Society by Pvt. Allyn H. Wright, USMC.
Mr. Young talked on "The Value of Hanging To a Philatelic Society." He pointed out some of the advantages of stamp collectors affiliating themselves with some stamp club or philatelic organization.
W. Stetson, secretary of the Pearl Harbor Navy Y. M. C. A., and one of the charter members of the society, spoke interestingly of his recent trip to New York, and of the purchase of some Mexican stamps in Mexico, en route.
Those who attended the affair were

METROPOLITAN STAMP CO., 1482 Broadway, N. Y. CITY

Written for MEKEEL'S WEEKLY.
THE LINDBERGH "ERROR"
By HERMAN TOASPERN, F. H. S. L.
In the course of a careful examination of the Lindbergh stamps soon after their issue, I noted that the maps were very poorly executed. The stamps had been hastily prepared, and the execution of the two continents very poorly done,
yet as a stamp collector with the good of the hobby at heart, I would be the last to admit they were "sloppy." One thing caught my eye, an "error," Newfoundland depicted as three islands!
This was news!
News means publicity for stamp collecting, and so I got in touch with America's leading newspaper, the New York Times and gave them the story which has already appeared in MEKEEL'S.
I made no effort to pick the design apart. I might have pointed out that had the proportion been correct as shown on the Lindbergh stamp, the River Seine
at Paris would be at least 50 miles wide.
The Loire River as shown on the map appears as an inland gulf, that the Hudson almost empties into the St. Lawrence, and that Cape Cod had been decimated.
This without going over to the European side for further remarks.
The Times story was widely copied,
and according to the New York Sun, officials of the Post Office Department
"intimated that holders of the stamp sought a change in design or correction
in order that the value of those they held might appreciate." We stamp collectors know that this statement was not made by Either Mr. Glover or Mr.
Regar, as our very good friends are too intelligent for such remarks. It sounds more like a political alibi.
A further statement according to the same source, regarding the Bureau of Engraving and Printing said, "It was a rush order, and as there are no expert geographers or earthographers at the Bureau there might be some little inexactitude in drawing the coast line."
This remark is certainly inane. When the design was made for the stamp it is sure that the maps were not drawn from memory. If the original design were correct, and it should be, for the Bureau
has all sorts of maps on hand, the die would have been correct. The engraver who made the central design certainly must know his trade, for the plane is exact. I have on hand the original photo from which the design was made,

and the only thing omitted is the name
RYAN on the tail of the plane.
In answer to a letter from me, Mr. R.
S. Regar, Third Assistant Postmaster
General wrote as follows:—
"The exact date of the decision to issue a Lindbergh stamp cannot be definitely stated, but it was decided shortly after Colonel Lindbergh's successful landing at Paris.
So far as I am able to learn the engraving of this stamp and the making of the printing plates were accomplished in a shorter period of time than any other printing job of its size undertaken by this bureau. In anticipation of the printing of a stamp to commemorate Captain Lindbergh's achievement we designed a model without formal request from the Post Office Department. This saved considerable time.
This model was approved by the Postmaster General on June 3 (Friday) and the engraving of the die commenced at noon of the same day. On Monday morning, June 6, a proof was made from the die. The die was hardened at noon June 8, and by 8 A. M., June 9, six rolls were made from the die and 12
printing plates from the rolls.
At 3 P. M. June 9, one set of plates went to press, and by 11.30 P. M. of the same day 560,000 stamps were printed.
This I believe establishes an engraving
and printing record of this bureau."
I am sure no true collector wants to embarrass the Postoffice Department, nor to belittle its product. I think the collectors have been constant boosters, not only of the Department, but of our two good friends, Messrs. Glover and Regar.
To me, this "error" makes the Lindbergh
stamp more attractive.

Mr. Clarendon Bangs has returned from his extensive trip abroad and was a visitor recently in Chicago, where he showed some of the acquisitions that he made while away.

Mr. W. F. Slusser has sent the following editorial from the Honolulu Advertiser of some months ago that appeared when the Wolters' sale was being held in New York:

"Riding a Hobby Into a Fortune.—
That a well-nourished hobby is a good horse to ride if one exercises due cir-cumspection is well illustrated in the settlement of the estate of the late William Wolters, kamaaina resident of Honolulu.

Besides lands, stocks, bonds and other solid evidences of wealth, Mr. Wolters dived deep in the lore of philately, to coin a word, and gathered to himself
one of the most celebrated collections of used postage stamps, including many rare specimens of which only one is known to be in existence.

His treasures, valueless in the opinion of the average man as things which have spent themselves in service, are now eagerly sought by other collectors who also ride the same winged hobby-horse.
At the three auctions already held in New York, the gross receipts have amounted to something more than $73,000.

The fourth sale, to be held next week,
includes his Mauritius stamps, appraised
in the hundreds and up to a peak $1,320 for six 1848, all slightly defective but useful as space fillers or for plating.
Natal offers some $500 stamps which performed nine pence or a shilling's worth of service in their prime; a Newfoundland shilling stamp, very rare, at the same figure; and stamps of all denominations and values, bidding for new ownership.

Things useful as space fillers and time
killers, all these, yet of intrinsic worth
because of their rarity and the primeval urge of mankind to hold exclusive ownership of some one article that no other man can have. That is what makes the riding of hobby-horses so fascinating."

EDITORIAL

An Associated Press dispatch, dated at San Francisco, June 29th, that was published in some of the newspapers says that three letters all addressed to correspondents of that great news-gathering institution were transported across the Pacific to the Hawaiian Islands by Lieutenants Maitland and Hegenberger. The letters, signed by the aviators and initiated by the postmaster of Honolulu will be returned to the addressees, by steamer.

The letters carried on the first flight, Chicago-San Francisco, route C.A.M.-18, bear a new cancellation, a rectangle with flattened corners; and in reference to this addition to postal forms, the following letter sent from Washington, June 27, to Colonel Joseph A. Steinmetz, Philadelphia, is pertinent: "With reference to your suggestion for a different first flight cancellation stamp, you are informed that the special cancellation stamps ordered for use on route C.A.M.-18, between Chicago and San Francisco on July 1, are rectangular in shape and it is believed that these stamps will be an improvement over the old circular stamps. At least they will be different. When the New York-Atlanta service is inaugurated, the rectangular stamps will be used." The date of the beginning of the New York-Atlanta service is dependent upon the completion of a lighted airway on which the work will be finished soon, it is predicted. Due notice will be given of the flight which will be made before the summer is over.

will score with philatelists. It is represented that like a good collector, King Fuad will take his stamp collection with him on his travels and that he will show his treasures to King George, who is a working collector himself as all the world knows. It is pleasant to know that amid the pomp and circumstance of the royal ceremonies, the stamp collection will prove to be a tie that binds and it is not a far cry, after all, from the two boys who look over their stamps in the glow of the evening lamp, when the chores of the day are over to the two kings lost in the contemplation of their stamps. As a writer has said, collecting is the hobby of kids and kings.

Another of the Teru-Teru stamps of Uruguay has been sent by Mr. T. B. Metcalfe of Rosario, Argentine, the one centesimo, violet. Mr. Metcalfe says: "Although a new type and better printed, it is really a stopgap, for the Uruguayan government is expecting a new series of stamps, which are being printed in London. As you will notice, the enclosed stamp is different and starts up Type V. There has been a number of Terus issued and the uninitiated may think that some of them are fruits of speculation. I thought so, too, until I investigated, when I found that these Terus are all really needed. In 1923, the government gave an order for a whole series. When these were used up (and generous quantities were ordered of lower values,) the same firm was allowed to print another issue. The second issue evidently did not suit the government and after examining some of the stamps, I don't wonder, so they tied their hands with such moderate results that they issued a circular asking for bids for a new series. It would appear that they were not satisfied with answers, for they amplified time for tenders to be submitted to enable foreign firms to compete and as politics did not enter, a London firm got the contract. This carried the affair months over the time the government calculated when they printed their lot of Terus, Type III, so they had to print another lot which they did, off redrawn plates, Imp. Nacional. All right, but why this fifth type? A short time ago postal rates were altered. Before changes, a newspaper was carried for 1/2-cent. It now takes 1c. The change cleaned out stocks of 1c in a few days. Hence, enclosed stamp. Stocks of 20c are almost done and a printing has been authorized; however, it may not be necessary if new issues arrive as quickly as expected. A tip if you care to pass it along. Some of the early Terus, high values, and all the values of the latest issues in mint state are really scarce, some of them excessively so. You can prove this by trying to buy. Even down here, after some of the changes, I tried at once to purchase mint in both Buenos Aires and Montevideo and drew a blank most times, dealers explaining that they had not been advised of changes and had failed to purchase."

In addition to his interesting recital, accounting for the Teru issues, Mr. Metcalfe tells of a feature that entered into the celebration of the philatelic exhibition at Montevideo, which closed on May 30th. Three special stamps were issued and sold only in the exhibition, 2c, green; 5c, red and 8c, blue. They were imperforate in blocks of four only, with large margins. They bore the inscription, engraved by Bradbury Wilkenson, London. There were five thousand blocks of each value issued. "The stamps certainly are good-looking and well worthy of collecting purposes, though I believe that they are really to celebrate the new post office in Montevideo. I am sorry that I cannot send you copies. My dealer has failed me and I have seen only those belonging to a friend." Of course, limited issues of special stamps are to be frowned upon and while for some time, a full measure of condemnation will not descend upon such manipulated stamps, it is only a question of time, if they are persisted in, before they will be indexed with an explanation of their shortcomings. Philatelists crave governmental recognition, but only when a fair field and no favor are shown.

The Lindbergh stamp was received with wide acclaim and after the first flush of enthusiasm had waned, philatelists trained their critical and microscopic eyes on the design of the stamp; and as a result an eruption has been noticed at Baltimore. The Sun of that city, dated June 28, comes out with the two column head, "Map of Lindbergh Flight Stamp Called Geographically Wrong" and it is none other than Mr. Howard C. Beck of that city who alleges that the Post Office department has incorrectly mapped the area over which Lindbergh flew. Mr. Beck says that in the stamp design, Newfoundland is three islands while all of the best atlases show that it is one island. Furthermore, Mr. Beck objects to the shape of the British Isles as pictured on the stamp as out of line with accepted standards. A leading engraver backs up the stand of Mr. Beck and says that while for reasons of diplomacy, he wishes to remain anonymous

The postmaster of Baltimore says that he was unaware "until yesterday" of any objection had been voiced against the design. Whether this is a temp in a tea-pot or a charge that will thunder in the ears of the department, deponent sayeth not.

Professor Frederick S. Eaton is organizing a Covers-Before-Stamps Society and is interested in collating all the information available for practical as well as historical purposes. His plan is in turning as a consequence of calls that have been received bearing on the subject. Those interested in material of the kind may communicate with him at 70 Sachse Street, New Haven, Conn., in the knowledge that they will not be importuned, buy or sell covers; their names are desired in order that Professor Eaton may communicate with them regarding the proposed Covers-Before-Stamps Society and that he may have the benefit of the opinions and advice in cataloguing the covers. It is a proper endeavor to bring together collectors of this specialty for their own interest and profit and to assist in cataloguing the covers, to nothing of appraising them.

A.P.S. Numbers As References

I have always been accepted by me and they will continue to be. In this recent controversy on the subject I would remind the gentlemen that there is an old saying of there being "Black Sheep in Every Flock" and it would be a miracle if there was not an occasional one in the A.P.S. Why worry? Air Mail, Special Delivery or Telegrams may bring in those late bids for my 285th Public Auction Sale on the 20th.

INTRODUCTION OF CITY DELIVERY
By AUGUSTUS E. INGRAM.
The editor of the editorial in your issue
of June 13, on the date of introduction of the city delivery service, it may interest you or your readers to know that according to a photograph given me (several years ago) the Ohio Society of New York erected in 1921, presumably at Cleveland Post Office, a tablet
with the following inscription:
In honor of Joseph William Briggs.
While acting as window delivery clerk
at Cleveland, Ohio, Post Office in 1910 conceived a system of mail delivery collection to better serve the public with the co-operation of the local Postmaster acted as the first letter carrier in that city.
In recognition of his special interest in this service and his success in the role of the Postmaster General appointed Special Agent for the installation of this delivery service throughout the country, a work covering six years.
He designed the first carrier uniform and was credited with the genius and perseverance which gave this service to the people.
He died in Cleveland, Ohio, in 1872."

MAXWELL KRAUSE INJURED

dislocation of his shoulder besides other minor injuries. As a result Mr. Krause will be unable to attend to any correspondence for several weeks. The WEEKLY expresses its sympathy in this misfortune.

Written for MEKEEL'S WEEKLY.
COLONIAL NOTES

Solomon Ids.—Recently, whilst going through my files of the WEEKLY, I ran across a paragraph in one of last January's issues reporting the appearance of the 2/- on script paper. At the time this issue of the WEEKLY appeared,
I expected the 2/- variety referred to,
to be chronicled in due course in the other journals. But somehow, the paragraph slipped my mind, and hence I neglected to remark the fact that no further mention of this new printing appeared elsewhere.

Now, however, the matter being recalled to mind, it may be well to bring this inaccurate report to the attention of those who, having read the paragraph, are perhaps somewhat puzzled at the stamp's not having come on the market along with the other new issues of the same period. Whilst the MCA 2/- is now obsolete, since Gibbons price it at 4/6, this duty, with the script wmk., has yet to appear.

The first advance notice of the 2/- script I noted in the February, 1926, issue of the Stanley Gibbons Monthly Journal.
Therein, script printings of the 2/- and 4d, along with the 1d in "blue-purple,"
were mentioned as "forthcoming." Up to the time of writing, none of these has appeared.

Whilst referring to the stamps of this far away Protectorate, it may be worth while to draw attention to the fact that two distinct sets may be made of the 1/- to 5/- values of the MCA K. G. series.
The first set comprises the early printings, viz., 1/- black on green, 2/- bright purple and blue on bright blue, 2/6 black and red on blue, and 5/- green and red on yellow (all these being Plate 1 printings). The second set (Plate 2 printings) comprises the 1/- "olive back," 2/- pale purple and blue on greyish-blue, 2/6 grey and red on blue, and 5/- green and red on buff. The £1 also exists in two quite different shades, viz., Plate 1 and

Plate 3, the two Plates being easily distinguishable.

St. Helena.—In last month's Notes I overlooked mentioning, along with the current 3d and 1/- Ascension, the same duties of the neighboring Colony of St.
Helena. All four stamps are due for a change very soon now, and are worth laying aside at to-day's rates.

MCA's.—The remaining stamps on the MCA paper, especially those of the West India Colonies, should be made sure of without further delay, if one is still lacking these. Save for the £1's, all may be exhausted within the near future,
when the script printings will appear and
the opportunity be lost to get the now current MCA's at a small fraction over face. At present, Antigua has the largest number of stamps still current on MCA paper, viz., 4d, 1/-, 2/-, 2/6 and 5/-. Of Bermuda, both the 2/- and 2/6
MCA are now obsolete, but the 4/- and 5/- are still obtainable. Several British Guiana duties on MCA have yet to make their appearance with the new wmk., whilst the 3d, 1/- and 2/6 Virgin Ids. are in the same category. The MCA stamps of St. Kitts, as well as the entire current series (as pointed out in these Notes last May) are also worth buying up. Rethe latter Colony, I note Whitfield King
now prices the current 2/6 at 5/-, 5/- at 10/- and 10/- at 17/6. Are these three stamps obsolete?

Since writing the above I have received news that the 2/6 St. Kitts stamps with MCA wmk. are sold out; also,
stock of the 6d and 2/- with script wmk.
is exhausted. Whitfield King's quotation for the 2/6 has now jumped to 10/-, which leads one to believe that no very large numbers of this stamp were issued.

Later.—A despatch from the Postmaster of St. Kitts, dated 27th May, is at hand, comprising the 1/2d green, script; 1d purple, script; 1 1/2d red, script; 2d grey, script; 2 1/2d blue, script; 3d blue, script; 6d MCA; 1/- MCA; 2/- MCA;
2/6 MCA; 5/- MCA. It appears that the 6d and 2/- with MCA wmk. have

(NOTE. "Calabar" has now adopted
a somewhat different form for expressing the values of modern colonial stamps, viz., 1/-, instead of 1s, as formerly. His use of 1s was a compromise between Scott's 1sh and the really correct form,
1/-, which is now employed.)

Norddeutscher Postbezirk.—North German Postal District. These stamps were used just prior to those for the German Empire.

N. S. B.—These letters overprinted on various French Colonial stamps indicate that they were intended for use in Nossi-Be.

Norge.—Norway.

Nouvelle Calédonie.—New Caledonia.

N. S. W.—These letters are the only indication of the country of origin shown on the Postage Due stamps of New South Wales.

Nueva Granada.—New Granada. The name appearing on the 1861 stamps of the Republic of Colombia.

N. Z.—The first postage due stamps for New Zealand bore these letters in place of the full name of the Colony.

Oesterreichische Post.—Austrian Post. On most of the issues which appeared prior to 1908 the name is abbreviated to "Oesterr."

Oranje Vrij Staat.—The Dutch form for "Orange Free State" as shown upon the earlier stamps of the country now known as the Orange River Colony.

Oriental Inscriptions.—Many stamps bear no inscriptions in Roman characters but are lettered in Arabic or other Oriental devices. Under this heading we find such stamps as Afghanistan, Abyssinia, and Turkey. Those of Afghanistan are usually circular in shape and the center is filled with a tiger's head or a further inscription in native characters; those of Abyssinia show a portrait or a lion with a flag; those of Turkey show a star and crescent; while those of the Indian States can only be identified by reference to the illustrations in a catalogue.

Orts Post.—The only inscription on one of the stamps of Switzerland issued in 1850.

Ottoman Empire.—Turkey.

P.—This letter, overprinted on various stamps of the Straits Settlements, denotes they were intended for use in the native state of Perak.

Mint

A stamp collecting expression constantly met with is mint or mint condition. A stamp is said to be in mint condition when it is in precisely the same state as a specimen newly issued from the stamp manufacturers' premises. That is, it must be unused, perfectly clean and fresh-looking, have full gum and be without any defects. An unused stamp without gum, even if in the most perfect condition otherwise, cannot be properly described as mint except in the case of those stamps which were never issued with gum.

Number of Stamps to a Sheet

The method of production has frequently been an important factor in determining the number of stamps in a sheet. The embossed stamps of Gambia were printed in small sheets of fifteen not because fifteen was a convenient number but because of the difficulty of embossing a larger number of specimens at one operation. Where stamps were engraved by hand as the early Mauritius, New South Wales, etc., the difficulty of reproducing the same design even tolerably alike on several impressions led to small plates being used. Then in the case of some locally produced stamps the size of the printing press available has had to be taken into consideration in deciding on the number of stamps in a sheet and in the case of type-set stamps the number of impressions has had to be limited to fit in with the amount of type available! We thus find sheets of stamps of all shapes and sizes ranging from the small sheets of ten for some issues of Labuan (2 rows of 5); 12 (6 rows of 2) for the 1882 issue of British Guiana; 30 (3 rows of 10) for some of the old stamps of St. Vincent; 50 (5 rows of 10) for the dollar stamps of North Borneo; up to the large sheets of 240 for the British stamps already mentioned.

Origin of Countries' Names

(Insert in Your Album.)

CAYMAN ISLANDS.—Discovered by Columbus and named by him Tortugas, from the Spanish tortuga—"a turtle," because the waters there abounded with them. The present name is the Caribbean word caiman—"an alligator."

DOMINICA.—This word meaning "belonging to the Lord," is an abbreviation of Dominica Dies—"the Lord's Day," and was applied to the island by Columbus, because he discovered it on Sunday, November 3, 1493.

EGYPT.—The native name was Kemi—"black land," with reference to land darkness as the effect of the Nile floods. The desert lands were named Toshri—"red lands." Of this name the most likely derivation yet offered is Hakpath—"abode of the outward form or representation Ptah." Ptah was the god of the artisans. His temple was at Memphis, the capital of Egypt, through most of its early history.

FALKLAND ISLANDS.—In 1593 a Dutchman named Sebald de Wert gave his name Sebald to these islands, but in 1690 Captain Strong sailed between them and called the passage "Falkland Sound," probably with reference to the town of Falkland in Fife. The name may mean Fulke's land. Fulke, Fulc, was a common name and appears in many forms, e.g., Fawkes, Fox, &c.—Stamp Collecting.

Retouched Plate

A term often met with is "re-touch." This is generally used as though it were synonymous with re-engraving but the two terms should not be used in the same connection, but, rather, should be made to convey two distinct ideas. Re-engraved we have already explained; and re-touch, in our opinion, should only refer to minor alterations made to a plate. It should, in short, refer to a local "touching up" and not to a careful re-engraving of a whole design.

Panes

In printing the larger sheets of stamps the impressions are arranged in two or more blocks on the plate and these sections are, in the printed stamps, referred to as panes. For instance, many of the current stamps for certain British colonies are issued in sheets of 240 specimens but these sheets are divided into four panes of 60 stamps each. A narrow strip of margin separates the panes vertically and a wider strip horizontally.

Junior Dictionary

La Agüera.—A colony of Spain on the west coast of Africa, south of Cape Juby, and in the northern part of Rio de Oro. The inscription above is found on the stamps of Rio de Oro, issue of 1920.

La Croix Freres.—Parts of these letters found in the 1872 issue of Mexico, as watermarks, indicate the name of the firm that made the paper.

Latgale or Lettgallen Issue.—An issue of two stamps by Latvia in March, 1920, to celebrate the re-conquest of the territory of this name from the Bolsheviks.

Lemberg Issue.—Four alleged stamps of Western Ukraine, catalogued under Nos. 5 to 8, in use only one day, and considered by European authorities to be a bogus issue.

Liberation of Courland Issue.—Four stamps of Latvia, Nos. 64 to 67, issued in 1920, to commemorate the expulsion of the Bolsheviks from Courland, the southern province of Latvia. The design by Sarrinsch probably represents the conflict of Beowulf with the dragon, instead of St. George, as usually stated.

Lit. C. Fabri Lima.—This inscription in tiny letters is found just below the frame on the 7c, Peru 1921 commemorative. It is the imprint of the lithographer, Fabri of Lima.

L. P.—Latvija Pawalda, or Administration of Latvia, is an abbreviation found on the occupation stamps of Latvia, Nos. 245 to 257, issued at the order of General Avaloff-Bermond. Used only in Mitau and Schaulen.

Luchtpost.—This "air post" inscription is found on stamps of the Netherlands used for air mail.

Malmédy.—A German town awarded Belgium as a result of the World War. During the first six months of tenure, Belgium stamps were used overprinted "Eupen and Malmédy" in recognition of the award.

Mandats.—"Timbres pour Mandats" as chronicled in some quarters are "stamps for Money Orders, indicating the fee paid thereon and having no postal standing." The Netherlands issued a set of these stamps in 1884 ranging from 1 to 10 gulden with large numerals of value as the distinctive feature.

Paper No. 3—Batonne

This is wove or laid paper with watermarked lines showing at regular intervals, these being caused by the presence of cross wires on the "dandy-roll." In the case of wove-batonné the paper between the watermarked line is plain, while in the case of laid-batonné the spaces between the ruled lines are laid. Neither variety is commonly met with in the case of adhesive postage stamps though the current 1c and 2c U. S. envelopes furnish ready examples of laid-batonné paper.

Impressions

The fact that a plate can wear to such an extent as to require re-engraving obviously shows in impressions printed from it and one thus finds such terms as early impressions and worn plate in philatelic literature. An early impression, as the name implies, is one taken from the plate while all the details of the design are bold and distinct, while in stamps printed from a worn plate the finer lines of the design have disappeared altogether, and the whole is indistinct or blurred. Between these two extremes there are innumerable stages which are more or less explicitly described as intermediate or medium impressions. These "states of the plate" have considerable bearing on the value of such stamps as the early New South Wales, Mauritius, Tasmania, etc. For instance, Gibbons prices an early impression of the 1d "Post Paid" Mauritius of 1848 at $125.00 while the same variety from very worn plate is only valued at $10.00.

Centering

In describing a mint stamp in the perfect condition possible from a latelist's point of view, the words centered are often used. A mint stamp, of course, not necessarily well centered, for lots of stamps are placed at the post-offices more or less off-center as it is termed. A well-centered stamp is one in which the designs are nearly as possible equidistant from perforations on all four sides, or a nice margin on every side in the case of imperforate stamps. Where more sides of the design are cut in the perforation or other method of perforation and there are extra wide margins on other sides the stamp is said to be off-center. Perfect centering is a real impossibility in the case of some stamps for the impressions were so closely together on the plate that there was no room for perforation. Some stamps, like those of the United States, are notoriously difficult to get in well-centered condition; others, those of Great Britain, Germany, France are normally well-centered. A poorly centered stamp is certainly a sore but the absolutely plumb center demanded by some collectors now is carrying matters to extremes. The middle course is the sanest; if a stamp looks well and the perforation is actually cut into the design, then it can be fairly described as a good and perfect specimen.

A Sheet of Stamps

A sheet of stamps is the term applied to a piece of paper on which an impression has been printed from a stamp plate and which has been gummed and perforated ready for sale to the public. There are really two sorts of sheets—"printer's" sheets and "post-office" sheets—which often differ very materially in size. Take the current 2c United States stamp as an example. The plates from which these are printed contain 40 impressions so that there are 400 stamps on the sheet as originally printed. The large printer's sheets are cut into smaller sheets before being distributed to the post-offices so that the public can buy the ones familiar to the public—only 100 stamps. The only exception to this is in the case of the imperforate stamps which are sold in the full size printer's sheets of 400. Speaking generally, however, when a sheet is referred to in philatelic literature it means a post-office sheet and these vary considerably in size. The number of stamps on a sheet depends as a rule on the currency of the country issuing them. In countries where a decimal currency obtains the sheet is generally composed of a hundred stamps or some multiple of a hundred. The current 1/2d and 1d stamps of Great Britain are in sheets of 240, thus having a value of 10s and 20s respectively. The two gold coins of the British Islands, United States stamps, on the other hand, are in sheets of 100 so that a sheet of any value totals an even number of dollars or dollars and a half.

ROYAL STAMP COLLECTORS

The happiest man is the man with a hobby. Authorities are agreed that in the progress of modern life the cultivation of a hobby is essential to well-being. No leisure pursuit enjoys a greater vogue than the cult of the postage stamp, and many people are at a loss to understand its fascination. The question is asked "Who collects stamps—and stamp collecting finds its votaries in the ranks and walk of life, from the monarch on his throne to the least of his subjects. Not without good reason has it gained for itself the soubriquet "the Royal Hobby." To the active collector evinced in stamp collecting by George V may be traced to some of its present fashionable vogue. Majesty has been a stamp collector since boyhood. The Royal collection of the stamps of the British Empire is the most important extant, its value estimated in all probability £100,000. The Prince of Wales is a stamp collector in a degree, as Honorary President of the Royal Philatelic Society (London), of which his father is Patron.

The collection for stamp collecting is shared by four other reigning monarchs, Alfonso owns extensive collections of stamps of Spain and Colonies, King of France. King Fuad of Egypt is also a keen philatelist, his collection embracing the stamps of a wide range of countries. Both the King and Queen of the Belgians are enthusiastic collectors, as is the Crown Prince of Spain. Another Royal stamp collector is King Alexander of Serbia.

King Elena of Italy is as ardent a collector as her Royal consort is a numismatist and her love of stamps is shared by her son the Prince of Piedmont. The King of the Royal philatelists in the world is the Crown Prince of Sweden, who is Patron of the Swedish Philatelic Society. Queen Maud of Norway, Princesses of Denmark, the King of the Crown Prince of Japan as well as Prince Hiroysu, ex-King Manuel of Portugal, the Prince of Monaco and the Duke of Russia. The Maharaja of Gwalior has a fine collection of stamps of the Indian Federated States whilst the Nawab of Sachin is a member of the Philatelic Society of India and of the Collectors Club, New York. The white Rajah of Sarawak (the late Vyner Brooke) is a stamp collector.

Amongst other British nobilities who have the hobby of stamps may be noted the Duke of Argyll and the Marquis of Cambridge, the Earls of Waldegrave, Droghda, Gosforth, Carrick and Baron Carnarvon, whilst titled lady philatelists include the Duchess of Bedford, Marchioness Blandford, Viscountess Downe, Countess Mountgarret, Countess of Argyll, Lady Auckland Geddes, Lady Hope Morley, Lady Millar, Lady Abinger, Lady Elizabeth Lytton, Lady M. Wedmore, Lady Lytton, Lady Leconfield, Lady Limington, Lady Dunlop.

Stamp collectors in the Cabinet are represented by Lord Birkenhead, who speaks in War stamps. Sir Philip Cunliffe (President of the Board of Trade and Sir Arthur Steel-Maitland (Minister of Labour). The Rt. Hon. Mr. Ramsby Gore (Under Secretary of State for the Colonies) collects, as do Mr. Charles Oman and Lady Astor. The Royal Navy is represented in the ranks of collectors "Who's Who" by Admiral Westaway, Vice-Admirals Booty and Bruce and Rear-Admiral Royds (British Commissioner of Police), and British Army by Major-Generals Sir Birchwood, Sir Percy Cox, Sir Edward Northey and W. H. Greenley. Dignitaries, whose pastime is philately, comprise the Bishop of British Columbia, Canon Adams of West Australia, Canon Stather Hunt of Rochester. Birth Estate harbours many enthusiastic collectors of stamps, including two newspaper proprietors in

Lord Burnham (of the Daily Telegraph) and Sir Hildebrand Harmsworth (of the Illustrated London News). Amongst philatelists who practice Law are Sir Norman McLeod, of the High Court, Bombay, Judge Montgomerie Hamilton of New South Wales, Judge Sisnett of British Honduras, Mr. R. F. Bayford, K. C., and Mr. K. Davids, K. C. Thousands of Doctors find their recreation in the pursuit of postage stamps, one of the best known medico philatelists being Sir Lauder Brunton. Leading Educationalists who favour the hobby are Dr. H. A. James, of St. John's College, Oxford, and Dr. J. N. Keynes of Cambridge.

The Theatre gives us Sir J. Forbes-Robertson and Mr. John Drinkwater, the dramatist, whilst Variety's shining light (George Robey) has long been known as a stamp collector of the first rank. Screen Stars who affect the Royal Hobby include Pauline Frederick, Clara Kimball Young and Adolphe Menjou.

Other celebrities who beguile their leisure hours with their stamp albums embrace President Masaryk, Mr. Alan Cobham (the aviator), Mark Hambourg (the musician), Sven Hedin (the explorer), Colonel Fox (of the London Salvage Corps), Claude Falkner (the billiards champion), G. B. Barrington and S. Fenley (county cricketers), Major Powell-Cotton (big game hunter), Ellis Parker Butler (American novelist), the Dolly Sisters, and some millions of plain citizens of every nationality, race and creed.

Ask any of them why they collect stamps, and they will probably reply in the words of King George V: "It is one of the greatest pleasures of my life.—The Stamp Collector."

A SUITOR WHO SUITED

Asking Father Is One of the Worst Occupations in the World

By RICHARD W. BOND

BILLY Micklethwaite propelled the red ball deftly into the bottom left-hand pocket.

"You see, Phil," he said, retrieving the red ball and preparing to repeat the shot, "if your father is likely to be as awkward as you seem to expect him to be, then there doesn't appear to me to be much point in my seeing him." He paused, steered the "red" once more into the same pocket, and then continued. "It isn't that I'm afraid of your old man, but I mean there's no sense rushing in when it's odds on my drawing a blank."

The young man pondered for a space. "It might make things easier," he said at length, "if there were something else I could speak to your father about before leading up to talking about you. Some common ground we could meet on, so to speak."

"Daddy takes no interest in anything," observed Phyllis, moving round the table to play her shot; "except his work and his stamps."

Billy started. "Stamps!" he exclaimed. "Did you say stamps?"

"Why, yes," said Phyllis, looking up in surprise. "He collects foreign stamps, you know. He's frightfully keen about it."

"Lord, why ever didn't you tell me about this before?" cried Billy. "Why, Phil, I've collected since I was a kid at school. I've got a collection worth a couple of hundred quid."

They stared at each other across the billiard table.

N. E. CARTER,

ELKHORN, WIS.

"I'll see him right now!" announced Billy with decision. "I'll ask if I might see his collection, get him talking stamps, and then tactfully steer the conversation round to our engagement." He stood his cue against the wall, and squared his shoulders. "Where is he?"

"In his study," said Phyllis. "Shall I tell him?"

"No," said Billy. "Don't trouble. You wait for me here." He blew a kiss and was gone.

Left to herself Phyllis picked up a magazine and sat down by the window.

Ten minutes passed. Wearing of her magazine, Phyllis tossed it aside, took up her cue, and launched upon a game of a hundred-up against an imaginary opponent.

SOME time later, having won her game hands down, Phyllis put down her cue, and glanced at her watch. Billy had been in her father's study half an hour!

Crossing to the door, Phyllis opened it and stood in a listening attitude on the threshold. From the study a short distance down the passage came the faint drone of men's voices. She stood for a moment listening.

Then suddenly the study door opened. Stepping back hastily into the billiard room, Phyllis stood behind the door, her heart beating tumultuously. She heard her father's piping treble merging with the deeper, fuller tones of Billy Micklethwaite. They were chatting animatedly but with evident amicability. And then the voices stopped, and she heard her father retire into his study.

Phyllis stepped into the passage. In the hall stood Billy, his eyes shining, and his lips stretched in a happy grin.

"Oh, Billy!" cried Phyllis, darting towards him. "What luck?"

Billy stared at her for a moment without speaking. Then he took a deep breath.

"Wonderful!" he exclaimed, and there was a strange ecstatic light in his eyes. "One of the finest collections I've seen. Those two unused blue Mauritius—they're—they're sublime! And then there's that triangular—"

"Yes," interrupted Phyllis, frowning slightly, "but what did Daddy say?"

"Treated me like a prodigal son," declared Billy enthusiastically. "Couldn't have been better. I'm just trickling along home now for my stamp collection. There are one or two things I simply must show him."

"But, Billy!" urged Phyllis impatiently. "What did Daddy say about—about us getting engaged?"

THE young man started violently, and for a moment he stared at the girl vacantly as though he did not understand, then the light faded suddenly from his eyes. He grinned sheepishly.

"Gosh, I quite forgot to ask him!" he faltered. "Awfully sorry. Er—wait here a jiffy, Phil," he added hurriedly, turning on his heel. "I'll just nip back and ask him!"—Passing Show.

UNITED STATES AND INVERTED CENTERS WANTED

Have just acquired this week, some unusually interesting United States items, such as a mint block of four of the 1918 24c inverted center airplane and a fine 5c Baltimore on the entire cover used to New York. Such pieces are always wanted, and I desire offers of anything superb in the way of United States, early or late issues, as well as the inverted centers of the world.

Am in the market to pay the highest cash prices for the unusual item or for entire collections of United States, if fine. At present I want early mint blocks and singles, choice covers, the rarer 20th century blocks including the part perforates. All of the scarcer 1909 blue papers, as well as the inverted centers of 1869, 1901 and 1908. Send one or a dozen copies.

Selections requested from dealers as well as collectors. I prefer, in all cases, that the piece or collection be priced.

Lindbergh Air Mail Stamp

There has never been a United States postage stamp issued that has proven more popular than the new 10c blue Lindbergh Air Mail Stamp. It seems that not only the department is receiving numerous requisitions, but every post office is having hundreds of inquiries. In Philadelphia they have prepared for the different sub-stations, a special poster calling attention to the stamp as a souvenir, but specifically stating that it is good for air mail only. They are evidently, overlooking the fact that the postal laws and regulations permit their use on all classes of mail.

The stamp so far has appeared in two very distinct shades, one in the normal blue, and the other with a greenish tinge.

In this column we previously described a special "Lindbergh Day" postmark used on June 11th, from Washington, and printed in magenta. Mr. Erwin Strasser, has shown me the same postmark in black.

Numerous press articles are calling attention to the fact that, the Lindbergh Stamp is not geographically correct, as it shows Newfoundland as three islands.

Bureau Dies

In my chronicle for July 4th, a list of recent Bureau Dies were given. A further communication from Mr. A. W. Hall, Director of Engraving and Printing, throws additional light upon the subject.

Dies No. 735 and No. 741, were both for the 15c Special Delivery Stamp. Two dies were made of this particular stamp, because die No. 735 cracked, after several rolls had been made therefrom and plates made for printing, therefore the second die No. 741 was made for future use and up to the present time no rolls or plates have been produced from same. I have not had an opportunity of inspecting die proofs from these two dies, hence cannot tell if there is any difference.

Die No. 752 was listed as a air mail postage stamp die, and I am informed that the denomination is 15c.

Die No. 753 is for a 5c air mail postal stamp, and this along with the 25c No. 759, is in unfinished condition, therefore, have never been used. This information answers the questions, that would readily arise when anyone has read the original list.

Air Mail Notes

Under date of July 1st, in accordance with previous announcements, the western portion of the transcontinental air mail route from Chicago to San Francisco inclusive, was taken over by private contractors. Special postmarks were applied to all mail carried over this portion of the route on the first day. This postmark is octagon in shape, that is a rectangle with the four corners cut off. Within we find in seven lines, "First Flight Under Contract, Chicago to San Francisco, July 1, 1927, Transcontinental Air Mail Route" in addition to the name of the city. Eleven cities all used the special postmarks, which were applied in violet, magenta, and black. Chicago used black, San Francisco, Sacramento, Reno, Salt Lake City, and Omaha, magenta; while violet was used in Iowa City, Rock Springs, Elko, Cheyenne, and North Platte. Only a portion of the mail was back stamped. The department contemplates turning over the eastern portion of the transcontinental route to private contractors around August 1st.

It may be of interest to note that the Boeing Airplane Company, is the firm operating the western division. The Postmaster General in turning over this first portion of the last route now operated by the department states, "In putting its air mail lines under contract to commercial companies the government is placing them in the same relation to the Post Office Department that is borne by the railroads of the country or by the ocean going steamships which carry the mails."

It does not mean that the Post Office Department is losing interest in the air mail, but instead is making it a lure to commercial aviation which will result in swifter expansion. Another branch of the government, the Department of Commerce, is charged with the maintenance of lighted airways and will erect and maintain beacon lights for night flying all over the country in the same way that it maintains lighthouses for ships on the sea."

Philippine Islands

Mr. Walter Bruggmann, calls attention to the fact that, precancelled stamps issued in the Philippines differ in their use, from the precancelled varieties sold in the United States.

Here precancelled stamps are sold in quantities to be used on identical pieces of certain classes of mail and delivery is facilitated, due to the fact that the stamps do not have to be individually cancelled, but are simply sorted and distributed.

In the Philippines precancelled stamps are cancelled previous to the purchase of them by the larger users of postage stamps. They are usable on all classes of mail, and receive a further cancellation after reaching the post office. In other words precancelled stamps in the Philippines correspond to our perforated initial stamp here. They simply prevent theft, and as they show the printed initial of the firm purchasing them, their use by other than the original purchaser can be traced.

ARGENTINE.—Our Rosario correspondent, Mr. F. B. Metcalf, sends us a postally used copy of the current 5c red (San Martin) overprinted "M.G." in black, for use in the Argentine War Office.

Our friend writes:—

NETHERLANDS.—The Economist Stamp Co. has shown us the 30c violet, type of A23, watermarked Circles.

NORWAY.—We have received from Whitfield King & Co. copies of the following new items: 45ö blue, lion design, surcharged "30" in black and the 45ö. Svalbard type, overprinted in the same manner, and a new 45ö Air Post stamp, in greenish-blue. The latter value pictures an airplane flying over the city and at the base in capitals is "Norge" while to the left is the two words "Luft Post." At the right is "45 ore" in two lines also.

PALESTINE.—Mr. R. Roberts and Whitfield King & Co. call our attention to the first two values of the new set of stamps to be issued for this country. They are the 3m bright yellow-green, with a view of Rachel's tomb and the 13m blue, showing the Mosque of Omar. Mr. Roberts writes the following:

"Engraved and printed by Messrs. Harrison & Son, Ltd. Surface printed on white script wmk. paper in unbroken sheets of 250 (25 across, 10 vertically) pl.1. four controls, two at top and bottom, one at second stamp from each corner.

The carrying out of the photographic designs are most disappointing and the general effect is repulsive, especially the 3m.

The paper used is not of the non-curling variety and I think great trouble will be experienced in a hot climate and the whole work compares very unfavorably with any surfaced printed pictorial designs of colonial stamps that have ever appeared. They do not bear comparing with the surfaced printed designs of Egypt which came out in 1914.

Compare the 13m Palestine with 3m Egypt, Ras-el-Tin Palace, and Rachel's Tomb with the 20m Pylon of Karnak."

RUSSIA.—Whitfield King & Co. report that they have received copies of the following new items: Postage Dues surcharged on 1925 dues, no watermark, 8k on 1k, 8k on 7k, 8k on 8k, 8k on 10k, 8k on 14k. Our correspondents also advise that they have received these five provisionals on the watermarked paper.

ST. HELENA.—Mr. R. Roberts has shown us the three values recently issued. They are the 1sh6p green and black on green, 2sh6p carmine and black on yellow and 5sh green and black on yellow, all same designs as before.

SOUTH AFRICA.—Whitfield King & Co. advise that they have received from this colony the 2sh6p brown and green, in the new design, inscribed alternately at the top "South Africa" and "Suidafrika." In the centre is a view of an ox team moving across a stream of water. In the lower corners are the figures of value with "Postage" between on the English inscription and "Posseel" on the African.

URUGUAY.—Whitfield King & Co. furnish us with the information regarding a Montevideo Philatelic Exhibition series of stamps of three values each showing a view of the Exhibition building, which our correspondent questions, imperforate, printed in sheets of four. Values are 2c green, 5c red and 8c blue.

In the King's Head series there is one curious error to be noted. Two clichés of the official stamp were inserted in the plate of the regular 20a stamp. They are found as the second and fifty-second stamps in the sheet, and 1,000 sheets are said to have been thus issued.

King Christian IX died on January 29, 1906, and in the course of events the features of Frederick VIII, his successor, would be expected to appear upon the stamps. Old King Christian was so beloved by his subjects, however, that Iceland thought to honor his memory as well as show respect to the new King by issuing a series of stamps showing a double profile of the two Kings after the manner of coins and medals. The design was similar in form to the preceding issue, but more artistic, and the stamps were line engraved and therefore made a much better appearance than the typographed production previously in use. They were also bi-colored, which added to their attractiveness. They were issued in June, 1907, in all the denominations previously in use with an added one of 15a. A year later a new value of 1 eyrir made its appearance, the name being the singular form of the plural aurar. The paper perforation and watermark remained unchanged.

On June 17, 1911, occurred the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Jón Sigurdsson, an Icelandic scholar and politician, who was made Speaker of the Althing, or National Assembly, when that ancient institution was restored in 1845, but who was chiefly famous for having secured political home rule for Iceland in its present form in 1874. He died in 1879. In connection with a celebration of the anniversary a 4a stamp was prepared and issued to the number of 30,000, all of which were sold in a few days. The design is simple enough, consisting of an embossed profile within a circle, beneath which is the name in small letters. At the bottom of the stamp is "ISLAND" in large letters and "4" and "A" occupy the spandrels at the top. The stamp is printed in blue ink with the lettering and embossing in white—blue and white being the national colors of Iceland. The sheet consists of 100 copies, ten by ten, printed upon the regular crown watermarked paper of Denmark and perforated 12 1/2. The profile is taken from a statue by the Icelandic sculptor Einar Jónsson which adorns the parliamentary chamber.

Further supplies of the stamp were issued in July, and finally, about the middle of December, the 1, 3, 6, 15 and 25a appeared in the same design, these all being local postal rates. The printing and sheet arrangement were all the same as the 4a. This leads us to remark that our statement on page 122 of the last issue, about the middle of the page, that the 1876 issue was printed in sheets of 100 divided into four panes of 25, though made upon what we considered good authority, does not seem to be borne out by the facts, as we have since seen whole or partial sheets of this issue in many of the values which prove that they were printed in ten rows of ten, thus carrying out this arrangement right from the beginning.

In February, 1912, the remaining values of the set, 5, 10, 20a (the Postal Union values) and the high values of 50a, 1, 2, and 5kr, were issued in the same design but with the profile of King

Frederick VIII substituted for that of Sigurdsson, and with the latter's name of course omitted. A more homely set of stamps right through could hardly be obtained, yet they were used up to June, 1915, when the 5a of the double portrait series of 1907 was reissued, but upon a new watermarked paper that had been used for the Danish stamps since 1913, this showing multiple crosses instead of the single crown for each stamp, and with the perforation 14x14 1/2. From this time, as values of the embossed stamps were exhausted, they were replaced by the old double portrait series, upon the new watermarked paper and with the new perforation, until the 1, 3, 4, 5, 6, 10 and 20a had appeared.

King Frederick VIII died suddenly on May 14, 1912, while walking in the streets of Hamburg. His successor was Christian X, whose portrait first appeared on the Danish stamps on October 1, 1913. It was not until March, 1920, however, that he made his appearance on the Icelandic stamps, the first value being the 5a, followed by the other values in the next few months. New values of 8 and 30a were included, while the 40a, which was dropped in the embossed series, again appears. The design shows a three-quarter portrait of King Christian in a frame of similar design to that of 1907. The stamps are typographed in sheets of 100, ten by ten, on the multiple cross paper, perforated 14x14 1/2.

In 1921 Iceland took advantage of the Postal Union permission to increase the foreign postal rates. Consequently we find in November of that year the 10a appearing in green, the 25a in red, and the 40a in blue, together with a provisional of 20a surcharged on the old 25a of 1902. In December a provisional 5a was made on the 16a double portrait stamp of 1907; in January, 1922, a provisional 20a on the 25a of the same set; in February a further 5a on the 16a of 1902; in April a 20a on the 40a of 1902; and in June a 10a on the 5a of 1920.

On January 1, 1922, a decree declared obsolete and unavailable for postage the stamps of 1902-4 issue with head of Christian IX, the 1907-8 issue with double heads, the 1911-2 issue with embossed heads, and the 10, 20, 25 and 40a stamps of the 1920 issue, then current, in the old colors. About the first of August, 1922, the 5 and 20a appeared in new colors.

OFFICIAL STAMPS.

Denmark was one of the first countries to issue official stamps, and Iceland was supplied with them at the same time that the first issue of postage stamps was made. These official stamps are used somewhat differently from those in other countries. Iceland has a small population scattered over a large extent of territory, and all sorts of private individuals, such as doctors, pastors, judges and magistrates hold official positions in addition to their ordinary occupation, and are allowed to use official stamps. We must therefore record the issue of two official stamps of the values of 4 and 8 skilling on January 1, 1873. These are of the same design as the postage stamps but of different colors and are inscribed "PJON. FRIM." (an abbreviation of PJONUSTU FRIMERKI) or "Service Stamp." The "P," as remarked before, is not the Roman letter but the Icelandic letter "TH." The details of printing are the same as for the postage stamps and the perforation is 12 1/2 for the 4s and 14x13 1/2 for the 8s. The 4s also exists with the latter perforation, but is extremely rare thus, it being supposed that but one or at the most two sheets (of 100 each) were supplied with the smaller perforation. Both stamps also occur imperforate as with the regular postage stamps.

When the currency was changed and the new postage stamps issued on July 1, 1876, three new official stamps were also included, in values of 10, 16 and 20a. The second supply of the 10a was printed in the ultramarine noted in the catalogue, but subsequent supplies reverted to the blue of the first lot. The design of the new officials was quite distinct from the regular postage stamps, being based on the Danish officials and inscribed "PJONUSTU POSTFRIM." (the latter word for "POSTFRIMERKI") or "Service Postage Stamp." In 1878 a 5a stamp was added, and one sheet at least found its way to Iceland and was issued in imperforate condition. These latter stamps are very scarce. In July, 1882, when the new postage stamp of 3a was issued for printed matter, a new official stamp of 3a was likewise issued, both stamps being printed in the same color, which had not been done before. About May, 1895, a new high value of 50a was added. All these stamps were printed as before and perforated 14x13 1/2.

The new perforation of 12 1/2, which came on the regular postage stamps in 1897, appeared on the 3a official stamp in 1898. In January, 1901, a new value of 4a was added, having the 12 1/2 perforation, of course, and the 10a was issued likewise about May or June of 1902. The 5 and 20a were in stock perforated 12 1/2 when the "I GILDI" overprint was applied, and were never issued without it.

All the official stamps on hand were supplied with the "I GILDI" overprint and issued soon after the regular postage stamps thus treated, the official notice bearing the date of November 28, 1902. The overprint was in black only and all values except the 4 and 50a appear in both perforations; the former is of course only perforated 12 1/2 and the latter only 14x13 1/2. The errors of surcharge of course follow those of the regular postage stamps and will be found duly listed in the catalogue by those interested.

At the same time that the surcharges appeared the new permanent officials were issued. These followed the same values as were previously in use and were in the same design as the regular postage stamps, the only difference being that the word "FRIMERKI" (stamp) at the right was replaced by the word "PJONUSTA" (service). The colors, however, were all distinct from the regular stamps, the portraits on all the officials being in black with the frames in colors different from the same values in the regular set. The error of the clichés of the 20a official stamp which were inserted in the plate of the 20a regular postage stamp has already been detailed. No corresponding cliché of the regular stamp was smuggled into the official plate, however.

The "double head" regular issue of 1907-8 had its counterpart in an official set issued at the same time in the seven values plus a new one of 15a, before, the centers are all in one color gray, with the frames in different colors for each value. The perforation is 12 1/2 and the series is on the usual cross watermark paper. One value, however, the 15a, was requisitioned after change in watermark and perforation had taken place, and so we have this value issued in 1918 on paper watermarked multiple crosses and perforated 14x14 1/2.

Again in 1920, with the advent of new King Christian stamps, the accompanying official series appeared in the same design with the word "PJONUSTA" replacing "FRIMERKI" at the left. The colors are the same as the preceding portraits all being in gray. The change is made by dropping the value and adding a 1kr which took the colors of the discarded value. The set is watermarked multiple crosses and perforated 14x14 1/2.

About June or July, 1922, two high values were added to the officials by overprinting the 2 and 5kr of the embossed issue of 1911-2 with the word "pjonusta" in black.—New England Stamp Monthly.

Stamps Overprinted For De Pinedo Trans-Atlantic Air Mail Trip

By HARRY E. HUBER.

Special to the WEEKLY

For the prepayment of the postage on the air mail taken from Trepassey, Newfoundland, to Italy, by Commr. Francesco de Pinedo, on May 23rd, 3 sheets of 100 each of the 60c black, King Henry VII, of the Cabot series issued June 24, 1897, were overprinted in red at the offices of the Daily News (Robinson & Co., Ltd.), St. John's, Nfld., in three lines, "AIR MAIL—De Pinedo—1927." The overprint was applied to full sheets of 100 stamps, and not to blocks of 25, the procedure followed with the $1 on 15c and 35c Halifax Air Mail stamps, of 1919 and 1921, respectively. After the overprinting, the type was broken up by Mr. W. J. O'Neill, Private Secretary to the Minister of Posts & Telegraphs, who had charge of the air mail.

The mail was enclosed in a canvas sack, and then covered with oil cloth to protect it from saturation. On Friday, May 20th, Mr. O'Neill took it down to Trepassey, to await the arrival of Commr. de Pinedo and his two companions, in the "Santa Maria II", who had left Shippegan, N. B., at 11.25 a. m.

Learning from Commr. de Pinedo, who arrived at 6.08 p. m. Friday, May 20th, that he would be willing to take the small mail prepared, Mr. O'Neill wired the Minister of Posts & Telegraphs, at St. John's, on the 21st as follows:—

"Pinedo agrees to take mail. Delighted with stamp. He sends compliments to Minister. Will hop off this evening."

The Minister's message of appreciation follows:—

"May 21, 1927.

To Marquis Commander Francesco de Pinedo, Trepassey,

We have followed your flight from New Brunswick yesterday with great interest, your progress being reported from point to point within a few minutes of your passing. The fact that we prepared and dispatched letter mail bearing stamps overprinted with your name to await your arrival at Trepassey will indicate that we also have adopted your faith motto 'Post Fata Resurgo'.

Your willingness to care for air mail is greatly appreciated.

Wishing you God speed and safe arrival.

Sincerely yours,

Signed, W. J. WOODFORD,

Minister of Posts & Telegraphs, Nfld."

Twenty mint copies of the overprinted 60c Cabot stamp were presented to Commr. de Pinedo, and two copies to the Italian Consul, C. McK. Harvey, who went down to Trepassey to await the

FIRST DIVISION A. E. F. MAIL

Experiences of Our Boys Abroad With the Military Mail

By FABIAN F. LEVY.

In connection with the reference in Mr. Parker's article to American stamps used by soldiers in France, I believe I have some unique pieces of American soldier's mail, which originated in the following manner:—

In January, 1918, the First Division of the American Army took over a small sector in front of Toul. Forty-two American soldiers, of whom I was one, were sent to Domgermain, a small town, three miles south of Toul, to establish an ammunition dump. This organization at that time was independent of any division, nor was there at this time any Corps or Army organization in the American Expeditionary Forces. As divisional post offices moved with the division, it was impossible for us to receive our mail through the American Division in the sector, and for that reason we were permitted to receive mail from the United States addressed to us directly at "Domgermain, Meurthe & Moselle." I am very familiar with the organization of the A. E. F. and believe that this is the only instance where mail was addressed to any civilian address when intended for American soldiers. In fact one of the men, who came from Denver, Col., was unable to receive mail for some time, as the postmaster of that city insisted that he was prohibited from accepting mail except that addressed to military post offices. Unfortunately I know of no covers bearing this address still existing.

On February 27, 1918, as a result of a misunderstanding between our captain and the local postmaster at Domgermain, I was assigned to duty in the French post office in Toul to handle the American mail addressed to our organization, Domgermain being a substation of the Toul post office. In addition to taking care of the incoming mail I also took our outgoing mail to this office, and I have some envelopes which I mailed home, which bear the American censor stamp and the inscription "Soldier's Mail" and are postmarked Toul and Domgermain, and also one or two with the Paris receiving mark. Knowing how unreliable the American postal service was at this time, I frequently stamped my own correspondence, and I have several covers with the twenty-five centime French stamp and the American military censor stamp. I believe these covers are unique, as the use of the civilian postal service was generally prohibited to American soldiers.

About the first week in March I conceived the idea of testing out the relative speed of unstamped and stamped letters, and mailed one of each on the same date to my wife, with the request that she advise me which arrived first.

UNITED STATES

We are constant buyers of United States stamps, spending several thousand dollars every month to keep our stock of these stamps in shape. We have just purchased a very fine collection of both nineteenth and twentieth century, running into five figures and have at present nearly everything in twentieth century in stock, including such items as the blue paper set complete, the 4c and 8c being the finest copies we have ever seen, perfectly centered. We have in stock practically all blocks of the twentieth century.

A want list will receive our best attention and you can rest assured that the majority of the stamps can at the moment be supplied. If you have not yet got our twenty page U. S. list, we would be very pleased to send it to you upon receipt of your request.

Strasbourg International Philatelic Exhibition

In connection with the Exhibition, a Balloon Rally took place on Sunday, June 12th, from the Square in front of the Exhibition Building, and letters were taken. The form of letter used was a reproduction of the famous Lettre Journal de Paris (Gazette des Absents), sent out of Paris during the Siege of 1870, but instead of Paris news it contained all details of the Strasbourg Exhibition. It is closed by a special Balloon Label with view of the Cathedral and this has a violet postmark "Ballon Le Petit Parisien etc." On the front of the bijou Cover is printed "PAR AVION" and they are franked with French Stamps to pay ordinary postage. These were handed over to the Post Office at the place where the Balloon came to Earth, and then sent by ordinary Mail; in this case it was La Wantzenau, lower Rhine, highly interesting. CANAL ZONE FOR THOSE WHO "KNOW"

I am just breaking up a very fine little collection of these stamps. There are many errors and varieties from the early issues to the current; some few of which, I believe, are unique. For those who specialize and are interested in the different printings of these stamps, there are sure to be many interesting items. There is also a wealth of material for those who are in the habit of sticking to Scott's catalog price for this material. However, such stamps as Scott's No. 32b, cannot be sold at catalogue quotation. Only 19 or 20 unused copies exist, and there is a horizontal pair of this stamp in this collection.

TELL ME WHAT YOU NEED.

H. F. COLMAN

509 SEVENTH ST., N. W., H. A. ROBINETTE (Successor) WASHINGTON, D. C.

Unfortunately I do not have her answer.

Mr. Parker refers to the letters with "Soldier Mail" and no stamps on them, and seems to infer that they are unusual. This was the common method of sending mail, and I know of no cases where stamps were used in France, except for registered mail. "Soldiers' Mail" envelopes should be common; there must have been many millions of these sent to the States.

I thought that some of your readers, who are interested in U. S. cancellations, might be interested in these French stamped letters, bearing the American censors' stamps, even though the cancellations and postage stamps were French.

KIND WORDS NEVER DIE

The following welcome to "The New Stamps" is from a newspaper of 1883. The reviewer of the stamps evidently did not consider the 3c green a stamp to rave over—he raves at it.

"The American letter writer has for so many years had his patriotic sympathies harrowed and his reverence for the father of his country sorely tried by the painful caricature of George Washington, with its swollen jaw, brutal features and dropsical neck swathed in an untidy dinner napkin, on the 3-cent postage stamp, that the first of October, with its reduction of letter postage and new issue of stamps, will bring a double relief.

The new stamps are ready for issue, but are to be withheld until that date. In the new two-cent stamp it is to be seen that the aching molar has been pulled, and the facial swelling has subsided, while the head and face bear some resemblance to the Gilbert Stuart portrait in the refinement of the lines and expression of the features. There is an improvement in the arrangement of the hair and cue.

The new head rests in an oval medallion on heraldic shield. The lettering shows more sharply and distinctly than in the present stamps; at the top, the legend, "United States Postage," and below the medallion, "Two 2 cents," standing out clearly on groundwork darker than the body of the stamp; while the color, a pale carmine red ink, in which oxide of iron is a powerful component, sufficiently distinguishes the denomination without blurring the design.

The double rate, or 4-cent stamp, is of a green color, and bears the head of the hero of New Orleans, somewhat less unkempt and frightful than other government caricatures of the grand old democrat. If Andrew Jackson actually resembled his postage stamps he needed neither military skill nor equipment; he had only to go forth and look upon his foe 'and the red field was won'."

BENNINGTON and BURGOYNE

Two new stamps will be issued early in August, commemorating the Battle of Bennington and the campaign against Burgoyne. They will be placed on sale on the first day, according to present information, each in two cities. Thus there will be four varieties of first day covers available.

I will supply the four first day covers, and an unused single of each stamp, for only $1.00. If your order reaches me in time the covers will be addressed direct to you. Otherwise they will bear the address of someone else.

MELANGE:—

PERCY MCGHEE of El Paso, Texas, is chairman of the local committee of arrangements which will care for the convention of the Texas Philatelic Assn. to be held in El Paso in the spring of 1928. Mr. McGhee is taking time by the forelock in asking the WEEKLY to announce this event, and we are very glad to make this preliminary announcement.

BURT B. HYDE of Afton, N. Y., sends us a clipping from the New York Times which indicates that the revenues of the P. O. Department were increased $176,000 during the past fiscal year through the sale of stamps by the government's Philatelic Agency. The receipts last year were the largest in the history of the Agency, exceeding those of the previous year by $40,000.

WE are indebted to many of our subscribers for clippings dealing with the popularity of Lindbergh airmail stamps. All this publicity helps stamp collecting, but the news matter is not sufficiently philatelic for us to reproduce in the WEEKLY.

THE Rutherford Stamp Club of Rutherford, N. J., was organized in 1914 with fourteen members and now has over three hundred. H. A. Fonda calls our attention to the very pleasant club-room at 6 Ames Ave., where meetings are held Monday evenings. Visitors will be welcome.

"I NOTE your recent articles about covers and cancellations, and I have a cover in which I am sure you will be interested. It is postmarked Kedainia, somewhere in Palestine or Arabia nearby—was mailed apparently without any postage, or the postage came off without leaving any trace. Reaching New York, it is stamped New York, N. Y., in one circle, and Due 20 cents in another circle—and instead of 20c in postage due stamps, it bears two U. S. documentary 10c stamps, number 4231. It has been verified by Scott, and according to him is of high interest. There is nothing of interest about the cancellations."—REV. A. S. RACHAL.

"IN the White Plains stamp the engraving was reversed. Why, I cannot understand. Army officers who are collectors must have been amused to see in the picture the No. 1 man sponging the gun left handed and a pile of projectiles lying on the ground in a dangerous position, which, if real, would be liable to become ignited from a spark at the discharge and recoil of the gun. I have wondered that no one has mentioned this long ago."—HENRY C. KENDALL.

WE are very much indebted to Rudolph Dinnebie of N. Y. City, who with Mrs. Dinnebie is travelling in Europe, for air mail greetings received from various points, including Vienna and Prague.

Other Days It Pours

By times it seems impossible to maintain any reasonable stock of the 1847 issue, the covers being hardest to keep in any great variety. Other times the finds come flocking in and for a short time we are able to make quite a brave showing. From three sources we have added upwards of a hundred items during this week of writing.

THE 5c of 1847

Of the 5c we show some fine shades both on and off cover, three fine sheet-margin copies; a few nice cancellations, including U. S. Express Mail, some numerals, and a couple of grids with crossed lines. There are some very neat covers we can offer as low as $5.50 each, and some good pairs.

A LITTLE LOT of 10c of 1847

Among the 10c items are a little lot of small envelopes mailed from Providence, R. I., one with U. S. Express Mail, a beautiful stamp on neat little envelope; the big shift in POST OFFICE, close at left, but a fine impression on small, fresh envelope; some bargain copies off cover to sell as low as $17.50.

NOW YOU TELL YOURS

That's our story about the '47s in stock at present. We should like to have more, so if you have any surplus, or something out of the ordinary to sell or exchange for the broadening of your collection, we shall be glad to hear from you.

UNITED STATES CANCELLATIONS, 1870-1900

By DR. WM. EVANS, 313 E. Freemason St., Norfolk, Va.

Nos. 1 and 2 are drawings of conventional flowers sent by Mr. Charles R. Phillips. No. 1 is from Juniata, Mich., used Mar. 10, 1886, on 2c 1887, and No. 2 is from South Bradford, N. Y., used Mar. 23, 1886, on the same stamp. Both are in blue. They are quite similar to No. 10 in the issue of Jan. 10, 1927, though not on the same stamp, that one being on a 2c 1883.

No. 3 is a boot on a 2c vermilion, and No. 4 a striking appearing cross on 3c green. These were sent by Mr. Karl Koslowski.

Dr. H. A. Washburn has sent two very interesting items. No. 5 shows a front view of a railroad locomotive, and is the only one I have seen of this cancellation. It is on a 2c 1883. The index hand No. 6 is on the same stamp and differs from all the other hands that have come to notice thus far. The last two are stars used in N. Y. City.

In the issue of June 13 was shown a cancellation consisting of the letters NP with a series of figures below them.

One of the fine things about philately is the fact that its votaries come from many varied occupations. In this instance we have to thank several bankers for the solution of the mystery about this cancellation. Messrs. John C. Schlaffer, Roscoe B. Martin, R. B. Rowan, H. H. Barber, Wm. T. Kimball and John H. Buzby have all written about it and all agree as to what it really is. They state that it is merely a notice from one bank to another stamped upon some item, check, note, or otherwise, that the item is not to be protested. The letters N. P. meaning No Protest, and the numbers indicate in what bank the item originated. It is possible by the arrangement of these figures to tell at short notice what bank placed the stamp on the item. These matters hardly concern us and they are not included here, though some of those who wrote explained them in detail.

It is not a postal cancellation and we shall have to eliminate it from the list. It is easy enough for us to have been misled about it. How did it get on the stamp? One says it is the work of a joker, and another attributes it to an idle bank clerk. Either solution is plausible. One can easily imagine how an idle clerk might be stamping everything in sight with the N. P. stamp, or how a clerk wishing to play a joke on some friend whom he knows collects cancellations might fix it up and present it to his friend as a rarity. And then indulge in a good laugh at the expense of the friend. And no doubt our banker friends if they are so inclined may have had a laugh at the rest of us. Well, a laugh does plenty of good sometimes, and since they have been kind enough to enlighten us, we don't object to the laugh. This is the kind of co-operation that is most welcome, and they have our sincere thanks for it. We hope to hear from them on other subjects.

However, Mrs. Hudgins reports having seen part of a cover with the stamp cancelled in the same manner, "tied".
"Half on the stamp and half on the cover," she says. This bore a return card reading Breckinridge, Minn., Northern Pacific. This, of course, might have been applied by the same idle bank clerk, and until we can see a copy on the face of a cover bearing this cancellation and the address to which it went,
it's probably best to regard the solution
of our banker friends as the acceptable
one.

"ADVENTURE'S" PHILATELIC CONTRIBUTION

Some months ago, our staff writer, Mr.
Bedford-Jones, called attention in the columns of Adventure to certain discrepancies that had been pointed out in the ship portraiture of the Pan-American stamps. Soon afterwards, the editor of Adventure wrote to Congressman Kvale, who is credited with having made the stamps a successful issue in the House,
with the following interesting results:

SOMETIME last fall one of our writer's brigade intimated that the artist who designed the Norse-American stamps

Confederate States

CHARLES J. PHILLIPS

has the pleasure of announcing the purchase of one of the finest collections in the world of the General Issues of

THE CONFEDERATE STATES

This collection has been formed during the past twenty years by a noted New York collector who does not wish his name published.
The collection has been built up on the broadest lines and special attention has been paid to securing entire and uncut sheets, of which there are many unique items here.
Also, the collection is noteworthy for the many hundreds of fine stamps on covers, with a great variety of rare cancellations, such as Colored Express Co.; Railway; etc., etc.
The collection was mainly founded on two of the great collections formed in the period of some thirty years ago. The collections of Mr. H. E. Deats and Major E. B.
Evans both being included.

The most noteworthy items are:—
5c GREEN, LITHOGRAPHED
The unique sheet of 200 stamps, in superb condition. No other collection has even a pane of 50 stamps unused.
Blocks of 49, 6 and 6 in fine shades.

10c BLUE, LITHOGRAPH
HOYER & LUDWIG PRINTING
Unique sheet of 100 unused, with imprint.

J. T. PATERSON & CO.'S PRINTING
Three sheets of 100 unused, two being in pale dull blue and one in bright blue. (No other uncut sheet is known in any collection.) Several strips and blocks of unused 10c and hundreds of unused and cancelled on and off covers.

2c GREEN, LITHOGRAPH
Unique sheet of 100 unused, block of 24 unused, and some fine used on covers.
5c BLUE, LITHOGRAPH
Two sheets of 100, and numerous blocks and strips of unused. Many rare shades.
Large numbers of used on and off covers

10c ROSE, LITHOGRAPH
This really rare and undervalued stamp is represented by a block of 4, strip of 4, pair and 12 unused, 24 used, and 25 on covers.

1863, 10c BLUE, WITH OUTER FRAME LINES
This rarity is well represented by unused strips of three and four, a superb single unused with lines all round, three used and four fine copies on covers.

"TEN" CENTS BLUE
In unused, block of four, pair and 14 singles, and in used 5 singles and three on covers.

5c BLUE, 1862 AND 1863
A very large number of sheets of the London and Local printings, proving the existence of a great many plates.

10c BLUE, 1863 AND 1864
The printings of Archer & Daly and Keatinge & Ball are represented by a vast number of uncut panes and sheets. Almost, if not all, imprints and plate numbers are included, and here is material which cannot be found so well represented elsewhere, for a careful study of re-entries and plate varieties.
The other values are all well represented by numerous sheets, stamps on covers, etc.
The collection includes many Official Envelopes of different Bureaus in the Confederacy, etc., etc., etc.
The collection is in seven large volumes and is now being priced for sale separately.

It is a thousand pities that this unique collection (which no money can ever again match) should be broken up. It shows fully the difficulties under which the South labored during 1861-1864 in producing material for franking its correspondence.
The collection is finely mounted and fully written up, and its home should be some great public Institution in the Southern States. [H]

then being issued would have a ter-time of it if he should put a ship sim-
to those pictured on the stamp on a cof the magazine. To learn something the origin of the design we wrote Washington. Here is the reply of
O. J. Kvale, congressman from Min-sota:

"Concerning the alleged errors in engraved designs for the Norse-Am-can Centennial postage stamps, I am happy to submit what information I in my files and have been able to as-ble, in response to your queries on be-of your readers. I regret that it can be more complete, particularly in re-to the criticisms of the rigging of the sloop.

The viking ship, first, is pictured
Mr. Bedford-Jones observes, with Norse and American flags at bow and stern. Many have called attention to supposed error on the engravers' part,
stating that neither flag was in exist-
at the time of the vikings. The explation is this: that the stamp carries a ture of the ship which was sailed ac-
the Atlantic at the time of the Columexposition in Chicago, in 1893.

The engraving, I believe, is based a picture appearing on page 3 of the first volume of "History of the World" Columbian Exposition," edited by Rossiter Johnson, published by Appl-& Co., 1897. The book is in the Lib-of Congress. The picture bears the following legend and foot-note:

'Exhibit of Viking Ship'—an exact copy (with a little restoration) of a Viking ship discovered
in a burial mound at Gokstad, Norway, in 1880. It is 75 feet long, 16 feet beam, and was built in Norway. Capt. Magnus Anderson, with a crew of twelve men, brought it across the Atlantic in May.'

I can give no authoritative infor-
tion regarding the points brought out Mr. Bedford-Jones. I do recall that we were concerned at the time with possible criticisms, one of which was that the artist had painted the pennants ag-
the wind as indicated by the sails.
experts at the time established that pennants often whip into such a position merely mention this as an instance of care which the Department took to rect all possible faults.

Andrew Furuseth, known to all na-cal men, insists that the rigging of sloop is not impossible. Sails, masts and rigging in such an arrangement very possibly, and perhaps probably use at that time, he declares. The partment is unable to throw any light
the technical controversy, so I will
to leave it to others to determine.

ever, and its history are contained in cover. If I am able to serve further in this matter, either personally or officially, please do not hesitate to indicate that service to me.—O. J.

What other old-time nautical men who seen the stamp can give us opinions on the possibility of the rigging's being practical?

excerpt from Mr. Kvale's speech on the Norse-American Centennial, which on the occasion of the issuing of the stamp, follows:

The story of how the viking ship was and brought to the exposition is indicative of the spirit that has been in the hearts of the Norse people throughout the ages. With a fund derived from every village in the Kingdom of Norway—testing in that way the truth of their traditions—they conducted an exact and a seaworthy representation of an ancient viking vessel dug up from the earth in Gokstad, Norway, in 1880. Complete in its detail, with the dragon's-head prow, with highly burnished shields along the sides, with its long oars, its sail and rudder, this 67-foot boat was sailed and rowed across the entire Atlantic by Capt. Magnus Anderson, with the Norwegian commanders taking sail as crew. Once in the waters, they brought their vessel to Chicago by way of New York and the Great Lakes.

FIVE YEAR HONOR CLUB

Frank E. Robbins, Ann Arbor, Mich.
Bud Mekeel, Montclair, N. J.
Hagenow, M. D., Apponaug, R. I.
Harry E. Huber, Pittsburg, Pa.
Schwede, Seattle, Wash.

We are glad to acknowledge five dedications for membership in our Honor Club. The first is from Frank Robbins of Ann Arbor, Mich., who is assistant to the President of the University of Michigan.

It is with unusual pleasure that we greet Bud Mekeel of Montclair, N. J. It will interest our readers to know that he is a son of Mr. I. A. Mekeel who formerly owned the WEEKLY. Bud congratulates us upon the success of the paper and advises us that he is now in-charge of "On Bounds," the Montclair Academy school publication. Our third application is that of Leroy Hagenow, M. D., of Apponaug, R. I. He says that he thinks more of the WEEKLY than all of his other periodicals, and "they are some."

It is always very pleasant for the Managing Editor to read such warm words of esteem and especially when accompanied by renewals of subscriptions for a long period of time.

The name of Harry E. Huber is a familiar one through his literary work in the WEEKLY, and we are very glad to add his name to our list. The name can be written of W. Schwede who has 12 copies of the WEEKLY and asks for neither premium nor commission. We receipt of his semi-annual check reminds us that it is a very proper thing for us to put him on our Honor Club "for distinguished service."

THE LORE OF THE LOWLY
By A. P. FRANCIS.

What to collect is a question that has, no doubt, come to the minds of many collectors of the present day. The unquestioned popularity of the stamps of the United States, British Colonies and similar ever popular countries is deserved; their beauty alone merits their standing. The collecting of such countries, however, introduces limitations that quickly become severe, no doubt, to many who pursue the hobby as purely such and with no carefully calculated plans as to investment, probable return in event of sale, increment increase in value and similar details, that in some respects are gaining too much attention in the collector's eye today.

It would be idle to recommend the abandonment of all thought of value in assembling a collection; it is not intended to suggest this; however, it is suggested that we collect for the love of stamps and collecting them rather than with the idea of securing a 6% return on our investment; if the invested money can be secured, our interest thereon has been paid in full through the many evenings of pleasure spent with our treasures.

I chose Cuba as a country worthy of some study and incidentally probably as unpopular as any stamp-issuing country extent. The present lack of regard of this really worthy island is due to evils practiced some years ago, the selling of remainders and secondly, no doubt to a certain monotony in design of all issues up to the time independence was gained. Be that as it may, there is much to be found in the study of the numerous issues.

To any one giving these stamps some attention, it is quickly apparent that with few exceptions a rather voluminous "mint" collection is readily gathered; "O. G." will be plentiful, too. That, however, is no accomplishment. The real fun is to be had in showing not only the mint stamp, but with it as mate one that has done postal duty. Here is a real task, especially if one is particular in that the cancellation shall be clear; smudges may or may not be genuine. Of course, it is understood that any cancellation can be forged, but here is a country where stamps are given or have been given so little attention, it is not to be feared that there will be many met with that are not genuine.

Pen-cancellation, of course, is taboo, though in the early days there were many, many stamps pen-cancelled just as in our own U. S., inasmuch as this was the common method of defacing remainders in the early issues; however, we must insist on a "basket" cancellation or some similar one that leaves no opening for a doubt. You will find that these come along, but not so fast as one would like when they are wanted.

Minor varieties are plentiful, thick and thin papers are waiting for the watchful eye to detect them. Covers are to be had, but they are not commonly offered by the dealer. Such interesting items as "splits" on cover are to be had only by closely watching; cancellations both as to color and variety of design are to be found in an almost equal proportion to our own country, the ratio of correspondence naturally being far less in Cuba, due both to the immense difference in size of the two countries and the equally great difference in population and the educational standard of the two countries.

Such a country as Cuba offers unusual temptations to collect town cancellations—there is not an impossible number to be secured, and the pursuit of some would, I am sure, mean a long chase. This branch of specialization I have not yet taken up, though its attractiveness is freely admitted.

The mounting of my efforts was initially a problem that seemed beyond effective solution. After several schemes were tried and discarded, the idea was evolved that for best display results and at the same time to have an album capable of continued expansion, a positive necessity in specialization, each listed issue would be set out as a "set," both used and unused on the same or adjoining pages; following this main page, the varieties of each stamp comprising the set are set out on individual pages with notations as to what comprises the variation from normal, shade, paper, etc. In this way the additions are unlimited so far as affecting the album is concerned. Covers and all are contained in the one book, and by having index tabs on the pages carrying the "sets," the collection proper may be shown easily and without burdening the onlooker, who it may happen is not interested in the voluminous detail accompanying specialization.

In-so-far as I have been able to determine the method lends itself to any country with a facility that has proven so acceptable in my own case. If searching for an idea on mounting your collection, it is worth a trial.

Back, however, to the defense of the lowly, let us take for example the 50 C. Peseta of 1871. Here is a stamp Scott No. 52 that is indeed lowly. Listed at but 8c either used or unused, yet study has brought out that there are two distinct types. There can be no question but that the types are distinct for if you will note in type I the lady possesses three fingers and a thumb as she holds her bouquet, and that her robe touches her left heel. This is the normal stamp as per Scott's illustration; in type II she has lost a finger, now having but two in addition to her thumb, and her robe no longer touches her heel. This is but one of the many things to be brought out by study of one's collection regardless of the country or group of countries one may be interested in.

This is written for the encouragement of those collectors who have come or may be coming to the point when they suddenly realize the futility of attempting to perfect their collection of some popular country, through the lack of funds available for hobby purposes. Take heart and take another country. It will not always be in the doldrums. Collect it for love of the hobby—Philately. Study as you collect. Therein lies the real fun. There is, I assure you, a greater thrill to be had in discovering a variety in an unexploited stamp of a seldom-mentioned country, than there is in finding a listed variety variation in a fully plated popular issue.

EDITORIAL

Two new commemoratives are impending, being, due for issue in August, as is known and in this connection, the following quotation from a letter from a Washington correspondent is given: "As an example of work under pressure, the Lindbergh stamp is entitled to consideration and it is only fair to give credit to the department and the Bureau of Engraving and Printing for the expeditious manner in which the stamp was conceived, produced and distributed. With the new specials in the offing, it is unlikely that further plans for commemoratives will be given attention although I do not care to say that if a hurry-up call be authorized, it would not be obeyed. I cannot say what recognition will be given to the claim that certain inaccuracies have been discovered in the map of Newfoundland on the stamp and perhaps other details, but my impression is that judging by the care that is given such items ordinarily by the experts, there is warrant for the stamp as designed." Speaking of alleged faults in stamp design in the case of the five-cent Norse-American, Adventure for July has an interesting review of the stamp. When objection was made to the anachronism of the American and Norwegian flags, stern and bow, of the Viking ship, it was shown that the Viking ship copied was the reproduction that came to this country from Norway at the time of the World's Fair, Chicago, 1893; and the Reverend E. Rasmussen of Windom, Minnesota, sent us a lithograph of the Viking ship, on which his father, we believe, was one of the gallant crew. The Adventure article is worth reprinting.

of the Ocean Ferry, July-August, 1927, in which there is an article with the significant head: "What Ship is Shown on This 12-Cent U. S. Stamp of 1869?" It is proved that the statement that has been made by Mr. E. B. Power in his work on the postage stamps of the U. S. to the effect that the picture may have been that of the Arctic of the White Star Line is unsupported by circumstances; and all in all, the whole story of the investigation as developed thus far is so interesting that we shall copy it here:

"Riding a hobby usually is an agreeable pastime, though the rider, however sure of himself, sometimes must meet with a fall.

In The Ocean Ferry for March, we printed a paragraph from William C. Lancswert, manager for the International Mercantile Marine Company, at Detroit, to the effect that the picture of a steamship appearing on the 12-cent green U. S. stamp of 1869, well known to collectors, was 'said to have been copied from a menu published by the White Star Line,' and that the ship was the Arctic.

This innocent statement shortly challenged several specialists, either in stamps or ships, who wrote us concerning it. Among the letters received one came from Gresford, E. J. Adams, for half a century cashier of the White Star Line at New York, who retired from active duty in 1920. Mr. Adams wrote as follows:

"GRESFORD, N. WALES

Editor, The Ocean Ferry:

Perhaps it may interest you if I comment on Mr. Lancswert's remark in the March Ocean Ferry, in effect that the picture on the U. S. 12-cent green stamp of 1869 issue is that of the White Star steamer Arctic. There never was an Arctic nor a Pacific on the White Star list, for the following reason:

When the head office of the line sent to the New York agency, towards the end of 1870, the names of the first six steamers, then building or still to be laid down, prominent in the list were the Arctic and Pacific, but as steamers so named of U. S. registry, had belonged to the Collins Line, and had been lost, the New York agency suggested their names be withdrawn, which was done. The Republic and either Celtic or Adriatic was substituted. The first six White Star steamers, in the order of commission, were Oceanic, Atlantic, Baltic, Republic, Adriatic and Celtic.

E. J. ADAMS.

Mr. Adams' letter was sent to Mr. Lancswert, who replied to it as follows: "As you know, most of us gather the little knowledge we have from reading.

Unfortunately, such reading matter is sometimes erroneous, as it seems in this case, for I obtained the information referred to in Stanley Gibbons' booklet, "The Postage Stamps of the United States" (green cover), written by Eustace B. Power, who quotes the following, on page 32:

"The 12 cents, green, steamship: I believe I am right in stating that the design for this was copied from the heading of a menu published by the White Star Line and that the ship was the Arctic of that company."

You know yourself that Stanley Gibbons being the leading British dealers, having a reputation of being an authority on philately, but evidently they are mistaken in this particular instance, and I am thankful to you for having drawn our attention to this error."

This interesting exchange of correspondence clears up the source of the statement that the stamp referred to bears a picture of a ship purporting to be the Arctic. All the points in the subject are not cleared up, however, those remaining being: What ship was it? To what company did she belong?

If the drawing was taken from a White Star menu, it must have been later than 1871, as the first steamship of the White Star Line, the Oceanic, did not come out until that year.

Any authority on philately or ships or both, who will identify the ship on the stamp for us, will be thanked by us, probably also by stamp collectors, and certainly by Mr. Lancswert."

Writing from his station, Fort Kamehameha, T. H., Mr. W. F. Slusser says: "Reference Army plane flight, Oakland to Wheeler Field, Honolulu, June 28-29, there has been found a small bundle of letters in plane, status of which is a mystery at this time. Maitland or Hegenberger knew nothing about it until letters were found on 30th. It seems clear that no mail was sent by postal authorities; it is probable that letters were placed in the plane after landing here. If further developments occur in this matter will advise." This information is significant and probably does not refer to the letters that were mentioned in the first paragraph in this column last week.

the New York Herald-Tribune. The upon, the comment follows: "The Herald-Tribune probably means that stamps will be bought as souvenirs obviously the Government will not the same profit whether the stamps treasured in the home or pasted, whimsy, on the bottom of a Statenland ferryboat. But that isn't the point is that the Government make considerably more profit by taking up this souvenir dispensing through Post Office in a large way. Why to stamps?" The writer then all his fancy a flight and humorously enough suggests fountain pens, two-pants and what not as fair game for government enterprise. While the meanderings of the scribe will beguile chastened smile from collectors, will be more impressed by the truth the observation of the Herald-Tribune than by the ruminations of the humorist.

In the issue of July 5th, appreciative remarks were made on the review of Pageant of Civilization by Keith Preston in the Chicago Daily News; and now becomes our painful duty to record Keith Preston is dead. He was editor of the book page of the News and conducted the "Hit or Miss" column the same paper. Mr. Preston was a philatelist at heart and as a boy was an enthusiastic collector; and on different occasions, he testified to his regard for the pursuit. The WEEKLY has been mentioned in his column and his intelligent observations on philately may be said to have had their climax in the review which was quoted from in the July 5th page wherein his endorsement of collecting was unequivocal. The death of this amiable and gifted man deprives philately of an influential friend and the world of letters has sustained a loss that cannot be over-estimated.

ly conservative statement! Howe the author provides an ingenious

t price of anything depends upon arket. He says that a small boy hawk an orange colored postage
ap for ten cents on the busiest corner
the world, Forty-second Street and dway and find that his salesmanship

THE HOME OF THE POSTAGE STAMP

Written for MEKEEL'S WEEKLY.
CANAL ZONE--MORE ERRORS
By HARRY E. HUBER.

ZONE ZONE.—As early as October, 1925, the 3c and 5c postage, and 1c due stamps were discovered with the ZONE ZONE error on No. 18 of the lower right pane of 400 stamp sheets. The error occurred on all 500 sheets (of 400), of the 3c, only 100 of which were issued. In January, 1926, the other 400 lower right panes (from 400 stamp sheets) containing the error were taken from the surplus stamp stock at Balboa Heights, a vertical pair (stamps 8 and 18) removed from each, and destroyed
under proper supervision on January 30th. The normally overprinted stamps of the sheets were issued in regular course. Of the 1c due and 5c postage, a Post Office sheet of 100 of each is in the collection of a Washington, D. C., philatelist.
Since my earlier article in the WEEKLY
of July 25, 1926, this error has been reported on the 10c, 12c and 15c postage, and 2c and 10c due stamps. Very few of these seem to have got out, and in September, 1926, the Administration
stock was examined and the error removed from all panes remaining on hand, and destroyed.
The complete list of ZONE ZONE
errors found (in January and September, 1926) at Balboa Heights, and the plate numbers of the Post Office sheets from which they were removed, follows:—

| | Post- De- | age, stroyed. | Plate Nos. |
|--------------|-----------|------------------------|--------------------------------|
| 3c | 400 | 15,350 | 16,400, 16,401, 16,402, 16,474 |
| 5c | 1,250 | 15,571, 15,952 | 16,331, 16,332 |
| 10c | 245 | 16,376, 16,377, 16,378 | 16,379 |
| 12c | 246 | 15,350, 15,351, 15,352 | 15,693 |
| 15c | 250 | 14,910, 14,911, 14,912 | 14,913 |
| Postage due. | | | |
| 2c | 85 | 14,026, 14,027, 14,029 | 14,596 |

Of the stamps dispatched to the Isthmus between July 1, 1924, and June 30, 1925, the 1/2c, 1 1/2c (issued April 15,
1925), and the 14c (issued June 27,
1925), received the flat "A" overprint, while the 3c issued at the same time as the 14c (June 27, 1925) exists only with the sharp "A" overprint. Earlier in the same month (June, 1925), the three due stamps, 1c, 2c and 10c, sharp "A,"
were distributed to the Zone Post Offices. The first printing, flat "A," issued July 1, 1924, exhausted in February of the following year, and a local overprinting at the Mt. Hope Printing Plant (of POSTAGE DUE on a small quantity of 1c, 2c and 10c postage stamps, flat "A") was necessary to tide over until the new lot was received.
The 10c sharp "A" appeared soon after receipt, probably about July or August, 1925. When I called at the Ancon Post Office in September, 1925, the 3c and 10c
were the only postage stamps on sale

with the sharp "A"; all others were flat
"A" overprinted. The 15c sharp "A"
was released in January, 1926, followed by the 12c in February. The 5c although known with the ZONE ZONE
error, sharp "A," as early as October, 1925, was not supplied by Balboa Heights until May, 1926. In booklet form the 2c sharp "A" was issued as early as May,
but in sheets, not until September, 1926.
At the end of January, 1927, the 1c sheet and booklet, sharp "A," had not yet been reported. No sheets or booklets of this denomination were dispatched to the Zone between July 1, 1925, and
June 30, 1926.
Inasmuch as the ZONE ZONE error occurred on all the vertical rectangular stamps of the 1925 printing (i.e., between July 1, 1924, and June 30, 1925), excepting the 1/2c, 1c, 1 1/2c, 14c (which exist only flat "A" overprinted), and the 2c, this would seem to indicate that originally more than one overprint plate, flat "A," was made up for the vertical rectangular stamps, and that one of these (without the CANAL normal, ZONE inverted error) was used for these five denominations (1/2c, 1c, 1 1/2c, 2c and 14c)
of the 1925 printing, while the sharp
"A" plate was used for the 3c, 5c, 10c, 12c and 15c, and the three due stamps.
The 2c sharp "A" appearing in sheet

Marienwerder.—A German area located in West Prussia south of Danzig and near the right bank of the Vistula. In March, 1920, an Inter-Allied Commission was appointed under Article 94 of the Versailles Treaty, so that the rival claims of Germany and Poland could be adjusted. Special postage stamps were prepared and certain German stamps were overprinted. Two inscriptions are noted (a) "Commission Interallié Marienwerder" and (b) "Plebiscite Marienwerder Kwydzyń." The second type was due to the protest of the Poles against the omission of "Kwydzyń" the Polish name for Marienwerder. The area voted to remain German and Aug. 17, 1920, German stamps again became valid.

Masaryk Issue.—The three high values issued in Czecho-Slovakia in 1920, bear a portrait of Pres. Thomas G. Masaryk, who was elected the first president on Nov. 13, 1918.

Ma Slask 2M.—This inscription on stamps of Central Lithuania means "For Silesia 2 marks." Its purpose was to obtain money to help finance the Upper Silesia plebiscite.

Meiji Jingu.—Two stamps comprise this set issued by Japan, Oct. 28, 1920, to celebrate the consecration of a shrine built in memory of the late Emperor Meiji in Yoyogi, Tokyo. The values are 1½ and 3 sen.

Memel.—A seaport town of some 20,000 people on the Baltic, 70 miles northeast of Danzig. Under the treaty of Versailles, Germany renounced all rights and title over this territory and pending decision as to its status French and German stamps were overprinted for use there. The French stamps overprinted "Memel" were for postal use outside the country and the German stamps overprinted "Memel Gebeit" were for internal service only.

Memel Gebeit.—This overprint on stamps of Germany means "Memel District" and was used in connection with all correspondence within the district of Memel and Germany proper. See Memel.

Metered Mail.—This is a name given to a class of mail which requires no postage stamps. It was first used in 1921 and is the product of a machine which is capable of sealing, counting, postmarking, cancelling and stacking envelopes at the rate of 250 per minute. The machine is electrically driven and its use authorized by the U. S. government. It is designed to facilitate the despatch of similar pieces of mail matter, and the mechanism will doubtless displace to a considerable extent the use of postage stamps where large mailings occur.

Montgomery, Ala.—A city for which a provisional envelope was issued during the Civil War and bearing a circular imprint serving the purpose of a stamp.

Stamp News for the Juniors

Is there anything you want to know about stamps or stamp collecting? If so, write the editor. What would you like to see in this department? We have no way of knowing unless you tell us. Mr. Senior Collector, can't you give the boy collector about 50 words of encouragement along practical lines? Address your letter to the Beverly office.

The Ballade of My Little Boy

By SIDNEY BIRD.

Every dealer knows that feeler,
And it fills his heart with joy
When they utter that dull matter
"Gimme them—fer my small boy!"

Two highbrows sat in a dealer's den
And raved of classic stamps,
The ancient kind that blast your mind
While they give you the compound cramps.
They talked in figures of such extent
That light years loom up small.
As they spun out lies of prodigious size—
They should have engaged a ball!

They dragged in flocks of the rarest blocks,
Every one imperforate,
It made no difference at all to them
If they didn't exist in that state!
For instance, Mauritius Number One,
And likewise the Baltimores,
While the janitor hoped they would take a slope
And let him perform the chores.

They deprecated the modern trend
As they poured out a lot of guff, While they warmed the pan and tied the can
To the low-brow picture stuff.
"A lot of junk only fit for kids,
"Or ignorant mutts we could mention—
"It oughta be put on a seta skids,
"And receive no more attention!"

Each one of these public calamities
Wore a similar look of woe,
While he rumbled his hair and breathed a prayer
That the other poor pest would blow.
At last the guy with the largest lie
Picked up and took the gate.
When the other egg got up on his legs
And asked to investigate

A lot of Congos and Bosnias,
With smiles that were cute and coy,
He bought the pictures and called 'em junk,
But he said they pleased his boy.
He grabbed a bundle of Azerbaidjan
And some Chinese locals; Amoy, Hankow, Wuhu, and Chin Kiang,
For Benny, his little boy!

He scuttled a lot of Liberian stuff
With a chortle of "Ship ahoy!"
"Those are dandy boats, and I'm glad to note
"That they'll tickle my little boy!"
He bought the birds from Borneo,
And he grinned like Eddie Foy.
As he beat it, after he'd cleaned the stock
Of pictures—for his little boy!

Every dealer knows the squealer
Who would gold with brass alloy,
When he springs that ancient falsehood
"Gimme them—fer my small boy."

Private Stamps

In Scott's catalogue, under Spain Nos. 491 and 492, we find two labels formerly listed as official stamps of 1875-82. These two labels are private postage stamps, the former, type O3, now listed as F1, having been issued in 1869 (not 1875) for the benefit of Senor Castell, who had written a work entitled "Cartilla Postal de Espana." This work was considered of such general utility that Senor Castell was allowed to send it through the mails without charge and he had the stamps made for "franking" it, though, of course, no stamps were needed at all in reality. A label of similar character is that illustrated in Scott as type F2. This stamp was allowed to be used by Senor A. F. Duro for franking a work—Resena Historico—Descriptiva de los sellos de Correo de Espana—which he had written and which was also considered of public utility. This label was issued in 1881.

Paper No. 4—Quadrille

This paper appears to be watermarked with small squares or rectangles and this effect is produced by the "dandy-roll" being covered with a regular net-work of crossed wires. Any of the large picture stamps of Djibouti or Obock will serve as examples.

Junior Glossary

Para and Piaster.—These words, denoting the values, are the only inscription shown in English characters on some of the issues of Turkey and Egypt. In conjunction with the Star and Crescent design the words show the labels are Turkish while if the design depicts the Sphinx and Pyramid then the stamps are Egyptian. These same words overprinted on British, German, French, etc., stamps distinguish the special issues for the foreign post-offices established in the Levant.

Pen.—Stamps with the value denoted by this word—an abbreviation for "Penni"—belong to Finland.

Peonymhe.—This word, in Greek characters, distinguishes the issue of Russian stamps for the Rethymo district of Crete.

Persane.—Persia.

P. G. S.—An overprint on certain Straits Settlements stamps used as official stamps in Perak. The letters stand for "Perak Government Service."

Porto Gazetei.—The only inscription on some of the early stamps of Roumania.

Postes.—The only inscription, other than that relating to the value, shown on some of the early stamps of Belgium and on the issue for Alsace and Lorraine. The latter have large numerals as the main part of the design while the Belgian labels show a portrait or coat-of-arms.

Preussen.—Prussia.

P. S. N. C.—These letters appear in the corners of the first stamps used in Peru. The stamps were originally issued by the Pacific Steam Navigation Co.

R.—This letter, with new value, was overprinted on some of the French colonial stamps intended for use in Reunion. (2) A letter "R" forms the only "inscription" in English on the locally produced labels for the Indian native state of Jhind.

form only in September, 1926, very few came from the lot dispatched between July 1, 1925, and June 30, 1926; the denomination greatly in demand on use on letters and post cards.

It is therefore assumed, that the ZONE error occurred on No. 18 of lower right pane of each 400 stamp sent to the Isthmus (between July 1924, and June 30, 1925) of the 3c, 10c, 12c and 15c postage, and 1c, 2c, 10c dues.

| No. 18 LR pane, | | | |
|-----------------|------------------|-------------|-----|
| Postage stamps. | 400 stamp sheet. | De-stroyed. | Is. |
| 3c | 500 | 400 | |
| 5c | 1,250 | 1,250 | |
| 10c | 250 | 245 | |
| 12c | 325 | 246 | |
| 15c | 325 | 250 | |
| Postage due. | | | |
| 1c | 75 | None | |
| 2c | 125 | 85 | |
| 10c | 125 | 110 | |
| | 2,975 | 2,586 | |

Of the 5c 1,250 errors were destroyed yet one is known to be in a collection, Washington, D. C. It is rather curious that this sheet of 5c postage, and the due stamp, which came from a Office on the Pacific side of the should reach the States as early as October, 1925. Such a thing as a complete mint sheet of 100 of the 1c stamp should not be in the hands of one outside of the Canal Zone Post system, as sale of due stamps to public has always been prohibited.

The error ZONE ZONE occurred only in the one sharp "A" printing between July 1, 1924, and June 30, 1925, and later printings (subsequent to July 1, 1925), were free from these errors. This is borne out by the figures in above tabulation, else a larger quantity of the 5c error would have been found in the Balboa Heights stock (that from the lot sent out between July 1925, and June 30, 1926).

On April 5, 1926, the 17c Wilson, 20c Golden Gate were issued, with sharp "A" overprint. About the same time the $1 with sharp "A" was released from Balboa Heights. This would indicate that sharp "A" overprint were made for both the vertical and horizontal stamps at about the same time (May, 1925), and that the sharp "A" printings were not released until the stocks exhausted. In December, 1925, the 30c appeared with sharp "A" overprint.

The 2c Liberty Bell, officially issued July 6, 1926 (though prematurely July 4, 1926, at Balboa), was overprinted with the sharp "A" type, but from entirely different overprint plate, due to the larger size of the stamp.

All values of the postage series, except the 3c, 17c and 20c and 2c Liberty exist with the flat "A" overprint; 2c Washington, 2c Liberty Bell, 3c, 10c, 12c, 15c, 17c, 20c, 30c and $1 sharp "A"; and the three due stamps 2c and 10c with both flat and sharp "A". The ½c, 1c, 1½c, 14c and 50c have yet been reported with sharp "A."

ROBBERY AT TORONTO
News has been received that indicates that a serious loss has been sustained by the Marks Stamp Company, 462 Spadina Avenue, Toronto 2, Canada, when the company's store was entered on June 30th or early July 1st and again on Saturday, July 9th, and a heavy toll was taken by the criminals, one or more.
Large stocks of British Colonies, with countries from A to Gold Coast, inclusive, then from Iraq to Mauritius and then, Queensland through to St. Vincent, were stolen, according to circular sent out by the Marks Stamp Company, which lists, as well, one stock book of Canada and Newfoundland and one stock book of foreign, with Danish West Indies, Danzig and Denmark. A reward of one hundred dollars is offered that will lead to the arrest and conviction of the crook and confederates, if any, depending on goods recovered. Further, any "information producing results rewarded." Stamp folks should be on the qui vive as it would certainly be a feather in one's cap to be instrumental in trapping the culprit.

ON THE WING
The Associated Press sent out a dispatch saying that one of the new stamps
of the mandated territory of Palestine
shows the tomb of Rachel, the issue having just been printed in London.

Mr. Allen Burgan, Cincinnati, shows us a wrapper from a newspaper sent from India, that bears instead of the customary four annas stamp, a "permit"
in red, reading "India Postage—4 A—Four Annas." in three lines.

Some time ago, Wm. H. Conkling, the postmaster of Springfield, Illinois, said that the date of the Lindbergh festivities, including the special flight, depended upon the program of Lindy that had been mapped out for him. Incidentally,
Mr. Conkling pays a fine tribute to Mr.
M. T. Mauck of Baltimore by saying that he thinks his air mail envelopes,
showing Lindbergh's likeness within a horseshoe, to each side of which is attached a red wing and above which is:
"New York to Paris," is particularly striking.

Mr. Thomas F. Willock, Peekskill,
New York, says: "In your issue of June 20th, I note that your correspondent, Mr. Edward C. Olds, Rochester,
New York, states that President Buchanan never married. It may be of interest to hear about the following:
"There lived in Pennsylvania a crabbed old widower who had two charming daughters. One was being courted by a divinity student, the other by a poor barrister-at-law. The father of these two girls discouraged these two young men
because of their poverty and poor prospects. The divinity student became a

"GEORGE WALCOTT" MEDAL WINNING U. S. DEPARTMENTS

It gives me great pleasure to announce that I have just purchased the well known collection of United States Departmental Issues gotten together by Mr. George Walcott. This collection, which was awarded a medal at the International Philatelic Exposition, consists entirely of mint specimens, in singles and blocks in various shades.

In the way of singles, there are three to ten copies of each variety, nicely shaded. This includes the State dollar values in the light and dark shades, the Navy error, together with the special print "Specimen" sets all complete from 1c to 90c inclusive. There is a pair of the $2.00 State on the specimen paper, and in the specimen shade, without surcharge, something I have not seen heretofore.

The blocks are truly a superb lot. There is a mint horizontal block of six of the 1c Executive, found a few years back in Washington, the only block of this stamp known. There are blocks of four of the Executive 2c and 10c. I know of but one other block of each. Agriculture, Interior, Post Office, Navy, Treasury, and War are complete in block form on hard paper. This includes the 12c Agriculture, the rare Navy 7c, 24c and 90c, the Treasury 24c and the rare War 1c, 2c, 3c, 6c and 12c, the latter an unusually scarce block. Justice blocks are complete through the 12c with several State blocks, including the $20 with sheet margins on three sides. Most of the soft paper blocks are in the collection, including a superb block of the Treasury 30c. About twelve to fifteen blocks are to be found with "Specimen" overprint.

The collection has been broken, and want lists are solicited. While the rarer blocks have been placed, many of the scarcer ones are still available, together with the singles. These, added to the wonderful lot of used Departments recently purchased and announced, gives me one of the finest stocks of U. S. Official issues now in the hands of any professional.

I also have a wonderful stock of U. S. postage and revenue stamps to offer the particular collector.

I am in the market to purchase fine single items or properties in the way of U. S. postage and revenue stamps.

Remember that the most valuable collection of United States postage (Sinkler Lot), the finest collection of U. S. Revenues (Gibson Lot), the best collection of used Departments (Ackerman Lot), as well as the choicest collection of Mint Departments (Walcott Lot), that have come upon the market in the last few years all passed through my hands.

There must be a reason. If you are about to buy or sell United States stamps, write me.

6c Rotary Perforated 11x10 1/2

Mr. Elmer F. Bodurtha, advises that on mail from Chicago, he has seen a copy of the 6c rotary press, perforated 11x10 1/2. The variety has been known for some time in pre-cancelled condition, but this is the first advice that the stamp is available unused. All denominations from 1c to 10c inclusive are now available.

Purposed new Issues

Mr. L. B. Gatchell, wrote the Post Office Department under date of July 1st, suggesting that the 20c Air Mail stamp be changed to commemorate the air mail flight of Maitland and Hegenberger to Hawaii, and that suitable recognition be given to Byrd, and the Army-Round-the-World flyers, on the other values.

Under date of July 7th, the Acting Third Assistant Postmaster General wrote thanking for the suggestions, but advised that it could not be stated at that time just what action will be possible in this respect. He informed Mr. Gatchell, however, that "It is reasonable to believe that changes in the designs as well as the number of denominations will be made in the future to conform to the development of the air mail service, and the needs that arise."

Mr. William T. Suds, wrote the Department along the line of our suggestion as to further stamps commemorating Revolutionary events, and he received a letter from the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Mr. R. S. Regar, under date of July 1st, which stated that possibly other stamps can be provided later on in connection with the anniversaries of other Revolutionary battles, but that no definite information can be supplied at the present time.

It is to be hoped that the Valley Forge stamp will be one of the further emissions.

Philatelic Stamp Agency

Under date of July 7th, the Information Service of the Post Office Department gave to the press the following announcement for immediate release:—

"The revenues of the Post Office Department were increased by $176,157.95 during the past fiscal year through the sale of stamps to dealers and collectors by the government's Philatelic Agency. As none of these stamps found their way to letters or parcels, the Department, therefore, reaped a clear profit through the transactions. The receipts last year were the largest in the history of the Philatelic Agency, exceeding those of the year previous by $40,282.01.

Since its establishment in December, 1921, the receipts at the Philatelic Agency have averaged a normal annual increase of $10,000. Requests for stamps have come to the agency from all parts of the world and dealers and collectors have kept the employees of the office busy filling orders for them. Naturally, when the Lindbergh air mail stamp was issued by the Post Office Department, the agency was swamped for the time being with requests for this new stamp.

During the meeting of stamp collectors in New York last October, in one week the Philatelic Agency sold $30,000 worth of United States stamps, representing a net profit of this sum to the government."

Air Mail Notes

The Department informs us that the National Air Transport, Inc., contractors of the New York-Chicago air mail route, will not assume operation of that line before August 15th, and probably not until September 1st, but positively by the latter date. The Post Office Department will continue to operate this service until the contract company is ready to take it over.

Mr. W. Irving Glover, Second Assistant Postmaster General, has made arrangements to confer with commercial organizations in Birmingham, Alabama, relative to the proposal for an establishment of a contract air mail service between New Orleans and Atlanta via Mobile and Birmingham.

The Postmaster of Chicago advises that probably on or about September 1st, there is a possibility of the present Chicago-Dallas contract route changing from a day to a night flight status, providing all the necessary lighting facilities can be installed, by that time.

Postmaster General Harry S. New has addressed a letter to the Postmaster General of Mexico, advising him of the intention of this government to inaugurate in the near future a contract air mail service between San Antonio and Dallas, connecting with the through route to Chicago and New York, and asking whether the Mexican Administration is contemplating the establishment of an ARGENTINE REPUBLIC.—The Economist Stamp Co. advises that they have received No. 246 with inverted cancellation. One sheet of 50 was found at the stamps were in use and the others just sold them.

AITUTAKI.—Whitfield King & Co. report the appearance of the 1/2p pictorial design, watermarked N. Z. and stamps.

BELGIUM.—Mr. Henry Hoar sends us copies of three new provisions recently issued: 2c olive, overprint "3c" in red; 15c claret, "10c" in red and the 40c scarlet, "35c" in red. Three short parallel bands obliterate figures of the original value.

CANADA.—We have received a day cover of the 2c green Confederate stamp from Mr. J. D. Cox mailed Upper Stewiacke, N. S., July 1st.

CZECHO-SLOVAKIA.—Further to note of April 16th, Cesky Filatelista reports that the 5 koruny was issued June 1st. The design, which as already reported shows a view of Upper Tatra, was engraved by Mr. K. Seizinger; moss-green.

1.20 Koruny was also issued on same date, showing a view of the event Strahov at Prag; color, violet.

The old stamps of these values remain on issue until the stocks are exhausted.—Philatelic Magazine.

CHILE.—We have received the following from Mr. A. T. Witbeck:—

Referring to the note from Gibbo your column of MEKEEL's for May I am copying below a portion of a letter to Mr. Stanley Phillips under date May 19th.

"Under 'Stamp News in Brief' for current issue, I note that you mention the Official issue of Chile. Mr. I. Palmer is probably correct as to the date of issuance of these stamps as the ones that I received was early in 1926. I have the following:

Type 64, 5c slate-blue overprint inclined 7 1/2° toward the right and horizontal.

Type 49, 10c black and blue overprint in red (Nos. 163 and 173?).

Type 53, 20c black and vermilion overprint in blue.

Type 57, 1p black and bright blue double overprint in red vertical up and down left (cuts inner edge of right and left).

Type 58, 2p black and scarlet overprint in blue, double as in 1p.

It is possible that I have more varieties but in a hurried examination of the sorted stamps, these are all that I found."

"All of these copies came from the Chilean National Library on official applications, so Mr. Palmer is corroborated again."

The numbers and types given in the tract above are all from Gibbo's catalogue.

NETHERLANDS.—The Economist Stamp Co. have shown us the 2 1/2c green, pictorial design, watermarked circles. Whitfield King & Co. report the appearance of a new set of Red Cross stamps five values each bearing the dates "1927" and of different designs. The four values picture the likenesses of different personages and carry the name "Roode Kruis" in addition to the country's name. The other value has a red cross in the upper part of the stamp. Values and shades are 2c red, 3c grey-blue; 7 1/2c bright blue and bright blue and red. The added value to these stamps are 2c to each of the ROUMANIA.—Independence Commemoratives, foretold in our issue of May 14th, are stated, by La Suisse Philatelique, to have been put on sale at the end of May. The values and quantities are as already listed; colours not yet received. The types are illustrated in L'Echo Postal, and appear to be very poorly executed. Our source of information goes on to say that as this quantity printed, 50,000 sets, is not considered sufficient to satisfy all demands, 12,000 sets of the 1926 Birthday Commemoratives have been overprinted. But now the question arises as to where these twelve thousand sets have come from as it was recently announced that this series was completely sold out.—Philatelic Magazine.

SIERRA LEONE.—Mr. R. Roberts reports the appearance of the 5sh green and carmine on pale yellow script watermarked paper. This is a very distinct paper from the first script watermark 5sh, which was on orange-yellow paper.

UNION OF SOUTH AFRICA.—Our Johannesburg correspondent, Mr. J. Robertson, writes (May 11, 1927):—

"I am informed by the Postmaster-General that when the contract with Messrs. Bradbury, Wilkinson & Co., Ltd., expires, the 2d, 3d, 1s, 2s6d, 5s and 10s pictorial postage stamps will be printed by the Government Printer, Pretoria. Such locally printed stamps would, of course, be overprinted for S. W. Africa. The London printed ½d, 1d and 6d pictorial stamps have been overprinted alternately 'SOUTH WEST AFRICA. OFFICIAL OFFISIEEL' and 'SUIDWES AFRIKA. OFFICIAL OFFISIEEL.' These stamps are not sold to the public.

The following summary of stamps which have yet to appear may be of interest. I cannot say exactly when they will appear.

New design postage dues, 2d, 3d, 6d. Pretoria printed ½d, 1d and 6d pictorials overprinted 'OFFICIAL OFFISIEEL.' Pretoria printed 2d, 3d, 1s, 2s6d, 5s and 10s pictorials.—Stamp Collecting.

The Strasbourg Exhibition

THE Palace of the Rhine, formerly the Emperor's Palace at Strasbourg, provided a magnificent setting for the International Philatelic Exhibition just concluded. It was organized in commemoration of the fiftieth anniversary of the Strasbourg Philatelic Society, and was the first show of the kind at which Germany was represented in France since the war. All the halls and galleries of the building were used for the main display, which attracted a constant stream of visitors. But the most wonderful part of the show was described as the "annexe." The greatest gems of four of the most valuable collections were separately displayed in the vaults of the Rhine Bank, which had been specially fitted up for the occasion. Many of the visitors missed the annexe, for the bank is nearly a mile away from the main exhibition. But under the vigilant eyes of detectives in plain clothes and a small posse of policemen, we saw in the bank vaults as choice a selection of the world's greatest stamp rarities as has ever been brought together.

The Burrus Exhibit—It was in this annexe that Maurice Burrus, the Alsatian owner of a collection valued at over 100,000,000 francs, showed his most precious items. It was a surprise to find that he has three "Post Office" Mauritius, the records having hitherto credited him with but two. They were one of the 1d and two of the 2d, all used. But a superb unused pair of the 1d "post paid" in the first state of the plate, and cut with exceptionally large margins, was the most attractive piece among his Mauritius. There was an unused copy of the 4d Ceylon imperforate, a stamp of the greatest rarity, unused. The 2c Hawaii of 1851 was described as unused, and is the copy for which Mr. Burrus paid $3,900 at one of the Ferrari sales. All the other "Missionary" stamps of Hawaii were there. A few pages of the first circular British Guianas of 1851 and the rectangulars of 1856 represented a substantial fortune. The pair of the 2c black on rose of 1851 are the only copies of this rarity which are cut approximately to rectangular shape; the pair cost the present owner $5,250. Among these circular Guianas was a so-called 2c black on blue, said to be an error for the 12c, which is normally on blue paper; it appears to have been caused by the figure 1 having dropped out of the hand stamp when printing the 12c; it is the only copy known, and is on the original envelope of a letter addressed to the Lord Bishop of Guiana, Georgetown.

Fortune on a Firescreen—Mr. Burrus also showed here the unique complete sheet of the rare 3 pfennig Saxony. The sheet, which, along with other copies of the stamp, had been used to decorate a fire-screen in the castle of Königstein, shows signs of the difficulty with which it was recovered.

Among the Theodore Champion's few pages shown in the bank vaults were the choicest specimens known of the first few issues of Mauritius, including very fine copies of the "Post Office." He also showed Hawaii first issue. Mr. Alfred Lichtenstein, of New York, showed about twenty pages of the rare cantonal stamps of Switzerland, with large blocks of the "double Geneva" and others; here was the famous block of fifteen Basle "doves," which, however, is not of so fine, fresh coloring as a beautiful corner block of four shown by Mr. Burrus. Mr. Lichtenstein was awarded the Grand Prix of the exhibition, the vase presented by the President of the Republic, and a silver cup.

Kastler's Collection—Mr. Henry Kastler, of Paris, whose great historical collection of the war of 1870-71 filled many frames in the main exhibition, preferred to show his series of unused complete sheets of the Alsace-Lorraine stamps in the vaults. These sheets were of the 1, 2, 5, 10, 20 and 25 centimes values. An envelope in this collection was used for the covering letter accompanying a packet, value 287,000,000 francs, sent by the Superior President of Alsace-Lorraine to the Imperial Bank of Berlin in part payment of the war indemnity; it is postmarked Strasbourg, March, 1872. The Kastler collection, a mere synopsis of which fills six pages of the official catalogue, was awarded M. Poincaré's medal and a silver cup.

Other Special Awards—Among the other special awards Henry Bauer, of Strasbourg, received the silver vase presented by M. Burrus; P. Marechal, the book presented by the Minister for the Colonies and a vase presented by the town of Strasbourg; M. Benzinger, of Stockholm, Mr. Kastler's trophy; Jacob Sessler, of Nuremberg, the vase given by the Banque du Rhin; Pierre Mavrogordato, Lausanne, an objet d'art presented by Michael van Gelder. For the first time at an international philatelic exhibition, a gold medal was awarded to an aero-stamp collection, that formed by Adolf von Arx, of Locarno.

UNITED STATES

We are constant buyers of United States stamps, spending several thousand dollars every month to keep our stock of these stamps in shape. We have just purchased a very fine collection of both nineteenth and twentieth century, running into five figures and have at present nearly everything in twentieth century in stock, including such items as the blue paper set complete, the 4c and 8c being the finest copies we have ever seen, perfectly centered. We have in stock practically all blocks of the twentieth century.

A want list will receive our best attention and you can rest assured that the majority of the stamps can at the moment be supplied.

If you have not yet got our twenty page U. S. list, we would be very pleased to send it to you upon receipt of your request.

STOP AT HUDSON

My office in this city is but one block from the main state road running from New York to Albany and thence across the State. When passing through Hudson, many motorists avail themselves of the opportunity of inspecting my specialized stock of United States only.

I am located on the corner of Warren and Sixth Streets on the second floor front, and my office is open from 9 to 5, except Saturday afternoons. Telephone appointments for other hours cheerfully made. Office phone 407, home phone 609.

Don't think you have to buy—I just invite all to inspect

CANAL ZONE FOR THOSE WHO "KNOW"

I am just breaking up a very fine little collection of these stamps. There are many errors and varieties from the early issues to the current; some few of which, I believe, are unique. For those who specialize and are interested in the different printings of these stamps, there are sure to be many interesting items. There is also a wealth of material for those who are in the habit of sticking to Scott's catalog price for this material. However, such stamps as Scott's No. 32b, cannot be sold at catalogue quotation. Only 19 or 20 unused copies exist, and there is a horizontal pair of this stamp in this collection.

TELL ME WHAT YOU NEED.

probably exhibited for the first time were two of great interest. One, shown by Audre Matthysens, of Brussels, was a well balanced collection of the early imperforate issues of Uruguay, with some beautiful copies of the "diligencias," and with plate reconstructions of the thin and thick figure issues of 1859-62; this received a silver-gilt medal. The other collection presented within a small compass of three or four frames a magnificent selection of the early Swiss stamps in perfect state, many of the rarest varieties being on the original letter; this was the work of Eric Mermod, of Lausanne, and was awarded a silver-gilt medal.

British Awards—The principal awards to British exhibitors were:—

JOTTINGS

E. O. BARNES of New Orleans, La., sends us a clipping dealing with King Fuad's visit to London. One of the paragraphs mentions the fact that "King George and King Fuad are expected to get their royal heads together over King George's famous stamp collection." It is reported that Fuad has a very fine lot of stamps in his collection.

NEWSPAPERS are telling how the mail matter carried by Byrd was stripped of stamps, and the postal authorities suggest that the letters were water-soaked. This story does not coincide with the condition of the letters, which are reported as being quite dry. Evidently there are stamp collectors who are only amateurs, else they would be aware that the stamps would be of no value unless they were upon the original covers showing the airmail cancellations.

A. E. PADE has returned to New York after an extended trip abroad. He remembered the WEEKLY at various times during his absence. Two items consisted of a New York "Paquebot" marking and a "U. S. Seapost-S. S. Leviathan" postmark.

MAX F. BIER of Brooklyn, N. Y., sailed Saturday, July 16, on the "Majestic" for England. He will return August 10 on the "Homeric".

HAITIAN AIR MAILS

By HARRY E. HUBER.

On April 19, 1927, Port de Paix, on the northern coast of Haiti, about 50 miles to the west of Cape Haitien, was given a weekly air mail service with Port au Prince, the capital, on the Gulf of Gonaves. The dating on first day covers is "Port au Prince, Haiti, 19 AVR 27" within a single lined circle measuring 26mm, with the backstamping of "Port de Paix, Haiti" (between two concentric circles 23 and 12mm) and the date in the center, in 3 lines, 19 AVRIL 27. Both air mail handstamps were applied in carmine, i. e., the first one with the plane above AVION, and the newer one prepared for the De Pinedo air mail of March, 1927, with the plane below AVION. The first Avion cancellation is so badly worn that it is almost indistinguishable.

A weekly air mail service was also inaugurated between Port au Prince and Jeremie, on the northern coast of the southwestern peninsula, on July 12, 1927. The Haitian Government prepared the landing field, and the mails are transported by planes of the American Occupation. The inland air mail letter rate is 50c de g. (i. e. 10c U. S. currency).

The dating on first day covers is "Port au Prince, Haiti", with the date in the center in 3 lines, 12-JUIL-27. This is applied to the postage stamp, and alongside, in blue, is a special marking (45mm wide x 28mm high).

P—HAITI—A

Another special marking, in blue, consists of two concentric circles, 48 and 27mm, respectively, lettered between "PREMIER VOL" at the top, and at the bottom "PORT-AU-PRINCE JEREMIE". In the central circle the Port au Prince postmark is applied again. The Jeremie backstamp is of the usual French town type, "Jeremie, Haiti" between two concentric circles, 23 and 12mm, with the date in the center in 3 lines, "12-JUIL-27".

KRASSA RE-ORGANIZATION

The long established firm of A. Krassa, 116 Nassau St., N. Y. City, has taken on a new lease of life in a re-organization that has just been effected. Mr. Krassa has sold his entire stock of stamps to a new corporation of which he is president, and B. H. Homan, Jr., is secretary and treasurer. The new corporation intends doing business on a larger scale than has been formerly done by Mr. Krassa, who for years has been known to possess a very fine stock of rare postage stamps. Without a doubt the new firm will have something to say to our readers regularly during the coming season.

BENNINGTON and BURGOYNE

Two new stamps will be issued early in August, commemorating the Battle of Bennington and the campaign against Burgoyne. They will be placed on sale on the first day, according to present information, each in two cities. Thus there will be four varieties of first day covers available.

I will supply the four first day covers, and an unused single of each stamp, for only $1.00. If your order reaches me in time the covers will be addressed direct to you. Otherwise they will bear the address of someone else.

5c New York Covers

Covers franked with New York 5c postmaster's stamps, Scott's No. 17, are not very common. The double rate of 10c franked with a pair of two singles makes an interesting piece for any cover collection. Here are three we can offer at prices way below usual figures.

No. 1—A vertical pair on pelure paper, tied to fresh cover with red "PAID" in curve. Borders touched in two places, but not offensively.

No. 2—A horizontal pair on the white paper which gives them an unusually fresh bright appearance. Usual cancellation of two clean-cut pen-strokes.

No. 3—Two full margined copies, tied to buff envelope with red town and grid cancellation.

All three offered at real bargain prices.

TWO KINGS SWAP STAMP YARNS

The following article appeared in the New York Times of July 10th, and will be welcomed by readers who do not see Mr. Crane's philatelic contributions to the great New York newspaper, the Times:—

"In connection with the recent visit of King Fuad of Egypt to King George of England at Buckingham Palace, Charles J. Phillips of 10 West Eighty-sixth St., who retired as head of a large London stamp firm a few years ago, said yesterday that although not generally known, King Fuad ranks as one of the greatest stamp collectors in the world. Among members of royalty interested in that hobby, Mr. Phillips places King George and the ruler of Egypt as the leaders, although King Alfonso of Spain also has a noteworthy collection.

'King George has been interested in stamps since he was a midshipman in the specializes in Great Britain and the British possessions and he undoubtedly has the finest collection of those stamps in the world. His collection is probably worth $2,000,000. King Fuad, on the other hand, is a general collector but on a very large scale and his stamps are probably worth more than $1,000,000.'

The King of Egypt has one of the best collections in the world of stamps of the Confederate States, the nucleus of which is the famous collection formerly owned by Gerald E. Curtis of Garrison-on-the-Hudson. How that celebrated collection left America to find a home in a royal Egyptian palace is thus described by Mr. Phillips:

'It was in 1919 when I was in New York on one of my business visits that I purchased the Curtis collection of Confederates. I had previously sold many rare stamps to King Fuad and on my return to London I notified him of my recent purchase. To my surprise he sent me a cable asking that the entire collection be sent to him at once, and later I ascertained that he was delighted with it.

It is interesting to know that King Fuad was one of the first great collectors of the world to recognize the historical value of the stamps issued by the Confederate States during the Civil War period. He found in the Curtis collection many examples of the difficulties encountered in the South during the war owing to the shortage of paper and ink. Many of the stamped envelopes used by the soldiers showed that, after being received, they had been carefully turned and used a second time. There were also many envelopes made of wall paper and sheets from old account books.'

A member of the London firm with which Mr. Phillips was connected spent several months in one of the Egyptian royal palaces compiling King Fuad's collection and mounting the best part of it in thirty albums."

MR. GLOVER ENCOURAGES ENTERPRISE

The suggestion of Commander Richard E. Byrd for a combined ship and airplane service across the Atlantic involving the meeting of incoming ships 500 or 1,000 miles at sea and the overhauling of outgoing ships with last-minute passengers and mail is not a new one, according to Second Assistant Postmaster General Glover, in charge of air mail and transportation.

For nearly two years the Post Office Department has been trying to interest aviation concerns in the proposition, but as yet has not received sufficient encouragement to warrant the calling for bids.

Similar services have been in operation by the Department for four years between New Orleans, La., and the mouth of the Mississippi, and for seven years between Seattle, Washington, and Victoria, B. C. Each of these routes saves from 24 to 48 hours in the handling of mail and in the case of outgoing mail which misses a steamer in either of the ports, the airplane service, by catching the vessel, often saves a week or more in time.

It has been the desire of Mr. Glover to inaugurate a similar service out of the port of New York, using seaplanes which could land in the water far out to sea and take on mail and passengers from incoming ships and overhaul outgoing vessels with foreign-bound letters and passengers. The Department has the funds with which to enter into contract for such a service and as soon as contractors can be found willing to bid on it, bids will be asked for, Mr. Glover said.

A service charge, the amount of which has not yet been worked out, would be added to the regular postage rate on the proposed service. No such charge is made on the present routes out of New Orleans and Seattle, but it would be necessary on an Atlantic service because of the greater distance and the increased hazards.

Another proposition under consideration by the Department is the proposal to operate this service from Newfoundland or New Brunswick, catching the trans-Atlantic liners as they round the great circle in the vicinity of those lands,
and connecting with a land air service
between Newfoundland or New Brunswick and New York. This would save even more time than the other proposal,
but would involve the establishment of an international air service, for which funds could not at this time be diverted.

STAMPS AS SEDATIVES

(The following article is taken from the Kalends of the Waverly Press, a magazine
published by the Williams & Wilkins Co., Baltimore, Md. We are indebted to B. Durell of Worcester, Mass., for the clipping.)

STAMP collecting has been well called the king of hobbies and the hobby
of kings, for no other hobby is comparable with it in the universality of its scope and the diversification of the personnel of its devotees. Geographically,
it embraces every portion of the earth;
and in the social scale it ranges from King George of England and multi-millionaires to schoolboys the world over.
It has been one of my major hobbies for many years, and I was more than pleased with the fine editorial concerning this hobby which appeared in our Annals of Clinical Medicine. This journal is publishing a series of delightful editorials
under the caption of "Recreations for Physicians"; number III is entitled "The Sedatives of Stamp Collecting". The genial author so well expresses my views upon this hobby that I can't refrain from quoting him:

"In late Winter and early Spring, when premature thaws and blizzards succeed
one another on twenty-four hours' schedule, and the pulse of life is running low and hope is deferred, and nerves are on the ragged edge — in that time of the seasons that corresponds to the low-tide
vitality of the hour just before the dawn,
the death-hour of popular superstition—
then one often needs a recreation or rest period that is really sedative in character, one that will soothe jumpy nerves and not stimulate. I have found that stamp-collecting offers such a sedative action.

The habit of collecting material objects and the mental pleasure derived from such collections constitute one of the most deeply inborn instincts of the human animal, shared with only a few other animals, particularly highly developed birds. It is the instinct evolving out of the ability of the protoplasm to rise above its environment, to assert itself, to have, hold, and possess other material substance in quantity and variety.

The writer counts among some of his happiest recollections the middle years of his adult life, when on Sunday evenings,
before the study fireplace, with February or March blizzards howling without,
his children and himself at a common table, each with his own stampbook and pile of unplaced stamps, saucer of water, blotters, box of stamp hinges, and the latest stamp catalogue for reference,
spent the pre-bedtime hours in such restful mechanical manipulations."

With such sentiments I am sure that millions of stamp collectors will agree.
My own modest collection contains about 7500 varieties, and thus far has cost me about four hundreds of dollars. As I have had thousands of dollars' worth of pleasure, this cost is extremely low.
Then, too, I have had some rather curious experiences. I recall that during the world war I answered a letter appearing in the London Times which requested an exchange of stamps. The address given was "Johore, Straits Settlements, via Singapore, Malay Archipelago." The letter which I received in reply was eighteen months in transit;
the Singapore postmark being dated June 10, 1916, and the Baltimore postmark having the date of December 6, 1917. As METROPOLITAN STAMP CO., 1482 BROADWAY, N. Y. C.

NEW TURKS & CAICOS, 1928

By HARRY E. HUBER.

On June 25, 1923, H. E. Phillips, formerly Asst. Colonial Secretary at Belize, British Honduras, arrived at Grand Turk, and assumed the government of the Dependency, succeeding G. Whitfield Smith, O. B. E., retired. From the start Mr. Phillips was opposed to the antiquated system of collecting public fees, in cash, instead of by stamps, as in British Honduras, and in most other Colonies. A change has been under consideration for some time, and action would have been taken in 1926 had not other more important matters required attention. The Dependency had not recovered from the effects of the storm of July 24, 1926, when the hurricane of September 16, 1926, completely devastated both the Turks and the Caicos Islands, and later, the Bahamas and Florida.

At a meeting of the Legislative Board of the Turks & Caicos Islands, held in the Council Chamber at Grand Turk, on March 25, 1927, a Bill providing for the collection of public fees by means of stamps was unanimously passed. H. E. the Governor of Jamaica, Sir R. E. Stubbs, assented on April 11th, the Large Seal of Jamaica was affixed, and on 7th May, Ordinance No. 6 of 1927 was spread on the laws of the Dependency. Turks & Caicos Islands. Ordinance No. 6 of 1927.

I assent.
(L. S.) Signed, R. E. STUBBS, Governor.
11th April, 1927.

An Ordinance of the Legislative Board of the Turks & Caicos Islands to provide for the collection of Public Fees by means of Stamps.
7th May, 1927.

Be it enacted by the Legislative Board of the Turks and Caicos Islands as follows:—

1. Short Title.
This Ordinance may be cited as the Public Fees Collection Ordinance 1927.
2. Fees collected by Stamps.
It shall be lawful for the Commissioner from time to time, to declare and direct, by Order to be published in the Gazette, that from and after the time specified in such Order, all or any of the fees, for the time being, payable in any Court of Justice or Public Department or Office connected with the Public Service, or to any Officer thereof respectively in aid of the General Revenue of the Dependency, shall be collected by means of stamps, and from and after the time specified in any such order or notice, the fees therein mentioned shall be received by such stamps as are equivalent to the amount of fees payable, and not in money.

3. Stamps affixed or impressed.
When any fee comprised in any such order or notice is payable in respect of a document, the stamp or stamps equivalent to the amount of the fee shall be affixed or impressed on such document, and when such fee is payable otherwise than in respect of a document, the stamp or stamps equivalent to the fee shall be affixed in a book or otherwise, as may be provided by any order of the Commissioner.

4. Cancellation.
It shall be the duty of the Officer to whom any such fee is payable, to cancel the stamp or stamps which represent such fee, in such manner as may be directed by the Commissioner.

5. Dies or Stamps.
The Commissioner may take all necessary steps to provide suitable dies or stamps for the purposes of the Ordinance.

6. Orders.
The Commissioner may make all such orders as may be necessary to give effect to this Ordinance.

7. Fees not payable by public officers acting on behalf of the public service.
Whenever by any practice, rule, law or ordinance any fee is payable in a Court of Justice, or Public Department, or Office connected with the Public Service, or to any Officer thereof respectively, in aid of the General Revenue of the Dependency, such fee shall not be payable by a public officer when acting on behalf of the Public Service and in the discharge of his duty.

Provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall affect the liability of a party, other than a Public Officer acting in the discharge of his duty, for the payment of such fees when they constitute or form part of the costs awarded in any legal proceedings, civil or criminal.

Passed the Legislative Board this 25th day of March, 1927.

Signed, CLIF. G. DARRELL,
Clerk of the Board.

Signed, H. E. PHILLIPS,
President.

A new series of stamps, inscribed Postage and Revenue, therefore becomes a necessity, and will be brought into issue early in 1928. Stamps of 5s and 10s denominations will doubtless be included in the series, in addition to those in the current Crown type (½d to 3s).

A peculiarity of the King George stamps of Turks and Caicos Islands, issued April 1, 1913, is that the Imperial Crown was not incorporated in the design. The stamps were line engraved and printed on Roman CA watermarked paper, colored papers being used for the 3d and 4d (on yellow), 2s (on green), and 3s (on red). A new value, 5d olive green, was added to the series on May 18, 1916.

Between January 2, 1917, and December 31, 1919, a war tax of 1d was imposed on letters intended for the British Empire, and 3d on parcels arriving in and leaving the Dependency. The 1d and 3d postage stamps were overprinted WAR TAX, either locally or in London.

On April 23, 1921, the white paper stamps of the series (½d, 1d, 2d, 2½d, 5d, 6d and 1s) were issued in script CA watermarked paper, along with the ¼d in the Melocactus communis type.

In 1921, sanction was given by the Colonial Office to the design being modified to permit the insertion of the Imperial Crown, and stamps in the "Cayman Islands head" type were issued November 20, 1922. All but the 2s (on green), and 3s (on red) were script CA watermarked; the exceptions being on Roman CA watermarked paper. On script green the 2s was issued November 24, 1925, along with a new value, 1½d red, for use on foreign post cards. The ¼d changed in color from red to black, on script CA, was issued October 11, 1926.

The government of the Turks and Caicos Islands, a dependency of Jamaica, is administered by a Commissioner as chief executive, who is also President of the Legislative Board. This Board controls local finances and expenditures, subject to the approval of the Governor of Jamaica, and comprises, in addition to the Commissioner, three official members (Asst. Commissioner, Govt. Medical Officer and the Supt. of Public Works), and four unofficial members appointed by the Crown (two from Grand Turk, one from Salt Cay, and one from the Caicos settlements.) Laws passed by the Legislative Council of Jamaica which are in express terms made applicable to the Turks & Caicos Islands, take effect there. The Supreme Court of Judicature of Jamaica has jurisdiction in matrimonial and divorce cases, and has been constituted a Court of Appeal from the Supreme Court of the Dependency.

The estimated population of the Dependency on December 31, 1923, was 5697 (Turks 1912, and Caicos 3785), the white population of 200 being comprised almost entirely of the descendants of Bermudians.

EDITORIAL

The philatelic news reel this week is as full of features that rise above the general level of interest as an editorial is of "we's." A succession of tidings more glad than otherwise keeps the eye that would rove vacation-ward at this time of year glued on the philatelic stage. So be it; and we anticipate the time when philately will have "it" over all other avocations, asides or avenues that have a collecting objective. The news that France will issue special stamps to celebrate the return of the Legion has been widely circulated by the Associated Press but even so, we have place for Professor R. Rouband's letter from Paris: "I cannot tell you of the clichés at this writing, but I do want to say that French collectors are aimablement that France took this means to glorify the men who came to us in time of need."

The post office department has distributed circulars announcing that two new commemorative two cent stamps will be issued soon after August 1st, 1927, to be known as the Vermont Sesquicentennial and the Burgoyne Campaign stamp, respectively. Descriptions of the stamps are given and orders for them are being booked by the Philatelic Agency. The Burgoyne stamp will be of the size of the special delivery stamps and will be fifty to the sheet, while the Vermont stamp will run one hundred to the sheet. The stamps will not be issued imperforate.

The following letter from Mr. Milo C. Reynolds, Burlington, Vermont, is timely: "The new Bennington (Vt.) Commemorative will be issued officially about August 6th. While all of us do not collect first-day covers, there are many who have gone in for this sort of thing. Several days ago, I saw the Bennington postmaster, Frank E. Howe, and explained the desires of collectors in getting first day covers of this stamp. He is very enthusiastic about the stamp being issued to commemorate the Battle of Bennington and will be glad to co-operate with the stamp collectors in furnishing first-day covers or unused stamps. Already, he has received orders for several thousand dollars' worth and expects to receive the supply several days previous to the day of issue. Address your envelopes and send, together with required amount of money, to Postmaster, Bennington, Vermont, and the stamps will be affixed and mailed on the first day of issue. Send money order or coins, and not personal checks. Postmaster Howe gave me the assurance that all such orders would receive careful attention and that they would be attended to on the first day. If collectors want, say, five covers, send the five addressed envelopes together with a ten-cent piece. The postmasters are not required to put stamps on letters, but the Bennington postmaster will be glad to do so with this commemorative stamp as a courtesy to collectors."

From Mr. E. M. Ash, Jatibonico del Sur, Cuba, news comes of a prospective commemorative issue for Cuba, Mr. Ash writing as follows: "The Cuban Government announces that a series of stamps of a total face value of three hundred and fifty-two thousand dollars (U. S. Cy.) will be issued to commemorate the sixth Pan American Conference, which will be held in Havana in January of the year 1928. Each stamp will be of one color and the proceeds of this issue, after the deduction of the cost of preparation, printing, etc., will be dedicated to the expenses of the Conference, which it is thus hoped to defray. 1 centavo, 1,000,000 stamps; 2 c., 1,500,000; 5 c., 500,000; 8 c., 125,000; 10 c., 500,000; 13 c., 250,000; 20 c., 250,000; 20 c., 250,000; 30 c., 150,000; 50 c., 100,000 and $1, 50,000 stamps. The plates used for the printing will be destroyed as soon as these quantities have been made." Incidentally, Mr. Ash uses an imperforate pair of the current one centavo of Cuba as postage on his letter.

Mr. F. Ciampolini, New York, sends for inspection a card that was carried by Chamberlin, pilot of the Columbia, in his special flight, Munich to Vienna, on June 19th, 1927. Two red cachets were applied officially, one reading, "U.

S. Airplane-Columbia-18, 6, 1927, and the other, "19, 6, 1927". This is an interesting souvenir of an occasion that was of great sentimental interest.

The enterprising postmaster of Springfield, Ill., Mr. Wm. H. Conkling, has sent us the following notice: "I have just received notice that Lindbergh will be here on the 15th of August, at which time our Special Flight will take place, and we will use the Special Postmark approved by the second assistant postmaster general, and at which time we will dedicate 'Lindbergh Field'." From the latest issue of the Postmark, issued monthly by the Post Office, Springfield, Ill., we quote: "On April 15th, 1926, Col. Chas. A. Lindbergh made his first flight as Air Mail Pilot from Chicago to Peoria, Springfield and St. Louis, returning the same day from St. Louis to Springfield, Peoria and Chicago, and carried the first Air Mail between these cities." Incidentally, there has been an augmented demand for these covers carried by Lindbergh on this first flight, but it is safe to say that there is not a ghost of a chance that Lindbergh or Postmaster Conkling would autograph any of the envelopes after the fact, if, indeed, there was any thought that they would do so. Even so, these unsigned first flight Lindberghs now have an additional interest.

The newspapers have not been slow to recognize the human interest associated with the philatelic proclivities of King George of Great Britain and King Fuad of Egypt. Many comments have been made on the kinship as well as kingship of stamp collectors, and philately, basking in the favor of these august personages, is elevated to a high plane in the minds of the populace. In the New York Times of Sunday, July 10th, we find a great story of King Fuad's philatelic activities that is based on the experiences of Mr. Charles J. Phillips with that royal patron, which is of engrossing interest and for the benefit of those who have not read it, we are making place for it elsewhere. Mr. Phillips, it may be added, is mighty good copy. Too, space must be granted the following editorial from the Baltimore American of July 16th: "Stamps. — Kings who collect them might do worse. King George of England has one of the largest collections of rare postage stamps in the world. It was recently the object of great interest to King Fuad of Egypt, himself a collector. Some people have poked fun at the fad of stamp collecting and have called it everything from silly to wasteful. But it has millions of devotees. Many kings have been known to collect things even more expensive. They collected ideas of divine right, class tinction, personal aggrandizement, ordination of the people and imperial King George has stuck to postage stamps as his sole collection. He is very w

Mr. Theodore Siddall, Shanghai, China, tells us that the $5 Chinese stamp withdrawn from use two or three years ago has been replaced in use and is now common, to quote his exact words. He reports that another Chinese stamp, Kirin, with a surcharge much that for Yunnan, is represented by an overprinted set, 1/2c to $5, and that new overprinted values of the Chinese set, 9 cent on 10 cent and 14 cent on 15 cent, are likely to make their appearance in due time.

HERE AND THERE

Mr. John A. Klemann, New York, passed through Chicago on his way to the Pacific Coast and spent several days in visiting friends there.

Mr. Charles J. Rose, Maywood, Ill., is spending a vacation in Wyoming and other western states, far from the haunts of stamp folks.

Mr. Warren H. Colson, Boston, stopped in Chicago for a few days on his trip to California, and foregathered with friends.

Mr. H. M. Bringhurst, Canton, Ohio, was a recent visitor to Chicago, where he gave a good account of activities in his home sector.

Mr. F. G. Browne, once of Chicago, has returned to Los Angeles, where he expects to establish his headquarters.

The friends of Mr. Fred H. Griswold, associate editor of Commerce, Chicago, will be pleased to hear that he is recovering from an operation.

Mr. A. B. Kunderd, Goshen, Indiana, was in Chicago for a short stay recently where he conferred with some of the local clan.

Mr. G. deLachasse, Avignon, France, perhaps our oldest subscriber, sends greetings to friends in this country and regrets that he will not attend the St. Louis convention but he anticipates a trip to Algiers.

Mr. Asa L. Hall, New York, has proved to us that the day of finds is not past, by showing three pairs and several single 5c brown of 1847 that he annexed en route from that city by auto to the west. An old home and "Tourists Accommodated" were the happy combination.

Canada will start an air mail service in September between Rimouski, on the St. Lawrence river, and Montreal, Ottawa and Toronto.

Soon, the Advance Sheets of the new catalogue will have the floor, and it is safe to say that the new catalogue will be bigger than ever before.

and I expect to be away during that period. Any correspondence of importance, however, will be taken care of and forwarded to me. I will be in St. Louis from Aug. 14th to 19th and my address will be Marquette Hotel, 18th and Washington Ave. A.P.S. members that cannot attend the Convention I will be pleased to represent if they will forward to me their proxies.

12 5 FR. AND 10 FR. STRASBOURG SHEET

The bi-monthly list of offers issued by J. T. Wilson, Birmingham, Eng., dated July-Aug., is one of the most attractive of the firm has printed. A story of the Strasbourg Exhibition is distributed as supplement and we quote this paragraph dealing with the 5fr and 10fr combination from the pen of Frank E. Wilson:—
"The Brussels Exhibition of 1924 marked a new era in the history of stamp exhibitions by the issue of a special sheet of 5fr stamps, to obtain which it was necessary to purchase an admission ticket to the exhibition. This brilliant idea caught on at once and was repeated at the exhibitions of the Hague 1924 and Paris 1925, also in New York 1926. Purists may object to the idea from the philatelic point of view as being speculative and unnecessary, but the system has certain undoubted advantages. It unquestionably provides an excellent advertisement for philately and also the 'sinews of war' which, alas, are necessary for all exhibitions. The issue of Strasbourg was given out to be 10,000 sheets of very neat small size, with a 5fr blue and a 10fr red stamp, inscribed between the two stamps 'Strasbourg 1927'. The neat and attractive design of the current type French (Sow-r) stamps being used. 50,000 admission tickets @ 3fr equals the respectable sum of 150,000fr, a very useful addition to the finances of an exhibition, which might otherwise cause some sleepless nights to those responsible. Last but not least, Madam La Republique nets the not inconsiderable sum of 750,000fr (less the rifling cost of printing) by appealing to what possibility of a profitable little flutter which surely is ingrained in most of us! But Que voulez vous?"

OUR BOOK REVIEW

The Postage Stamps of the Irish Free State published by A. E. Hopkins, 3 George St., Bath, England, has passed through four editions and now appears in a fifth edition revised and completed to June, 1927. The book is freely illustrated and any student of these stamps will do well to remit 2sh for a copy. A specialty has been made of illustrations of settings and enlarged reproductions of individual overprints. The Sinn Fein propaganda labels are listed, priced and illustrated.

SLOGANS, CANCELS, ETC.
By SEVARD.

Some of the German automatic permits have begun to enter their hour in railroad style as 18-19, meaning 6 to 7 P. M. Previously the time was printed with the usual hourly schedules with a V for A. M. and an N for P. M. German students can dope that out for you. Ask me another.

The Ford Motor Co. and the Standard Oil Co. hither and yon seem to have standardized on the Standard box meter. The race is on, it appears, between the different meter companies.

The Let's Go slogan will soon be gone. Have you the slogan tucked away, or the best one in the series,—the Chicago Air Mail machine with the Let's Go slogan?

The recent controversy over the market possibilities of air mail covers has had effect. Someone writes and asks if such and such a cover is worth a hundred dollars. The trouble with price publicity is that everyone has rarities but no one the common 15c Air Mail stamp for sale.

A dealer complains of the summer slump. Having read the index of the Alexander Hamilton business course, we can resolutely advise that this slump is unnecessary. All one has to do is to issue a new catalogue in July instead of September or October.

The little letters in machine cancels, C, D, R and T, mean Collect, Drop, Received and Transit, respectively. They were so common ten years ago, yet many of the newer collectors have been pondering over them. For some time, Rochester, N. Y., had a P in its machine. Some net sending coins in the mail evidently busted the R in the machine.

Snooper, the Stamp Fiend, has shown us a cover with a block of eight, a block of ten and a single 12c 1857, all on the self same cover, cancelled like a dream, and all except one superb. If that one stamp hadn't been torn, we would have been interested.

And then there were 24c and 3c and 10c 1857's in strips and blocks and jagged puzzles and STEAM and WAX daubed normal, invert, double invert and upside down backwards. We would have bought these but no one asked us to.

Hannibal, Wisconsin, has a nice 4th class mark with straight bars. One seldom sees one these days.

Los Angeles used green ink with its Return to Sender machine, which easily attracts attention over the usual magenta.

Nearly every railroad now has perforated initials in their stamps. Those who have completed the R. P. O. and R. M. S series can now continue their hobby. We will never forgive the railroads for perforating their stamps or their convention railroad tickets.

NINETEENTH CENTURY

These stamps—particularly the early "classics"—are not easily featured in advts. So much depends on the actual condition of the specimens offered that priced offerings are apt to be misunderstood. I, therefore, usually price only my modern Colonials when advertising.

Collectors should, however, bear in mind that I hold one of America's most valuable stocks of Nineteenth Century British Colonials, and that my stock, as far as condition is concerned, is surpassed by no other.

Special selections prepared, and want lists solicited.

SUBSCRIPTION RENEWALS

Some of our subscribers need to know our rule regarding discontinuances. We discontinue all subscriptions in arrears promptly the second issue of each month. This means that your subscription should be renewed prior to expiration. The expiration number can be ascertained by consulting your wrapper. No free copies of the WEEKLY are sent out and this rule is as fixed as the laws of the M. and P. Our older subscribers understand our rule and the newer subscribers should get acquainted with it.

Stamp News for the Juniors

Is there anything you want to know about stamps or stamp collecting? If so, write the editor. What would you like to see in this department? We have no way of knowing unless you tell us. Mr. Senior Collector, can't you give the boy collector about 50 words of encouragement along practical lines? Address your letter to the Beverly office.

VISIONS OF BOYHOOD

Here is a real cartoon for our Juniors to study. Suppose you write us a letter and tell us what is happening, but don't forget the stamp album when writing your letter. Prize awards will be made. We thank the Dearborn Independent for use of cartoon.

A Contest for the Juniors

Look this issue of our paper through and then write us which advt. is the most attractive and best written and why. Send not over 50 words. There are several stamp prizes that await the contestants and some of the answers will be printed on this page. A small ad may be just as good as a big one. Get busy, Juniors.

Paper No. 5—Porous

The soft, porous paper which distinguishes certain United States stamps printed by the American Bank Note Company from similar stamps printed by the Continental Bank Note Company is a wove paper, but owing to the fact that the mesh on the "dandy-roll" was somewhat coarse, the paper appears to be watermarked with numerous tiny dots. The 5c Garfield stamp of 1882 is a common variety which only exists on the soft porous paper.

The Canberra Commemorative

This handsome stamp proclaims the opening of the Parliament House at Canberra, Australia. The design was one of 1,055 submitted and was awarded first honors and $500 in cash. 15,000,000 were printed, enough for every collector to have one.

Soaking Paper from Stamps

Vernon Smith does not take kindly to hot water as a means of taking stamps from paper. He finds that hot water has faded the 2c Huguenot Walloon, Lexington-Concord, Sesqui and White Plains stamp. He writes:—"I suggest that you tell the juniors to use cold water and be patient. Cold water sets the color, while hot is apt to do the reverse."

FOR THE BEGINNER

The new collector will find a wealth of information in the "STAMP COLLECTOR'S GUIDE" published by us at the low price of $1.00. It Answers Your Every Question. Severn-Wylie-Jewett Co., Beverly, Mass.

How to Form a Stamp Club

The first step is to hold an informal meeting, at which as many local collectors as possible should be induced to attend. The organizers of this meeting should write, 'phone, or personally call on such collectors as are known to the club and a good way to reach any others is to induce the Editor of the local newspaper or newspapers to publish a letter on the following lines:—

SIR:—It is proposed to form a Society in this town for the promotion of the study and collection of postage stamps. A meeting will be held on..... to consider the desirability of forming such a Society and should the proposal meet with the wish of those present, to take the necessary steps for the inauguration of the Society. Anyone interested in stamp collecting is cordially invited to attend this meeting and those unable to do so but who would be willing to join the Society if formed are invited to place themselves in communication with

Yours very truly,

Secretary, pro tem.

At the inaugural meeting a Chairman must be chosen and it is as well to have decided on this gentleman beforehand.

The Chairman's duties are to make the necessary introductory remarks as to the desirability of forming a local Society, at the conclusion of which he should propose a resolution in the following terms:—

"That in the opinion of this meeting it is desirable that a Philatelic Society should be formed in....."

This resolution having been duly seconded, put to the meeting, and formally approved of, steps can be taken right away for the formation of the Society. Either a provisional committee can be formed from members present to draw up the necessary rules for the conduct of the Society and to suggest the necessary officers, or the officers can be elected right away and to them can be entrusted the task of making the rules, which can be formally agreed to at a future meeting.

The officers should consist of a President, Vice President, Secretary, Treasurer and Sales Manager. Care should be taken that suitable persons are appointed, for to the first officers the success or failure of the undertaking will be due. Especial care should be taken to elect a good Secretary, for, as a rule, much of the organization and most of the work of the Society falls to this officer.

The rules should be as few and simple as possible, for a start at any rate, for of course it is always possible to amplify or amend these at any future date.

The following short list will probably serve as a guide:—

1. Name of Society.—This Society shall be known as "The..... Philatelic Society."

2. Objects.—The objects of this Society shall be to promote the study and collection of postage stamps; the bringing together of local collectors; and mutual assistance on all matters appertaining to the hobby.

3. Membership.—Any local collector is eligible for membership and applica-

The Society having been duly formed,
the officers elected, and the rules drawn up the next step is to make arrangements for the programme to be followed during the ensuing season. The preparation of this will probably fall on the Secretary
as he should prevail upon as many members as possible to show portions of their collections, take part in discussions on philatelic matters, etc. In the case of local Society where the membership is likely to be limited, it is a good plan to take some country for purposes of study at each meeting and invite every member to bring all the stamps he has of that country so that notes can be compared, knotty points discussed, and duplicates exchanged.

OUR HONOR CLUB
Mr. W. Angers, Springfield, Mass.
and W. Savage, Worcester, Mass.
Mr. Angers, who this week joins the Honor Club, is well known to our readers
as especially those interested in air mail
stamps. He has been a most loyal advocate of this philatelic specialty. We thank him for his check for $5 for membership
in the Club.
We are also glad to enter the name of
Mr. W. Savage, 17 Piedmont St., Worcester, Mass., a member of the A.S. and the S.P.A. Mr. Savage writes us that he has only one fault to find with the WEEKLY, and this does not pertain to our reading matter but to advertising. He queries, "Why do I never see any Sarawak items? Hasn't anyone got any?" We hope that some of our advertisers will show what they can do in Sarawak offerings.

THE MANAGING EDITOR.

Gibbons Catalogue, 1928

We have now received a definite official ruling
that the importation of our priced Catalogue of Postage Stamps into the United States, in its present form is illegal, a matter on which we have hitherto been in doubt.

As the preparation of the new edition is too far advanced for us to do anything this year in the matter of cancelling the illustrations, we regret to inform the many users of our Catalogue in the United States that we shall be unable to accept orders for
this catalogue, and that none will be despatched by
us to addresses in the United States of America.

HAITI - DE PINEDO

By HARRY E. HUBER.

On Feb. 13, 1927, Col. Francesco de Pinedo started on his four-continent flight, from Cagliari, Sardinia, Italy, flying first to Africa and South America;
thence to the United States via Haiti and Cuba, and back to Italy, via Canada, Newfoundland and the Azores. His flight of approximately 48,000 miles was concluded on June 16th, when he arrived at Ostia, at the mouth of the Tiber, about 15 miles from Rome.

Before he reached Port au Prince, the Haitian postal authorities inquired of the Italian Charge d'affaires if Commander
de Pinedo would be willing to take a small air mail to the United States, and receiving an affirmative reply, public announcement was made.

A special cancelling stamp was prepared with AVION above a plane (the old one used for the inland air mails has the plane and AVION in reversed positions), and this was applied in violet to both the postage stamps and the cover.
Ordinary postage stamps were used without any overprint, and the inland air mail rate of 50c de g. was charged in addition to the regular letter rate to the United States of 10c de g.

The postal cancellation is in black,
"Port au Prince, Haiti" (inside a single lined circle, measuring 26mm) with the date in three lines in the center, 28 MAR 27, and in addition, the covers were rubber stamped in violet, "Le Cafe D'Haiti est le meilleur" (Haitian coffee is the best in the world).

When Commr. de Pinedo arrived at Port au Prince, and the mail was delivered to him, he refused to take it, saying that practically every time he had carried mail, he had met with mishap.

It has been reported that the special marking was applied to all mail deposited on the day of Commr. de Pinedo's arrival, to commemorate his passing through, but as a matter of fact, it was applied only to the air mail which had been prepared to go by De Pinedo's plane. The postal administration has been criticised for announcing that a mail would be carried,

but the fault was not theirs, inasmuch as they had the assurance of the Italian Charge d'affaires that the mail would be accepted.

American Goodwill Tour, 1927.

Early in the year, the American Goodwill flyers started on their tour of Central and South America, covering in all about 18,500 miles. When they passed through Port au Prince in April, 1927, on their return from South America, they accepted a small air mail for the United States, 93 letters in all. I have not yet seen these covers and cannot give particulars of the postal and special markings applied.

Embarrassing Moments

"Last week while I was in a friend
stamp dealer's office, I scribbled down
some figures on a small scrap of paper, computing what I was going to bid on some genuine picked 2c browns.
After jotting down figures to my satisfaction, I tore up the slip of paper,
and one can imagine my embarrassment when the dealer told me I had torn up a block of four of a stamp
he referred to as the 5c 1847. We both laughed at my mistake."—R. M. S.

From the Lips of Babes

"When the Liberty Bell stamp was issued, my daughter, aged 3, noticed the copy I had purchased, and called my attention to the bell on the stamp.
'Look, Daddy,' she said, 'there's a crack
in the bell. Why is that?' I immediately explained to the little darling that the bell cracked when it rang to make us free. 'How could it ring to make us free,' she replied, 'when there are only two of us?'—R. F. D.

"GEORGE WALCOTT" MEDAL WINNING U. S. DEPARTMENTS

It gives me great pleasure to announce that I have just purchased the well known collection of United States Departmental issues gotten together by Mr. George Walcott. This collection, which was awarded a medal at the International Philatelic Exposition, consists entirely of mint specimens, in singles and blocks in various shades.

In the way of singles, there are three to ten copies of each variety, nicely shaded. This includes the State dollar values in the light and dark shades, the Navy error, together with the special print "Specimen" sets all complete from 1c to 90c inclusive. There is a pair of the $2.00 State on the specimen paper, and in the specimen shade, without surcharge, something I have not seen heretofore.

The blocks are truly a superb lot. There is a mint horizontal block of six of the 1c Executive, found a few years back in Washington, the only block of this stamp known. There are blocks of four of the Executive 2c and 10c. I know of but one other block of each. Agriculture, Interior, Post Office, Navy, Treasury, and War are complete in block form on hard paper. This includes the 12c Agriculture, the rare Navy 7c, 24c and 90c, the Treasury 24c and the rare War 1c, 2c, 3c, 6c and 12c, the latter an unusually scarce block. Justice blocks are complete through the 12c with several State blocks, including the $20 with sheet margins on three sides. Most of the soft paper blocks are in the collection, including a superb block of the Treasury 30c. About twelve to fifteen blocks are to be found with "Specimen" overprint.

The collection has been broken, and want lists are solicited. While the rarer blocks have been placed, many of the scarcer ones are still available, together with the singles. These, added to the wonderful lot of used Departments recently purchased and announced, gives me one of the finest stocks of U. S. Official issues now in the hands of any professional.

I also have a wonderful stock of U. S. postage and revenue stamps to offer the particular collector.

I am in the market to purchase fine single items or properties in the way of U. S. postage and revenue stamps.

Remember that the most valuable collection of United States postage (Sinkler Lot), the finest collection of U. S. Revenues (Gibson Lot), the best collection of used Departments (Ackerman Lot), as well as the choicest collection of Mint Departments (Walcott Lot), that have come upon the market in the last few years all passed through my hands.

There must be a reason. If you are about to buy or sell United States stamps, write me.

Burgoyne Commemorative Stamp

Under date of July 15th, the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Mr. R. S. Regar, officially announced the coming of the 2c Burgoyne stamp as follows:—

"Postmasters and others connected with the Postal Service are notified that the department is about to issue a new 2-cent Burgoyne Campaign stamp to commemorate the Battles of Fort Stanwix, Oriskany, Bennington, and Saratoga.

The new stamp is the same shape and size as the special-delivery stamp, 1 1/4/100 by 84/100 inches, and will be printed in red ink. The central design represents the surrender of General Burgoyne, and is inclosed in panels bearing the words "Fort Stanwix," at the left, "Oriskany" at the top, and "Bennington" at the right, with the word "Saratoga" beneath the design. In a curved panel near the top of the stamp are the words "U. S. postage" in white Roman letters, and on ribbon scrolls in both upper corners are the years "1777" and "1927". In an ornamental panel at the bottom of the stamp appears the word "Cents" with the numeral "2" in both lower corners with in circles supported by acanthus scrolls. Immediately beneath the central vignette appear the words "Surrender of Genl. Burgoyne."

The new Burgoyne Campaign stamp will first be placed on sale August 3, 1927, at the post offices at Albany, Rome, Syracuse, and Utica, N. Y., and Washington, D. C., and for the benefit of stamp collectors and dealers it will also be placed on sale the same date at the Philatelic Agency, Division of Stamps, Post Office Department.

This stamp will be issued in sheets of 50 and postmasters at central and direct accounting offices desiring a supply may draw requisitions for limited quantities on Form 3201, and the words "Burgoyne campaign stamps" to be written plainly on the blank. District postmasters may obtain small quantities of this stamp to meet the local demand by requisition on their central-accounting postmasters."

It will be noticed that this variety will appear for the first time in the cities identified with the Burgoyne Campaign.

Vermont Sesquicentennial Stamp

The Vermont Sesquicentennial Stamp, which we have heretofore referred to as the Bennington Variety, will be also issued on August 3rd, and the following announcement from Mr. Regar gives the official details:—

"Postmasters and postal employees are notified that the department is about to issue a new 2-cent postage stamp to commemorate the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the independence of Vermont and the Battle of Bennington.

This new stamp is the shape and size as the ordinary stamp, 75/100 by 87/100 inches, and is printed in red ink. The central design represents a Green Mountain boy dressed in buckskin leaning on his rifle. Across the top of the stamp in a straight line are the words "Vermont Sesquicentennial" in small block letters, and in an arched panel supported by small ornamental brackets are the words "U. S. postage" in white Roman letters. On ribbon scrolls in both upper corners appear the years "1777" at the left, and "1927" at the right. Within circles in both lower corners is the white numeral "2" with the word "Cents" in a panel connecting the circles. To the left of the central design is a loose ribbon bearing the word "Bennington" in small Roman letters.

The Vermont Sesquicentennial stamp will first be placed on sale August 3, at the post offices at Bennington, Vt., and Washington, D. C., and for the benefit of stamp collectors and others who may be interested, it will also be placed on sale the same date at the Philatelic Agency, Division of Stamps, Post Office Department.

Air Mail Notes

The United States Post Office Department has passed another milestone in development of the air mails by award of the first contract for an international service.

The Pan-American Airways, Inc., New York City, received the contract under date of July 18th, calling for carrying of mail by air between New York, Florida, and Habana, Cuba.

This route is classified as foreign service. Air Mail postage is not necessary. Ordinary first-class mail will be handled by Air instead of by steamer as at present. Mail steamers leave Key West 8.30 A. M., and arrive in Habana at P. M., and operate on a similar schedule northbound. The plane probably will leave Key West at 8 A. M. and arrive in Habana an hour later, the distance being only approximately 90 miles.

Under date of July 18th, the Post Office Department invited bids, returnable August 18th, on two additional mail routes, one between Atlanta and New Orleans via Birmingham and Mobile, and the other between Memphis and St. Louis. The successful bidders are expected to begin service on both routes not later than six months from the date of award of contract.

The action followed the return of Washington last Friday of Mr. W. Irving Glover, Second Assistant Postmaster General, from Birmingham, where he conferred with representatives of business organizations from New Orleans, Mobile and Birmingham.

The proposed New Orleans - Atlanta route will link up with the Atlanta - New York route which is expected to begin operation about November 1, and will establish a continuous air line connecting between New Orleans and Boston.

Four of the twelve Federal Reserve Banks—Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Richmond—and two of the twelve Federal Reserve branch banks—Birmingham and New Orleans—are on the route.

Philippines
Mr. C. F. Brown, Disbursing Agent for Philippine Revenues, at Washington, D. C., now announces that the Department has received 500 copies of the 1 peso, perforated 11, which are available at their face value, 50c, plus return postage.

Mr. Brown also states that he has received 300 of the 16c, bearing a portrait of Admiral Sampson, available at each. The latter, however, are poorly centered.

STAMP NOTES AND NEWS

Australia.—We have now received a supply of the stamps issued to celebrate the opening of the Federal Parliament at Canberra, which show an emblematic figure of Australia waving a sprig of wattle over the new Parliament buildings. The plates were engraved in London by Messrs. Waterlow & Sons, Ltd., but the stamps were printed in Melbourne by the Government printer.

Canada.—A new set of stamps was issued July 1:—1c orange, head of Sir John A. Macdonald; 2c green, picture of the Fathers of Confederation; 3c red, picture of the centre block of the Parliament Buildings; 5c purple, head of Sir Wilfred Laurier; 12c, blue, map of Canada; a Special Delivery 20c red, showing five stages of mail transportation in Canada.

Ecuador.—We have received a set of three stamps issued to celebrate the opening of the new Post Office at Quito. The stamps are of large size and show a picture of the new Post Office. The denominations are 5 centavos orange, 10 centavos green, and 20 centavos purple, all of the same design and dated "1927" in the top corners. They have been printed by the American Bank Note Company.

Greece.—We have received a fresh supply of the new one drachma pictorial stamps in quite a different colour to the first lot we received, which were blue and orange; the new one is evidently from a fresh printing, the colours being blue and brown, and as this is a distinct variety, we are distributing it through our New Issue Service.

Holland.—We have received a supply of the new Red Cross stamps which have been issued to celebrate the sixtieth anniversary of the Dutch Red Cross Society. There are five denominations as follows:—2c+2c red, William III; 3c+2c green, Queen Mother; 5c+3c indigo, Prince Consort; 7 1/2c+3 1/2c blue, Queen Wilhelmina; 15c+5c red and blue, the design of this stamp is rather a weird one, which we find impossible to describe. All the stamps are dated "1867-1927." The premium charged for the benefit of the Red Cross is not shown on the stamps.

Japan.—We are informed that a new set of stamps was issued on June 30th to commemorate the fiftieth anniversary of Japan joining the Universal Postal Union, the denominations are 1 1/2, 3, 4 and 10 sen. We have not yet seen any of these stamps, but it is said that the design of one of them is a map of the world, and another the likeness of Baron Mayezima, Japan's first Postmaster-General.

Mongolia.—A new set of stamps has been issued for this country with values shown in "mung" and "tuhrik", 100 mung being equal to one tuhrik. It is impossible for us to import these stamps from Mongolia and we are therefore afraid that we shall not be able to distribute them through our New Issue Service. We have been able to secure a few sets at a premium and offer them so far as they will go; our prices will be found on page 11 of this list. New issue subscribers who are desirous of obtaining these stamps should order at once, as we do not think we shall be able to get any more at the same rate. The full set consists of eleven denominations, 1, 2, 5, 10, 20, 25, 40, 50 mung, 1, 3, 5 tuhrik.

Nejd and Dependencies.—We have received a few sets of the current type, 1/8, 1/4, 1/2, 1, 1 1/2, 3, 5 and 10 piastres stamps overprinted in Arabic to commemorate the proclamation of King Ibn Saud of the Hejaz as King of the Nejd and Dependencies. Our agent informs us that these stamps are very difficult to obtain, the total issue being 12,000, of which only 3,000 were issued to Jeddah; we assume the numbers referred to are the number of sets issued. It is doubtful whether we shall be able to distribute these stamps through our New Issue Service, but our agent is doing his best to obtain a further supply for us and if he is successful we shall, of course, give our new issue subscribers the benefit. The 3, 5 and 10 piastres stamps have not yet been issued without the overprint.

Norway.—It has been stated in various quarters that new stamps are about to be issued to commemorate the Centenary of Henrik Ibsen, but we are informed that these stamps will not be issued before March 20th, 1928, which is the birthday of Ibsen. Two new provisionals have been made by overprinting the 45 ore Lion type and Svalbard issue "30 ore." We have received also a new Air Post stamp, 45 ore blue, which shows a picture of an aeroplane in flight.

Palestine.—Two denominations of the new pictorial issue have now been received and are being distributed through our New Issue Service this month. The denominations are 3 milliemes light green showing a picture of Rachel's Tomb, and the 13 milliemes dark blue showing the Dome of the Rock at Jerusalem. We understand that the rest of the set will probably be issued about August next.

Poland.—To celebrate the Fourth International Medical Congress held in Warsaw at the beginning of June, three new stamps have been issued, 10 groszy green, 25 groszy red and 40 groszy blue, each bearing a portrait of Dr. Karol Kaczowski, who was Surgeon-General to the Polish Armies in 1831. Another new 20 groszy stamp has also been issued with a portrait of the Polish writer, Slowacki.

Russia.—The 1, 7, 8, 10 and 14 kopeks, Postage Due stamps of 1925, have been overprinted "8 kopeks", for use as ordinary postage stamps. The set exists without watermark and on the watermarked paper. For price see page 17. We understand that the use of Postage Due stamps has now been discontinued in Soviet Russia.

St. Helena.—The three new stamps on script watermarked paper, 1s 6d, 2s 6d and 5s, are being distributed through our New Issue Service this month. It is interesting to note that the broken flag variety does not occur on this new printing, but the variety showing the cleft in the rock, or, as is sometimes termed, the seal's head variety, still occurs on the sheet on the 49th stamp.

South West Africa.—The new 4d stamp overprinted in English in one line, which was distributed last month, is obtainable only in single copies. We are informed that no complete sheets have been issued and that they are all cut up into single copies and sold in packets of sixty.

Surinam.—A new set has been issued here in a similar design to the Coronation issue, type "p" in our catalogue, showing a crowned portrait of Queen Wilhelmina, but these stamps are not quite so large as the Coronation type and the dates at the top are omitted. The denominations received are as follows:—10c carmine, 12½c orange, 15c indigo, 20c slate, 25c purple, 30c green and 35c sepia.

Uruguay.—On May 25th an International Philatelic Exhibition was held in Montevideo and to celebrate the event a special issue of stamps was made showing a representation of a building, presumably where the Exhibition was held, and inscribed "Exposicion Filatelica Montevideo 1927". There are three denominations:—2c green, 5c red and 8c blue, printed by Messrs. Bradbury, Wilkinson & Co., Ltd., London, in sheets of four imperforate. The stamps were on sale only at the special Exhibition Post Office and not more than ten blocks of each were sold to any one applicant.

CUBAN NOTES

By E. M. ASH.

I wish to point out that there appears to be quite the wrong impression with regard to the 10-cent stamp of Cuba, which depicts a view of Morro Castle Lighthouse and an Airplane.

This stamp is not an Air-Mail stamp as stated in your issue of June 6th, but is a "Special Delivery" stamp and is used in the same manner as that type of stamp is used in U. S.; furthermore, there is no airmail stamp or airmail service in the Republic of Cuba at this date.

The imperforate issues of Cuba current stamps, 1, 2 and 5c were out several months ago and were duly chronicled in many philatelic papers; it is understood they were originally to be devoted to use in machines and not proving suitable were sold imperforate (in sheets only) to those who wanted them.

Since 1917, Cuba has issued one commemorative stamp, and has not yet the design of her stamps, the only variation being the change of unwatermarked paper to watermarked, so that it truly be said that this country's record to be proud of, and one is hard to beat. Can any other country show a better record than Cuba?

ARREST OF R. T. GOODE

Information is at hand announcing the arrest of R. T. Goode, alias Ray C. Salem, Ore. It is charged that he has been circulating fictitious precanceled stamps. A newspaper clipping states Goode has been "flooding the Pacific cities over a period of several months and he will be faced with serious charges."

POSTMARKS OF MEXICO 1850

There is soon to appear a book of the above title with W. T. Wilson, veteran Birmingham dealer, as the author. The book will contain 65 pages of illustrations and 1250 postmarks will be reproduced. The edition will be limited to 100 copies and subscriptions will be taken at $10 each. Mr. Wilson has always been a close student of old Mexican stamps and it is fitting that such a book should bear his name. Address, 1818

NEWFOUNDLAND AIR MAIL ESSAYS

By HARRY E. HUBER.

In the latter days of May, 1919, an Air Bill was passed by the House of Assembly of Newfoundland, and with modifications, was later approved by the Legislative Council, or Upper House, giving to the Imperial Aircraft Co., Ltd.
of England, the right to make surveys
for establishing airdromes on Crown lands, in connection with a proposed daily service with Montreal. The distance, it was expected, could be covered in about 15 hours, as compared with the four or five days required by the sea and land route. The Bill also provided for an inter-town service, with smaller planes. The service never materialised.

Consideration was also given at the same time to connecting up St. John's, with Nova Scotia, and so favorable were the prospects of this service being inaugurated at an early date, that in the summer of 1919, Messrs. Whitehead, Morris & Co., Ltd., postage stamp printers, at the request of Dr. J. Alex.
Robinson, Postmaster-General of Newfoundland, prepared and submitted three essays for air mail stamps. The Caribou's head and an airplane in flight are common to all three designs (one for 5c and two for 10c denominations), and oak leaves and acorns in addition, to the two 10c essays. This probably gave rise to the rumor that special stamps were being prepared for the visit of the Prince of Wales to the island, on August 12th and 13th, 1919, just as the 4c of the Royal series, with the features of Queen Mary, had been issued, when Their Majesties (then Prince and Princess of Wales) visited Newfoundland on October 23-24-25, 1901, while on Empire tour.

In the first essay, 5c brown and black,
a vertical rectangle, tall pine trees at the right and left frame a view of timberland, with mountains in the distance, and an airplane above clouds. "Newfoundland" and "Aerial Postage" are in two lines at the top, and squares in the lower corners contain the value, with the Caribou's head, within a circle, between.

The second essay, a 10c value, mag-enta and blue, takes the same form,
and with its heavy scroll work at the sides is the least pleasing of the three.
The value appears in the upper corners,
with "Aerial Postage" between; across the foot is "Newfoundland," with the Caribou's head within a circle above.
The vignette pictures an airplane above
cloudbanks.

The form of the third, 10c pale green and black, is a horizontal rectangle, and in this "Newfoundland" appears at the top, with the value 10c on a shield in the upper right corner. In the lower left corner is the Caribou's head, with "Aerial Postage" in a straight line to the right. A view of the town and harbor of St. John's (looking out towards the Narrows), with an airplane in flight, occupies a central position.

Had success attended the proposed flight of Major Cotton from Botwood, Nfld. to Halifax, N. S., in December, 1921, an air mail service would doubtless have been inaugurated between Newfoundland and the mainland, and air mail stamps issued in the design of the third essay. Both the Minister of Posts and Telegraphs, Hon. W. W. Halfyard, and Maj. F. Sydney Cotton, the Australian aviator, thought favorably of this design, although Major Cotton felt that the airplane should be made larger.

Although unsuccessful in securing from the Newfoundland Government a concession to carry air mails, Major Cotton carried, during 1922 and 1923, a number of local mails to the northern settlements of Newfoundland, and several to Labrador. No special stamps were issued, and only the inland letter
rate of 3c was charged.

The first flight to Labrador (Cartwright) was made from Botwood,
northern Newfoundland, in March, 1922,
and in the following month, another flight was made to Labrador and back in nine hours. The plane left Botwood at 10.15 a.m. April 20th, landed at St.
Anthony on the northern peninsula, at 12.30 p.m., and at 2.30 p.m. was over Battle Harbour, Labrador, but on account of broken ice in the harbor was forced to land at Hoop Hole Cove. On the return trip a stop was made at St.
Anthony, and at 7.05 p.m. the plane was back at Botwood. On this second flight to Labrador, the letters carried were rubber stamped "Per Aerial Mail" in violet.

On March 24, 1923, an air mail was carried from Botwood to Hawke's Harbour, on the west coast, and on the 27th the flight was continued to Forteau, Labrador, where mails were left for forwarding to the northern settlements. On the return flight to Hawke's Harbour, a landing was made at Flower's Cove on the northern peninsula. No special official marking was applied to this mail.

In the pictorial series of 1923-24, air mail stamps of two values, 10c green and black and 15c brown and black were decided upon, the former in the design of the third essay (town and harbor of St.
John's), and on the latter a representation of the Vickers-Vimy machine at Quidi Vidi, just before Capt. John Alcock and Lt. A. W. Brown started on their successful Trans-Atlantic flight on June 14, 1919. The stamps would have been ordered had a contract been entered into with Major Cotton for the winter carrying of mails, but as this did not materialize, the planes were shipped away from the island in October, 1923. There being no need for air mail stamps, they were never ordered.

UNITED STATES

We are constant buyers of United States stamps, spending several thousand dollars
every month to keep our stock of these stamps in shape. We have just purchased a very fine collection of both nineteenth and twentieth century, running into five figures
and have at present nearly everything in stock, including such items as the blue paper set complete, the 4c and 8c being the finest copies we have ever seen, perfectly centered. We have in stock practically all blocks of the twentieth century.

A want list will receive our best attention and you can rest assured that the majority of the stamps can at the moment be supplied.
If you have not yet got our twenty page U. S. list, we would be very pleased to send it to you upon receipt of your request.

tions series, to be issued towards the end of 1927, has been assigned the design proposed for the 15c air stamp of 1923 (i.e., the Vickers-Vimy machine at Quidi Vidi), with the inscription "First plane to cross the Atlantic (non-stop) leaving St. John's, 1919."

In June, 1927, Major Cotton returned to Newfoundland in charge of an expedition, financed in New York, to search in the wilds of Newfoundland and Labrador, for Capt. Charles Nungesser and Francois Coli, who left Paris for New York, on May 7th and since leaving the Irish Coast have not been heard from. Major Cotton's intention was to fly from New York, but later plans were changed, and the expedition with the monoplane "Jeanne d'Arc" sailed from New York, on board the Red Cross s. s. "Silvia," June 4th and reached St. John's on the 9th. Incidentally, a representation of this steamer is to appear on the 5c gray of the Communications series, due for appearance towards the end of the year. The inscription proposed by the Minister of Posts and Telegraphs, Hon. W. J. Woodford, is "s. s. Silvia, 1½ days to Halifax; 4½ days to New York."

THOSE CANCELLATIONS

By H. BEDFORD-JONES.

I have been much interested in the articles by C. E. Eckel and Col. Witbeck regarding the 10c orange used in France, 1917-1919, as I was recently fortunate enough to obtain a large lot of A. E. F. covers addressed to French points. Unluckily, these are now packed and are not available for some time; as these gentlemen are specialists and I am not, the covers are at their disposition later, if they so desire.

There are one or two points not brought out in the articles. Besides the 10c orange and the 1c, the 2c stamp was also used, in blocks, for registration within France. A number of these covers are so affranchised. Also, all of these stamps were used in combination with French stamps, of various values, or were used without French stamps.

As to cancellations, I noted in the lot a number of "cancellations of fortune"—that is, no regular French or A. E. F. obliteration, but a straight bar or smudge without date—made before the issue of canceling stamps, probably.

OUR "3 IN 1" ADVG. CONTRACT

Information as to this contract may be welcome. Here it is:—

Its aim is to provide a sliding scale of prices so one can get the benefit of a low rate on one and two or more inches, with a little higher rate on a half inch, the latter being a "filler in."

Here are the rates:—

One-half inch space, $2.00

One inch space, 3.50

Two inches, 6.00

This is a very popular contract.

MANAGING EDITOR.

FLIGHT FROM LEVIATHAN

Shortly To Be Made To Test Feasibility of Early Mail Deliveries

The attempt of Clarence D. Chamberlin to fly an airplane from the deck of the "Leviathan," off the coast of New York, will be to determine the feasibility of delivering mail to the vessel by plane, after it has left ports of call, it has just been announced by T. V. O'Connor, Chairman of the United States Shipping Board, who says:—

"I had a conference in New York with Clarence D. Chamberlin, the aviator, with a view to providing airplane transportation of mail and possibly two or three emergency passengers in connection with the sailing of the "Leviathan" for Cherbourg and Southampton on August 1 and subsequent dates. Mr. Chamberlin accepted the suggestion with enthusiasm.

The "Leviathan" is now in Boston. Mr. Chamberlin has just returned on the "Leviathan" and is thoroughly familiar with the physical dimensions and deck accommodations for an airplane. When the "Leviathan" returns from Boston to New York, Mr. Chamberlin expects to fly from her deck in an airplane. At just what point of the voyage from Boston to New York he will hop off is not yet determined. With the knowledge gained from this experience, Mr. Chamberlin will prepare to transport a plane on the "Leviathan," sailing August 1, and if weather conditions are propitious he will leave the "Leviathan" in his plane some hundreds of miles from Europe and deliver mail and one or two passengers if they can show urgent reasons for haste. Of course the details cannot be thoroughly worked out until a more careful study has been completed. We shall have the benefit of Mr. Chamberlin's advice and of his associates, whose experience best qualifies them to be of service."

CELLANY:—

OWIN F. SAWYER, in renewing his subscription, writes a chatty letter that indicates his love for the WEEKLY. He became a collector in 1859.
Eight stamps of E. A. Holton, now deceased, and sold him his collection in 1861 for $5, which "in those days looked like a fortune." Mr. Sawyer's collecting activities during the past 35 years have made him one of the most prominent members of the Boston Philatelic Society.

AN advertiser is informed that our adlet warning collectors to be careful concerning exchange relations is used occasionally as a "filler" and its appearance near any adlet is not premeditated.
In the haste of making up forms, situations such as this paragraph suggest, will occasionally arise. Entirely innocent,
Mr. R., and we hope it won't happen again.

WE are asked to jack up two of our advertisers who have failed to answer letters sent them. No money is involved. If advertisers are so discourteous as to shelve letters sent them, our suggestion is that correspondents put them on a black list and place their patronage elsewhere.

WE thank our subscribers for many clippings received from time to time.
We do not use them it will be because our matter is more pressing.

LETTERS "a long time in transit" are frequently exploited in the metropolitan press. After we had mentioned a few of these we came to the conclusion that their value was nil from a philatelic standpoint.

CACHIA & CO., VALETTA, MALTA

Sometime since we announced in the WEEKLY unsatisfactory dealings upon part of Cachia & Co. of Valetta, Malta, with some of our subscribers. Is there anyone upon our mailing list who has any present cause for complaint against this firm?

Attractive Pages Of Common Stamps

may be made up by choosing fine, bright copies showing standard varieties of cancellation. We have several nice books made up of such copies and cancellations on the 1c, 2c and 3c stamps of the bank note issues, from 1870 to 1884.

2c Vermilions

of 1875 and 1879, make particularly bright spots in any collection. We have no great quantity, but two or three very nice approval books for those who are not seeking cancellation rarities. Prices are very modest, mostly 15c to 50c. On approval against usual trade references.

We are always in the market for accumulations of the common or scarce varieties of the bank-note issues.

J. O. Moore, Inc., Hammondsport, N. Y.

ALONG THE WAY

Bids will be opened for an air mail service between Chicago and Cincinnati, on August 18th. The route will include Indianapolis and its distance is approximately 270 miles.

Fred Ross, who was one of the first to collect western franks, passed through Chicago en route from San Francisco to New York and called on a few of his friends in that city.

We have been invited to attend a dinner to be given at Westfield, New York, on July 30th at 6.30 P.M., by Mr. Thomas H. Pratt of Kingsport, Tenn., and Mr. Roscoe B. Martin, Forestville, N. Y.
Mr. Pratt will show sections of his wonderful Confederates that won a prize at the recent Strasburg exhibition. We quote: "It is our wish that each guest bring along a few choice pieces for display and also some items for sale or exchange. . . It seems to us that a gathering of this kind, if attended as we hope it will be, by collectors from Rochester, Buffalo, Cleveland, Pittsburg and in-between places should result in a lot of worth while acquaintances." The idea is a good one and has a practical application.

The Philatelic Club of Los Angeles, Cal., had Mr. J. A. M. Josephson on the cards to show his Nineteenth Century general collection on July 25th.
Eight new members came into the club
at the preceding meeting.

Under date of July 23rd, 1927, the postmaster of Springfield, Ill., Mr. Wm.
H. Conkling sent out a supplement to the Postmark in which it is announced: "We are telling the world that Col. Lindbergh has set the date August 15th, to visit Springfield, Ill.; when 'Lindbergh Field'
will be dedicated to him, this special air mail flight made, and as it has been deemed by all concerned practically impossible to carry this mail in 'The Spirit of St. Louis,' it will be carried in a special air mail plane and pilot as escort to Col. Lindbergh. Remember this is air mail stamped with, and wrapped in the heroic history of American Boyhood."
It is shown that mail carried on the escorting plane will have the cancellation

in a rectangular frame: "Carried in Mail Plane Escort to Col. Lindbergh," in addition to the special Lindbergh Day
cancellation.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., AIR MAIL

The Springfield, Ill., P. O. informs us of a new Lindbergh Air Mail cancellation. We quote from the circular letter as follows:

"We are telling the world that Col.
Lindbergh has set the date, August 15th,
to visit Springfield, Ill., when "Lindbergh Field" will be dedicated to him, and a Special Air Mail Flight made. As it has been deemed by all concerned
practically impossible to carry this mail

CARRIED IN MAIL PLANE ESCORT TO
COL. LINDBERGH

in 'The Spirit of St. Louis,' it will be carried in a special air mail plane and pilot as escort to Col. Lindbergh.

"To commemorate the dedication of 'Lindbergh Field,' a special cancellation stamp will be used. It will be a flight about which Lindbergh's memories and achievements will be attached, and a more opportune time to use the Air
Mail could not possibly be afforded.
Air mail carried on this flight will have a patriotic motive, an historical value, and be a tribute to Col. Lindbergh and all that he stands for."

RELATIVE RARITY AND CATALOG PRICES

OF NEW BRUNSWICK AND NOVA SCOTIA

By CHARLES J. PHILLIPS.

Luckily we have complete records of the "pence" issues of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia as printed by Perkins, Bacon & Co. These are quoted in an interesting article by Mr. E. D. Bacon in The London Philatelist, Vol. 24, p. 31.

The number of stamps sent to the Colony was as follows:

|------------------|--------------|
| Aug. 6, 1851, 3d | 10,080 |
| Oct. 22, " 3d | 2,500 12,580 |

| | |
|---------------|-----------|
| Aug. 6, " 6d | 5,120 |
| Oct. 22, " 6d | 618 5,738 |

|----------------|-----------|
| Aug. 6, " 1sh | 5,120 |
| Oct. 22, " 1sh | 312 5,432 |

Mr. Bacon goes on to state, "The 'pence' stamps were in use in New Brunswick for nearly nine years, and the small numbers show what little demand there was in the colony for postage stamps
from 1851 to 1860."

I think that the bulk of the 6d were used for postage, but that the bulk of the 1sh were destroyed, as they were damaged by damp in the vault in which they were kept (vide infra).

In trying to estimate relative rarity of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia stamps
we should, to some extent, be guided by the number of people in the different colonies.

In 1901 there were 331,000 in New Brunswick against 460,000 in Nova Scotia.

I have no figures available showing the population 50 years earlier, but it would probably be much less, and consist mainly of people who wrote few letters.

Comparing similar values in both colonies, I find the 3d Nova Scotia in ordinary shade a fairly common stamp. The New Brunswick 3d is five to ten times as scarce. The 6d yellow-green Nova Scotia is attainable in fair numbers and in really good condition, whereas the 6d
New Brunswick is decidedly scarce and is exceptionally rare with good margins.

Some of these figures are remarkable and as these stamps are important and popular ones, they deserve to be studied in some detail.

The New Brunswick figures are remarkably small, but the public demand
for these stamps was not enough to use up this small stock in eight years, as in the Postmaster General's Report for 1859
he says, in speaking of these "pence"
issues:

"The principal part of those remaining on hand are unfit for sale, having been damaged by being stored in the vault, which was so damp as to cause them to mold and the color to run."

The 6d yellow has always been a good stamp, but it will be news to most of my readers to find that it is nearly as good as the 1s, according to the numbers printed.

These three stamps seem to be greatly undervalued in all catalogues, and at present prices must prove a remarkably good buy.

I recently asked two prominent specialists in New York and one in Canada
what they thought of the relative rarity
of the one shilling stamps of New Brunswick and of Nova Scotia. They all agree that good copies of the Scotia frequently came, but that New Brunswick was very hard to and seldom seen in fine condition should think that the real value of stamps should be:

3d, $30.00; 6d, $100.00; 1s, $400.00

In attempting to estimate the relative value of the "pence" issues of Scotia, we have one great difficulty contend with, and that is, that, in when the "cents" issues came in,
were large numbers of the "pence"
all values, on hand, and these were sequently destroyed, and no record
to be available of what number stamps were destroyed.

Let us see if we can form any id-relative rarity from the figures and of the number of stamps sent to Colony by Messrs. Perkins, Bacon
Sent from London:

| | |
|----------------|-------------------|
| 3d, Aug. 1851, | 10,080 |
| 3d, Oct. 1851, | 5,000 |
| 3d, July 1857, | 1,600,000 1,615,0 |

| | |
|----------------|---------------|
| 6d, Aug. 1851, | 5,120 |
| 6d, Oct. 1851, | 1,236 |
| 6d, July 1857, | 400,000 406,3 |

| | |
|----------------|---------------|
| 1s, Aug. 1851, | 5,120 |
| 1s, Oct. 1851, | 312 |
| 1s, July 1857, | 200,000 205,4 |

The only indication I can find of amount of stamps actually sold is Reports of the Postmaster General
the 1852 report it says postage stamps value £355 were sold and in 1857 rethe value of stamps sold in the two given as £2855. Taking these two fig-and forming a pro rata progression
the 8 years the "pence" issues were use, I reckon that about £13,000
value of stamps were used in that pe-and as £43,124 face value was sent to Colony, it appears probable that £30,000 worth was destroyed.

Now, another point that helps is different colors in the 6d and 1s stamps.

Mr. E. D. Bacon shows that the yellow-green were the printings of 1
and there were 6,356 of these. I t all of us who have handled quantities these stamps have found out that the deep green is at least four times as
as the yellow-green, so out of 400 6d deep green (July 1857), I doubt more than 1,500 to 2,000 were used.

As regards the 1s cold violet, t were 5,432 of these in the two print-of 1851. Now, we all know that the cold violet is the rarer of the two co-
and the printing of July 1857 was 200
in the "purple" color, so out of the

EDITORIAL

We have received particulars of the proposed issue by France to commemorate the visit of the American Legion to France to attend the convention at Paris, from several correspondents, one of whom says: "If there were more ambitious plans that called for the production of more than two stamps, they have given way to the decision to issue two stamps, one of which will be of the denomination of ninety centimes which is the rate on postal cards to foreign countries and the other, of one franc, fifty centimes, the foreign letter rate. The 90c will be in red and bear the picture of which and the 1fr. 50c will show Lafayette; color, blue. The stamps will be valid only for the month of September, 1927, and while the number of each stamp to be issued is not announced, it is certain that there will be enough stamps to go around." From a Paris newspaper, sent to us by Mr. Harold C. Brooks, Marshall, Michigan, who was visiting there, we learn that the two stamps are intended to symbolize the bond between the U. S. and this country and that their short tenure of use will add to their interest in a collecting sense. We quote: "Although this issue cannot be made on the improved machines which the government is buying, it is promised that they will be printed with extreme care and will have real artistic merit."

he establish his stamp loss on the basis of prices that he paid for the stamps in the collection. He has written to one dealer to ask for a record of purchases that he made at auction and presumably to others who have enjoyed his custom. As a precautionary measure, it is advisable to keep a record of important, if not all, stamp purchases in the list of effects on which insurance is carried.

A correspondent asks why the daily newspapers often have philatelic news in their columns before the stamp papers have; and the question is answered by saying that because the dailies have an advantage over the philatelic press in that they can publish such news as received from the post office department with no delay. We are always pleased when the papers contain stamp news even though we have to play second fiddle sometimes. We want the newspapers to recognize philately and the more stamp news that they present, the better it is for all of us. We are reminded that talk has been heard of a semi-weekly and it will be interesting to see whether collectors are ready for it, in case it does venture forth. Nothing more has been heard of a daily.

We have seen a good many pictorial envelopes of the Civil War period but one that is submitted by Mr. H. R. Jensen, of Topeka, Kansas, has that appearance of strangeness that betokens scarcity. The picture on the left of the envelope is that of an Andy Gump very much out at the elbow, looking sadly at a play-bill and leaning against a wall and reading: "Now Performing, The Drama, Secession, Principal Parts by Davis & Beauregard. After which, the Farce, Played Out." Below the legend is: "One of South Carolina's noble sons who invested his Cash in Confederate Bonds. The results—many red." The whole design is in washed-out pink. The envelope was sent from New Haven, Conn., in 1862.

An inquiry came from Mr. R. L. Chichester of New York, some weeks ago, asking how many varieties of Lincoln pictorial envelopes are available for collectors; and an attempt will be made to give an approximation of the number for the benefit of Mr. Chichester and others who are interested in the vogue of pictorial envelopes generally and Lincolns in particular.

We have had in our hands at different times an aggregate of fourteen varieties but an estimate by an authority of the number of these items in existence runs as high as forty, although it is admitted that this figure is beyond what would be our guess. Probably forty is a fair citation when all types and variants are included. These envelopes are to be classified as the political covers of 1860 and 1864; the war designs running the gamut from humorous to serious; and the mourning envelopes that were made after his assassination. The mourning envelopes usually are with a black border and the topical pictures based on the political and actual phases of the war are of particular interest. There are a good many envelopes that show only the portrait of Honest Abe and in an artistic sense, they range from poor to excellent. When Lincoln is represented by a figure that is intended to have no facial resemblance to him, even though the text may show that he is the subject, it is debatable whether the envelope comes under the Lincoln category. The question of just what identifies a Lincoln envelope enters into consideration; and the number of covers may be said to depend upon where the line is drawn. We might say that pictures partaking of the properties of the fable allegory or parable were not true Lincoln pictorial varieties; and there are many action pictures in which Lincoln by suggestion appears. The subject is of interest to some collectors and probably more could be said about it, as we may be made aware.

Since Mr. Stanley H. Poindexter, New York, takes the time to send in a squib from his camp in the Adirondacks, it is only fair that we give it an airing here. He wrote: "In a foreign stamp paper I find that the text as Englished refers to a stamp packet 'as comprehending rarities.'" He adds: "Thus, you now have an enlarged vocabulary and to stamps, 'included, comprised and contained in a packet,' 'you can appoint,' 'comprehended,' to the joy of advertisers." This is good enough but we would not fare as well as the horrible example, in Mr. Poindexter's mind, if we tried to translate into another language; and we take the side of the earnest seeker for trade in this instance. If one were splitting hairs, "contains" only is allowable in describing the contents of a stamp packet, as "comprises" is used metaphysically, expressing "inclusiveness as appreciated

The annual convention of the American Philatelic Society is to be held in St. Louis on August 16th to 18th, inclusive, and we can assure members that a most interesting and valuable program of entertainment has been prepared for them. The St. Louis members have been planning for occasion for a good many months; they are anticipating a good attendance; and they certainly deserve recognition of their efforts. For a time past, the philatelic swing in St. Louis has been upward and delegations will find that the stamp aspect of the convention will be marked. A detailed account of the entertainment and of features of the meeting will soon be in the hands of members. The Duquette Hotel is the headquarters of the convention; and there, the editorial of the WEEKLY may be addressed from August 15th to 18th, inclusive. At Philadelphia, the convention of the Society of Philatelic Americans opens on August 8th; official headquarters, Hotel Walton. The chairman of the committee on arrangements, Mr. Percy McG. Mann, made preparations that indicate the 1927 convention will be a memorable one; and on the day before the convention a visit is to be made to the factory where the process of offset printing may be visualized. It is said that Philadelphia is one of the philatelic strongholds and there are sufficient number of members in the city to make the nucleus of a successful gathering.

August Is Vacation Month

and I expect to be away during that period. Any correspondence of importance, however, will be taken care of and forwarded to me. I will be in St. Louis from Aug. 14th to 19th and my address will be Marquette Hotel, 18th and Washington Ave. A.P.S. members that cannot attend the Convention I will be pleased to represent if they will forward to me their proxies.

THE LINDBERGH PLANE PIC-TURE

The story of the inception and the execution of the Lindbergh stamp stirs
the imagination and it embodies a tribute to the promptness and proficiency with which a great task was accomplished without a hitch. Some time ago, we received a clipping from the Buffalo Times that related how the picture of the Lindbergh plane that appears on the stamp was taken from one that a photographer for the Times had got a short time before Lindbergh flew across the water.
The following quotations from the story
in which the Buffalo Times takes pardonable pride will be of interest:
"To M. J. Ackerman, New York
photographer for the Buffalo Times,
goes the honor of having taken the picture of Captain Charles A. Lindbergh's trans-Atlantic airplane "Spirit of St. Louis," which was used by the United States Post-office Department in designing the new Lindbergh memorial airmail
stamp.

The picture was made by Ackerman at Curtiss flying field, Long Island. Ackerman snapped the "Spirit of St. Louis"
as Lindbergh started on a short test flight. This was only two or three days before Lindbergh took off across the Atlantic to unprecedented fame.
In the following story, Rodney Dutcher, Washington writer for The Times, tells how Ackerman's picture came to be chosen for the memorial stamp and how the stamps were turned out in record-breaking time.

By Rodney Dutcher
WASHINGTON.—The Post Office Department has performed one of the fastest rush jobs in its history in printing and issuing the new Lindbergh 10-cent
air mail stamp.
By the time it has finished production of the contemplated 10,000,000 or 15,000,000 copies of this issue, it will have given a Buffalo Times photograph of Lindbergh's plane the widest circulation ever attained by such a newspaper picture outside of the newspapers themselves.
Ordinarily it takes from three to six weeks for a stamp to be issued from the time the postoffice starts work on it. But

Postmaster General New decided to make this a 10-day job in order to have the first stamps on sale by the time of Lindbergh's return.

Suggestions for the stamp by mail and telegaph had come from all over the country. Officials were confronted by the law forbidding the portrait of any living man to be used on stamps or currency. But it was decided that the law's spirit would not be violated if "Lind-bergh's Air-Mail" were to be printed on the stamp, if the plane "Spirit of St.
Louis" were to be shown with the American coast on the right and the European coast on the left, and if New York and Paris were to be specifically designated with a dotted line between them showing the course of flight.

After New had decided all this and
it had been determined to make a rectangular stamp in which the plane would measure about one inch by half an inch,
the important question arose as to where to find the best model for the Bureau of Printing and Engraving work to copy.

All available pictures of the "Spirit of St. Louis" in flight were scrutinized.
Finally officials selected a Buffalo Times
photo of the Lindbergh plane as the best.
Artists promptly got to work. They worked Saturday night, all day Sunday,
and on into a new week, fashioning the necessary models. The models then were engraved.

After being printed, the stamps were dried, gummed, dried again, then perforated, then cut into blocks of 50 each,
then packed in packages of 5,000 each to be shipped out on Post Office orders.

Promise was that the first formal Post Office issue would be at St. Louis on the occasion of Lindbergh's home-coming celebration. Meanwhile, however, it was planned to have the stamps ready for Lindbergh on his arrival here.

They will be issued to all air mail route cities and it was expected that about 6,000,000 would be ready within two weeks.

Incidentally, Post Office officials pointed out that St. Louis would be "swamped" by eager stamp collectors who specialize on "first covers" and "first cancellations."

The entire rush job on the stamps was directed by New and M. L. Eidsness, Jr., superintendent of the division of stamps.

GERMAN POSTAGE RAISED 50P.C.

Two New Stamps With Pictures of Ebert and Hindenberg.

Information is at hand to the effect that Germany will soon increase its postage rates. This is necessary in order that the postal department may do its share in meeting the financial burdens of the nation. Under the new rates the postage within Germany will be equivalent to 4c in U. S. money, postal cards 2c and local letters 2c.

Following the Hindenberg issue it is proposed to honor former president Ebert in a similar manner and this commemorative stamp is slated to appear in August.

Telegrafos.—Telegraphs.

Tjeneste.—On the official stamps of Denmark.

Toga.—Tonga.

Toscana.—Tuscany.

U. G.—These letters, with numerals to denote the value, form the "design" of the first typewritten stamps of Uganda.

Ultramar.—The only inscription on many of the Spanish issues of Cuba.

Van Diemens Land.—Tasmania.

Z. Afr. Republik.—South African Republic (Now known as the Transvaal).

Perforation Gauges

By EARL W. OSGERBY

I want to offer a few suggestions on the perforation gauge in the hope of saving junior philatelists from the annoyance I experienced on my first attempt to use a gauge, which I found to be inaccurate.

Paper perforation gauges are furnished free with packets of stamps by a number of dealers. I have three such gauges and every one of them is 1/2 point low.

It is a simple matter to make the necessary corrections, then the gauge is as good as any for practical purposes, except that the millimeter and inch scales on such gauges are apt to be inaccurate also.

To correct such a gauge, take from your collection three stamps of which you know the number of perforations with certainty from your catalog, say one of 9 or 9 1/2, one of 12, and one of 15, try each in turn upon the gauge until a row of dots is found that fits and mark it 9 or 9 1/2, 12, or 15 and cross out the old numbers. If these three are found to be 1/2 point low, for example, it is safe to assume the rest are all 1/2 point low and may be corrected by adding 1/2 point to each.

If greater accuracy is desired, a gauge can be bought from various dealers for 10c that is guaranteed to be absolutely accurate.

Paper No. 6—Hard

The hard paper distinguishing the printings of the Continental Bank Note Co. is also wove, but owing to the fineness of the mesh on the "dandy-roll" the paper has a perfectly smooth unwatermarked appearance. The 2c Treasury, which only exists on hard paper is a common stamp that may be used as an example. If this variety and the 5c Garfield are held together before a strong light, and the differences are carefully noted, the beginner should after a little practise be able to pick out the hard and soft varieties with comparative ease.

Stamp News for the Juniors

Is there anything you want to know about stamps or stamp collecting? If so, write the editor. What would you like to see in this department? We have no way of knowing unless you tell us. Mr. Senior Collector, can't you give the boy collector about 50 words of encouragement along practical lines? Address your letter to the Beverly office.

Current U. S.—Violet Cancels

Robertson Angel (address not given) sends us a cover with a "Thornhurst, Pa." cancellation in violet. A collection of these violet markings coming as they do from some of the very small post offices of the country make an interesting sideline. If Rob will send us his address we will return his cover.

"Why I Collect U. S. and Canada, Including Commemoratives"

Charles Hazlehurst, Brantford, Canada, has sent us two sets of the new Canada Commemorative stamps in unused condition, and offers them for the two best compositions on the subject, "Why I Collect U. S. and Canada, Including Commemoratives." All entries are limited to 75 words each, and one prize each will be given to the boy and girl sending the best essay.

To make this contest all the more interesting, the editor of this department will give 10 nice original covers to each of the prize-winners. It will not be possible to acknowledge by mail all entries received. We reserve the right to print any and suitable prize awards will be made for any so used. The contest closes Sept. 15.

Junior Dictionary

Mazagan A Maroc.—Local stamps bearing this inscription have little philatelic value. They were issued in the Sultanate of Morocco, Northwest Africa, about 1891, for a mail service between Mazagan (a seaport town of the province) and Morocco, the Capital. The issue was short lived.

Mazagan-Marakech.—Local stamps bearing this inscription were issued in Morocco for a mail service between the two cities named. They were short lived and the stamps have fallen into such disrepute as to be no longer catalogued. Their date of issue was about 1893.

Mogador A Maroc.—Mogador is a seaport town of Morocco, Africa, with population of about 10,000. Around 1895 local stamps were issued for use on mail between this town and Morocco, the principal city. The use of the stamps was limited to a brief period of time and they possess little if any philatelic value.

Mostro Cio Che Potea La Lingua Nostra.—"He shows that of which our tongue is capable," found on the 40c Dante stamp of Italy issued in 1921.

Muestra.—This word is Spanish for "specimen" and is sometimes found on such stamps emanating from Spanish speaking countries.

Mutilados Da Guerra—Assistencia Social—1-12-1920.—Mozambique on the occasion of the anniversary of the declaration of Portuguese independence, Dec. 1, 1920, issued a set of stamps with the above inscription. The stamps were available for local postage only and were for sale for one day only. The proceeds were used for charitable purposes "Wounded of the War and the Compagnie d'Assistance Sociale."

Narcotic.—U. S. documentary stamps with this surcharge indicate their use in connection with the collecting of taxes levied on narcotics.

Necessity Money.—A name applied to postage stamps used for small change in times of financial stress and scarcity of silver and copper. The stamps are often enclosed in cheap frames for protection in wear.

Nec Temere Nec Timide.—This motto is found on certain Danzig stamps which picture the Arms of the city. It means "Neither rashly nor timidly."

19-10-16.—These figures on Trinidad 1d red represent Oct. 19, 1916, the date of issue of the surcharged stamp. They are accompanied by a cross in red outlined with black. 100,000 were issued and all the proceeds of their sale went to the local Red Cross society.

U. S. on Blued Paper

Walter R. French writes "How can I tell the 'blue paper' varieties of the current set, from the ordinary stamps which have been printed from uncleaned plates, especially the 1c, 5c, 8c, 13c and 15c?" When the stamps have been printed from imperfectly wiped plates and thus have the paper tinted on the face, it is not always easy to identify the blued-paper varieties. The only certain test is that of comparison. The stamp alleged to be on blue paper should be carefully compared with a normal stamp of the same facial value. Even where the bluing is very slight, it will generally show sufficiently on one side or other of the stamp to make its identification possible. But the best plan of all is to purchase these sorts of stamps from firms of good standing who can guarantee the stamps to be exactly what they are represented to be.

Stamp Collecting Ethics

A dealer feels that we are rather slow in emphasizing the need of building up a standard of ethics among the Juniors. He writes bluntly and we will print what he says:—

"The most important item has been omitted so far and that is the matter of ethics in the stamp game. One article would do little good. From my experience as a teacher for twelve years, I have found that continually pounding into the minds of the Juniors is about the only way to get anything into them. I am catering at present to Juniors and am having a terrible time getting stamps back. They are not to blame—they have not been trained and stamp magazines are wonderfully bashful about emphasizing the ethics of the stamp game."

Hobby-Horses

By FRED J. MELVILLE.

"There is no disputing against hobby-horses," said Laurence Sterne in his "Life and Opinions of Tristram Shandy." Everyone has some pad ready to be harnessed as soon as the ordinary toil of the day or the week is over. It may call for the display of literary, artistic or musical talent. It may require physical exercise. But if it be a change of occupation, it is, all the same, a hobby-horse. As Stevenson said: "There should be nothing so much a man's business as his amusement," and the hobby-horse is one of the best forms of amusement. Horace Greeley said that a man draws in vitality from his hobby, and that if he have none, his part in life will soon be played.

A hobby is of value to its rider inasmuch as it is "a rest to his mind, a cheerer of his spirit, a diverter of sadness, a calmer of unquiet thoughts, a moderator of passions, a procurer of contentedness." And the pursuit should "beget habits of peace and patience in those that profess and practise it." Sir Henry Wotton used to say of angling that "it was an employment for his idle time, which was not then idly spent."

While it is easy to agree to the desirability of having a hobby, it is entirely out of the question to come to an agreement as to what is the best pursuit in which to indulge.

There is an ample stable of capital mounts from which to select a hobby, and it only remains to choose one that can be ridden easily and with pleasure to the rider (unless indeed one's liver be troublesome, in which case a more lively mount might effect a speedier cure!), and one that will immediately take its rider from the regular sphere of his labours into an entire change of neighborhood and activity.

The object of these pages is not to compare the hobby of the philatelist with that of somebody else. It is to show to the initiated that there is an abundant interest—educative and recreative—in the stamp album. Those people to whom wealth of romance and history that connected with the stamps of the world is unknown are generally the first place philately among the "fancies" weak for boys, too green and idle girls of nine."

The interest which stamps excite in a collector is not confined to a single nation, but extends throughout the world. Stamps are issued in every civilized country. The postage stamp itself is the link to the history of our most important social and commercial institution, the Post Office.

A well-filled stamp album is not unlike that library of whose owner Longfellow wrote: "He has his Rome, his Florence, his whole glowing Italy within the walls of his library. He has in his book the ruins of an antique world and the glories of a modern one."

In the stamp album are depicted some of the most famed of the sculptures, Greece and representations of some of the finest products of the arts of architecture and painting. Subsequent chapters will serve to show that in the stamp album is a pictorial history of our own times and an occasional survey of even of ancient history. Elementary though they be, it may also be said that primary for the stimulation in the young of geography, zoology, and botany, and other fascinating studies, are to be found within the cyclopaedic scope of the stamp collector's albums.

OUR HONOR CLUB

A subscriber, renewing for one year, gets it right up to us good and hard. We wrote from his letter:—"What's the advantage of being on your Honor Roll that you make so much fuss about? Certainly paying five years in advance is no honor to a subscriber but rather nice for a publisher. Does a fellow get six or seven years' subscription for five dollars or what? I really want to know where the 'honor' is in sending $5."

The "advantage" in joining Our Honor Club is that you have no more worrying about the expiration number and we also have no more worrying about it either. So far as the "honor" is concerned, it calls ours. We call it "Our Honor Club" and thus far nearly 1000 of our subscribers have honored us by joining it. You call it, sir, "rather nice"? This is much too tame a word of appreciation. We call it superbly magnificent. It such a large number of our subscribers should honor us in this manner. No other publication in all the wide world can claim a club of this kind. It is unique and there are many yet to enter who will add their contribution to the honor represented in "Our Honor Club."

THE MANAGING EDITOR.

OUR EYE:—

—Bees are prohibited in parcel post mail to Switzerland. Send them by ordinary mail and be sure to seal the letter. A dead bee is sometimes better than a live one.

—J. Rosenberg, Berlin, wholesale dealer, will be at the Claridge Hotel, 44th St., New York, August 24 and following days.

—A Lucerne letter reaches New York and comes to us with this cancellation, New York, N. Y. Rec'd Varick St. St. Page "Sevard."

—M. J. Fenster is in Athens. Two ads at hand.

—Where, oh where, are the publicity agents of the A. P. S. and S. P. A.? Have they succumbed to the hot weather?

—A standardization of parcel post labels is proposed by department officials.

—Mr. Severn will be at the St. Louis A. P. S. Convention. It means that a good report will be run in the WEEKLY.

Gibbons Catalogue, 1928

We have now received a definite official ruling that the importation of our priced Catalogue of Postage Stamps into the United States, in its present form is illegal, a matter on which we have hitherto been in doubt.

As the preparation of the new edition is too far advanced for us to do anything this year in the matter of cancelling the illustrations, we regret to inform the many users of our Catalogue in the United States that we shall be unable to accept orders for this catalogue, and that none will be despatched by us to addresses in the United States of America.

MR. NEW'S ATTITUDE

The following editorial was the "leader" in the Portland, Me., Press Herald of July 25th and is readable as indicating the position of the Postmaster-General in reference to the carrying of mail on special flights and as showing the impression made on the editor as a consequence of the refusal to authorize mail-carrying on the special flight under notice. Collectors will feel pleased that Mr. New has them in mind even though he may not be a collector himself; and we are assuming that while he has an eye for stamps, he is not a collector of them in the sense implied by "philatelist." If he is, so much the better. We have an idea that no single objection to the proposal influenced the decision but that a combination of them prevailed. The editorial is headed: "Is Mr. New a Collector?" and reads:

"A citizen of Augusta requested the Postmaster-General to arrange for a special air mail flight between that city and Boston to stimulate interest in aviation in this State and to advertise the air mail service.

In reply to this request Postmaster-General New replied that the department could not comply with it because 'if all the requests for handling mail on special flights were granted the value of first flight covers to philatelists and others interested would be almost entirely destroyed.'

The special flight was not disapproved of by Mr. New because it would tend to disrupt the Federal mail service. It was not denied because of its expense or because the Post Office Department is not desirous of securing popular support for the extension of the air mail. The only reason given by the Postmaster-General for not approving a special flight from Augusta to Boston is that it would tend to lessen the value of stamps which are being collected by a small group of people.

When the Chamberlin-Levine flight across the Atlantic was about to start officers of the Post Office Department were on hand and took away from the air pilots some letters which they had undertaken to carry across the sea and mail in Europe. On this occasion Postmaster-General New intervened because some of the philatelists protested that the stamps on the letters the air men intended to take with them would attain a great value and the collectors were opposed to it.

In other words the Postmaster-General appears to be greatly concerned in anything which affects even remotely the interests of stamp collectors. Why the Post Office Department should undertake to function to satisfy the demands of stamp collectors is beyond the comprehension of those who are conversant with the policies which have always been followed by the directors of this important government bureau. The only possible explanation seems to be that Mr. New is a stamp collector himself."

POSTAL SERVICE FACTS

(Clipping from Jos. Cadek.)

There are no longer post offices of the same name in the same State, but in different States there is a great deal of duplication among the post offices. There are twenty-three Buffaloes, twenty-eight Washingtons, twenty-six Madisons, twenty-five Clevelands, twenty-three Monroes, twenty-two Lincolns and seventeen Jacksons.

Pre-payment of postage was made compulsory in 1855.

Registry system was experimented with in 1855 and was in effective operation in 1868.

Free delivery of mail was undertaken as an experiment during 1863 in forty-nine cities with 449 carriers at an expense of $300,000.

Money order system instituted in 1864 with 138 money order offices. The original rate was a ten-cent fee for any sum under $20 and 25 cents for all amounts between $20 and $30, which was the maximum amount fixed by law.

The first railway post office was run between Chicago, Ill., and Clinton, Iowa, and its trial trip was made August 28, 1864.—Post Office Clerk.

A SERMON ON STAMPS

(Clipping from Mrs. H. W. Warren.)

The fact it does not give up when it gets a licking but sticks the tighter instead is one lesson that may be learned from a postage stamp, Dr. W. A. Tetley, pastor of the Westport Methodist church (Kansas City, Mo.), declared in his sermon last night.

"The value of a postage stamp," Dr. Tetley pointed out, "is determined by its maker, the government. Likewise, God, who created us, alone knows the value of a human soul."

"Another thing, the postage stamp does all that is expected of it. When I place a stamp on a letter, I know that it will carry my message to its destination. The stamp also is faithful in carrying the message intrusted to it, whether it be joy or sorrow, business or social."

"When a stamp is struck by a cancellation machine, and receives a dirty smear of black ink across its face, it never strikes back. It emphasizes the lesson taught by the wise man, 'a soft answer turneth away wrath, but grievous words stir up strife!'"

"Then, too, a postage stamp attends to its own business. It never meddles with the affairs of other stamps in the mail pouch. And it never gets discouraged. If it cannot find you at the address it will follow you all over the United States."

"That is what God wants us to do, to stay on the job continuously and tenaciously, until God calls a halt. No man or woman has the right to quit the task until death calls."

The sermon was a repetition of one Dr. Tetley gave last month before the graduating class of the Van Horn school. It was repeated by request.—K. C. Journal.

PRE-STAMP COVERS

My recent advertisement offering pre-stamp covers brought such a response that I am under the impression that covers of this type are more sought after than I had imagined. Under the circumstances, I offer several more especially interesting pre-stamp pieces.

The Baltimore Postmaster, in making the famous Buchanan Provisional envelopes, used the hand stamp with figure in oval, that had previously been used on pre-stamp covers. I offer the 5c pre-stamp Cover showing this figure in oval, together with the Baltimore postmark at 25c. The more rare 10c is offered at $1.00.

As far as I can learn, the Philadelphia post office was the first to handle registered mail and indicated that it was registered by means of a large blue hand stamped "R," together with number in manuscript. This was applied to incoming mails, and was used previous to the general registering of mail by the Department. I offer such a cover showing the postmarks, etc., of the sending office, in addition to the blue "R" at $1.00 each. About five varieties of postmarks showing the "R" are available.

The three covers offered are available, if ordered at one time, at $2.00.
 I can also furnish five varieties of pre-cancelled covers at 10c each.

Burgoyne and Vermont Stamps Appear

By the time these notes reach our readers, the new 2-cent stamps, issued to commemorate the Burgoyne Campaign and the Vermont Sesquicentennial, will have been issued, as they are scheduled to appear on August 3rd, per detailed information previously furnished in this column. The Philatelic Stamp Agency has sent out notices to those on their mailing list, calling attention to these varieties, and stating that they will be available on this date.

It is to be hoped that these two varieties will be followed next year by further issues commemorating famous Revolutionary events. Certainly, Valley Forge should not be forgotten, and if the activities started prove successful such a variety will be forthcoming.

As far as at present known, there is little likelihood of further commemorative stamps during the balance of this year, although new air mail varieties may appear. However, the Post Office Department has been known to make up its mind and issue a new stamp in short order, so that one can never tell when the unexpected may happen.

Air Mail Notes

Mention was made in this column of the fact that an air mail service would be established between Key West and Havana.

I am informed under date of July 22nd, by Mr. Chase C. Gove, Acting Second Assistant Postmaster-General, that it would be upward of ninety days before the commencement of the service. He further writes, "The service on this route is entirely different from the service on inland contract air mail routes. The Post Office Department is concerned only in the transportation of mails in one direction, namely from Key West to Havana and only first class mails bearing the regular rate of postage will be carried. No special air mail postage is necessary and no special cancellation stamps will be used when the service is inaugurated."

The Post Office Department has solicited bids to be opened on August 18th, for contract air mail services between Chicago, Ill., and Cincinnati, Ohio, via Indianapolis, Ind. The service, which is to be a daily one, will give Cincinnati direct connection with the transcontinental route to and from the west. The distance between the terminals is approximately two-hundred seventy (270) miles.

Mr. C. C. Bacon, has submitted a clipping from a Memphis paper, dated July 18th, giving detailed information relative to bids, which the Postmaster-General will open on August 18th, covering the contract air mail services between Atlanta and New Orleans, via Birmingham and Mobile, and a second between Memphis and St. Louis. Successful bidders are expected to begin service not later than six months after the award of contract.

The Postmaster at Springfield, Ill., announces that the official dedication of the air field in that city, in honor of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, will take place on August 15th. At that time a special postmark will be used, and it is expected that the trans-Atlantic flyer will be present on the occasion. At first it was hoped that mail would be carried in the "Spirit of St. Louis" by the famous pilot. The quantity already on hand, however, is excessive, and under the circumstances it will be carried in a special air mail plane, and will be escorted by Colonel Lindbergh.

Those interested in receiving covers with this special Lindbergh Air Field cancellation, may address the Postmaster at this point, enclosing ten cents per cover, to cover air mail postage.

STAMP NEWS IN BRIEF

BRITISH EMPIRE.

Australian Commonwealth.—"Not too bad" will doubtless be the comment on the new Canberra stamp, which we list and illustrate this month. The artist has combined very effectively the actual and the symbolic, though the attitude of the lady is perhaps a little strained. It takes a Frenchman to depict symbolic femininity effectively. However, the Canberra stamp will rank fairly high among the world's commemoratives from the artistic point of view. A rather brighter carmine shade of red would have helped the general effect, the brownish tone being rather dull. The stamp was issued in specially inscribed booklets of sixteen, as well as in sheets. Our thanks are due to many kind correspondents for specimens.

Fiji.—There are many rumours afloat concerning the £1 stamp. Some weeks ago we heard from a reliable New Zealand source that it had been withdrawn, but this information was later contradicted by the senders. Now Mr. P. C. Nyberg states that this value has not been on sale for two years past, the remaining stock of this stamp and of the 6d King Edward being used for fiscal purposes only, cancelled with a large "R." In view of the conflict of evidence we shall be glad to have definite news from one of our friends in Fiji.

Kenya.—A cutting sent by Mr. T. Trenn suggests that the colour of the 10c will have to be again changed from its present black hue as it is used as a receipt stamp and pen-cancellations will not show up clearly on it.

Palestine.—While collectors will welcome the new pictorial series, the first values of which are chronicled this month, they will regret that they are not a little more worthy of the dignity and age-long traditions of the Holy Land. Except in technical execution, they are little better than some of the recent French Colonial stamps. The "Tomb of Rachel" design is not unattractive, but the type illustrating the "Dome of the Rock" shows a lack of artistic perception which is painful. It is well known that the Palestine administration has to study economy in every way, but it is false economy to skimp the production of a series of postage stamps which will have a world-wide circulation. An artistically designed series, printed from line-engraved plates, would have paid for itself over and over again.

Union of South Africa.—Mr. H. Mallet-Veale tells us that our previous reference to 4d Triangular stamps, with roulette, was incorrect. He has been perforating sheets of these stamps for his own use, as have probably many firms in South Africa, but they have never been on sale officially, either perforated or rouletted.

The South African Philatelist informs us that the remaining values of the pictorial series will eventually be printed in Pretoria when the London contract expires. Postage Dues of new design are to appear in values of 2d, 3d and 6d.

OTHER COUNTRIES.

Belgium.—Congo State.—It is proposed to do away with the beautiful current series and to replace it by an historical issue on which will appear portraits of famous men who have been concerned with the Congo. Among these will be the explorers Livingstone and H. M. Stanley.

Chili.—Colonel A. T. Witbeck confirms Mr. Palmer's notes regarding the official stamps used by the Chilean National Library. He has received the following on official publications from the Library:—

- S.G. Type 64. 5c, slate-blue (opt. red).
- " 49. 10c, black and blue (opt. red).
- " 53. 20c, black and vermilion (opt. blue).
- " 57. 1p, black and green (opt. red).
- " 58. 2p, black and scarlet (blue opt.).

The overprint on the peso values is repeated at right and left, reading up at left and down at right. On the other

Air Mail Flight Off Leviathan

Post Office Officials Are Pleased With Chamberlin's Test Trip

NEW YORK, Aug. 1—During a 10-minute interval between two heavy rain storms, Clarence D. Chamberlin zoomed into the air from the new flying bridge of the Leviathan at sea, swooped and side-slipped, dipped and climbed above and around the mighty ship and then swung off toward land to disappear a moment later in a driving rain.

A little over an hour later he slipped down on to Curtiss field, greeted those who had helped him groom the Belanca for his flight to Germany, took off again and landed at Hasbrouck Heights, N. J., where he delivered some 900 pieces of mail to the postmaster.

Plans for the establishment of a regular ship-to-shore and shore-to-ship service by airplane for trans-Atlantic mail are under consideration; the Second Assistant Postmaster General, W. Irving Glover, announced August 2. Under one plan of the Department, trans-Atlantic mail time would be cut to less than 72 hours, Mr. Glover said.

The actual operation of a trans-oceanic air mail service depends largely on a number of matters confronting the Department which, Mr. Glover said, will be considered at a conference called by the International Bureau of the Universal Postal Union. This conference will convene at The Hague, September 1. Mr. Glover and Eugene R. White, Superintendent of Foreign Mails, will represent this Government at the conference.

The full text of Mr. Glover's announcement follows:

The feat of Clarence D. Chamberlin in successfully taking off from the deck of the Leviathan far out at sea and landing safely with mail from passengers to friends on shore brings nearer to consummation plans of the Post Office Department which have been evolving for some time for the establishment of a regular ship-to-shore and shore-to-ship service for trans-Atlantic mail.

The Post Office Department has been operating such a service for seven years between Seattle, Wash., and Victoria, B. C., and for four years between New Orleans, and Pilotown, La., and as soon as a number of complications are ironed out, and actual experiments demonstrate which of several plans is most feasible, the same sort of service will be established for expediting trans-Atlantic mail, both incoming and outgoing.

The mail carried by Chamberlin was merely last-minute farewells of passengers who accepted the opportunity afforded them of using an unique service for another good-bye to friends ashore. It demonstrated the feasibility of the service but in actual operation the plane would bring in mail from an incoming vessel in order to expedite it rather than an outgoing one.

One of the plans under consideration would attach to each trans-Atlantic liner an auxiliary airplane. The plane would remain on shore until the vessel was from 24 to 48 hours at sea and then catch it with last-minute mail and passengers. The ship would then carry the plane to within an equal distance from the European shore when the plane would hop off with mail and passengers and beat the vessel to port. With such a service in operation it is estimated that the trans-Atlantic mail time could be cut to less than 72 hours.

This plan will involve considerable experimentation and development in the landing control of planes. If land planes are used each liner must be equipped with a superstructure long enough and wide enough to permit landing in stormy weather. If seaplanes are used, as preferred by postal officials now, the problem of hoisting them aboard ship in heavy seas will not be an easy one to solve.

Until some of these mechanical difficulties are worked out it is expected that the initial service will involve the use of seaplanes which will operate between the American shore and incoming vessels, picking mail up at sea in the same way that is now done by the mail boat at Quarantine. It is possible that the same plane, on its way to meet an incoming liner, could drop last-minute mail on an outgoing steamer without stopping.

Another feature that must be thrashed out is the decision as to the service charge that is to be made. The larger liners often carry several thousand pounds of mail and it would be out of the question to expedite it all by air. A service charge must be levied and in making such a levy other countries must be consulted and arrangements made for imposition of the charge.

This question will be taken up at a conference called by the International Bureau of the Universal Postal Union, which convenes at The Hague, September 1, to discuss international air mail postage and transit rates as well as conditions of mailability. The United States will be represented at this conference by Mr. Glover and Eugene R. White, Superintendent of Foreign Mails.

UNITED STATES

We are constant buyers of United States stamps, spending several thousand dollars every month to keep our stock of these stamps in shape. We have just purchased a very fine collection of both nineteenth and twentieth century, running into five figures and have at present nearly everything in twentieth century in stock, including such items as the blue paper set complete, the 4c and 8c being the finest copies we have ever seen, perfectly centered. We have in stock practically all blocks of the twentieth century.

A want list will receive our best attention and you can rest assured that the majority of the stamps can at the moment be supplied. If you have not yet got our twenty page U. S. list, we would be very pleased to send it to you upon receipt of your request.

STAMPS FOR WINDOW DRESSING

We have received from Mr. T. J. Irvine, of the London Guarantee and Accident Company, Limited, Toronto office, Canada, a copy of the Weekly Underwriter, a paper published in New York that has a good circulation among insurance interests. We read that Mr. Alfred W. McLeod of Vancouver, B. C., and New Westminster, B. C., realizing the attractions of envelopes bearing stamps from countries the world over addressed to his firm has utilized them to good effect as a window display. Crowds were collected before the exhibit and the resulting publicity had its influence that bore favorably both on philately and the exhibiting firm. The article in the Weekly Underwriter was illustrated by a row of stamp cuts and one of postmarks; and we quote from the columns of the paper:

"Every town is full of men, women and children who collect postage stamps. The hobby seems never to languish. In every large or medium size city there are one or more persons who make stamp collecting and selling their business. One can well picture the eagerness with which hundreds of persons who stop at the McLeod window scan the various envelopes and wish they could obtain this or that stamp for their own album.

The window display has been the envy of many juvenile stamp collectors and the firm has been asked by a number of them for stamps. Mr. McLeod, president of the company, is a philatelist ("botanical" name for stamp collector) himself, however, and the envelopes have been saved largely due to his interest in this pastime."

LANSDOWNE EXHIBITION

(Clipping from Dr. F. E. Lucy)

The Lansdowne (Pa.) Stamp Club announces that its Second Annual Stamp Exhibition will be held in Lansdowne in November of this year. The exhibition will be free to the public and the stamps of all countries will be displayed under glass. Prize awards will be made under the following classes:—

(I) U. S. and its possessions; (II) Great Britain and its colonies; (III) Europe; (IV) Africa and Asia; (V) North, South and Central America and West Indies; (VI) Any Colonials except British; (VII) 20th Century stamps only; (VIII) Specialties, such as precancels, block, plate numbers and covers; (IX) Open to Juniors (under age 18) only; (X) Open to collectors living outside Delaware County.

Any stamp collector outside of the club may exhibit his stamps on payment of a small fee and compete for awards. Further information may be obtained from John R. Huston, 42 Berkley Ave., Lansdowne, Pa.

THE WAYNE STAMP CLUB

I am pleased to let you know that your old friend, the veteran Detroit philatelist, Herman Boers, delighted the members of the Wayne Stamp Club, Detroit, recently by showing and explaining his elegant U. S. specialized collections. The Wayne Stamp Club has about forty adult enthusiasts who are not afraid to teach and aid their growing "boys" who come to the weekly meetings, Thursday evenings, at the St. Clair Recreation Bldg., Lemay and Canfield Aves. Mr. Boers especially is noted for his interest in our junior collectors.

The officers of the Club plan a Stamp Exhibition early in the fall. Any Detroit philatelist or out of town collector is welcome to visit the Club.—A. A. DEIMEL, Ph.D., Pub. Mgr.

SOME WORLD WAR CANCELLATIONS

By W. N. WYETH.

As the collection of cancellations seemed to be attracting many advocates just now, I thought it would be of interest to show a few I have, especially as they were used on stamps. No doubt some, if not all of them, are familiar on envelopes without stamps, but on stamps they are rare. Those I have are all on Y. M. C. A. envelopes with their insignia, excepting two U. S. 3c stamps of the current issue were used. No. 5 is probably the scarcest. It was used by our Army of Occupation. I have seen only four pieces of it; 3c offset printing stamps are used and judging from the thickness of papers, it was used for packages. I am not able to fully illustrate the Killer of No. 2, because it did not show anymore than I have shown. The Jack in the Flag of No. 4 seems to be considerably worn.

All the covers were used from Paris. I cannot say from where No. 5 was used.

AIRMAIL CHRONICLE

France.—A balloon mail consisting of letters reproducing the "Gazette des Postes" was flown from Strasburg during the Exhibition on June 12th, and a special label was used, which was cancelled with a violet postmark. The carrier balloon landed at La Wantzenau, near the Rhine, and there the mail was handed over at the post office.

Japan.—Mr. Teramoto shows us a letter which was carried on the first day of mail connection from Japan with Moscow-Berlin air service. This letter, postmarked in Tokyo on May 27th, was carried to Moscow on June 14th, and at Berlin on the evening of the same day.

Kenya.—We learn that only four letters addressed to Jinja (Uganda) were carried on the first flight on February 15th. About 2,000 letters were, however, carried to Khartoum, a few of which were registered.

Newfoundland.—In the course of a round Atlantic flight, D. Pinedo carried 4 lbs. of mail, about 225 letters, to Newfoundland, when he left on the 23rd. The 60c Cabot stamp was specially surcharged for this event with the words in red, in two lines: "Airmail Pinedo 1927."

Norway.—The new 45 ore official stamp was first used on mail on June 6th, we believe. This stamp is of unusual design, and appears in an oblong format, printed in blue-green with the inscription in white red: "Luftpost Norge 45 ore."

Portugal.—A service operating three times weekly from Lisbon to Madrid, Seville was opened early in June.

Sudan.—On the occasion of the opening of the trial service last February, only mail carried from Khartoum was small private one, including a letter signed by the aviator and inscribed with a rubber stamp: "Carried by the Air between Khartoum and Kisumu, Kenya Colony."

Switzerland.—We are indebted to H. Vogler for news of the opening of a regular service between Lausanne, Chaux-de-Fonds, and Locle. This service inaugurated on May 30th, and special cards and covers, to the number of 15, of each, imprinted with the official stamps as designed in 1923, were prepared by "Société Nhora." A Swiss philatelic publication also arranged the issue of 250 sets of 1,000 envelopes imprinted with the current air stamps and bearing a special inscription. Specimens of all these items were deposited at the Federal Postal Museum at Bern. Flown entire received a special official cachet, which will be illustrated next month, and were also postmarked with the ordinary air cancellation at the town of reception.—The Aero Field.

STAMP TRADE PROTECTIVE ASS'N

MEKEEL'S WEEKLY is a member of the Amer-

as the Stamp Trade Protective Association. It has frequently referred to the work that is being done by the A.
S. D. A., and takes this opportunity of commending the S. T. P. A., of which James H. Garrett is president and W.
J. C. is secretary-treasurer. The office of the association is at Kalamazoo, Mich.
We earnestly urge all dealers to take ad-

We are in active co-operation with these bodies and desire to lend all assistance possible to promoting their policy.

OUR HONOR CLUB

John Luther Kilbon, N. Y. City.
Starr, Philadelphia, Pa.
With great pleasure that we add the name of Rev. John Luther Kilbon to our Honor Club, and we deeply appreciate the measure of honor that he is acquiring. The managing editor came to know Mr. Kilbon some 30 years ago, when the Boston Stamp Book was in its infancy. While this publication had a brief career, it was, nevertheless,
highly appreciated by the circle of philatelists to which it appealed. Under Mr. Kilbon's proprietorship we understand the business management, only to be a little later to the Weekly Philatelic Era, which Mr. Mekeel had founded. In sending his remittance he said, "This is my second five-year renewal, but the first was a long time ago and the Honor Club has not dug so into antiquity. I believe my name has been continuously on the subscription list since Vol. 1, No. 1." Mr. Kilbon is now Executive Secretary of the New York City Congregational Church Education, with offices at 289 4th Ave.
We also add to our list James Starr,
100 Atlantic Bldg., Philadelphia, Pa.
Thank you!

"POSTAL PARAPHERNALIA"
By "SEVARD."

All of us collect stamps, but many collect postal paraphernalia, among which recently came to light the World's Fair canceller, which is set at the closing hour of the closing day of the famous 1893 celebration. Here and about we find many of these rather interesting miscellanies which played rather an important part in our postal history, and we often wonder if someone isn't going to find the originals of the odd cancels we note in the older issues. A philatelic museum is not without consideration, and perhaps some kindly philatelic association may want to house these paraphernalia for historic reasons.

M. T. Dome has queried the cancel on a 200 reis Brazil which reads "U. S. Naval Mission to BraRio de Janeiro, Brazil SEP 30 *" in three lines with a line stamp in light blue. The cancel is unlike any we have noted as SEA POST or NAVAL. Further, such cancel on a foreign stamp is peculiarly odd and merits distinction.

Some time ago we remarked the SEA POST cancels, which include the PAQUEBOATS. The N. Y. & BUENOS AIRES SEA POST cancel on the S. S. SOUTHERN CROSS is a duplex handstamp but with a 30mm townmark. The 29mm and 31mm grid and bar handstamps make rather clear cancels, and one hopes that these large handstamps will continue in use, if but for the postal markings collectors.

Chicago has an AIR MAIL machine cancel. Is it possible that our AIR MAIL has become so heavy that a machine cancel is necessary?

Those who collect revalued envelopes have shown us some specimens where the revaluation is shown on the backs of the envelopes, which, of course, is not a variety but an oddity.

RETURN TO SENDER marks lack uniformity, except in a few cases, as the RETURN TO SENDER machine marks. The variety of hands or index fingers pointing to the return address develops from puny childish hands to real hams and one hand in particular wears a shirt with cuff-links. Many of the marks are quite verbose in permitting to select some reason why the mail was not delivered. One city has a rubber stamp which outlines the postal authority for returning the mail to sender, and this information stamped on an envelope makes an interesting cover in postal history.

The first class printed permit known as type B is so rarely used these days that we often wonder if our A.P.S. mail from Maryland is the only persistent user of the privilege. In the past five years, we have noted only one other user of the type set first class permit. This seems to be one of those advantageous offers no one wants to accept.

We saw a white elephant at the circus the other day, a real, living white elephant. All philatelists have dead ones which they hide. Recently, at a meeting of a nearby society, a collector exhibited a volume of stamps and covers. One enthusiast, after viewing the collection, softly remarked to the possessor, "I noticed a counterfeit in that book." "My Gawd," ejaculated the other, "that whole book is a collection of counterfeits."

A number have written that they have planned to summer at the beach, the house in the woods or at the old cha-teau, which is intended to excuse them from thinking stamps during the heat of the sun. These chaps are not going to forget stamps,—they only think they are. And next fall, they will be telling you of the stamps they picked up this summer. For those who have two, three, four or more hobbies, one can but remind them that stamp collecting penetrates deep woods, dark nights and rain on the tin roof.

HATS OFF TO THIS P. M.

Indianapolis, Indiana, has a postmaster who bestirs himself to accommodate the public. He does not take the course of least resistance but meets complaint with action intended to have salutary effect. The propensity of some of the stamps to curl off the envelopes, not to mention other shortcomings due to the contrariness of the original gum has been the subject of the P. M.'s curiosity to know the reason for the nuisance and the results of Robt. H. Bryson's investigation are told in a letter that he has issued, as follows:

"This office has called the attention of the Third Assistant Postmaster-General to complaints received especially regarding postage stamps of the 2-cent denomination. Complaints have been made relative to stamps failing to stick—curling after being affixed to envelopes, and improperly tearing at the perforations.

The Third Assistant Postmaster-General has advised this office as follows:

"These complaints are undoubtedly directed to the new rotary press stamps where the process, because of the extra strain on the paper, which is printed and gummed as a continuous process from roll paper, requires paper stock of a slightly heavier tensile strength. Some of the earlier stamps manufactured on these presses were difficult to separate at the perforations, particularly across the grain of the paper, and as soon as possible after this undesirable feature came to notice, steps were taken to increase the number of perforations across the ends of the stamps by approximately 25 percent. All of the stamps now being issued, including the 2c denomination, that are manufactured on the rotary presses, have the new style perforations and it is not believed that there will be any cause for complaint in this regard as patrons receive the new style stamps.

As the same high grade adhesive material is used on the stamps, it is reasonable to believe that many of these complaints are more or less imaginary, due to the slightly different handling qualities and appearance of the new process stamps. Some of them do have a little tendency to curl and if the user does not exercise a reasonable amount of care in moistening and affixing them they may not stick satisfactorily. However, from experiments made in the Department and in view of the constant tests that are being made at the Bureau of Engraving & Printing, it is not thought that the stamps are so unsatisfactory as to cause the loss of postage in the mails to any great extent if the users do not apply too much moisture and will give a reasonable amount of pressure to the stamps as they are attached.

The Department is desirous of overcoming all causes for complaint on the part of the public and the matter of stamp manufacture and inspection is receiving the most careful attention, but, from tests made here and in the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, little evidence has been shown that the stamps which are now being issued are to any extent inferior to those available heretofore, although, as stated before, they do have a slightly different appearance and handling qualities.

In view of the foregoing, if, after reasonable care, postage stamps are found to be defective, please submit samples—preferably a block of several stamps, to this office, stating when, where and from whom purchased, also explain any defects in detail."

EDITORIAL

St. Louis, the city of the convention of the American Philatelic Society, is ready for its guests and preparations for their advent have been completed, we are told. It is not to be denied that a large attendance at the annual meeting has much to do with the success of the deliberations and that is one reason why the advantage of a good numerical representation is stressed in all the preliminary announcements. It is only fair, however, that the members in a convention city be given favorable recognition for their unselfish efforts to provide attractions for the delegates, and we are hopeful that there will be a long roll at St. Louis.

This year, there are no predictions of the nature of the problems that will be discussed at the convention but it is likely that there will be no paucity of subjects presented for an airing. The annual meeting certainly offers an occasion for the ventilation of ideas and it were better for members who have criticisms to voice them there rather than to take other means to give them attention. Now that philately has emerged into the open, as it were, it is subject to those rules that apply to any pursuit or profession that no longer needs to seek the by-ways but may now march down the avenue.

In formulating plans for reformatory work for the convention, it is necessary to reduce them to definite outlines, and criticism, without constructive measures, is apt to carry little weight. For instance, one member writes that means should be taken to protect members from fraud both within and without the society, but he dodges a formidable question by offering no suggestions for reform. The officers of the society are anxious to improve their organizations in every respect and the member who complains about present conditions will find them receptive to any measure that may accomplish a worthy end.

Mr. Chas. St. Cloud, Port-au-Prince, Haiti, says that the stamps and covers issued to commemorate the great French chemist, Marcellin Berthelot, on the 12th of July, 1927, are very scarce. He adds that a "Pinedo cover has been made as a souvenir of the great Italian Airman travelling the world over." He gives as well some interesting information of Haitian air mail flights.

Perhaps it was three years ago that announcement was made in our columns that Mr. August Dietz of Richmond, Virginia, had confirmed the report that was circulated at the time that he was determined to publish "The Story of the Post Office Department of the Confederate States of America and Its Postage Stamps," a work in prospect that has been engaging his time and effort since the last century. This information was conveyed when the Southern Philatelist, in effect, a revival of the old Virginia Philatelist, was introduced to provide a vehicle for the material that had been gathered by Mr. Dietz. The huge task which had been undertaken several times by others in former years was underwritten with a stout heart and high enthusiasm. Running through three volumes of the Southern Philatelist and increasing in interest as the story unfolded, the history is now drawing to a close. Problems which have puzzled the student for years have been solved; the veil of obscurity surrounding the framed ten cent and the "Ten" cent has been lifted and their story told. Documents from the Confederate archives in the War Department have yielded their toll in data hitherto unknown, thus increasing the interest in these historical stamps. Here it should be said that the author is a master-craftsman of the graphic arts and he has woven into his story a lucid discourse on the various printing processes, typography, lithography and plate printing, illustrating every inch of the picture so that the details may be said to embrace the production of the stamps of any country. Consequently, a text-book of stamp typography will be available and welcomed.

When the call for Mr. Dietz' material in enduring form became insistent, he expressed a willingness to revise and literally rewrite the story provided that a sufficient number of subscriptions were pledged to justify the printing of the volume. After a three months' canvass, a poll shows that enough support is promised to assure the success of the venture. August Dietz now projects a volume almost unique which will be illustrated in a manner never before attempted in this country but he demands that the history shall be a subscription volume and published for those alone who are friends of the stamps of the Confederacy who care to subscribe and incidentally have their names among the patrons on a tableted page. However, Mr. Dietz tells us that until the first forms are ready for the press, subscriptions will be received but that when the first form is locked, the "No Admittance" sign will be displayed.

In the foreign press there has been no dearth of interest shown in Mr. Dietz' ambitions and it were unseemly indeed if we withheld our meed of appreciation of the service that he is to do philately. Since the work will bear the imprimatur of the Press of the Dietz Printing Co., in Richmond, Virginia, and be fashioned under the supervision of the author, we may anticipate a splendid example of workmanship. The book will appear in three styles: an edition de luxe, bound in full morocco, gilt, numbered and autographed, at $50; a library edition, gray cloth, leather back, at $10; and a cloth edition at $5. Payment is half the subscription price on demand and the remainder upon delivery of the finished work. We rejoice in the prospect of having this exceptional volume in hand and to know that material evidence of the regard of our philatelists has sealed the compact with Mr. Dietz so that his crowning philatelic ambition may be realized. Even we have reserved five copies of the book with every confidence that the quid pro quo will make us happy in our bargain.

A letter from Mr. Umberto Biocchi, Paris, which was delayed in transit, tells an interesting version of the discovery of the Byrd letters that went to France on the "America", which is translated for the benefit of readers: "The pleasure of not a few fortunate individuals will be enhanced by the report that the stamps have been rescued. Most of the stamps have been found in the bottom of the mail sack, having been soaked off the letters when the plane dived into the ocean at Ver-sur-Mer. The regional director at Rouen was placed in charge of the letters and they were sent to Paris, where they were claimed by those in possession of the air envelopes, which had been forwarded without the stamps. The finale is a happy one and those who now have the complete letters are rejoicing in their good fortune."

The mention of stampless envelopes makes it incumbent upon us to say the activities of those who are in a position to remove stamps from letters transit while curbed for some time the warning of the post office department that short shrift would be made of culprits when found seem to have been revived. Several examples of this maladroit enterprise have been submitted that would arouse the wrath of a saint. Those who suffer from this form of speculation should lose no time in conveying their complaints to the post office department, in the knowledge that authorities are anxious to stamp out practice.

A COLOR FRAUD

By JOSEPH GODER.

A new "off color" stamp has appeared from Germany. A "red" 100 mark error of the copper-etched series of the network watermark looms forth but the stamp is a fake. It was never printed nor was there a red colored proof made of it. The red color is simply the result of a chemical treatment with soda or similar alkali. Why buy this masquerade when you can make it yourself? Boil the regular brown purple, 100 mark in soda and you have the "genuine" color error.

CANCELLED-TO-ORDER COVERS
By ROBERT S. GORDON.

Just why it is that covers collectors feel inclined to appear apologetic when exhibiting their personally addressed covers has always been a bit of a mystery to me. There is not, it is true, the same interest attaching to a cover prepared by the collector as to one which passed through the mails with no immediate philatelic destination. But that the modern practice of sending a batch of covers to a foreign country to be returned should be considered reprehensible, is, to me at least, rather hard to understand.
And yet it seems to be so considered.
Or perhaps it is merely the fashion at present to belittle such covers, on the ground that they are "made to order."
Various attempts have been made to excuse the practice. There are, of course, some stamps so delicate that soaking
them in water is likely to injure them.
There is also some truth in the statement that such covers are not likely to come on the market because of their usually obvious origin.

But why attempt excuses for such covers? They are, if you wish, "manufactured, made- or cancelled-to-order."
If they are, then so are at least ninety-
five percent of the first-day covers now being sold in such large quantities. It has now reached the point where the inauguration of a new air mail route attracts more "letters"—cancelled-to-order
first day covers—than are likely to be carried in a week of ordinary air mail service. A new commercial route can count with certainty on at least one day of exceedingly good business—the first day. One of these days somebody is going to attempt a collection of second day covers and find that there aren't any—whereupon first day covers will probably suffer an eclipse!
If there is any distinction, ethical or otherwise, between first-day flown covers and the "manufactured," personally addressed covers from foreign countries, I

BRITISH COLONIALS
NINETEENTH CENTURY

If you are interested in the grand old issues of B. W. I., CEYLON, etc., you miss much by not taking advantage of my magnificent stock. Copies in the most beautiful condition are being offered at prices which are reasonable for this kind of material.
It is a stock for connoisseurs.

TWENTIETH CENTURY
My "SPECIAL MIDSUMMER OFFERS" as advertised in "MEKEEL'S" June 20th was a great success. The liberal quantities, set aside for this quite unusual offering, were all exhausted, and a supplementary quantity of some of these stamps were taken from stock in order to satisfy distant customers. Orders came in from all over the country—and also from a number of foreign countries.
Those who wanted several of a kind got them as long as the quantity was within reason (a large proportion of the orders were from dealers), and nobody was told:—"Only one copy to each applicant" or "Owing to heavy demand all copies gone". Inducement prices quoted don't mean much when orders are met with such answers, I think.
Nobody had their orders left unfilled except those who were weeks too late in sending in their orders. Principally for their benefit, I am repeating some of the offers—the only SMALL total quantities, as given in brackets, will this time be sold:—

To my way of thinking, both are in the same boat. And yet I have never seen any disparaging comment referring to the flown covers.
I have known quite a few collectors of modern covers who "made" their own—when they were lucky. One chap I knew insisted on picking out his postoffices
from an antiquated and highly inaccurate map; with the result that his covers,
when they were returned at all, usually came back in the original package, with a notation to the effect that there was "No Such Post Office."
For some time now I have indulged in this reprehensible practice myself. Worse than that, I have even, at times, sold a few such cancelled-to-order covers. And yet my principal regret is that I didn't start sooner!

Junior Dictionary

O. F. Castellorizo.—This overprint on 5c, 10c, 20c, 25c, 50c and 1fr French stamps means "Occupation Francaise Castellorizo." It was the third and last issue of stamps for the island indicated and was made with handstamp on board the vessel La Provence.

O. N. F. Castellorizo.—This surcharge on certain French and French Levant stamps means "Occupation Navale Francaise" and "Castellorizo" the island where the stamps were used.

On L. F. S.—These letters on stamps of India represent:—"On Local Funds Service." It is one of a number of overprints with no official standing and used to prevent the theft of stamps for private use.

One Fraction.—In 1914 Trinidad permitted the local Red Cross Society to use a type-set label as a frank upon letters soliciting donations for its work. They were used only on Sept. 18, 1914, some nine hundred copies being circulated and postmarked in regular form. Upon the stamp appears "One fraction," an unexplained expression connected with its regular use as a Red Cross seal. It passed the post on the one day in place of a half-penny stamp.

1. 1. 17.—This date represents Jan. 1, 1917, and is found on Bahamas 1d Red Cross stamp. It was supposed that this would be the date on which the issue should be sold, but delays in printing and shipping resulted in their delivery at Nassau five months later in May.

Onorate L'Altissimo Poeta.—This inscription on Italy's 25c Dante stamp means "Honored be the most exalted poet."

Orcha.—A native Indian state where stamps were first issued in 1914.

Patzcuaro.—A province in Mexico where provisional stamps were said to have been issued during the revolutionary period, 1867-8. The stamps are catalogued with reserve, their authenticity being questioned.

Particular.—This word is found overprinted on certain official stamps of Nicaragua on which the word OFICIAL has been barred out. The meaning of the word is "particular" or "special" in English, but its special service has not been indicated and the stamps were used for ordinary postage.

Pilgrim Tercentenary.—This name is given to a set of three stamps issued by the U. S. in 1920 to celebrate the 300th anniversary of the landing of the Pilgrims at Plymouth, Mass. There are three values, 1, 2 and 5c.

Plebiscite—Olsztyn—Allenstein.—An overprint on German stamps used in the Polish-German plebiscite, Allenstein area. The word "Olsztyn" is the Polish term for the district.

Two Questions Answered

G. W. Taylor.—The paper used by the National and Continental Bank Note Companies was similar and for all practical purposes the differences, if any, could be told only by an expert. The 1c to 15c values printed by the Continental Co. can be distinguished by the so-called secret marks. In the case of the other values the colors are the only reliable test and it is not possible to describe these lucidly in print. The paper used by the American Bank Note Co. was quite different. It is softer to the feel, slightly thicker, and is more coarsely "woven" so that it appears to be watermarked with innumerable minute dots.

(2) The differences between dies I and II of the 1/2d and 1d King George stamps of Great Britain are as follows:—In die II of the 1/2d the portrait has been redrawn, the features being much more distinct; in die II of the 1d the portrait has also been redrawn but the best test lies in the lion at base which is now shaded all over.

The Seven Ages of Stamp Fever

The passion burns fiercely through the seven ages. A boy stamp collector will cheerfully part with his prize lop-eared rabbit and the book his mother gave him to acquire another boy's stamps.

As he grows older he may forget the winsome face of his childish sweetheart, but he will always remember the expressionless faces of the Kings and Queens of his early collections.

If he grows rich in his old age he will spend his time and money in obtaining the stamps of others, and he will go to the grave tormented by the thought that he has not secured them all. If the problem of the baby or Raphael's Madonna were to confront the philatelist in the burning house he would forget both and save his stamp collection.

"Why I Collect U. S. and Canada, Including Commemoratives"

Charles Hazlehurst, Brantford, Canada, has sent us two sets of the new Canada Commemorative stamps in unused condition, and offers them for the two best compositions on the subject, "Why I Collect U. S. and Canada, Including Commemoratives." All entries are limited to 75 words each, and one prize each will be given to the boy and girl sending the best essay.

To make this contest all the more interesting, the editor of this department will give 10 nice original covers to each of the prize-winners. It will not be possible to acknowledge by mail all entries received. We reserve the right to print any and suitable prize awards will be made for any so used. The contest closes Sept. 15.

Paper No. 7—Dickinson

This is paper having one or more continuous silk threads embedded in its substance. It is so-called from its inventor, John Dickinson, who made a machine by means of which the threads were incorporated in the paper while in the pulp stage. The 5r, 10r and 15r stamps of the 1855-62 issues of Switzerland are common examples of silk-thread paper.

The Two Cent Stamp

Potatoes rise till the price gives pain,
White sugar costs like the dickens now,
We yearn for steak, and we yearn in vain,
And milk—ah, plutocrat with a cow!
But let us cheer for one bright spot
That gleams the while like a signal lamp.
There's one thing yet the trusts have not—
Hurrah for the good old two cent stamp!

Hurrah for the good old, fine old two
That will stick to its job for me and you,
And in spite of drought or of rain or snow
Costs what it did just a year ago!
The two cent stamp—give it glad acclaim,
For the price is always just the same.

They raise our rent, they raise each tax,
They make us pay a lot for shoes,
The shirts and things that go on our backs
Now cost so much they give us the blues,
But this old friend is the one best bet.
We buy it and have no spender's cramp.
The rest increase; it's the same price yet.
Hurrah for the good old two cent stamp!

Hurrah for the fine old, good old two
That we buy today as we used to do!
It's the only thing in our native land
That has not gone up fit to beat the band.
So, boys, cheer! Let us roar and ramp—
Hurrah for the good old two cent stamp!

Bennington Stamps On Sale

BENNINGTON, VT., Aug. 3.—The Bennington sesqui-centennial two-cent postage stamp went on sale here this morning. The first purchase was made by George W. Patterson, 15, of Vergennes. Mail orders, filled during the night and cancelled early this morning, totalled 50,000 stamps. More than 100 purchases of the stamps were made at the window during the first fifteen minutes. A copy has been mailed Colonel Charles Lindbergh in appreciation of his flying over Bennington on his recent hop from Springfield, Vt., to Albany. Eugene Pike, 18, of New York City, walked from Boston, where he is employed, to secure a sheet of the new stamps.

Philately's Freemasonry

There is a good side to philately. It is the most democratizing influence in the world. Its devotees number all ages of men and all classes of society, and constitute a freemasonry that includes all races.

If all diplomatists were collectors there would be no more war; they would never obey the order of recall while a stamp remained in the country. If war ever did occur it would be not to annex fresh territory, but to acquire old collections.

Two Kinds of Reprints

Reprints fall into two classes—Government reprints and private reprints. The former are made by a government and the latter by private individuals into whose hands the plates have fallen. We have dealt with the matter fairly fully in these columns already and though the fact that a stamp has been reprinted is not usually advertised broadcast it does not necessarily follow that the reprints are going to be sold to innocent collectors as the genuine article.

The fact that reprints exist is generally discovered by a specialist or dealer (not one of the "unscrupulous" variety of course!) who has probably been victimized. The leading catalogues generally refer to those stamps which have been reprinted and if the distinguishing points are slight the collector had best let such varieties alone or purchase of from a responsible dealer.

The collector who gets "had" with reprints is generally one who buys "bargains" from people of doubtful honesty or, more often, colossal philatelic ignorance. Reprints must, of course, be printed from the original plates but they may differ from the genuine stamps in variety of ways—paper, color, perforation, or all three may be different.

Gum—A Bit of Sarcasm

By VERNON SMITH.

Some collectors collect singles, other pairs, blocks and strips, while others work on shades, perforations, cancellations and freaks, but never have I heard of anyone collecting stamps by the taste of the gum, and this is a great unexplored field.

Gum collectors (i.e.) (those that collect by the taste of the gum) would class the stamps as sweet gum, no gum, non-tastable gum, or objectionable gum or they could class stamps by a better system and much more interesting, such as the following:—

Starting out with our own we could class them as sweet sugar, or can flavor. French stamps might taste of mild wine; the stamps of India, the banana; Italian stamps could be sphagnum, etc., down the line.

This would mean a change in our catalogues, as flavor of gum and variety would be added.

Why, even blind people collect stamps in this manner!

A counterfeit stamp could be easily detected.

Again, I say, there is a great field open in this line and it would be a great aid to Philately if we had an authority on the tastes of gums of the stamps of the world. It would also make identification easier for the junior collector (mint (o.g.) stamps).

Perplexing Surcharges

SACRAMENTO ENTERTAINS

Top Collectors of the West Gather for a Gala Occasion

On Saturday, July 23, the San Francisco known as the Pacific Philatelic Society
the honored guest of the Sacramento Society. A dinner was given in the Hotel's Hotel and this was followed by a exhibition. Not only was this feature ent, but it received publicity of a high as the following clipping from the Sacrato "Bee" will show. Wm. Wyllie is pres-of the local society and Walter N. Baker, etary. Congratulations.—W. O. W.)

Some of the finest stamp collections of country were on display at the Hotel Travelers when the Pacific Philatelic Society of San Francisco was the guest
the Sacramento Stamp Society Satur-night, July 23.

One of the most interesting collections
of Julius Loeb, Oakland jeweler,

stamps, stamps used by the various ex-companies in the early days of the st.

collection of Confederate letters
dated during the Civil War was displayed by Loeb. The scarcity of paper the South was demonstrated in the
of paper that the Southerners were forced to use. Wall paper, wrapping paper, everything with a blank side, were used, and envelopes were frequently lined inside out and utilized a second
time.

Some of the other exhibits were as follow: H. C. Marcus, Danish West Indies; A. H. Wilhelm, United States stamps; William W. Blackwell, United States and colonies, Great Britain and revenue stamps of the Civil War period; L. Lazarus, Denmark, Nor-

Chile and South America; Dr. F. Fischer, specialized collection of United States cut square envelopes; James Harrington, twentieth century stamps of the Leeward Islands.

Gibbons Catalogue, 1928

We have now received a definite official ruling
that the importation of our priced Catalogue of Postage Stamps into the United States, in its present form is illegal, a matter on which we have hitherto been in doubt.

As the preparation of the new edition is too far
advanced for us to do anything this year in the matter of cancelling the illustrations, we regret to inform the many users of our Catalogue in the United States that we shall be unable to accept orders for
this catalogue, and that none will be despatched by
us to addresses in the United States of America.

CANAL ZONE—MORE ERRORS

By HARRY E. HUBER.

15c CANAL omitted, sharp "A"—In March, 1926, a sheet of the 15c sharp
"A," was reported from Cristobal, with CANAL missing on one stamp. On investigation it was found that the margin had been folded over, and received the missing word. The error was simply one of printing, and not an error on the overprint plate.

As early as June, 1926, the 20c sharp
"A" (issued April 5, 1926) was reported
with CANAL normal, ZONE inverted (similar to the error on the 1c and 12c flat "A"). Only three sheets were said to exist, but as the printing comprised 125 sheets of 400, more probably occurred. Later in the year, the 20c was reported with CANAL inverted, ZONE normal. Oddly, these errors have not been reported on the 17c, 30c and $1
sharp "A," overprinted from the same overprint plate, unless it is that more than one sharp "A" overprint plate was made for the horizontal rectangular stamps.

The 1c flat "A," 17c and 20c sharp "A,"
are also known overprinted ZONE CANAL, and the 17c CANAL only, caused by misfeed to the press. The overprint was applied too low to the sheet, so that the first horizontal row of the sheet received only CANAL, the second row ZONE CANAL, etc.; the lower margin would probably be overprinted ZONE only.

The 10c "POSTAGE DUE" on postage, flat "A," is known with the local overprint "POSTAGE DUE" double, and also with the final "E" of "POSTAGE" missing.

I have also seen some very interesting errors on the Panama overprinted series of November, 1921 (Centenary of In-cally overprinted at the Mt. Hope Print-

Islands are very similar to those used in the States.

Christiansted, Saint Croix, is the only one that I have with the machine cancel
as described by Mr. Parker.

Frederiksted and St. Thomas use a handstamp.

Cruz Bay uses a fourth class cancel,
bearing the name of the city, and hour
and date of mailing in circle, with four horizontal bars cancelling the U. S. stamp.

Kings Hill, St. Croix, has a very distinctive cancellation. It has the general features of the ordinary fourth class cancel, but is composed of two circles—
a small within a larger one. Between the outer rim of the small one and the inner rim of the large is "Kings Hill St.
Croix". Within the circle in three horizontal lines is the date, "Nov.—3—1926".
The stamp is cancelled with four horizontal bars.

Other interesting cancels on U. S.
stamps are:—

(1.) A fourth class cancel in blue black "U. S. Naval Hospital, Canacao, P. I."

(2.) Handstamped in black "U. S.
Receiving Ship at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba."

(3.) Handstamped in black, "New York, U. S. M. C. Br. Port au Prince,
N. Y."

(4.) Large fourth class cancel in a deep black, "U. S. S. Marine Corps, Port au Prince, Haiti". The stamp is cancelled with 3 horizontal bars.

(5.) Fourth class cancel "New York, N. Y.—Submarine Div. Battle Fleet Br." Stamp is cancelled with 3 bars and within these is "San Diego—Calif."

ATLAS STAMP CO. (P. C. Smith)
W. Somerville, Mass.

Rare Confederate States Item

STRIP—10c OUTER LINES.

It gives me great pleasure to announce that I have recently acquired a new find, consisting of a mint, horizontal strip of seven of the Confederate States. Scott's 2209, 10c milky blue with outer lines. This strip has been in the possession of a lawyer for upward of fifty years, he in turn having received it from his grandmother. A block of this stamp is unknown in either used or unused condition, and no larger strip is known to exist. While at this writing, the item has not been sold, nevertheless, it will probably be placed before the appearance of this advertisement.

It is mentioned as a matter of record, and in order that our readers will appreciate that I am always in the market to purchase anything rare or rare in the way of United States Postal or Revenue Issues.

As I pay the highest market price in cash, it is one of the reasons that most of the first things in the way of United States Stamps coming upon the market, pass through my hands. If you have a single individual item, a collection or an accumulation, I am interested.

I also offer the collector the pick of one of the finest stocks of United States Stamps in the hands of any professional.

Want lists are solicited.

Unofficial New Orleans-Atlanta Air Mail

Mr. Harold C. Frederick has just sent an air mail cover from New Orleans, bearing postmark of "Atlanta, Ga., July 28, 11.30 A. M., 1927." In addition there is a green rubber stamp marking in seven lines reading, "This message was carried from New Orleans by an unofficial experimental aeroplane flight from New Orleans to Atlanta, via Mobile, Pensacola, Montgomery and Birmingham, through the courtesy of Major Sumpter Smith. New Orleans Association of Commerce."

Mr. Frederick in writing from New Orleans, states that this is the first test flight from that city to Atlanta, and that an attempt is being made to have the local post office handle the mail. As the cover does not bear New Orleans postmark, there is no doubt but what the covers were carried to Atlanta, and then posted there, in accordance with arrangements previously made with the Chamber of Commerce, of that city.

Reverend J. Dreyer, kindly sends me clippings from the Times-Picayune of July 28, describing the service. Major Smith who piloted the plane is a government aviator and left Callendar Field on Wednesday the 27th, reaching Atlanta, after stopping in the cities named, on the morning of the 28th.

While the flight was unofficial in character, it will, like the other unofficial fore-runners, be recognized as the first carrying of mail between these two distant points.

Through Mr. Frederick's activities, the special postmark was used.

Key West-Havana Air Mail

Announcement was recently made in this column that a contract had been awarded for the carrying of mail from Key West to Havana. The exact date of the opening of this line has not been set, although it will probably be during the first two weeks in October. The postal rates applying will be the normal first class rates, that is, 2 cents per letter, and this firm will handle all the first class mail going to Cuba. We are told that a special Cuban 5-cent air mail stamp in addition to a two-cent stamp will be required to take a letter back from Havana to Key West.

The Pan-American Airways, Inc., further writes, "It may be of interest to your readers to know that the Pan-

American Airways, Inc., by opening service is marking an epoch in the United States Mail Service through the introduction of the first regular foreign mail service in its history. Within a few years we expect to extend our line to Panama, making a total distance of nearly sixteen hundred miles.

It is to be hoped that the Department will arrange a first day postmark for this special occasion, although up to time they have not decided to do so.

Albany-Cleveland Air Mail

Under date of July 27th, Mr. Walter Irving Glover, Acting Postmaster General, announced that the Colonial Western Airways, Inc., of New York, had been awarded the contract for carrying mail via air between New York, N. Y., and Cleveland, Ohio, via Schenectady, Syracuse, Rochester, and Buffalo. It was expected that the company will begin operation within ninety days. Mr. Glover has been advised that this company has a contract with the American Express Company, so that both mail and express will be carried from inception of the service. The distance is approximately 452 miles, and the bound planes leaving Albany at 11 A. M. are scheduled to reach Cleveland at 1 P. M. the same day. Planes will leave Cleveland at 12.15 P. M. and arrive Albany at 5.30 P. M.

Byrd Mail To Europe

The Information Service of the Post Office Department announces under date of July 28th as follows:—

"The mail sack which was carried by the airplane 'America' by Commander Richard E. Byrd, U. S. N., on his memorable flight from New York to France was returned to the office of Acting Postmaster General W. Irving Glover today. The sack, which contained letters, weighing four pounds and sixteen ounces net, was one of the new foreign sacks with closing, sealing, labeling device attached and was addressed to 'PARIS, FRANCE, per Airplane 'America.'"

The sack of mail was saved from a damaged plane 'America' at Ver-sur-Mer, France, and delivered to the French postal authorities at Ver-sur-Mer on Monday morning, July 2, by the Prefect Cherbourg to whom it was delivered by Commander Byrd, in the presence of American Consul Wiley, on Friday night July 1. Mail was then delivered to addressees in Paris on July 3.

I have not, as yet, seen any of the covers, and can give no information of their postal markings.

ALGERIA.—Mr. R. Roberts has shown the 60c green, surcharged "65" black and the 80c bright orange with overprint "90" also in black.

In addition to the above the Economist Stamp Co. report that they have received the 1fr5c brown with the value "1f10" surcharged in black.

Newfoundland --- De Pinedo Air Mail

Of the 300 copies of the 60c Cabot, overprinted in red, Air Mail — DE PINEDO — 1927, 258 were used on mail, four were damaged and destroyed, 20 were given to De Pinedo, and the 18 remaining were sold to officials.

1 mint copy $125.00
3 covers each $100.00

Each cover bears a copy of the overprinted stamp, with the face markings of St. John's and Trepassay, Nfld., and backstamping of Rome. One is addressed to Postmaster, Rome, and others to Liverpool, England.

These have been sent down from Newfoundland for disposal, and I cannot submit on approval.

assassinated in the late sixties. The 12c green is of oblong format and shows the likeness of Sir John A. Macdonald in an oval frame at the right while an oval frame at the left carries the picture of Sir Wilfred Laurier. The figures of value are in each lower corner with "Cents" between. The 20c red is the same size stamp as that of the previous value but of a slightly different design. It pictures two more men prominent in the history of Canada. They are Baldwin at the left and La Fontaine at the right. Mr. Hazelhurst further informs us that they were issued on the 8th of July last. Mr. R. D. Rideout in advising as to the Diamond Jubilee stamps calls our attention to the word "Expres" of the 20c value which is spelled with a single "s" and not with two as previously reported.

CEYLON. — Mr. R. Roberts sends for chronicle the 1c brown, script watermark. This issue is printed from plate 1, Die 1b, large "C".

We learn from the Philatelic Magazine that they are informed by Mr. Oswald Marsh that high value stamps are on order in the Nyasaland type as follows: 1 rupee, purple and brilliant rose; 2 rupees, green and red; 5 rupees, green and purple; 10 rupees, green and orange, and 20 rupees, purple and blue. Also the 100 rupees change of color to purple and blue is foretold.

CHILE.—Yvert Supplement No. 10 lists the following Air stamps: 40c on 10c, brown and blue; 80c on 10c brown and blue; $1.20 on 10c brown and blue; $1.60 on 10c brown and blue and $2 on 10c brown and blue.

CHINA.—Mr. Tsan Wen Wan writing to us from Peking under date of June 14th last sends us a copy of the current 8c stamp with a one-line surcharge in native characters which means "Limited to be used in Kiring and Heilungkiang Provinces." The stamps so overprinted are the set from 1/2c to $5. Mr. Wan adds that they were placed on sale in April.

DOMINICAN REPUBLIC.—Dr. Walter A. Glines of San Juan, P. R., writes that this country recently issued a 2c red and 5c blue stamp to commemorate an Inter Island Exposition. The two-cent variety in the first row of the plate, third stamp from the bottom, has an accent over the conjunction "e." The rest of the stamps in the plate lack this mark, which by the way is grammatically correct.

DUTCH INDIES.—Reminders of the Brandkast (floating safe) issue are shortly to be overprinted for use as postage stamps in Curacao and Surinam.—Stamp Collecting.

EGYPT.—Mr. R. Roberts calls our attention to a new issue of the 5m brown, bearing the portrait of King Fuad and adapted from the previous type. The stamps are printed in Cairo by photographic process.

FIJI.—There are many rumours afloat concerning the £1 stamp. Some weeks ago we heard from a reliable New Zealand source that it had been withdrawn, but this information was later contradicted by the senders. Now Mr. P. C. Nyberg states that this value has not been on sale for two years past, the remaining stock of this stamp and of the 6d King Edward being used for fiscal purposes only, cancelled with a large "R." In view of the conflict of evidence we shall be glad to have definite news from one of our friends in Fiji.—Stanley Gibbons Monthly Journal.

FRANCE.—The Economist Stamp Co. and Mr. R. Roberts have shown us the 25c Sower type, in pale brown color. Mr. Cecil F. Blogg sends the following information reported in a recent edition of the Tacoma News-Tribune:

"Delegates to the American Legion's convention in Paris in September will have special stamps provided for them by the French postal authorities. They will be of artistic as well as philatelic interest.

One, whose value will be 90 centimes, postal card rate, will be red, bearing the head of Washington. Another, of blue, with the head of Lafayette, is to be a franc and a half, the latter for the United States.

The two issues will be sold only during the month of September, which will add to their value for collectors."

Whitfield King & Co. report that an International Exhibition connected with flying was opened at Marseilles on June 25th, and will remain open for one month. Two special Air Post stamps have been issued which are sold only at the Exhibition and in limited quantities, only one of each being allowed to each purchaser of a ticket of admission. The values are 2 and 5 francs of the current French stamps overprinted "Poste Aerienne" and an aeroplane.

GERMANY.—We learn from Mr. J. L. Riedel that on October 2nd, the German President, Marshall von Hindenburg, will celebrate his eightieth birthday. On this occasion a special set of three stamps of 5, 10 and 20pf values will be issued bearing the President's portrait and inscribed October 2nd, 1847-1927. The stamps will be sold at double face and the premium devoted to a fund for War invalids.

GREECE.—Stamps of the Navarino Commemorative set will be of the following values and colors according to the Philatelic Magazine: 1.50 drachma, green and pale green; 4 drachma, blue and pale blue; 5 drachma, bistre; 5 drachma, red and 5 drachma, brown.

HEJAZ.—The Economist Stamp Co. and Whitfield King & Co. send for chronicle copies of the 1p grey-green postage due stamp.

Whitfield King & Co. also further advise that they have received in addition to the above mentioned value a 3 piastres, olive; 5 piastres, chestnut; 10 piastres, chocolate in the current design and 2 piastres, purple in the postage due set.

LEEWARD ISLANDS.—Whitfield King & Co. and Mr. R. Roberts have shown us the 3p purple on yellow, Die 2, script watermark.

MEXICO.—The Economist Stamp Co. have shown us the 4c green design with Colon Statue in the centre.

NETHERLANDS.—Mr. P. Gordon notifies the following from official sources:—

"A request was made to the P.M.G. by a prominent Dutch philatelist (Dr. Daamen) for the issue of a set of stamps to commemorate the seventy-five years since the first stamp was issued in Holland, which request was refused. This talked of issue need not therefore be expected.

A new 6c postage due is to be expected. 20,000 sets of the Red Cross series were sold on the 17th inst. at the Society's Jubilee celebrations at the Botanical Gardens. A special Red Cross cancellation was used.

Forecasts of the denominations and colours of the proposed Olympic Games set are mere guesswork, no official decision having been made as yet."—Stamp Collecting.

PARAGUAY.—Mr. J. E. Lea, the well-known Manchester dealer, kindly shows us an envelope franked with a block of ten of the recent 50 on 60c provisional, with surcharge inverted. He also brings to our notice the same stamp with "Habilitado" omitted and with the remainder of the surcharge sideways. This variety occurred in the following way: A sheet of 98 stamps (two stamps at bottom right-hand corner missing) was completed for surcharging by attaching two specimens horizontally in the vacant spaces. They were not properly closed up to the stamps above them, so that the word "Habilitado" fell in the gap, and the rest of the surcharge was of course sideways.—Stanley Gibbons Monthly Journal.

POLAND.—Whitfield King & Co. report the appearance of a 20gr stamp bearing the likeness of Slowaski. The color dull red.

RUSSIA.—Whitfield King & Co. draw our attention to two more additional values in the provisional postage stamps overprinted on Postage Dues have just come to hand. They are 2 kopecs, violet, and 8 kopecs on 3 peccs, blue, both on watermarked paper. Our correspondents also add that have not received the stamps on unwatermarked paper and do not believe they exist.

Review of 1928 United States Advance Sheets

By PHILIP H. WARD, JR.

The United States portion of the advance sheets of the Scott 1928 Catalog, were distributed under date of August 8th. While there are not a great number of changes, those that are made are naturally upward, for fine United States of both the 19th and 20th century issues are becoming scarcer and more difficult to obtain year by year.

A few years back a reasonable expenditure would result in a satisfactory collection, but today a fine collection of our stamps runs into hundreds of dollars. As a result, many of the collectors are limiting their activities to the 20th century issues, hence, these varieties have been jumping with leaps and bounds. Today, they are still a good investment, for the increased demand is diminishing the dealer's stock, and as a result many of the stamps that are priced at but a few cents, are difficult to obtain.

This year a few of the Postmaster Provisionals moved forward. The two 5c Baltimore Provisionals are now priced at $1,000.00. The Brattleboro moves up $300.00, while the New York "R. H. M." is listed at $750.00. All of the St. Louis varieties increase for the first time in several years. The Postmasters seem to be slow movers, hence practically stand still in value.

In the general issues, the 1847 5c is now $35.00 unused and $8.00 used, with the 10c in used condition going to $35.00. The splits have increased somewhat, as have the reprints, which will now cost you $15.00 a set. There are a few changes in the 1851 series, and the variations are slight. The 1c type II is priced at $4.50 used, while the type IV is listed at $3.25.

The double impression 3c is mentioned for the first time, and is priced at $1,000.00. The 12c unused goes to $60.00 and the same stamp printed on both sides to $800.00.

Changes in the 1857 series are even fewer. The 1c type V used, and the 3c are listed at $1.00 and 8c respectively. The 10c type V used, is now priced at $2.00. All of the reprints of this issue increase from $1.00 to $5.00, and rightly so, for they are in greater demand, and the supply is not plentiful.

Most of the August issue of 1861 are increased. We see that they price the 12c at $3,000.00 and the 30c at $2,000.00. If any of these are available, I would like to have them at an increased figure for the 30c has brought $3,600.00 at auction, and one recently changed hands from one of the larger collections broken up, at $3,000.00. The 90c which is priced at $1,250.00 is a decidedly good buy at the figure. The 3c imperforate is priced for the first time, at $150.00, which is a fair value. Few of the September issue changes, although the 3c pink is now priced at $100.00 mint, and a good copy is certainly worth it. The 12c in unused and used condition, is listed at $13.50 and $2.50 respectively. The 1862-66 varieties stand still, and the same remarks apply to the odd size grills. Only three stamps of the balance of the grill issues change, the 11x13, 1c and 10c, and the 10c 9x13 take slight advances. It is surprising that the re-issue of this series stands still, for practically all of them are bringing catalog and more at auction. Several of them are decidedly cheap, if they can be picked up at full catalog.

The changes in the 1869 issue are small, with only a few cents or a dollar added here and there.

In the Bank Note issues, several of the unused varieties increase, and some of the odd values, such as, the 7c and 12c in used condition are shown to be more desirable. One stamp that has increased is the 30c National, which now lists $50.00 unused, and $3.50 used. This is a decidedly scarce stamp, and a most difficult variety to pick up in fine mint condition. Half of the collections that I purchase show the copy of the "Continental" in the "National" space. The special prints of this series on both hard and soft paper stand still. It is noted that the 10c Continental horizontal pair, imperforate between, is still priced at $450.00, although two pair are known. If one could obtain the variety at this figure he would be able to make a very handsome profit.

Practically all of the unused varieties of the 80's increase slightly. It is particularly noted that the 4c green, special print, is still priced at $85.00. I would like to buy a few at double this figure. All of the 1890 in used and unused condition, with few exceptions, advance, as do most of the Columbian series. The 4c Error is priced at $300.00 unused, this quotation having been previously announced.

All of the early Bureau issues of 1894, 1895 and 1898, move into new high ground. The 1894 $1 type II, as well as the $2, are now being priced at $20.00 each, while the $5 goes to $50.00. The same stamps of the next series are priced at $12.00, $10.00 and $20.00 respectively. I see that they still allow the 2c part perf. errors to remain at the same price of several years back. I certainly would like to see some for sale at materially higher figures. In the 1898 series they price the 2c rose carmine used at 65c. In all my experience, I have never seen a used copy, and if they exist, they are certainly as rare as the same stamp unused. The Omahas all increase with the exception of the $2.00. The 8c part perf., is still priced at $80.00. If anyone has a pair or block, I would like to be able to buy it at a substantial increase. I have not seen this variety on the market for several years.

UNITED STATES

We are constant buyers of United States stamps, spending several thousand dollars every month to keep our stock of these stamps in shape. We have just purchased a very fine collection of both nineteenth and twentieth century, running into five figures and have at present nearly everything in twentieth century in stock, including such items as the blue paper set complete, the 4c and 8c being the finest copies we have ever seen, perfectly centered. We have in stock practically all blocks of the twentieth century.

A want list will receive our best attention and you can rest assured that the majority of the stamps can at the moment be supplied.

If you have not yet got our twenty page U. S. list, we would be very pleased to send it to you upon receipt of your request.

The Pan-American issues take slight increases in the case of the normal stamps with the three invert, now being listed at $100.00, $1,000.00 and $200.00 respectively. All of the 1902 issue increases with the exception of the 2c, 8c and 13c which are still plentiful and rightly remain at the old figure. The $1.00, $2.00, and $5.00 in mint condition are priced at $6.00, $9.00, and $20.00 respectively. The coils advance, while the 5c imperf. remains as heretofore. The Louisiana, Jamestown, and 1908 values in each and every case, move higher. It is noted that the 2c St. Louis part perf. is priced at $100.00, which is entirely too low, for the stamp has changed hands several times in the last few years at much higher figures. The 10c coil which has always been a scarce stamp, is listed at $35.00. All of the blue papers are advanced, with the exception of the 1c and 5c. Why they allow the latter to remain stationary, I cannot see, as it is an exceedingly scarce stamp, and underpriced. The 4c and 8c are now listed at $225.00 each.

From this point on, practically every stamp increases, the 10c perf. 10 Panama Pacific going to $5.00 and it is well worth this figure. All of the perf. 10 normal stamps take good advances, the 50c watermark being priced at $5.00, and the $1.00 at $6.00. In the unwatermarked series the 3c lists $5.00, the 20c $2.00, the 50c $15.00, and the $1.00 at $7.50. The 20c is a decidedly good buy at full catalogue, and the 50c has been selling at auction and privately around $20.00. The $2.00 is one of the few stamps that has decreased, now being priced at $4.00, due no doubt, to the fact that the Scott Company learned that they are available through some of the post offices. The 5c Error is now listed at $1,000.00. None of the unused 1917 change with the exception of the $1.00 black-brown, which is priced at $7.50. This lack of change, of course, is due to the fact that they are still available at the Philatelic Agency. All of the used varieties move slightly forward. The 24c Airplane invert is priced at $800.00, while the 1918 $2 and $5 are listed used at $3.50 each. I cannot understand the increase in the latter stamp, as they are more plentiful than ever, and they are coming out in used sheets.

In the offset prints there are increases throughout, the 1c perf. 12 1/2 listing 35c. Of the Errors, they increase No. 525c, which by the way, is the commonest variety, and the one that can be most readily obtained. The two scarce varieties, No. 529f and No. 536a remain as heretofore, although the stamps have been bringing much more for some time. Two very popular stamps No. 545 and No. 546 are priced at $1.25 and 50c respectively, the latter stamp should have been increased somewhat more, as it is quite a scarce little stamp. In the 1922 issue, the 2c flat plate imperforate vertically, has been dropped to $25.00. Why I do not know, as a block recently sold at auction for $225.00, and has been selling around the same figure and more privately.

It is true, a further sheet with a diagonal perforation has been found, but this certainly cannot be classified as this error. I doubt whether any of these can be had on a basis of the new catalog price. The 1922 1c and 2c perf. 11x10 are now priced at 25c and 15c, while the same stamps perforated 11 are priced at $35 and $2.00. If the compilers of the catalog have any of this former stamp, I would like to buy a few at $35.00 each. The 2c at $2.00 is fairly priced. Six of the rotary stamps are now listed, but not priced on double paper, for the first time. The catalog makes note that these varieties were caused by overlapping the ends of rolls of paper in the rotary press. Two other advances of interest, are the Norse-American 2c and 5c which are now priced at 10c and 25c unused, and 5c and 20c used.

In the Departments, but few changes are made. The 6c Executive is now listed at $27.50 both ways. The 90c Justice unused at $75.00, and the 2c Navy Error at $75.00. The Post Office 6c split increases $10.00, while all of the dollar value States increase. The 1c Treasury lists at $2.50 and the 90c at $3.00. The 12c War on hard paper is priced at $4.00, and is still cheap at this figure. Why the soft paper Treasury 30c and 90c remain the same, I cannot see, as the two stamps have been bringing more at both auction and privately for some time. The price on the 3c War imperforate has been deleted. There is only one increase in the Carriers, No. 1813 used, being priced at $30.00. This certainly does not reflect today's interest in the Carrier varieties. There are slight changes noted in the Special Delivery's, and in the Newspapers I note but one stamp which changes, namely, 1875 3c. The reprints of the 1895 issue are priced separately for the first time at 75c each.

There are a few changes in the prices of the postage due stamps. The 1914 perf. 10, unused is now listed at 60c. If anyone has one or two loose copies that they desire to sell at several times this figure, send them on. The unwatermarked 1c is listed at $5.00 unused, while the 2c goes to $1.50. They omit a price on the perf. 11 30c, which leads some to believe that this is rare, which is not the case. They have been selling around 75c each in mint condition, and 15c or 20c each used with the possibility of the price lowering as they become more plentiful.

As I do not take a great interest in the early envelopes, I have not waded through the pages of prices. It is noted that most of the recent surcharged envelopes are now priced, and the quotations throughout seem to be in line with the prevailing prices.

Few changes are noted in the Revenues. The 1c Telegraph imperf. going to $10.00, with the 3c Playing Cards in similar condition, moving up to $300.00. The ever popular, as well as scarce 6c Proprietary is listed at $125.00. The imperforate $1.30, $1.90 and $2.50 move into

CAN YOU FLY YET?

In a few years many of you will be flying your own airplanes. This year has seen the greatest impetus to commercial aviation.

From May 2nd to 6th the great ALL-AMERICA AIRCRAFT DISPLAY was staged in Washington, the greatest airplane show to date. In honor of the event the Post Office Department provided a special cancellation for use at the show.

A cover bearing this official cancellation is a fine memento of the beginning of the real "flying age." While my limited supply lasts I will furnish a Sesquicentennial stamped envelope bearing the ALL-AMERICA AIRCRAFT DISPLAY cancellation, with a ten issues' subscription to my circular, WASHINGTON STAMP NEWS, for only 50c. United States "Educators"

This is the name we give to a series of approval books designed especially for those who want to know more about the 19th Century issues of United States stamps and who are interested in filling as many as possible of those empty spaces with stamps that are presentable in appearance and correctly classified.

These "Educator" approval books have helped scores of collectors to find the missing varieties they were not so sure of identifying, and have further given them some idea of values as governed by condition. They are priced for what we think they are worth, perhaps twice catalog, or perhaps ¼ of catalog according to the desirability of the particular specimen.

SENIOR "EDUCATORS"

Are similarly arranged, but designed for those who want only fine copies and who are willing to pay for superior quality.

Both series of "Educators" represent all 19th Century issues with considerable completeness. Ask for any particular issue that interests you, or start with the 1847-51 booklet and work through the lot.

SPECIALIZED SELECTIONS

Made up to suit individual want lists, and include varieties of cancellation, of paper, of printing, of shade. Pairs, strips, blocks, covers; whatever your speciality our stock is at your service and should be of some use to even the most advanced specialist.

Annual Convention of the S. P. A.

Reported by ALBERT E. GORHAM.

PHILADELPHIA, PENN., Aug. 8.

The thirty-third annual convention of the Society of Philatelic Americans convened at 10 a. m., in the Sagamore Room of the Walton Hotel, Philadelphia.

Percy McGraw Mann, chairman of the local committee, called the meeting to order, and introduced Dr. Thomas W. Davis, official representative of Hon. W. Freeland Kendrick, Mayor of Philadelphia, who extended a warm welcome on behalf of the citizens of Philadelphia and paid tribute to the philatelists present who represented the vast number of American citizens who perpetuate the history not only of America and its institutions, but of the world at large. This is being done in the various emissions of postage each year which depict current historical events which should be of particular interest to the residents in this the cradle of American liberty, the birthplace of "Old Glory," the U. S. Constitution, and the formation of the independent government for the common defense and future prosperity of the leading nation in the world. He stated that he felt that all present stood for church, home, the public schools and American institutions and principles, and recalled that when put to the test that the United States would not enter the late world war because we needed foreign dye stuffs, we proved conclusively that we made the three principal colors that would never run—the red, white and blue, and that we stood for construction and progress in every essential.

The response to the address of welcome was delivered by Major Guy W. A. Camp, of New York City, unopposed candidate for President of the organization, who, in a few brief words expressed the thanks of those present for the warm welcome extended, and felt sure that the convention would be of mutual benefit to the visitors as well as those visited. A wise selection was made when Philadelphia was chosen as the place of meeting.

At 10.25 the Chairman turned the convention over to Secretary William Lycett (of Cape May, New Jersey), who, in the absence of President William L.

Doepke, called the meeting to order and suggested the selection of a permanent chairman for the convention.

Upon motion of Albert E. Gorham, a former Secretary, Major Guy W. A. Camp, Chairman of the Board of Governors, was elected as Chairman of the convention and as presiding officer and as such was escorted to the platform and assumed charge of the convention.

The annual report of President W. J. Doepke, which outlined the progress of the organization during the past year, and showed a steady and healthy growth, was read.

Upon motion of Mr. Gorham it was voted that this report be referred to a committee of three. Albert E. Gorham, Carl A. B. Motz and Eugene L. Pollock appointed.

REPORT OF SECRETARY LYCETT.

CAPE MAY, N. J., August 1, 1927.

Fellow Members:—

The Secretary takes pleasure in presenting this, his fourth, report to the Society assembled in convention, and prefaces it in phrases almost identically the same as last year, which being statements of facts cannot well be altered.

The past year has been one of progress, smooth working, and great accomplishments. The membership has increased noticeably; the Sales Department, under the able direction of Dr. Hussey, assisted by Miss Helen, has largely increased in business and in the quality of stamps on circuits; the Exchange Department, superbly managed by Mr. Wyer, is now the largest in the country and continually growing, and while last year we stated it was excelled by none, we now report it is equalled by none; all old Sales Department claims of members of the Society have been paid; our funds are largely increased in the aggregate, and we are on a firm financial basis. It truly has been a year of progress, for a full conception of which you are referred to the reports of the various officers. This is only a general report, but we record here our appreciation of the officers who have taken part, which includes the entire roster. All have worked together for the good of the Society, each within his own field, according to his opportunities.

Many of the members, while not holding any official position, have contributed to this work also, but the number proposing new members is about the same, whereas we believe it should increase with the increase of the Society. "Every member get a member" is far from being done, but ought to be.

The following members proposed ten or more members during the year, and are therefore given special mention; Helen Hussey, 103; Wm. Lycett, 85; R. C. Bach, 46; Dr. A. E. Hussey, 18; M. G. Hanna, 15; and F. F. Greeley, 10.

One year ago at Cincinnati, Miss Helen Hussey was credited with having proposed 66 members, and received special recognition there. She pledged 100 applications for 1926-27, and, as can be seen, has more than fulfilled her pledge, and we believe that some special recognition should be given her at this convention and heartily coincide with and second the President's recommendation that she be made a Life Member. Furthermore, she has indicated a purpose to propose another hundred, and we believe she will, and incidentally state that there are two of them already in the Secretary's hands.

The statement of membership is as follows:—

|---------------------------------------|-------|
| Membership August 1, 1926, | 910 |
| New members admitted during the year, | 353 |
| Reinstated, | 14 |
| Restored, | 7 |
| | — 374 |

| | |
|------------------------------------|-------|
| Deceased, | 1284 |
| Resigned (and 4 pending), | 12 |
| Suspended non-payment of dues, 110 | 31 |
| Expelled (unethical conduct), | 2 |
| | — 155 |

Membership July 31, 1927, 1129 of whom 12 are shut-ins, 5 honorary, and 18 life members. During the year Mr. V. M. Anderson took Life Membership No. 18.

We regret that we must repeat that the number of suspensions and resignations is entirely too large, and that while a certain number is inevitable, still the proportion is too high and should be less.

The Secretary uses every honorable means within his power to keep members in, and has rarely suspended a member at the first opportunity, but held them and wrote and wrote and wrote again until he wore his typewriter out and had to buy a new one, which already shows signs of wear. Most of the resignations are because of cessation of philatelic activity, and cannot be avoided, although in a few cases we have induced the withdrawal of tendered resignations.

Death, too, has cut into our ranks, there being twice the number of last year. In one case an applicant died before his card was granted. Many of the deaths were of comparatively new members, some of whom were beginning to be active in the Society and gave promise of good work to come. We mourn their loss and revere their memory, and recommend appropriate tribute to their memory by the convention.

4260, J. J. Stelshin, died Dec., 1925; 2085, E. E. Meyer, June 10, 1926; 4128, B. A. Quesnel, September 7, 1926; 2102, Frank V. Newell, September 8, 1926; 4332, Daniel N. Jay (a shut-in), October 26, 1926; 3356, C. R. Fuller, November 16, 1926; 4773, E. P. Barr, January 28, 1927; 4657, I. A. Hurovitz, February, 1927; 4635, A. R. Mengel, February, 1927; 4709, G. Harrison Townsend, April, 1927; 4613, J. D. Ferris, May, 1927; A. S. Matter, May, 1927.

Four notable features mark the year. The first is the Philatelic Exhibition, where the Society had a booth and where it was brought well to the attention of the attendants, with the result that some new members were obtained and a good impression of the Society made upon many who were unaware of its existence. We believe the effects of this will be accumulative.

The second is the establishment of a Junior membership in accordance with the action of the Cincinnati convention. As a result there are already 94 enrolled and 17 applications pending. Our laws were not made with a Junior membership in view, and much judgment has had to be used in dealing with them. Many of them are taking an active interest, are proposing their friends, and give promise of becoming a permanent asset of the Society. We recommend that a committee be appointed early in the session to devise ways and means for better enactments for the young ones and incorporation of them in our laws. The Secretary has been assiduous in his attention to this younger element, and helps them in every way possible. One of our officers, No. 1127, who modestly wishes his name withheld, has been presenting packages of stamps to the new Juniors, and for a while to all new members. He probably gave 200 such and deserves the thanks of the convention.

The third is the amount of paid advertising in boys' papers and the philatelic press, which has had good results, but which could be carried on to a much greater extent. A business maxim is that "Advertising pays," and the results already achieved warrant not only its continuance, but a large increase in

THE PRECANCELS OF THE U. S. ISLAND DEPENDENCIES AND SHANGHAI

By FREDERICK W. ALLEN.

Part I—The Hawaiian Islands

HONOLULU, HAWAII

TYPE I

HONOLULU
HAWAII

(Universal Style I)

Honolulu precancels are to be found in two distinct styles of type. Type I is the overprint produced by the 100 subject copper electroplate. This has appeared on all the regular series since 1912 and is still current. In spite of the long service to which this plate has been put, it is still in good shape and able to produce satisfactory impressions.

Speaking first of the perf. 12 stamps which exist with this overprint, it is well to note that only one variety of double impression of the cancellation is known in this type and that it occurs upon the 1-cent 1912. The catalog figure of two dollars would be a fair price to pay. Normal impressions exist upon the 3, 4, 5 and 6 cent of the 1908 series, and 1, 2, 10, 12, 15 and 20 cent of the 1912 issue. The 8 cent 1912 seems to have been overlooked, but it may exist precancelled in spite of the fact that it is a variety unknown to collectors. Inverted overprints on this perforation are unknown. The 1, 2, 3 and 12 cents are perhaps the varieties easiest to procure. The others are exceeding hard to pick up.

The perf. 10 issue is known precancelled only up to the 12 cent denomination, with the 7 and 9 cents missing from the list. The 2 cent exists inverted and is truly a rare specimen. The 3 cent, while priced at 70c, is fairly common, as is also the 12 cent priced at 80c. The 4 cent is not often met with, nor the 8 cent or 10, and the 11 is quite a rarity. The 1, 2 and 5 are less scarce than most of the others, while the 6 is seldom seen.

In the 1917 perf. 11 series, the Honolulu missed precancelling only two values in the set from one cent to one dollar. These are the 11 and 13, which are not known to exist in the above type. The 30 cent is not listed in the catalog, but I am informed that it does exist. The 50 cent comes inverted, as well as normally cancelled, and is rare in either case. The $1.00 is an item that I deem Honolulu's rarest precancel. The 3 cent Surface Print is chronicled in the catalog, and priced at 20c, but in my opinion does not exist as I cannot remember ever having seen a copy, though I have examined possibly a hundred of the ordinary 3 cent, which is quite common. Of the balance of the series, the 7, 8, 10, 15 and 20 cents are notably scarce. The 3 and 9 cent are to be acquired in block form, with greater ease than any of the others, save possibly the two lowest values. The 1 and 5 cent Due Stamps were precancelled with this plate, known as Universal Style I, and possibly others of the series exist.

The current series must be treated in two groups, as there are two perforations to consider, since the rotary press printings have made their advent. I have seen specimens of all varieties from the 1/2 to the 20 cent, except the 14 and 17 in the type under discussion. Also there has been reported the precancelling of the balance of the set up to the $2 stamp, but I have only seen these with the hand-stamped precancellation, which is known as Type II. The 15 cent is very scarce.

The following Rotaries have now superseded the perforated 11 flat press stamps at Honolulu; 4, 5, 6, 7 and 10. Possibly others, but I have seen only these to date, and just the 5, 6 and 7 precancelled in Type I. The 1 cent inverted, perf. 11 new series, appears to be more common than the normal overprint. Other inverts are rare, however.

TYPE II

Honolulu
Hawaii.

(Universal Style 60)

This overprint is produced by a 25 subject rubber handstamp. It was received by the Honolulu office during the latter months of 1920 and used extensively during the Christmas season of that year and has been in constant service since that time. It is known as the emergency stamp, and is supposed to precancel supplementary to the regular electroplate. The printed precancel stock often becomes exhausted and handstamping must be the resort until a new supply can be printed by the plate. Also a small quantity of a certain stamp is often required, which is not sufficient to warrant a special printing, and the handstamp is called into use. It has not as yet shown appreciable wear, in spite of the fact that it has been used to overprint thousands of sheets.

When this handstamp made its advent at the Honolulu office, it precancelled certain values of the old perf. 10 issue that were in stock. I am unable to give an accurate list of the varieties of this series that exist, but they shall appear in a future issue of the Standard Precancel Catalog. At present none of this issue are listed in Type II.

The 1917, perforated 11, series from one cent to one dollar exists with the overprint both normal and inverted, and

EDITORIAL

The convention of the American Philatelic Society at St. Louis on August 16th, 17th and 18th, has started its sessions with the inspiration of a large attendance. Delegates are in good number from the central part of the country; and Chicago, Milwaukee and other cities of the middle west are well represented. The local members are dispensing hospitality all along the line and the feeling is that the convention will be one of the constructive kind. There are no political differences to lend interest to the result of the voting for officers and the question of the place of the next convention seems to be an open one.

* * *

It was only eight years ago that the American Philatelic Society met in St. Louis before and it is pleasant to see that some of those who were most active in providing cheer and comfort in those days are again at the helm. Though little has been said of the entertainment that is ready, the program discloses that much work has been done to make the occasion a happy one. The earnest efforts of all the hosts to make the visitors feel at home are characteristic of the St. Louis committee as of philatelic convention city entertainers, generally.

The two new commemoratives were issued on August 3rd, and collectors got their supplies promptly from the Philatelic Agency. As usual, collectors speak their minds freely about the two newcomers and opinion of them is divided. The Vermont Sesquicentennial is given general approval while there is some inclination to speak of the design of the Burgoyne Campaign commemorative as crowded. However, as an historical picture, the design is well-handled and the mass of detail is so distributed that as a whole the effect is a good one. The Vermont Sesquicentennial stamp is made distinctive by what is literally the outstanding figure of the Green Mountain Boy and will be received with enthusiasm.

* * *

Mr. Arthur L. Wainwaring, New York, says that steps are to be taken to consider plans whereby Great Britain may federate the colonies of Zanzibar, Uganda, Tanganyika and Kenya. If the federation were accomplished, the stamp changes would be important ones for the collector. As a statistician informs us, the far-seeing collector is always on the alert to foretell what the result of new political alignments will be on collecting.

* * *

Just as we began to feel a complacency that arose from a contemplation of the fullness of philately this summer season, a reader disturbs our serenity by filling three sheets of paper as a bill of complaint. He berates the tendency of the times to emphasize the dollar aspect of collecting and thereby destroy the sentiment of the real amateur. It is admitted that his criticisms do not lack plausibility but his whole objection is built upon the declaration that commercialism is the curse of philately. The allegation is not a new one and it is suspected that our correspondent who wishes to remain anonymous is somewhat influenced in his stand by the advent of commemoratives in some volume or stamps that are needless postally. It is true that the dollar enters decidedly into collecting considerations today and to a greater extent than the cent did when our pursuit was in its infancy. As philately grew as a form of investment, it was natural that the market side of collecting became increasingly prominent. However, from the beginning, there were evidences that the pecuniary side of collecting was not neglected and the staple question then, as now, was in effect. How much is it worth? To check commercialism would be impossible as long as human nature runs true to form. This commercialism is not a menace but rightly directed it has a tonic effect on philately. We have been conservative in dealing with the subject because we shrink from advising in a speculative sense. Rather than risk a failure and work hardship on the immature, the subject is skirted, as a rule. However, when we can secure the conclusions of a man such as "Calabar" we gladly avail ourselves of the trained judgment and seasoned findings of this market expert. Readers want market information and when it is of a reliable kind, it becomes the most acceptable of reading material.

There are millions of dollars now invested in stamps and it follows that there must be much talk of prices, profits and losses, in consequence. We deny that commercialism is "rampant" today even though it is admitted that in some ways that it were better regulated would be desirable.

The fashion to decry commemoratives seems to be waning and now we have experienced collectors openly espousing their cause, when some time ago they were silent, at least, on the subject. There is no doubt but that the special stamps have been winning favor from all ranks of collectors these recent years and the disposition to combat them has been changing. In fact, the changes that are taking place in philately are making it necessary for philatelic followers to revise their opinions on the theory of other times, other customs. While the collector does not need to follow the crowd, he should not remove himself from it so far that he no longer recognizes its drift. There are specialists and individualists in stamps who are sufficient unto themselves and are not bound by ordinary rules of philatelic conduct, but we are speaking of the great mass of collectors who are the main-stay of the pursuit. Even though the times change, the alteration from day to day is small and no collector is left high and dry by receding waves if he is awake. The commemorative stamp is here and it is now a recognized representative of philately. Little is now heard of its possible harmful reflection on collecting but on the contrary the idea seems to prevail that it may be made the agent of good.

* * *

The fact that the Associated Press issued a cablegram with the Paris date line, August 4, to announce well edited news of the special stamps to celebrate the Legion convention next September is of moment. Over one hundred words were used to describe the stamps and thus we have learned of the details of the designs before our correspondents in France could get their information to us.

An operative of a private detective agency whose services were called upon in a recent theft of stamps expressed himself of a few opinions that may lead collectors to be more watchful of their property. He said that having had occasion to call on collectors and dealers by reason of the developments of the case, he was surprised to see the carelessness exhibited by the owners of valuable properties. It was evident that they placed too much reliance upon the posed ignorance of the bulk of the place on stamp values. He told of astonishment to find that there were many stamp folks and said, in his dom that was born of experience, all manner of crooks that any "business" that attracted so many people to participants or hangers-on was certain have in its wake a few chaps who had eggs. To make opportunities to vite them to ply their arts is to a disaster; and it is time for all of us to resolve that it is folly to leave valuable stamps around, without protection. We have known philatelists to trifles, such as books of stamps worth hundreds of dollars in their desks at night when a vault was available, householders to leave their beautiful albums around the room as they would the latest piece of fiction.

The president of the Bronx Philatelic Society says that at the first meeting in new rooms at 890 Cauldwell Avenue, 161st St., a referendum may be held on the question of an open air
stamp bourse in one of the Bronx parks.
The meeting is set for August 16th and intended to organize a Junior Club of the society, in which collectors from 16 to sixteen years will be eligible for a guardian's guarantee of responsibility. "Calabar" has resumed his market on British colonials after a short absence from home on a trip to the far north.

Mr. Charles J. Phillips is resting for a while in the mountains of Vermont after a crowded stamp season. Commenting on the effect of a small advertisement
which was inserted twice in the WEEKLY,
Mr. Phillips wrote "orders are still coming in and up this morning I can trace 63 distinct orders with remittances for stamps from all over the world." This shows that the advertisement is a country much in the popular

we thank our correspondents who ness is not regarded lightly, by any means.

Mr. James A. Cook, Waterloo, Iowa,
an old collector who at one time devoted himself to publishing a magazine for collectors of philatelic literature writes us that he will attend the St. Louis convention. Incidentally, he says that his scant reference to the death of Dr.
H. Stein of Muscatine, Iowa, did not mean to be in accord with our custom.
He is right, but a promised biography of the good Doctor from one of his pupils is still expected.

Mr. Irving Gordon, 1710 E. 17th Street, Brooklyn, N. Y., informs us that on August 13th, he lost two Scott albums,
one leaf and linen-hinged, in the downtown section of New York. Only U. S.
stamps included in the books and among them were forty copies of the 10c of 1913, with three strips of three and two each; and one cover with Canadian cantonment. Mr. Gordon will reward any person who furnishes him with information that will lead to the recovery of the albums.

The latest Bulletin of the New York
Philatelic Society is an interesting review of the activities of the club members, but an issue that contains matter of good class for collectors generally. The continued article by Mr. John L. Stroub, the president of the society, on Nicaraguan stamps is worthy of comment, as he is a real specialist in the manifold issues of the country.

The International Stamp Company of Emporia, Kansas, sends out "Poor Richard's Almanac" as its contribution to philatelic literature.

Mr. M. A. Vogel, Chicago, says that on August 1st, Lindbergh Day in Cleveland, the air port there was presented to the city of Cleveland, and also that the day was the first anniversary of the Cleveland Air Port. Consequently, the air mail covers with that date are interesting souvenirs.

The Burrows Brothers Co., booksellers
of Cleveland, have acquired a large private collection and have it on display prominently under charge of Mr. Fritz Janssen, a stamp expert.

The Chicago Precancel Club now has sixty-one members and the meeting held August 12th was an informal one when plans were discussed for the annual convention of the parent organization at St.
Louis on August 18th and 19th.

COLONIAL NOTES

By "CALABAR."

Turks Ids.—It is to be hoped that the recent offer in the WEEKLY of the 2/- MCA "Crown" type at $6.25 was taken advantage of by those lacking this scarce little variety. Whilst numbers sold (none of which, to my knowledge, were official)
have from time to time appeared in various quarters of the press, the official figures unquestionably are small—much smaller, one may safely assume,
than those of the other recent rarity of this Colony, viz., the 1/- 1921. At any rate, its undoubted rarity, combined with the popularity of modern Turks stamps, promises a most brilliant future for this much sought-after stamp, which is well worth buying at present rates.

Incidentally, the enhanced prices
brought by used copies of the scarcer Colonials is well illustrated in the case of the above stamp. In a recent issue of a contemporary I note the stamp offered at 28/- mint, 38/- used!

Virgin Ids.—The 5d script (now withdrawn) is another little stamp with excellent future possibilities. Already it is listed at 10/- in both the Gibbons and Whitfield King Catalogues, and is quite worth picking up at recent quotations of $1 or $1.50.

S. W. Africa.—I understand that the ovpt. on the 2d, 3d, 1/-, 2/6, 5/- and 10/- South Africa Pictorials is to be changed
as it has been decided that henceforth the ovpt. must fall on the frame of the stamp and not on the central design, as at present. The current S. W. Africa Pictorials are therefore worth buying up at once before the impending change goes into effect, which is believed will be very shortly.

Whilst S. Africa and S. W. Africa issues are not as popular here as elsewhere, the new Pictorials will doubtless awaken further interest in both these Colonies, by reason of their attractive designs—so refreshing after the long-current King's Head series.

The London printings of the new series are quite distinguishable from the local (Pretoria) printings and will very likely

Perplexing Surcharges

C.—Customs. An overprint on certain early South Australian stamps used on official correspondence relating to Customs business.

C. D.—Convict Department. Also a South Australian overprint.

C. Ch.—Cochin China. Found on various French stamps used for a short period in this settlement.

C. E. F.—China Expeditionary Force. A surcharge found on several Indian stamps. These were first issued for the use of the troops forming Britain's part of the expeditionary force sent to relieve the foreign legations in Peking during the Boxer troubles of 1900. As some of the Field Post Offices then established are still in existence, these overprinted stamps are still in use.

C. L.—Crown Lands. A South Australian surcharge.

C. O.—Commissariat Office. A surcharge found on certain early South Australian stamps.

C. P.—Commissioner of Police. Another South Australian overprint.

C. S.—Chief Secretary. Also found on early South Australian stamps.

C. S. A. R.—Central South African Railways. A surcharge found on some of the stamps, bearing King Edward's portrait, of the Orange River Colony and the Transvaal. It was at best of a semi-official character and these varieties are only of interest to the specialist.

C. Sgn.—Colonial Surgeon. A South Australian surcharge found on certain stamps used prior to 1874.

C. T.—Commissioner of Titles. Another South Australian overprint of the same period.

Paper No. 8—Silk

This is paper having short pieces of colored silk thread embedded in its substance. Many of the United States revenue stamps were printed on silk paper and patches of these threads can be plainly seen on all the paper currency of this country.

OUR "3 IN 1" ADVG. CONTRACT

Information as to this contract may be welcome. Here it is:—

Its aim is to provide a sliding scale of prices so one can get the benefit of a low rate on one and two or more inches, with a little higher rate on a half inch, the latter being a "filler in." Here are the rates:—

One-half inch space, $2.00
One inch space, 3.50
Two inches, 6.00

This is a very popular contract.

Stamp News for the Juniors

Is there anything you want to know about stamps or stamp collecting? If so, write the editor. What would you like to see in this department? We have no way of knowing unless you tell us. Mr. Senior Collector, can't you give the boy collector about 50 words of encouragement along practical lines? Address your letter to the Beverly office.

How to Treat Stamps

By FRED BAMBER (Age 9).

Do not steam stamps to get them off the paper, because they will fade, or soak them in hot water, for the same reason. Soak them in cold water. Do not tear them from the paper, because you tear the stamp.

Eyes And No-Eyes

There is one thing the stamp collection should teach, which will be of value in every phase of daily life—the power to observe closely. Stamp collectors have been sneered at as students of dots and dashes, and perhaps there is a school of cranks who attach importance to minor variations which have no real connection with the history of the stamp. But there are variations of almost microscopic character which do tell the advanced collector much that he wants to know, while there are also quite important differences in designs and inscriptions, which do not jump immediately to the eye, but which have to be looked for with care.

It is only by studying the stamp catalogue and looking out carefully for these variations that the collector can avoid classing many stamps as duplicates which really belong to quite separate issues. A good catalogue will give enlargements of these details which will at once enable the reader to pick out the stamps described, and a search through a mass of what were thought to be duplicates, on these lines, will result in the addition of a large number of new stamps to the collection, with a corresponding increase in the collector's power to observe small things carefully.

As a few typical examples we may quote the Russian stamps (1889-1904) with and without the tiny arrows ("thunderbolts") across the posthorn; the stamps of Germany (1875-1880) with "pfennig" or "pfennige," or (1900-1902) with "Reichspost" or "Deutsches Reich"; the stamps of Hayti (1891-96), on which the tree has drooping leaves, or upright leaves; and many others. This is without taking into account differences in watermark, paper, or perforation, or the numerous variations in shade of colour, which will enable the collector to add still more varieties, if only he will study his catalogue and exercise his powers of observation.

A quick eye has its practical value, for a stamp which may be valueless in its most common form, may be quite rare when some small detail differs from the normal. Knowledge, which the catalogue, and a continual study of actual stamps, will give, and perception, which will come with time and training, are the chief factors in forming a stamp collection successfully, whether the maker of it is out solely for amusement, or has an eye also to the main chance.—Stamp Collecting for All.

Hawaiian Islands

A group of islands in the north Pacific Ocean having a total area of 6,450 square miles. The islands are of volcanic origin and all are mountainous. They were formerly known as the Sandwich Islands and this name will be found frequently in connection with their stamp issues in the older philatelic publications, albums and catalogues. The islands were discovered in 1549 and in the 19th century were recognised as an independent kingdom. In 1893 the reigning queen was deposed and in the following year a republic was formed. In 1898 the islands were annexed by the United States, and on June 14, 1900, they were constituted the Territory of Hawaii. The first postage stamps issued in the islands made their appearance in 1851 and the three crude labels comprised in this issue are now among the "great rarities" of philately.

Hair Lines

I.—A term employed to describe certain varieties of British stamps. These are small white lines drawn across the exterior angles of the 4d, 6d and 9d stamps of the 1862 issue and they were added to the design to distinguish the impressions from certain plates for those stamps. They really, therefore, take the place of the plate numbers shown in later editions of stamps of similar design.

II.—The term is also employed to describe fine colored lines sometimes shown upon certain stamps. These lines are, as a rule, simply traces of the "guide-lines" drawn on the plates and which had not been entirely erased in the final process of preparing them for printing.

B. L. C. I.

These letters appear on many of the stamps of Bhopal, one being placed in each of the four corners of the design. "B. L." are the first and last letters of "Bhopal," while "C I" stands for "Central India."

Junior Dictionary

Plebiscite Stamps.—A name given to certain issues of stamps occasioned by plebiscites taken in various districts at the conclusion of the World War under the terms of the Versailles Treaty. Schleswig, Allenstein, Marienwerder, and Upper Silesia are notable examples of plebiscite issues.

Pohjois Inkeri.—This inscription on the first issue of Ingermanland stamps means "Northern Ingria," a name synonymous with Ingermanland.

Posta Ceskoslovenske Armady Sibirske.—This inscription is found on certain stamps issued for the Czechoslovak Army in Siberia. The translation is:—"Post of the Czechoslovak Siberian Army."

Poste Par Avion.—The French Syrian stamps may be found with this inscription for aerial mail between Aleppo and Alexandretta, the overprint meaning "Post by airplane."

Primer Congreso Postal Pan Americano—Buenos Aires Agosto de 1921.—In Aug., 1921, the first Pan-American postal congress was held at Buenos Aires, Argentine, and a special set of stamps was issued in connection with the event with the inscriptions above indicated appearing thereon.

Prosorine Kubernes Kretes—Tax (Udromike) Uper (Esia).—This inscription on Crete, 1905 issue signifies "Provisional Government of Crete—Postal Service."

Provisorisch Wert in Schweiz Frank.—This overprint found on certain stamps of Liechtenstein means:—"Temporary Value in Swiss Francs."

R. de C.—This abbreviation on Nicaragua, 1921, means "Recargo de Construcción," or "New charge for construction." The stamps are intended to provide a fund for reconstructing post offices and one must be used on each letter or parcel in addition to the regular postage. This would seem to take them out of the class of regular postage stamps and place them with the "war tax" stamps of Spain or the Austrian "newspaper tax" stamps as for revenue purposes.

Reggenza Italiana del Carnaro.—This is a surcharge on certain stamps of Fiume. It was applied Nov., 1920, and means "Italian Regency of Quarnaro," which was the name given by D'Annunzio to the city of Fiume and its environs, then held by this Italian adventurer.

PRECANCELS U. S. IDS. ETC.

occasionally the cancellation is to be found doubly printed, or reading lengthwise on the stamp. The 11 cent normal is the rarest variety of the series, being even scarcer than the 13 cent or one dollar. The 13 cent is generally the scarcest stamp of a series, but Honolulu had much more use for it than the 11. With the overprint inverted the 11 is more common and the 1, 3, 5, 6, 7, 9, 12, 15 and 30 are difficult to secure, more so than the balance of the set. The 8 and 9 cent are frequently seen in large blocks.

The 1923, perforated 11, series may be had with normal and inverted cancellations from 1/2 to 15 cents. The 2 and 3 seem to be the scarce ones, and also the 13, among the normals, and the 6, 9, and 13 among the inverts. The 17 cent may exist but I do not feel positive about it. From 20 cents to 2 dollars the balance of the set is to be found with the precancellation reading up or down. The 20 cent is fairly common, but not so the others, the 25 cent and 2 dollars being particularly scarce. I consider the latter a real "precancel gem," and know of but two copies in collections in this country.

The Rotary Press stamps will be plentiful in time. As I write this my eyes rest upon a fine block of 25 of the 5 cent.

The Postage Due stamps, 1/2, 1, 2, 3, 5 and 10 are used and I have them all except the 10 cent invert. It is practically impossible to get these from any place except from a source in Honolulu, as their use is naturally local. Being fortunate in having such a source, I have received numerous Due stamps, including blocks of all denominations except the 10 cent.

Certain special issues have been precancelled with the handstamp, as has heretofore been mentioned. The 2 cent Harding is not scarce, but still it is not to be picked up with ease. I understand that the Special Delivery stamps of the current issue, 10, 15, 20 cents and 25 cent Special Handling stamp were precancelled, but none have reached me for corroboration of this report. Fortunately commemorative issues, outside of the black Harding, have not been precancelled. I say "fortunately," because so often the precancellation of a commemorative issue by a postoffice is done at the instigation of a collector, and it is this feature that spoils the reputation of the issues from many cities.

Certain crude counterfeits of the above style were produced in 1924 by a collector of Baldwinville, Mass. This party is supposed to have been "cracked in the upper story" and if a sample of his handiwork is an indication of his mentality, the report may be accepted as the truth. A reddish-purple ink, as well as a bright orange-red, was used in the production of most of his spurious precancels. Such was the case in the Honolulu specimens. The 2 cent Harding and the 14 cent are the only stamps that Hall used for his Honolulu varieties. It might be well to mention that this man is not now among the living, so another like deluge of counterfeits need not be feared.

A PHILATELIC GET-TOGETHER

By Dr. R. C. FISHER.

On Saturday, July 30, collectors of Western New York, Eastern Ohio and Northern Pennsylvania gathered at the Murray Hill Hotel in Westfield, N. Y., for a stamp fest and dinner.

The affair was put on and over by Roscoe Martin of Forestville, N. Y., and Thomas H. Pratt of Kingsport, Tenn. All collectors who attended were the guests of these two public spirited collectors from the time they arrived in Westfield until they left for their homes. As it was expressed in the invitations sent out, it was "a philatelic get-together, and get-acquainted dinner."

The invited guests began arriving about noon and by the time dinner was served at 6.30 P. M., forty-one enthusiastic stamp men had assembled at the hotel. During the afternoon, the large spacious veranda of the hotel was the scene of stamp talks, buying, selling and exchanging at the several small tables provided for the purpose. Everyone was busy looking at what his brother collector had brought along to show or sell.

The Buffalo Club had 14 present, 11 came from Garfield Perry, 8 from Chautauqua county and the others from in-between places.

Mr. Pratt showed portions of his wonderful collection of Confederates that took a prize at the recent Strasbourg exhibition. Of particular interest and showing close study, was his platings of the general issues.

Just before dinner, all visited the beautiful home of Dr. Busck, a short distance from the hotel. The genial Doctor showed portions of his stamp collection, books, antiques and other beautiful things. During the dinner, which was especially fine and contained the juice of the grape that has made Westfield famous, Roscoe Martin acted as toastmaster.

Nearly everyone present responded with remarks, including Louis Hanford, President Grant and Mike Lloyd, Alvin Good, Shaughnessy of Sharon, Dr. Busck, Mr. Sleight of the Buffalo Club and Hall and Townsend, Gundlach and Flierl.

Thomas Pratt was then called on for the evening's treat. He told of his collection and mentioned the high lights in collecting stamps of the Confederacy. He is a very enthusiastic collector and entertaining speaker and his talk was thoroughly enjoyed and appreciated by all present.

It was early morning before the last guest had reluctantly departed for his home. The occasion will long be remembered by those fortunate to be there and everyone agreed that Thomas Pratt and Roscoe Martin are splendid fellows and hosts. It has been suggested that a similar meeting be held annually and efforts will be made to carry out the suggestion.

ATLAS STAMP CO. (P. C. Smith)
W. Somerville, Mass.

UNITED STATES
1895, $5.00 GREEN, USED

In 1895 the Bureau of Engraving and Printing issued the $5.00 Green, showing a portrait of John Marshall, on watermark paper. This stamp is Scott's #278, which now lists ten dollars ($10.00), has always been scarce and copies are seldom if ever found.

I have recently obtained a few singles and pairs, lightly cancelled, in wonderfully good condition. These are offered at a special price of $8.00 each or pairs at $16.00. There is one copy with violet cancellation available at $10.00.

If there is anything else that you desire in the way of United States Issues, either early or late, I will be pleased to have your want list.

I am in the market to purchase at highest cash prices, fine single, items or properties in the way of United States Postal or Revenue Issues. What have you to offer for prompt cash?

OUR EYE:—

—Observes two clippings from Albert E. Spicer, Mohawk, N. Y., dealing with the placing on sale of the Saratoga stamps at Rome, N. Y.

—Notes a fine courtesy upon the part of Roscoe B. Martin and Thomas H. Pratt, to the collectors in and near Westport, N. Y. Great gathering.

—Also Karl Pember, Woodstock, Vt., his town, Aug. 4, and thus lends his aid to philatelic publicity.

—Benedict Prieth performs the same courtesy with a Saratoga from Avon-by-the-Sea, N. J. Ditto A. J. Lamm, Stephentown, N. Y.

—Henry Steininger takes out a 3-in-1 advertising contract.

—Marvin Allion does the same and his ad copy will be changed every week.

—The Ace Art Co. has an advertisement this week that will be of interest. These mounting corners are fine for covers.

—Eden, N. Y., has Aug. 5 for its earliest Bennington date. O. J. Richardson kindly favors us. Maitland Millikin sends us an early Denver.

—O. J. Richardson, Eden, N. Y., would like the present addresses of Walter R. Hill, formerly 2034 Harrison St., Chicago, and Arthur E. Williams, 1415 Wythe Place, N. Y. City.

THE NEW CONTRACT

Elsewhere we give the particulars of a new 2000-line contract where the rate will be 20c per line, space to be used in a year. Note this comparison:

The chronicle of United States is edited by PHILIP H. WARD, JR., Box 4216, Germantown, Phila., Pa., who will also be pleased to pass on oddities and varieties of all U. S. stamps from 1900 to date. United StatesVermont and Burgoyne Stamps Appear

The 2-cent red Burgoyne variety, together with the 2-cent red Vermont Sesquicentennial stamp, appeared on August 3rd, in accordance with schedule. The former looks somewhat like the 2-cent Lexington-Concord, but is not as attractive. The stamp is overcrowded, and does not begin to compare with several of our former commemoratives. Little can be said for the attractiveness of the 2-cent Vermont variety, which also appears overcrowded. Mr. John N. Luff writes that he cannot express any great admiration for them, and I believe this would be the general consensus of opinion of the philatelic world. Several collectors obtained these stamps from the cities where they were placed on sale, and mailed them from other points of historical interest. I wish to thank Mr. Edward Bright for covers from St. Vincent, Rome, Oriskany, and Herkimer, New York. Mr. Bright writes, that St. Vincent is of particular interest in regard to the Burgoyne Campaign, in that it is the Post Office for Carleton Island, on which was situated Fort Haldimand, at which site General Barry St. Ledger collected his forces and from which he departed on July 20, 1777, on his way to the siege of Fort Stanwix.

Rome is the site of the former Fort Stanwix, where the Stars and Stripes were first unfurled under fire.

Oriskany is the scene of the battle in which the patriot forces, under General Herkimer, were ambushed by the English and Indians, and fought a bloody battle, in which General Herkimer was mortally wounded.

Mr. F. H. Armer remembers me with a first day cover from Johnstown, N. Y., Mr. D. C. Fulmer sends one from Syracuse, while Mr. H. R. Hunt sends one from Utica in a special envelope, showing a map, which indicates the scenes of the Revolutionary events celebrated. I also wish to thank Mr. Frank Fasel for a first day Vermont cover from Bennington. Mr. James S. Brownell sends what he designates as a second day cover from Woodstock, Vermont, where the Vermont Stamp was placed in general use after having been first sold at Bennington and Washington.

Valley Forge Stamp Requested

In further reference to our recent remarks relative to a proposed stamp to be issued next year commemorating the Valley Forge Encampment, I have a communication from Reverend W. Herbert Burk, president of the Valley Forge Historical Society, advising that the society will do its utmost to back up my recommendation, supported by Senators Reed and Vare, for such a stamp. It is to be hoped that the variety will be authorized sufficiently in advance of its appearance, to enable the Bureau to turn out a real work of art.

Air Mail Notes

Under date of August 3rd, Mr. Warren Irving Glover, Second Assistant Postmaster General, announces that effective September 1, 1927, the air mail service now operated by the Government between New York and Chicago, will be superseded by contract air mail service. The route will be known as number C. A. M. 17, and will be operated on a daily schedule, planes stopping, as at present, at Cleveland.

American Legion Mail

The Postal administrations of the United States and France have made special arrangements to insure the expeditious handling of mail matter addressed to and sent by Legionnaires who will attend the American Legion Convention to be held in Paris in September and October.

All mail from the United States addressed in care of the American Legion, will be distributed at New York according to these plans. Articles addressed in care of the American Legion headquarters in Paris will be distributed alphabetically and dispatched in sacks labeled for example, "Paris, France (American Legion Headquarters)," while mail addressed to Legionnaires in care of hotel in Paris, will be made up according to hotels, a list of those at which accommodations have been engaged has been furnished to the postmaster at New York. Mail addressed in care of a private residence and parcel post packages regardless of how addressed, will be dispatched in the same manner as in general are sent to France.

At the American Legion headquarters in Paris a temporary post office is provided where representatives of the French Postal Service will co-operate with those of the American Legion in handling the mails for Legionnaires patched from New York under special arrangement mentioned.

During the Convention special patches of mail from Legionnaires to the United States, likewise, will be by the French Postal Service to New York, Boston, Chicago, Philadelphia, San Francisco, St. Louis, New Orleans and Washington.

All mail regardless of how addressed from the United States to Legionnaires in France, as well as that originating among Legionnaires in France and destined for the United States, will be subject to international postage rate conditions.

It is understood that the French government is preparing two special stamps for the use of the American Legion showing a portrait of Washington and the other of Lafayette.

ASCENSION ISLANDS.—The Philatelic Magazine furnishes the information a five penny stamp in purple and salmon order with the Crown Agents.

BELGIUM.—Congo State. — It is proposed to do away with the beautiful rent series and to replace it by an historical issue, on which will appear portraits of famous men who have been connected with the Congo. Among these will be the explorers Livingstone and Stanley. — Stanley Gibbons Monthly Catalogue.

CZECHOSLOVAKIA. — The Economist Stamp Co. have shown us the 50h design as Scott's SP3, with no watermark.

COSTA RICA.—Mr. R. Roberts advises that he has received the 5c type of S. A74, in green. Also that the 20c air post stamp is on sale, line engraved by Messrs. Waterlow and Sons, London.

In addition to the above new issues the Economist Stamp Co. show us three series of pictorial stamps of oblong format printed by Waterlow and Sons. The first is of a different design and the year date "1926" in two places. The values are 6c brown (Asilo Chapui), 10c orange (Escuela Normal-Heredia Building), 45c grey-violet (Ruinas de La Fortuna).

ESTHONIA.—Champion's Bulletin states that the new currency will be in "Crown" each of which will be sub-divided into 100 "Sents." The crown will be equal to 100 Estonian marks (present value about 3/4 to the cent).

FRANCE.—Whitfield King & Co. and the Economist Stamp Co. have shown us the 60c violet, Sower type, surcharged "50" in black.

Mr. J. L. Riedel writes that for the Congress of the American Legion two special stamps will be issued, the first one 90 cent will show the likeness of Washington, and the second value of 1fr50c will bear the likeness of Lafayette. In addition to the above Rev. J. Dreyer, S. M., sends us a clipping from a French paper which states that they will be good for postage during September only. Mr. Bokanowski, Minister of P. T. & T., selected the subjects. As the new printing presses will not be ready until the first of next year they will not be available for the work on these stamps, but they will be very carefully printed nevertheless and the issue is expected to have an exceptionally artistic appearance.

INDIA.—We have received from Mr. R. Roberts copies of the 10R carmine and green, Nasik printing watermarked multiple star. Also the 12a claret, printed at the same plant, overprinted "Service," multiple star watermarked as before.

ITALY.—Whitfield King & Co. submit for chronicle two provisionals of the pneumatic post stamps. The 20c has been surcharged "Cent 15" while the 40c bears the overprint "Cent 35." Both in black.

KENYA.—A cutting sent by Mr. T. Trenn suggests that the colour of the 10c will have to be again changed from its present black hue as it is used as a receipt stamp and pen-cancellations will not show up clearly on it.—Stanley Gibbons Monthly Journal.

LUXEMBURG.—We are now able to give further brief details of the projected commemoratives forecast last week. They will comprise four denominations, viz., 50c grey-black, 50c black, 1fr vermilion, and 1fr carmine, each having the engraved portraits of the Grand Duchess and Prince Felix in a frame resembling that of the first Luxembourg stamp (1852).

The quantity ordered is 70,000 sets, which will be on sale only at the International Stamp Exhibition organized by the Union des Timbrophiles, Luxembourg.

First day covers of the Bennington stamp from Bennington and Washington, of the Burgoyne stamp from Rome, Utica, Syracuse, Albany and Washington; Seven in all, $1.00. Only about 100 sets available at this price. J. MORRIS, Box 59, Sta. H, N. Y. City.

burg; September 4th to 8th, a condition of sale being the presentation of an admission card, costing 3 francs.—Stamp Collecting.

NETHERLANDS.—Mr. R. Roberts has shown us the 2 1/2 gulden in the new Queen type, in rose shade, perf. 11 1/2.

The 22 1/2c bistre brown also has been issued, copies having been received from the Economist Stamp Co.

NIGERIA.—The 2p stamp is on order in brown, according to information furnished by the Philatelic Magazine.

RUSSIA.—The Economist Stamp Co. and Whitfield King & Co. send copies of the new 14 kopecs Esperanto commemorative stamp. The oblong format is used and the stamp is printed in green with the picture of the Mr. Esperanto at the right in brown. Also the dates "1887 1927" appear.

SPAIN.—The Madrid Filatelico illustrates new postage and Express stamps which should be issued shortly. The postage stamps will show a new portrait of King Alfonso. This monarch is singularly unfortunate in his stamp portraits. In the new one his head is out of all proportion to the size of the stamp, though otherwise the portrait is not a bad one. On the Express stamp, Pegasus will again appear, but the format is normal instead of oblong.—Stanley Gibbons Monthly Journal.

ST. HELENA.—The following new values are on order with the Crown Agents according to the Philatelic Magazine; 5p green and red on emerald and 2sh purple and blue on blue.

SUDAN.—Mr. R. Roberts sends copies of the 3m and 5m with a new S. G. watermark which Mr. Roberts describes as follows:—

"This wmk. consists of the letters S. G. repeated all over the sheet. The letters are sans serif capitals 6 1/2mm high, the two S and G measuring 13 1/2mm across, the space between these initials being 9mm apart horizontally and about 3mm vertically. They are so spaced that the S. G. falls just above the 9mm space between the initials below."

SWITZERLAND.—Whitfield King & Co. report the appearance of a 5c magenta on buff, design as Scott's A26.

UNION OF SOUTH AFRICA.—Mr. R. Roberts reports the appearance of the 6p orange and green, printed locally by the Government printer at Pretoria, English and Afrikaans inscription alternately. The color is a brighter orange and the green is lighter than heretofore. The centre vignette is much duller and the detail in this is not nearly so good as the London print.

OCEAN MAIL IN SILK BAGS

Special Fee of $2.75 for Each Letter by Junkers Airplanes

DESSAU, GERMANY.—Silken mail bags will be used by the German postal authorities to carry the mail which will be transported by two Junkers airplanes on the projected transatlantic flight to the United States. The mail will be sewed into the bags which will not be of ordinary material, so as to save weight. The Dessau postoffice was deluged today with mail sent for transportation in the planes, but at least half of this mail carried only the usual fifteen-pfennig stamp instead of a special twelve-mark fee ($2.75) announced yesterday.

Professor Junkers, one of whose planes, the W33, yesterday shattered the endurance record, spent the morning writing letters to American friends and scientific societies and bodies fostering German-American friendship.

The flyers found themselves deluged with shaving outfits as a result of a humorous remark made to newspaper correspondents by Cornelius Edzard, one of the holders of the new endurance record, who said that while he and his partner would carry a minimum amount of personal baggage on the transatlantic hop, they certainly would include shaving utensils, partly to relieve the monotony of the ocean crossing.

THE REUNION AT ROCHESTER

Mr. Grant Buckley, the president of the Rochester Philatelic Association, reports that local collectors were fortunate in having Mr. Thomas H. Pratt of Kingsport, Tennessee, exhibit his remarkable Confederate collection in Rochester, N. Y., on August 6th. Too, Mr. Roscoe B. Martin of Forestville, N. Y., showed his early U. S. on the same occasion, which was under the auspices of the Rochester Philatelic Association. No little publicity resulted from the display and the Democrat and Chronicle came to the fore in this wise:

"Complete platings of the first stamp of the general issue of the Confederate states were exhibited by Thomas H. Pratt, of Kingsport, Tenn., and a rare collection of early issues of United States stamps was opened for inspection by Roscoe B. Martin, of Forestville, Saturday evening in the Municipal Museum, at Edgerton Park. The exhibition was under the auspices of the Rochester Philatelic Association.

Mr. Pratt, whose collection of Confederate stamps is said to be the largest in existence, is a world authority on Confederate stamp issues. His collection won medals in the international exhibition in New York City last October and in the exhibitions at Strasbourg, France, in June. Stamp collecting is his hobby, his vocation being newspaper publishing. Before displaying parts of his collection, Mr. Pratt discussed the history of Confederate stamp issues. He said that for a period of four and a half months after the opening of the Civil War, Southern postmasters were without official stamps, and a number of provisional devices, such as the printing of envelopes, were resorted to by different postmasters.

Mr. Martin, who is president of the First National Bank of Forestville, is a specialist on early United States stamps. His collection, which is especially strong in the '47 issues, is considered one of the most complete in the country.

Mr. Martin and Mr. Pratt were guests of Dr. George French and other members

NEWFOUNDLAND --- DE PINEDO

By HARRY E. HUBER.

Since the appearance of my articles in the WEEKLY of June 27 and July 25, 1927, I have seen copies of the 60c black,
King Henry VII, of the Cabot series issued June 24, 1897, which was overprinted (300), for use on the air mail conveyed by Commr. Francesco de Pinedo, from Trepassey, Nfld., May 23, 1927, on the final legs of his four-continent flight; which terminated at Ostia,
at the mouth of the Tiber, 15 miles from Rome, on June 16, 1927.

The overprint is in red, in three lines,
"Air Mail" (initial caps only) measuring 13mm, "DE PINEDO" (all caps) 17½mm, and "1927" 7mm. The overall height from the bottom of "1927" to the top of "M" of "Mail" is 10mm. The stamp being printed in black, and the overprint type not being of a bold character, the overprint shows up very in-distinctly.

On covers the overprinted stamp is cancelled by one of the electric post-marking machines at the G. P. O., St.
John's, a single lined circle (21mm) lettered "St. John's Nfld.—1927" around the inside, with the date and hour in two lines in the center, "MAY 20—10=A.M."
At the right is a flag of seven wavy lines, with the fourth one cut short at the left and the numeral "1" inserted.
On the face also is the cancellation of "Trepassey, New'd" (in circular form but without the usual outer circle), with the date in the center in two lines "My 21—27."

I have seen two covers, addressed to the Postmaster at Rome, which have face markings as above described for St.
John's and Trepassey. These have the handstamping on the back "ROMA CEN-TRO *CORRISPONDENZE ORDINARIE" in a single lined circle, 31mm, with the date
across the center, in a single line "15.6-27.10." This is evidently an error, as Commr. de Pinedo did not arrive at Ostia
until the afternoon of June 16th.

Two other covers, addressed in care of a business house in Liverpool, England, have face markings of St. John's and Trepassey as above, but on the back have the electric machine (not handstamp) cancellation of "ROMA *CEN-TRO" between two concentric circles, 25
and 15mm, with the dating in three lines in the center, "19—20—22. VI—1927," and to the right the five line advertising slogan, within a single lined frame (50x 22mm) "Le Piu Belle Terme—Del
Monde—Salsomaggiore—Periodo di cura
—Marzo—Novembre." Owing to the fact that the British P. O. Dept., abolished some years ago (just as in the U. S.) the practice of backstamping, there is no evidence to show that delivery of these letters was effected in Liverpool, on June 24th or 25th.

Written for MEKEEL'S WEEKLY

In addition to the air mail bearing the overprinted 60c Cabot stamp, a small supplementary mail, of approximately 75
letters, with ordinary unoverprinted 60c
Cabot stamps, was also conveyed by Commr. de Pinedo from Trepassey,
Nfld., to Ostia, Italy.

These do not have the face marking of St. John's, and the Trepassey cancellation (MY 21—27) appears alongside but not on the stamp. On receipt at Rome, the 60c Cabot stamp was handstamp cancelled "ROMA CENTRO *COR-RISPONDENZE ORDINARIE" with the date
across the center in one line "22.6.27.17."

On the back is the electric machine
cancellation (and the advertising slogan), described above, but with the dating given as "16-17—22.VI—1927."

Twenty of these letters were sent in care of the American Consul at Rome,
and are backstamped additionally in purple, "American Consulate General—June 23, 1927—Rome, Italy" within a single lined horizontal rectangle, measuring 2"x1".

The sending of this supplementary mail, with the ordinary 60c unoverprinted Cabot stamp, was done principally to satisfy some business people of St. John's, who had presented letters for the mail, after the overprinted stamps
had been disposed of. There was complaint that sufficient time had not been given in which to prepare letters for this mail, the advertisement having appeared in the daily papers of May 18th, and the stamps having been completely sold out by the following morning.

As a matter of fact, it was not certain that the mail, even after it had been prepared, would be taken by Commr. de Pinedo, and for this reason Mr. W. J.
O'Neill, the Private Secretary of the Minister of Posts and Telegraphs, went down to Trepassey, with the air mail, to interview Commr. de Pinedo on his arrival Friday evening, May 21st. In previous cases, Commr. de Pinedo had refused to take a mail—a case in point being that which the Postal Administration of Haiti, at Port au Prince, had prepared after receiving the assurance of the Italian Charge d'Affaires that a small mail would be accepted. Yet when Commr. de Pinedo arrived, he refused absolutely to take the mail prepared, claiming that he had always met with mishap when mail had been carried.

But in Haiti a special stamp had not been prepared for the purpose, whereas the Newfoundland Department of Posts and Telegraphs, presented the Commander with 20 mint copies of the overprinted 60c Cabot stamp. This giving of complimentary stamps was a precedent established when the first Trans-Atlantic mail was prepared, in 1919, and

BRITISH NORTH AMERICA

We hear that Newfoundland is shortly to issue a new set of stamps, in fact, some of the 1923 Pictorial issues are already obsolete and hard to get. We can supply the complete set for $1.90 or the set in blocks of four at $7.50. (Supply limited.)

CANADA

This dominion has just issued two new sets. We can supply the Confederation set consisting of 1c, 2c, 3c, 5c, 12c, and 20c values at 55c, blocks of four at $2.10. The Historical set consisting of the 5c, 12c, and 20c values at 50c, blocks of four at $1.90.

Have you got your copy of our U. S. and British North America list, free for the asking? Whilst many of these stamps have shown big rises in the advance sheets, we are still supplying all that we possibly can at the old figures. We expect to have the new edition with new prices ready shortly. This will automatically render obsolete all old prices.

Want-list Time

This is the time of the year when new prices are becoming effective due to the appearance of the Advance Sheets of Scott's 1928 Catalogue and the near publication date of the catalogue itself. All price-lists are now obsolete.

It's the time when it is best for the col-

A. P. S. ANNUAL CONVENTION

St. Louis, Mo., August 16, 1927.

Although we were ready to go to press at the time of the opening session of the American Philatelic Society now in convention at St. Louis, our forms were held open long enough that we might be able to give our readers the reports of the first day's activities.

The forty-second annual convention of the American Philatelic Society now in session at the Marquette Hotel in St. Louis, was called to order by President A. H. Wilhelm of San Francisco.

Mr. H. A. Diamant of St. Louis, Chairman of the Credentials Committee, reporting the results of the election of officers of the Society for the ensuing year, greatly pleased the convention with the news that President Wilhelm and Secretary Davis had been re-elected to their respective offices by an almost unanimous choice.

A. J. Michener, Postmaster of St. Louis, gave the address of welcome on behalf of the city. He spoke briefly on the workings of the Post Office Department and before closing extended an invitation to the members to visit the Post Office that they might be better able to understand the enormous quantity of mail matter handled and the efficient system employed to insure correct and expeditious dispatch of all matter going through the mails.

A. L. Royta, Post Office Inspector for this District, then commented on the work of the Philatelic Bureau in Washington, and assuring that the Government is leaving nothing undone as far as it is able, to encourage through this medium, the collecting of stamps.

Mr. Ralph Eilers of St. Louis came before the meeting saying that he had just received Air Mail Covers carried by Capt. Charles A. Lindbergh from Springfield to St. Louis yesterday and these were distributed to those present as souvenirs of the occasion.

The rest of the morning was taken up with the usual reports of the various committees and officers who had closed their official year. Mr. J. E. Guest, Manager and Superintendent of the Sales Department, reported that for the eleven months just passed his department had disposed of $60,000.00 worth of stamps belonging to members. With 2,000 circuits going all the time with a net worth of $500,000.00 certainly speaks well for the efforts of he and the Mrs. who, we understand, carries considerable of the burden.

H. A. Davis, Secretary of the Society, made an interesting report as the total membership is now 4,143, an increase of 373 over September, 1926.

With the weather very fine, temperature around 75, a good attendance inspired with philatelic enthusiasm, everyone is predicting the banner convention of the Society.

—STRAIGHT EDGE.

REPORT OF OFFICIAL EXPERT

PHILA., PA., Aug. 1, 1927.

To the President and Members of the A. P. S.:

As promised you at the New York Convention last year, I have investigated the latest help for detecting counterfeits, the Ultra Violet Ray Quartz Lamp, a marvelous invention by the help of which I can examine a stamp and find painted in portions and repairs clearly. The colors of forgeries also appear entirely different under these rays. I have used this lamp now for several months and have examined all stamps submitted by members of the American Philatelic Society with the help of the lamp.

While this lamp is a costly matter, I have gone to additional trouble and cost and acquired a high power binocular microscope for purposes of examining for type varieties.

With these two mechanical helps, together with my reference collection, I believe we are well protected against forgeries.

Not many new cheap forgeries have become known during the year, but I cannot help calling attention to two important ones. A beautiful Newfoundland 1 shilling orange made from an original 1 shilling rose by carefully painting in the new color with a very fine brush. This forgery was so well made that it passed through the hands of three experienced stamp dealers before it was detected.

Another important forgery which also passed through the hands of two specialists was a Turkey unsevered pair of 25pi and 5pi, Scott's catalog No. 57b. This was a beautiful pair slightly paler than a similar pair in a well known specialist's collection. Under the powerful rays of the Ultra Violet Lamp this was found to be a forgery of two separate stamps artificially joined.

During the last fiscal year I had more than the usual number of stamps to examine, altogether 900, the examination of which took more time than I ever gave before.

Respectfully submitted,
EUGENE KLEIN.

NEW 2,000 LINE CONTRACT

We have had several requests for a contract that would give a special rate on 2000 lines to be used in a year. We have now added it to the list of contracts found regularly upon our editorial page:—

2000 lines at 20c, $400.00

This contract will be very acceptable to dealers who let up on advertising during the summer months. It means a 40-line advt. every week, but space can be used as quickly as desired.

PICTURE ON THE WHITE PLAINS
by JASON SAMUEL PARKER, M.D.

Your issue of July 25, Mr. Henry Kendall called attention to what appeared to be a tactical error in the position of the artillerymen and ammunition on the White Plains stamp. This observation shows the picture even more interesting and shows more clearly just what it was added to illustrate. There is nothing to distance today that could be photographed to represent the Battle of White Plains, so whatever scene was used had been reconstructed in the mind of an enlisted man—The Private—was placed in the background. Much research was devoted to the restoration of the picture, old prints and histories were studied, and we were helped by an old gentleman who when a boy was well informed of the details of the engagement. He says "artillery was organized in those days as it is now. One or four men would fire a cannon and as there was powder and ball. That is the picture we wished to show. The problem was to depict the action of the men, the intensity of the action, rather than the literal interpretation. Edmund F. Ward painted "Alexander Hamilton's Battery" especially for the stamp and it is thought that he has captured the spirit of the action as nearly as possible to visualize it. The pile of projectiles was taken from two cannonballs found by Mr. Ward's grandfather on the field where history says Washington saved his country at White Plains." The painting is a remarkably vivid bit of action, the intense facial expression being wonderful. While the position of the men may be according to "regulations" it shows Continental Soldiers in their tactical uniforms, one of whom is an infantryman filling the place of a fallen comrade, and taking their last shot at the advancing enemy.

BENNINGTON SECOND DAY COVER

Ernest A. Pember sends us the particulars of the use of the Bennington stamp at Woodstock, Vt., prior to its being used in general use. We quote from Pember's letter:—"I tried to get a first day use of the stamp at Woodstock at the same time Bennington had it, and being a member of the State Commission I struggled valiantly, but to no avail. My idea was to visit each town in Vermont that was having a sesqui celebration have a first day use of the stamp. The decision was made for me. Mr. Brownell, a local collector, and I, tried to think up some way of getting our town and its small celebration on the map and we staged a special second day use before the general use of the stamp. I believe this will be the Woodstock cancellation an interesting feature for cover collectors."

Have You a Surplus of These?

We always want to buy for ready cash and at the top of the market anything fine in early U. S. stamps or covers. If you have a specialized collection of any stamps or series; a find of old correspondence; an accumulation of 3c '51s, '57s or '61s on or off cover; patriotic covers of the Civil War, either Confederate or Union, or of the Spanish American war; a few thousand Bank Note issues, even the common 2c and 3c stamps if there are enough to bother with.

Send them to us with your best cash price. Particularly if you have items you think are worth more than anyone else will pay, for that is just the kind we want. Our check or the stamps will come to you by return mail if you ask it.

Just now we are anxious to spend some real money for fine items, but don't want the culls at any price.

ANOTHER DETROIT EXHIBITION

THE MICHIGAN STAMP CLUB PUTS PEP INTO A MID-SUMMER STAMP SHOW

Reported by HERMAN W. BOERS.

The Michigan Stamp Club of Detroit held its second public exhibition for the current year at its clubrooms in G. A. R. Building, the last meeting in July. Living up to its high aim of promoting philately amongst those living in "Detroit the Dynamic," and in order to demonstrate what a stamp club can do on a summer evening this exhibition was planned. It was a hot night and there were those who thought the attendance would be small, but over one hundred were present, surpassing all expectations. A number of out-of-town visitors attended.

Each member showed his own stamps, many bringing three and four books illustrating their special interest in philately, and demonstrating to the non-collectors the many-sided aspects of stamp collecting.

The arrangements for the exhibition were made by a committee consisting of Harry Carter, Karl Koslowski and Herman W. Boers. The following served as judges:—William F. Fratcher, John Jungwirth and Charles Keller. These several appointments by Pres. Brisley gave general satisfaction and everyone was well pleased with the consideration shown exhibition entries. The opinion was freely expressed that a third exhibition should be held the latter part of the year upon a larger scale than either of the previous ones. Prizes were awarded as follows:—

Special Award

Silver cup donated by Pres. Charles L. Brisley for best collection, U. S. or foreign. Possession will be given exhibitor winning three times, not necessarily in succession. Winner will hold for one year until such time as next exhibition is held. Awarded S. E. Andrews for collection of West Indies Islands.

STOLEN

Mr. S. Newbury, Chicago, sailed for Europe on July 23rd, on a two months' trip; and like the complete philatelist, Mr. Newbury took a part of his collection on his travels as he always does whether his destination is South Africa or the South Sea Islands. He anticipated much pleasure in meeting stamp folks and in showing his stamps, which are superb, to interested collectors. A postal card from Holland came to us from Mr. Newbury telling of his pleasant voyage and his peace of mind generally. Almost the day after the receipt of this message, we read in the Chicago Tribune of August 14th, the dispatch from The Hague, dated August 13th: "Tourist Robbed of $4,920, Says He's From Chicago," which says that Saul Newbury who was staying at a hotel at Scheveningen was robbed of 2,300 guilders, a credit voucher for $4,000 and a stamp collection which he appraised at $5,000. The Tribune says that the name of Saul Newbury is not found in any Chicago city directory, thereby backing up the implication of the head-line which takes the prize for the best example of journalistic restraint. We suppose that the nodding Tribune was awakened from its nap by many a telephone ring, inasmuch as Mr. Newbury is a foremost merchant of his city. Just what stamps Mr. Newbury lost we cannot say—whether his early Brazil, early Colombians, Shanghai, or early U. S. Mr. Newbury was a robbery victim last year in Australia when valuable jewelry belonging to Mrs. Newbury was stolen. Too, we could name several other instances where he suffered philatelic loss, but we cannot become too personal; he will see it through with a smile, we are sure.

S.P.A. CONVENTION—THIRD DAY

Reported by A. E. GORHAM.

Aug. 10, 1927.

The convention was called to order at 10 a. m. by the Acting President.

Secretary read telegram from Milwaukee Association of Commerce extending invitation to hold 1928 Convention in Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Voted, that inasmuch as the Convention had unanimously decided yesterday to hold its 1928 convention in Washington, the Secretary be directed to advise the Milwaukee Association of Commerce that, if agreeable to that body, it would consider the invitation as applicable to 1929; carried.

Committee on Necrology submitted its report, which was adopted, and the members stood in silent meditation in memory of the following members who had passed on: J. J. Stehelin, E. E. Meyer, B. A. Quesnel, Frank V. Newell, Daniel N. Jay, C. R. Fuller, E. P. Barr, I. A. Hurovitz, A. R. Mengel, G. Harrison Townsend, J. D. Ferris and A. S. Matter.

Mr. N. R. Hoover, of the Board of Governors, introduced a resolution that the elected officers refrain, as such, from taking sides in elective contests. Debated for and against by the following: Messrs. Hoover, Hussey, Bennett, Mann, Gorham, Bach, Lycett, Camp, Creed, Petty, McKelvy and Wise. The motion to adopt was lost.

Mr. Paul Wise introduced a resolution that any officer interested financially by virtue of his office be required to resign his office; motion to adopt was by a similar vote declared lost.

Acting President Camp, on behalf of the Board of Governors, presented to Miss Helen Hussey a handsome testimonial for submitting during the past fiscal year 103 accepted applications for membership, and stated that the Board of Governors had been giving close attention to applications received, and that the Society had liquidated all indebtedness to its members and now had a clear sheet, with an increased membership of 219; sales in the Sales Department of $13,071.40 and advance credits to members in the Exchange Department of $12,690.05.

Miss Hussey made suitable response of acceptance and stated she was going to bring in more applications during the present year.

A rising vote of thanks was extended Maj. Guy W. A. Camp, who, at two conventions had presided, and who had been largely instrumental in liquidating the indebtedness of the Society and bring it to its present prosperous and harmonious condition.

Secretary Lycett introduced a resolution of thanks to the local committees, press, Hotel Walton management, and others who, with the officers had done so much to make this a successful convention and unanimously carried.

Secretary Lycett also announced 12 applications for membership had been received for the new year.

REPORT OF BOARD OF GOVERNORS.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Aug. 8, 1927.

Officers and Members:—

The past year has been a rather busy one for your Board of Governors, so much so that to detail its proceedings would take much more time than this Convention can allow, hence I shall make this report brief and to the point.

Some fifteen meetings of the Board have been held during the year and the attendance of its members has been extraordinary in that two of them been present at every meeting and have missed but one meeting each.

It was with great regret that Board was compelled to lose the ser of so valuable a member as Mr. Bal Schlesinger, its Treasurer, who forced to resign at the beginning of year on account of ill health. How it was fortunate in being able to fill vacancy with Mr. A. W. Deas who not only an ardent and enthusiastic lector but a man of extensive business experience as well.

The great International Philatelic Exhibition was held in New York City last October, and, as the Board prom the Society was well represented at affair, it having retained part of a in conjunction with Branch No. 1. S tary Lycett was present at the Ex tion constantly and devoted his tim explaining what the Society is and i curing applications.

In conformity with the expressed w of the Cincinnati convention the B authorized the establishing of a Ju Membership in November, and ac tised the Society in several publica soliciting such membership. These forts were well rewarded as is witne by the goodly number of Juniors no the Society, many of whom undoubt will become full-fledged members, attaining the required age. The B also authorized some advertising senior members.

Early in the year learning that funds in the custody of the Treas were in a bulked account, the B directed that the various funds be gregated with the result that the In ance Funds of the Sales and Exch Departments and the Life Member Fund are now in depositories where are drawing interest.

A number of controversies, several them important, have come before Board, but they have all been adju equitably to all concerned. It has found necessary to expel several m bers, and while this is unfortunate, it is the disposition of the Board to t no one a member of the Society w veracity and honesty cannot be depen upon. It wants the world to know any person who is a member of Society is one who can be trusted, to this end the Board will strive to the ranks clean from objectionable terial and will jealously guard the ho and reputation of the institution.

During the late spring Mr. Clifford Kissinger, whose invitation to hold convention at Reading, Pennsylvania, accepted by the Cincinnati convention, peared before the Board and stated that account of the poor condition of his he it would be impossible for him to t upon himself the responsibility of stag the convention as he had proposed, that there was no other person in Read to whom this responsibility could be d gated with the assurance that the af would be carried through successfu. Realizing the situation and believing to have been the wish of the Cincinnati

Information that the affair should be held at the State of Pennsylvania, the Board of the Philadelphia as the place, and the valuable assistance of Secretary of the suitable support for the gathering was found.
The membership shows an excellent growth, amounting to 25 per cent, undoubtedly is due to the fact that the increased number of members have been applications. This increased interest in the affairs of the Society is to produce good results. In this connection I desire to make special mention of Miss Helen Hussey who heads the list with 103 applications to her credit. She is followed by Secretary Lyett with 46 and Dr. Hussey with 46. The record of Miss Hussey is remarkable that it should not only attract the attention of our members, but also incite them to emulate the example has set in such an admirable way, and which has assisted so much in the attainment of our net increase of approximately 220 members.

The work of the officers of the Society, men of the highest order and Secretary, Sales Manager Hussey and Exchange Manager Wyer have conducted their respective departments in a way that is worthy of great commendation. The Sales and Exchange Departments have been so carefully operated that no appreciable loss has occurred, and is indeed an accomplishment of the respective managers have a right to be proud.

Probably the outstanding achievement of the Board of Governors for the year has been that of completing the payment to all members of the Society who had losses in the old Sales Department. This was made possible through the efforts of Dr. Hussey, which yielded a donation by Mr. Gustav of $9.08. It has been a long struggle, but constant and persistent effort has won out and today the Society can stand with head erect knowing that all obligations to its membership have been discharged in full.

It is to be remarked in this connection that there are still nine old claims in the so-called Class B, all quite small aggregating but $168.81. They are individuals who were members of the Society at the time the losses occurred, who severed their membership thereafter and have rendered no aid in the rehabilitation of the organization. However, notwithstanding this, they deserted the Society in the face of its greatest need, it is the intention of the Board to also liquidate these claims at the earliest practical date. In connection with this subject of liquidation it is proper to note that the old Finance and Means Committee in order to make payment on these claims used $160 from the Life Membership fund. This amount the Board intends to return to that Fund as soon as possible. When this shall have been done and the member claims shall have been paid, the efforts of the Board, in this connection will have been completed.

The settlement of these claims of our Society is more important than would be at first consideration for in accomplishing it the Society has not only cleared itself of all reproach, but has gained a prestige in ethical procedure that no other similar organization can surpass. And more than this, it

By FREDERICK W. ALLEN.

SUMMARY

The precancellations of Honolulu afford an interesting study and several well known philatelists possess fine collections. Probably the most complete is that owned by John Gribble of Honolulu. Walter V. Allen, who is with the Hawaiian Dredging Co., a very fine showing. The late General C. A. Coolidge expressed interest in the issues of this city and had a number of good things. The General's collection of these stamps was purchased by C. F. Richards of New York, who is known to collectors throughout the U. S., as a specialist of the postal issues of Hawaii. Mr. Richards has decided to collect the precancellations, and probably has the most complete showing of them in this country. They surely will lend interest to a specialized collection of this group. Mr. Wilbur A. Harvey of Washington, D. C., is also the possessor of a remarkably fine showing.

There are six permit holders in Honolulu who use large quantities of precancels. Most of the parcels go to nearby localities, but quite a few find their way to this country, especially the Pacific Coast.

The securing of specimens for a collection is not an easy matter, but that lends interest to the chase and to the collection.

SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, HAWAII

During 1924 when Harding precancels were the "craze" there appeared a five-line cancellation as illustrated. The first specimens known were the Hardings, being later followed by certain values of the regular issue. We have always considered these stamps as rankly speculative, it being our opinion that they were simply made for collectors by a party stationed at the Barracks. If their status is clear then I am open to conviction, but several efforts to establish their authenticity have been met by failure. A proves to the whole world that any philatelist who is a member of the S. P. A. is sure of having his interests protected with a protection that really protects.

NEW ADVERTISERS

The Berkshire Exchange, Cumington, Mass., Holcomb York, A. P. S., proprietor, has taken out an advertising contract for the coming season.

T. Solomon of the Advance Stamp Co., N. Y. City, has taken out a 2,000-line contract from Sept. 1. The contract will prove a popular one. It means a minimum of 40 lines per week at 20c per line, until 2,000 lines have been used.

friend in Honolulu writes me as follows, in regard to this issue:

"The Honolulu P. O. has two branches, first Bethel Station and second Schofield Barracks. Schofield uses Honolulu precancels and had no right to use that cancellation. I see that the Catalog lists the 2 and 20 cents present issue. These are fakes pure and simple."

This leads me to believe that the whole issue is simply a private speculation, and that the so-called precancellations were issued without any authority whatsoever. It will therefore be best for collectors to steer clear of the stamps.

WAILUKU, MAUI, HAWAII

Wailuku, situated on the island of Maui, is the only office in the Islands, outside of Honolulu, that is permitted to precancel stamps. This procedure is made use of only during the holiday season. The device used is a 25 subject handstamp. The overprint reads "Wailuku, Maui—Hawaii" in two lines of lower case serif type, between bars.

SCHOFIELD BARRACKS STATION, HONOLULU HAWAII

All varieties known are irreproachable. Quite a number of the 2 cent Harding were precancelled at the time of issue. About half a dozen varieties exist of the current issue. Specimens of these precancels are hard to secure in any condition and collectors cannot be too particular if they wish to make a showing from this office.

WAILUA, HAWAII

This office has never used precancels, but specimens exist with a bogus overprint. It is hardly worth mention, being a crude affair of tall thin capitals between lines and handstamped in red. I have it on the 1917 series, 2c and 5c.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT OF THE ASSOCIATION FOR STAMP EXHIBITIONS

We have received from T. E. Steinway, treasurer of the Association for Stamp Exhibitions, Inc., a financial statement showing the cost of the 1926 Exhibition. Accompanying it is the report of the auditing committee certifying to the correctness of the receipts and disbursements. In the report is this statement:—

"There are ten firms who have not yet paid for their catalogue advertising. These outstanding accounts amount to $285. Every effort has been made and

EDITORIAL

From Mr. Bernard E. Charter, Milford, Connecticut, we have the declaration, supported by competent testimony that the special markings described as a cancellation on the Hartford air mail cover mentioned in the issue of August 8th, have no official significance, even though they are of some interest. Mr. Whittemore, the Assistant Treasurer of the Colonial line that operates the Boston-New York route, in writing to Mr. Charter, says: "The Colonial Air Transport tried in vain to get permission from Washington to use a special cancellation on the occasion of the Lindbergh celebration, but were refused. There was no special cancellation to indicate a particular occasion. Many of the envelopes were stamped in the opposite corner, 'Lindbergh Celebration, Hartford, Conn., etc., but it was nothing official and was not more than anybody could have done to an envelope. The Post Office Department gave the celebration no official recognition."

He says: "Since my return from the Exhibit, I have put in most of my time 'researching' at the Bancroft Library, University of California; and am now delving into the oldest California newspaper files at the State Library, State Department, Sacramento, Cal. Early newspapers are searched for any news item and advertisement and nothing else, outside of town directories, is being used; and consequently, all the information is as near correct as possible to obtain. I am pleased to give you the list for first public announcement. I am surprised at the large number and I hope that some of your readers will find among their treasures a few of the names on the new list. I have very few on it. I will be glad to assist anyone in establishing their items and will furnish them with all information that I have succeeded in finding.

A man reeking of ready money, stood looking at the window display in a stamp shop near Broadway and Forty-Second street, New York, shortly after closing hours. After having absorbed stamp atmosphere to the full, he crossed the street, when he was accosted by a man of middle-age, who represented that he was the janitor of a bank and that it was his custom to sell the stamps of desirable kind that were the fruit of his enterprise to the dealer across the way, but that inasmuch as the place was now closed, he could accommodate the well-fed individual by disposing of them to him on the same terms, that is, provided the window-shopper was interested in good stamps. Moreover, he had the stamps in the box under his arm and he removed the lid and gave the trusting collector a cursory glance at the contents. There at the top were things that were rather intriguing to the eye; and with polite expressions on either side, the box changed ownership for a mere five dollar bill. Now let the victim have a word: "I could scarcely wait until I got home to delve into the stamps in secret, but alas for the vanity of human expectations. True, there was a thin layer of attractive specimens on top, but underneath the trash was worthless. I was stung and by far the greater part of the five bucks had to be charged up to experience. The janitor knew human nature, spotted me for a come-on and cashed in neatly on his sharpness. If you tell the story, leave out my name as I do not want to get on all the sucker lists in the country."

* * *

In a few cities there are men who have been known to make a practice of establishing points of contact with dealers' customers. The chap who leaves the place before the liberal buyer does and waits for him in the hallway or street and tries to enter into conversation with him is a comparatively crude worker. A good bit of finesse is needed by the fellow who lies in wait at the stamp shop window and then in a natural way gets the ear of the likely-looking person who stops to gaze at the stamps and he is a smoother product. Then, plausibly enough he leads up to the assertion that he can undersell the dealer and can prove it to the satisfaction of anyone interested. In some cases, the unsuspicious collector finds that his bargain is a dubious one at best. All in all, we do not suppose that these games are very flourishing, but it is just as well to know that they may be attempted from time to time.

Junior Dictionary

Repulo Posta.—A surcharge on certain stamps of Hungary intended for aerial mail. The words signify "flying post."

Riga Liberation Issue.—Latvian stamps, type A2, issued June 6, 1919, to commemorate the liberation of Riga from the Bolsheviks. The taller female figure typifies Latvia, the other, Riga. The line of buildings in the background represent Riga's waterfront.

Ringgold.—A town in Georgia where during the Civil War a provisional envelope was issued by the postmaster. It had a very limited life.

Riversdale Bond.—Parts of these words indicating the trade name of the paper, are found as watermarks in the 1918 issue of Argentina. Not all the stamps in the sheet are thus watermarked.

Royal Mail Stamp Packet Company.—A 10c carmine stamp with this inscription is reported to have been used upon steamships of this company plying between the ports of the West Indies and the Caribbean Sea.

The value in which most of the stamps of Siam are expressed from their introduction in 1883 until 1909 when the currency of the country was changed. An att was the sixty-fourth part of a tical and had a value of about a third of a cent in United States money.

Doings of the Melville Junior Stamp Club

By LYLE E. BEAL, 42 Elliot St., Keene, N. H.

"Say, fellows, let's buy an album and things for Fred Towne, he's a cripple and shut in most of the time and I hear he has started a stamp collection" exclaimed Leon Irving.

"All right, let's," cried a chorus.

So the treasurer got the stocking in which their money was kept, and counted it.

"Ten dollars and twenty cents," he exclaimed, "we can buy lots of things with that!"

So they trooped down to "Ye Olde Stampe Shoppe" and bought Fred a stamp album, a catalog, watermark detector, stamp hinges, etc.

Then they went to Fred's house and gave him the surprise of his life.

"How can I ever thank you," he exclaimed. "The days won't seem so long and dull now."

Later, as the boys went back to the club house they all felt happy because they had made someone else happy.

JUNIOR STAMP STUDIES

New Zealand A29
1sh Red

Pictured above is a very interesting stamp of New Zealand. It is the 1sh red and shows a pair of the kakas or hawk-billed parrots peculiar to the islands. Their notable feature is the beak which is very much longer, especially the upper part, than is found in other parrots. The bird is found in both of the large islands but is not as plentiful as formerly, for it is not particularly shy and is not rapid in flight, two qualities which cause it to suffer much from the shotgun. Its general color is brown above with a red tinge beneath. It feeds on berries and grubs, is found in flocks, and as usual with parrots is very noisy. The name kaka is of native origin and comes from its cry. It has excellent powers of mimicry and the Maoris train it for a decoy.

Stamps With Perforated Initials

John Fletcher of Los Angeles, Cal., sends us a small lot of stamps with perforated initials and suggest that some of our readers, with himself included, will be glad to know about their use. Stamps punctured with these small holes are quite commonly used nowadays, and the perforations are applied privately by certain firms as a safeguard against petty pilfering upon the part of their employees. While interesting as a side-line, they are not in the stamp market.

Why I Collect U. S. and Canada?

(A few entries. Others will follow.)

Superb engraving, rich, standard colors, sedate and charming portraits,—these lend irresistible charm to the United States and Canadian issues. Coils, precancels, grills, odd cancellations, bi-sections,—these augment the zest of searching for our North American stamps. Our beautiful commemoratives are neither too numerous nor too few: they give us visions of the limitless expanse of our continent, with its intriguing history. We have to buy foreign stamps. We find the stamps of our homeland.—RICHARD E. TIMS (15), 1201 State St., Tama, Iowa.

This is an age of specialization. Stamp collecting is a good example because the general collector is giving way to the specialist. I have found the most satisfaction in concentrating my efforts on a collection of the stamps of United States and Canada.

Its minor varieties, and its commemorative issues make it of more philatelic and historic value than any general collection (within the reach of the ordinary man) could possibly be.—JAMES G. ARMSTEAD, 812 Col. Ave., Bridgeport, Conn.

I save every U. S. and Canada stamp I can get. I save them all because even if they look the same, they may be different in shades, cancellations, grills, perforations, precancels, etc. Many different things you can find when you study them carefully. Every old U. S. and Canada stamp is a treasure and has a story of its own.

The Commemoratives are very interesting and very beautiful. They show historic events and the portraits of the brave men who make history. There are many besides myself who can learn history from their stamp albums better than they can from their history books.—PAUL WESTCOTT, 189 Eagle St., North Adams, Mass.

Atjeh

A residency of the Dutch East Indies embracing the northern portion of Sumatra. It is sometimes known as Aitchin and has an area of 20,550 square miles with a population well in excess of 500,000. In 1882 a curious looking label purporting to have been issued for use here was chronicled in the philatelic press. It consisted of a ground of small lozenges on which "Atjeh," "1 Real 1," and a formidable looking scimitar were shown but an investigation of its status proved it to be entirely bogus.

The Current 14c U. S.

The 14-cent current issue bears the portrait of the Indian named Chief Hollow Horn Bear. This Indian died several years previous to the issuance of the stamp. The stamp was first placed on sale in Muskogee, Okla., the home of five civilized Indian tribes. Chief Hollow Horn Bear was a personal friend of President Roosevelt, and marched with him in his inaugural parade.

France's Special A. L. Stamp

Acme Photo.

This stamp is valid only during September when the American Legion Convention will be held in Paris. The design shows Lafayette on the left and Washington on the right. In the center are an Atlantic liner, the Statue of Liberty and Lindbergh's plane flying high.

Austrian Levant

For many years Austria, like France, Great Britain, Germany, etc., has maintained post offices at the chief towns in the Levant. Special stamps for use in these offices were issued on June 1st, 1867, these being like the contemporary stamps for Austria itself but with values in "soldi." In 1886 Austrian stamps with values in Turkish currency surcharged across the base were used while since July, 1908, stamps similar to those now in use in Austria have been issued but with values in "para" and "piaster."

Halerz, Halerze, Halerzy

Polish forms of "heller," the Austrian money used in that portion of Poland formerly belonging to Austria. "Halerz" is the singular form; "halerze" the plural form used with the numerals 2, 3 and 4; and "halerzy" the plural form used with the numeral 5 or more. 100 halerzy make a korona.

What Collectors Should Do

By JOS. A. STEINMETZ.

(1.) Secretaries of every philatelic society should request each member by letter to give of their duplicates to boys and girls and help them start.

"Every great collection began with its first stamp!"

(2.) Big brothers start a book for the kids and inoculate them with the collecting virus.

"Two collectors are better than one!"

(3.) Exhibit your collections freely to friends, talk stamps, show your collection at the local fairs and sociables, have stamp parties at home.

"Competition is the life of trade!"

(4.) Remember on birthdays and Christmas that the most instructive, artistic and permanent present you can give is an album containing a nicely started collection.

"Well begun is half done!"

A surcharge applied to four of the then current stamps of New Zealand, 1913 to mark the Exposition held in Auckland. These stamps were only available for postage in New Zealand and to the neighbouring Commonwealth of Australia.

Paper No. 9—Granite

This is a similar paper, but with silk fibres so minute that they are difficult to distinguish without the aid of magnifying glass. The Austrian stamps of 1890-1902 and most of the Swiss stamps since 1881 are on granite paper.

Perplexing Surcharges

DOUBLE FIRST DAY COVER

By J. R. GEROW, JR.

We are indebted to Mr. Gerow for a very interesting novelty, which is really a double first day cover. It was mailed in Bennington, Vt., on August 3, and bears a 7.00 A. M. marking. The cover was addressed to Albany, N. Y., and read to Liberty, N. Y., with a 5.00 P. M. August 3. Both the Bennington and Saratoga stamps give evidence of having done postal on August 3, the day of issue. We quote following from the letter at hand.—W. O. W.)

Enclosed you will find what I consider a wonderful first day cover. This double first day cover traveled entirely by air and without any special favors besought for or received by the offices through which passed.

I mailed the covers at Bennington, at 7.00 A. M., Aug. 3, received them at Albany, N. Y., by general delivery about 2.30 P. M., and stamped them with the Saratoga stamp addressed them to Liberty, N. Y., of final destination.

Many dealers were taking their covers to automobile between the two cities so they get both first day stamps on the cover, but such covers will not stand up with either the mails or general first day stamps.

I am also enclosing a statement from Mr. M. at Bennington, Vt., relative to the first purchaser—George W. Patterson, aged 15 years. He arrived at the window four-thirty in the morning. The Hon. Walter H. Berry, Bennington, Vt., was the largest purchaser. Berry was State Senator for his district many years and also Presidential elector on several different occasions.

The Bennington office mailed about 100 first day covers. The whole office worked all night and met you the morning with a smile, one fine lot follows. Special mention should be made of Postmaster Howe and his assistant for the attention they showed philatelic mail.

The Bennington office received 250,000 stamps. The stamp was sold only at Bennington and Washington on the first day.

A RAPKIN CONTRACT

The well known British firm of G. Rapkin writes us as follows:— "We thank you for your letter of August 15th instant, and have pleasure in enclosing copy for our advertising department. The value of this is considerably more than last year, and we trust the results will justify our expenditure. In the past, we may mention, we have found very satisfactory results from our advertising to you."

COMMON AND MEDIUM U. S. A. WANTED

We are short of a good many of the medium and common stamps of the United States, and shall be glad to receive lists or sample books, with prices per 10 or 100 clearly marked. Bulk lots should not be sent till we send order.

We are buyers of anything fine in U. S. A., Brit. North America, Brit. W. Indies and most other countries, particularly rarities and first-class specialised collections.

AT RANDOM

Tom Slattery, 400 10th Street, Bismarck, North Dakota, is about fifteen years of age and suffers so acutely from heart trouble that he has been bedridden for a long time, but is now able, Henrietta J. Lund, director of the Children's Bureau, Board of Administration, North Dakota, informs us, "to be around occasionally." Dr. Thorlief L. Stangebye of New England, North Dakota, vouches for Tom, who is "thrilled" over the prospect of receiving some stamps. We miss our guess if Tom doesn't deserve consideration and at any rate, we know that he will get one little lot of stamps.

Mr. F. W. Pederson of LaCrosse, Wisconsin, says that on a card from Worms, Germany, that he received, there is a special cancellation larger than the ordinary that "happened from the second to the fourth of July in the year of 1227."

Ray Jones got the shock of his young life when he found displayed on the screen an enlarged photograph of an envelope bearing a 2c stamp of the 1912-22 type and he was so surprised that he did not notice the postmark nor the address.

The "Return of Peter Grimm" was the picture which had been passed by the National Board of Review.

Some time ago, Mr. Richard E. Tims, Tama, Iowa, wrote: "In the 'Strong Man,' featuring Harry Langdon, there was a mistake that any stamp collector would have noticed. The scene was that of a doughboy in No Man's Land, during the late war, who received a letter from home. The postage on the missive was prepaid by means of a five-cent Roosevelt stamp."

A correspondent sends a clipping from a Kansas City, Mo., paper showing pictures of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Jasper, who are given the tribute of over a column under the head: "Hobby Becomes Business with K. C. Philatelic Wholesaler." It is said that the Philatelic Wholesaler has achieved a circulation of "more than 35,000" in five months, among the wholesale stamp dealers of the world!

The Honolulu, T. H., Advertiser says that a number of letters that were actually carried from the coast to Honolulu in the first flight are in possession of Ernest Smith and Emory Bronte, trans-Pacific fliers, addressed to people in Honolulu. These particulars are given:

"Delivery of letters will be made as soon as possible, Smith said last night. He wishes to present each letter personally at its destination.

The pack of letters included two to James D. Dole, originator of the Dole flight next month; two to Col. John H. Howard, head of the army air service at Wheeler Field; two to Mayor Charles N. Arnold, one to the secretary of the mayor, two to Mrs. Percy Swift, and letters to Robert Shingle, John McCandless, A. Hemming, Willia Schneider, Jr., Riley Allen, Capt. H. T. Lake, Lester Petrie, Carl Hoffman, Dr. Frank Silva, Earl Hedemark, M. R. Peck, Arthur Hemberger, Edward Buckley and H. Connor.

Those to whom the letters are addressed have been asked to be present at the reception tomorrow night at the Royal Hawaiian hotel, when Smith and Bronte will personally present the letters."

Naim H. Bikhor, 55-115 Takia Street, Bagdad, Iraq, says that he has never seen a mint copy of Mesopotamia, Scott No. 50 and that as an Iraqi philatelist, he would like to hear from any one who possesses such a specimen. He has is-

British Colonials From Distant Colonies

The advance sheets have started, and many Colonials will be advanced sharply in price. Dealers stocks are low, and demand will cause higher prices this fall.

Here are popular stamps, short sets, all in great demand at attractive prices. Blocks of four can be supplied at pro-rata prices. The trend in British Colonials is upward and this price advance is based upon world-wide demand for attractive stamps with a real value. Please remember, CASH WITH ORDER.

ATLAS STAMP CO. (P. C. Smith)
W. Somerville, Mass.

PHILIPPINE LEGISLATIVE SET

During December of 1926, the Philippine Government produced locally a series of Commemorative Stamps in honor of the opening of the new Legislative Building. The series consisted of seven varieties, namely, 2c, 4c, 10c, 15c, 20c, 24c, and 1 peso. Of the latter, only 11,500 were printed, and as the plates have been destroyed, this denomination is likely to be quite scarce. As a matter of fact, a well known dealer has recently offered this variety as high as ten dollars ($10.00) per stamp. I have a small supply available at $5.00 per set with pairs or blocks at proportionate rates.

Four values were produced overprinted "Official" in red, and these are available at 75c per set, with pairs and blocks at proportionate rates.

Seven imperforate copies of the 20c with center in brown have been found from a sheet of printer's waste that was inadvertently sent to one of the smaller provinces. I am informed that three are known used, and four unused, and that they have been unable to locate any of the balance. A superb single mint copy available. Price upon application. One of the few errors to be had from a United States Colonial Possession. What else do you need in U. S.?

United States

American Legion Stamp

Hon. Ernest R. Ackerman kindly mails a clipping from Paris illustrating the first American Legion Stamp, which will be placed on sale September 15th, in honor of the American Legion, which meets in Paris at that time. The stamp shows portraits of Washington and Lafayette at the right and left, the steamship "Paris" in the center, with Lindbergh's airplane at the top. In the distance is seen the Statue of Liberty. Two denominations of the same design are to be sold, one of 90c red, to pay postage on international postal cards, and the other in blue, with the value of 1fr 50c, for payment of postage on international letters.

Mr. Ackerman, writes that he has suggested to the Post Office Department at Washington, that a similar stamp be issued here. Judging from the illustration, it is possibly the handsomest stamp ever issued by France, and if we turn out one as attractive, it will no doubt be sold in large quantities.

New Stamp Plates

Through the courtesy of Mr. A. R. Hall, Director of Bureau of Engraving and Printing, I am enabled to bring our list of stamp plates up to those issued to August 12, 1927. In this list it will be seen the first plates for the Lindbergh, Vermont, and Burgoyne stamps. The Post Office Department has issued instructions to the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, calling for twenty million of the Vermont Sesquicentennial variety, and twenty-five million of the Burgoyne stamp.

Air Mail Notes

I am informed by Mr. Warren Irving Glover, Second Assistant Postmaster General, that after giving careful consideration to the subject, it has been decided to supply the Postmaster at West, Fla., with a special cancella stamp for use on mail dispatched by office over the first flight under contract from Key West to Havana, and of points in Cuba. It is assumed that service will be placed in operation before November 15th next.

Mail passing through the Detroit Office on August 10th, the day when Colonel Lindbergh visited that town, received a special marking in magenta showing the airplane "Spirit of St. Louis," together with rectangle, which we find, "Colonel Lindbergh V. Birthplace, August 10, 1927." I wish to thank Mr. Herman W. Boers for sending a cover showing this special mark. Mr. Boers also sends a clipping showing the Postmaster of Detroit applying this postmark to some of the letters.

The long heralded mail carrying flag from Springfield, Ill., in honor of Colonel Lindbergh took place as previously announced on August 15th. At that time the trans-Atlantic flyer visited the city and mail carried on this flight received a special cancellation reading, "Special Flight, Lindbergh Day, C. A. M. 2, Lindbergh Field, August 15, 1927, Springfield, Ill." In addition, the postmark shows the "Spirit of St. Louis" together with a copy of the autograph of the famous flyer. This postal marking on covers that I have seen is half in magenta and half in black, looking as if ink pads were used to make the postmark.

There is a small rectangular four line marking in violet reading, "Carried by mail plane, escort to Colonel Lindbergh."

The daily press announces that Lieutenant Clarence H. Schildhauer, a naval aviator, piloting a PN-10 seaplane, endeavor to drop several bags of mail on the deck of the S. S. Leviathan, when en route eastward. The experiment for the purpose of speeding up the trans-oceanic mail service. It is expected this delivery will be made on Saturday, August 20th.

Air Mail Conference

The information service of the Post Office Department announces under date of August 8th, that a definite program outlining America's position in regard to the handling and treatment of international air mail has been mapped out and will be presented to the Air Mail Conference called by the International Bureau of the Universal Postal Union which convenes at the Hague on September 1, it was announced today by Postmaster General New.

America will be represented at the conference by W. Irving Glover, Second Assistant Postmaster General, and Eugene White, Superintendent of Foreign Mails of the Post Office Department.

We Are Commencing A New Season---Start It Right!

I hold one of the greatest existing combined nineteenth and twentieth century stock of British Colonials. The value of my twentieth century stock alone runs well into six figures in dollars—and do you know of any other similar stock to equal it—particularly when I say that this is worked out on a very conservative basis? I would not hazard a guess at the value of my nineteenth century stock—but you have an opportunity to find out for yourself what it consists of. Have you ever stopped to consider the advantages you have in buying from a stock of this nature? It is my practice to tender the best I have against orders, and chances are that these "best" items are just the kind of stamps that you have been hoping to secure. A stock, consisting of one or two copies of each stamp, cannot possibly offer you the same choice. Remember also that you are at liberty to return anything that does not suit your ideas—however, I receive mighty few returns of stamps actually ordered.

I also invite you to compare my prices with any bona fide offerings made here or abroad—regardless of whether you are an advanced collector or a beginner you are bound to find something worth while among my offerings as regularly appearing in MEKEEL'S—and if you are a "market sharp," you are bound to find a whole lot.

Don't forget that sound nineteenth and twentieth century British Colonials are among the best available investments—and I am here not talking of stamps only. I know of few other stamps that can compare with them in this respect. There are other stamps quite as interesting for study—but don't forget that many of these represent nothing but "frozen capital"—and some not even that much!

An ever increasing world-wide demand exists for British Colonials,—to the inexperienced collector still uncertain as to what to collect, I wish I could show the quantity and the value of the stamps that I send out every week. Some orders amount to just a few cents—others run into large amounts—several thousand dollars at times. I am here to fill all orders—they all get the same attention regardless of the amount involved.

FOR THE CONNOISSEUR:--

CEYLON, 6d, #2, angular used block of three on piece with 1d, #3 and 2d, #4a, a magnificent piece.
1sh, #11, used hor. strip of three in marvelous condition.
5d, #51, hor. pair on cover.—I believe a used pair unique.
2sh, #58, used strip of four, very fine.
ST. VINCENT, 1d, #13, vert. pair, imperf. between, mint, and of the greatest rarity.
TURKS IS., 2½d on 1sh, hor. mint pair consisting of #27a and #28, two of the rarest stamps of the B. W. I.'s, and possibly unique in this state.
While British Colonials of all periods are my specialty, I am also occasionally able to offer worth while items of other countries:—
U. S. A., 1851, 3c, used block of ten on cover—probably the largest known block on cover.
30c, National with grill, #143, mint, remarkably fine.
90c, Continental, #166, mint block of six.
State $5, well centered, mint (cat. $300.00).
DENMARK, 16s, #15, mint corner block of sixteen with full sheet margins, an extremely rare and most beautiful piece.
Enquiries for anything in British Colonials invited, and want lists promptly attended to.

We understand that all the current Nicaraguan stamps, postal and fiscal, have been earmarked in this way, in accordance with a decree dated Managua, April 28, 1927, the reason being that large quantities of the regular adhesives have been stolen. All stamps without such overprint were demonetized as from May 15th.—Stamp Collecting.

NETHERLANDS.—Mr. William T. Sudds advises that the 7½c has been changed to violet color.

Mr. R. Roberts advises that he has received the new 2½c bistre, reported last week with the so called "jazz" perforation.

NORWAY.—Whitfield King & Co. report the following new items of this country: 350 in olive; 400 slate grey; 500 claret; 600 blue. All are in the Lion design.

PAPUA.—We understand that the 6d denomination of the bicolor issue has been temporarily withdrawn until stocks of the 6d orange-brown (S.G. No. 98) have been used up. So far we have not seen or heard anything of the new watermarked paper which is intended to be

PARAGUAY.—Whitfield King & Co. have shown us the 50c blue, design as reported in the issue of two weeks ago, with surcharge "C" in red.

PATIALA.—Mr. R. Roberts has shown us the 1a brown, surcharged for official use "Service," watermarked multiple star. Nasik printing. Our correspondent further adds that he understands that only 800 sheets have been thus printed.

PERSIA.—Whitfield King & Co. send copies of the 10ch brown in the new design.

RUSSIA.—Mr. J. L. Riedel informs us that for the tenth anniversary of the Russian Revolution a new series of stamps of five values will be issued on November 7th. The sale of corresponding values of the current set will be stopped until these jubilee stamps are exhausted.

SAAR.—Whitfield King & Co. inform us that the 40c, 75c and 1fr of the new pictorial set have been surcharged for official use in the usual manner in red.

TRANSJORDANIA.—An esteemed correspondent in Palestine kindly sends us the subjoined extract from a letter from Amman:

When the Legislative Council (of Transjordan) is inaugurated here, which it will be during the next six months, the Government propose to issue a set of stamps with a special surcharge to celebrate the event, and incidentally to extract a little money from collectors. Within the year the new Transjordan stamps should be in use. They have the portrait of the Amir in the centre.—Stamp Collecting.

TURKEY.—It is proposed to surcharge the stocks on hand of the stamps of 1923-25 to cover the increased postage rates, which are 12½pi (from 10pi) for ordinary letters, 7½pi (from 6pi) for post cards, and 16pi (from 10pi) for registered letters.—Stamp Collecting.

THE PRECANCEL REVIEW

Edited by FREDERICK W. ALLEN, 401 Oak Street, S. E., Minneapolis, Minn.

LENIOR
N. C.

CORNING
N. Y.

ROLLING FORK,
MISS.

Part I—The Illustrations

Lenoir, N. C.—Has appeared with the new Universal Style 12 electroplate, which produces one of the neatest styles of overprint. This is the second printed type for Lenoir. Type I consists of two lines of serif caps, without lines above and below. A rare variety exists on the current 5c, being a double impression—one Type I and one Type II.

Corning, N. Y.—Few precancels are more attractive than those coming from this office, on the current series. The illustration shows three lines above and below, which is quite singular. I have seen the complete set up to the 50c with the exceptions of the 1/2c, 13c, and 25c.

Rolling Fork, Miss.—Are among the most sought after precancels in existence. There are a number of varieties, as the printer evidently ran short of the standard type which is shown in the illustration. Prof. A. F. Gamber has the most complete lot of these stamps that I have inspected. Similar to the illustration, but with one line above and below, there is the 1c, 11c, and a block of four of the 20c reading up. Similar to the illustration, but with "MISS." reading "Miss." he has the 1c, 2c, 5c and 9c. In the illustrated type, there is the 1c, 6c, 9c, 10c and 11c. The 6c shows the second "L" in "ROLLING" to have been constructed by means of an "I" and a period, spaced as follows "I." A pair of 2c black Hardings is known, and is rumored to have changed from the hands of "Uncle Bob" Sharp to the country's leading "Harding" specialist—A. C. Holly, at a fancy price. In some cases lighter face type is intermingled with the heavier, and we find letters that are "raised" or "lowered."

Part II—New Possessors of the Universal Style 12 Electroplate

Antigo, Wis.—Makes its greeting to the precancel fold for the first time in its history. I can vouch for the 7 and 8c.

Ashland, Ohio—Needed a new plate if ever any city did. The improvement is a welcome one to us all. I look into the album beside me, and note the 1 1/2, 1, 2, 3, 4, 6, 8, 10, 15, 20 and 30c of the current series, in both perforations and in the normal position, with the exception of the last two, which read down. In these articles I generally forget about perforations and positions, and simply discuss the cancellations. The new perforation 11x10 1/2 makes the use of a gauge necessary if one is to be exact. I recommend the collection of precancels without regard to perforations, excluding the Bureau printed issues.

Asheville, N. C.—U-12 is Type V for this office and its first electro. I have seen the 5, 7, 10, 13 and 20c.

Altoona, Pa.—Has been using the new plate for many months. The 1928 Standard Precancel Catalog lists 18 varieties, including the 15 and 20c Special Delivery and 25c Special Handling.

Appleton, Wis.—Is using their U-12 plate in the precancellation of nearly all values up to the 50c. I have not yet noticed the 13, 14 and 17c, but suppose they will appear in the due course of time.

Naugatuck, Conn.—Precancels a general issue for the first time in its history. Some varieties from this office exist on the perf. 12 issues, such as Parcel Post 1 and 2c, Panama-Pacific, etc., but nothing has appeared in recent years. Of the current series, I have the 2, 8, 10 and 20c, as well as the 3c surface print.

La Crosse, Wis.—The new precancels are in a rather smudgy overprint, the poor work being the result of thick ink, the employing of which has always marred the beauty of La Crosse precancels. I have the 5 and 20c in the new type.

Berea, Ohio—Why a new plate was necessary here, is something I cannot fathom for the work done with the old U-8 electroplate was creditable. Possibly the type was not large enough to always insure legibility. As yet the 4c is all I have seen in the U-12.

Beatrice, Nebr.—Also has the U-12, and an electroplate for the first time. Prof. Gamber shows me the proof of this upon the current 15c.

New Haven, Conn.—Makes a change from the U-1 to the U-12. There will be a saving of ink and a betterment of appearance.

Vincennes, Ind.—Has had the U-6, and U-8 electroplates and now adds another, making in all twelve types of precancels to be sought after from this office. In the U-12 I have the 4 and 15c.

Gulfport, Miss.—Affords us a real surprise, for Gulfport precancels are

Want-list Time

This is the time of the year when new prices are becoming effective due to the appearance of the Advance Sheets of Scott's 1928 Catalogue and the near publication date of the catalogue itself. All price-lists are now obsolete.

It's the time when it is best for the collector to sit down, write out his want-list and send it in.

I will appreciate your want-list of United States issues. Reference—your bank and two stamp dealers—if you have not been an approval customer of mine within two years. [13]

BRITISH NORTH AMERICA

We hear that Newfoundland is shortly to issue a new set of stamps, in fact, some of the 1923 Pictorial issues are already obsolete and hard to get. We can supply the complete set for $1.90 or the set in blocks of four at $7.50. (Supply limited.)

CANADA

This dominion has just issued two new sets. We can supply the Confederation set consisting of 1c, 2c, 3c, 5c, 12c, and 20c values at 55c, blocks of four at $2.10. The Historical set consisting of the 5c, 12c, and 20c values at 50c, blocks of four at $1.90.

Have you got your copy of our U. S. and British North America list, free for the asking? Whilst many of these stamps have shown big rises in the advance sheets, we are still supplying all that we possibly can at the old figures. We expect to have the new edition with new prices ready shortly. This will automatically render obsolete all old prices.

quite a scarce article and it would be logical to assume that the U-51 handstamp was sufficient to take care of the work. The printed issue makes a welcome addition to our list. I have the current 2c (10x10) in a block of four.

Galion, Ohio—Is another. The current 3c brings the glad news that the U-12 is on hand at that office. Some of the smudgy handstamps can be discarded in its favor, let us hope.

Part III—U. S. Bureau Precancels

The new perforation is now being used for all values to the ten-cent, and is easy to tell at a glance, simplifying their collection. Following is the list of new varieties that have appeared since the last chronicle in this department:

| | |
|--------------------|---------------------|
| Austin, Texas | 1½c coil |
| Waco, Texas | 1½c coil |
| Watseka, Ill. | 1½c coil |
| Garden City, N. Y. | 1½c coil |
| Worcester, Mass. | 1½c coil |
| Worcester, Mass. | 1½, 5, 10c ordinary |

The Worcester type is similar to that used for New York, Bridgeport, etc.

Part IV—Miscellaneous

The Precancel Stamp Society Convention at St. Louis will be over by the time this appears in print. In the near future we shall cover this with a summary of the interesting features.

The new Standard Precancel Catalog for 1928 is off the press. A great increase in value is shown in many of the early 1898 and 1902 issues. The book will prove of inestimable value to any precancel collector. It may be secured through this department. Price, $2.10.

The editor of this department has on hand an interesting treatise on precancels that he will be glad to mail to any reader upon receipt of four cents postage. This little booklet is known as "The A. B. C. of Precancel Collecting."

A NEW SPECIAL

On September 1, 1927, the air mail service between New York and Chicago will be taken over and operated under contract by the National Air Transport, Inc.

Mail leaving New York, Cleveland and Chicago on that date will have the special first flight cancellation. Cancellation will be applied not only in the Post Offices but at the fields as well. First flight covers may be sent to the Postmaster at any one of these three cities and they will be held for dispatch on the opening date provided the Postmasters are requested to do this.

The National Air Transport will have a special rubber stamp applied to such envelopes as are sent to this office for dispatch. There will be one of these special stamps for Chicago, one for Cleveland and one for New York and covers sent to this office for dispatch to any one of these three cities will be properly handled.

SPECIAL CANCELLATIONS

Detroit, Hartford, Peoria, Saint Louis, and Springfield used special cancellation stamps on letters mailed on the "Lindbergh Days" of these cities. Three of these were officially authorized by the United States Post Office Department. The other two are strictly private. Covers bearing those that were sanctioned by the Government are of course greatly to be desired for collections of covers. The private ones, — well, use your own judgment.

Issue No. 22 of my news-circular, "Washington Stamp News," tells you which of the above three should be recognized. Twelve issues of WASHINGTON STAMP NEWS, beginning with No. 22, will be sent you for 50c. If you don't like the NEWS you can have your four bits back.

SPECIAL. They have an artist at the Springfield, Illinois, post office. Some of the covers mailed there on "Lindbergh Day" have the special "WE" cancellation in two colors of ink. One side of it is magenta, the other is blue. Clever, what? You may have one of these covers for $1.00.

A. P. S. CONVENTION

Evening, August 16

The Bourse in the evening, which was held in the convention hall of the Marquette Hotel was a real opportunity for those in attendance to see many beautiful and rare stamps shown by the different members. Outside of this feature, it affords an individual to gather ideas that will assist him in solving his problem of stamp mounting and arrangement. In many respects, the real value of the Bourse to the members of the society attending conventions, can not be overestimated.

Tom C. E. Hunter of Chicago (Penny Blacks and Irish) was entertaining prospective customers as he gathered in the shekels in exchange for the first stamps of the world.

Ralph Eilers, popular committeeman from St. Louis, was apparently doing the big business of the evening as his register was ringing sales with consistent and pleasing regularity.

Second Day, August 17

The second day's meeting of the A. P. S. Convention opened at 10 A. M., President A. H. Wilhelm presiding.

Reports from various committees were received and placed on file. Upon conclusion of the report by the Obituary Committee, all members arose and stood in silence as a tribute to the memory of those who have passed from our midst since the time of our last meeting in New York.

Upon information that Mr. Harry M. Lewy, Attorney for the Society for the last several years, had been stricken with a severe illness preventing his continuance in that capacity, the members extended their appreciation of his efforts by a rising vote of thanks and their sincerest best wishes for his early recovery.

At this time Secretary H. A. Davis presented the invitations of Governor Simpson of Louisiana and Mayor J. J. O'Keefe of New Orleans on behalf of the latter City for next year's convention. With these was also an invitation from the Chamber of Commerce and the

This is the name we give to a series of approval books designed especially for those who want to know more about the 19th Century issues of United States stamps and who are interested in filling as many as possible of those empty spaces with stamps that are presentable in appearance and correctly classified.

These "Educator" approval books have helped scores of collectors to find the missing varieties they were not so sure of identifying, and have further given them some idea of values as governed by condition. They are priced for what we think they are worth, perhaps twice catalog, or perhaps 1/4 of catalog according to the desirability of the particular specimen.

SENIOR "EDUCATORS"

Are similarly arranged, but designed for those who want only fine copies and who are willing to pay for superior quality.

Both series of "Educators" represent all 19th Century issues with considerable completeness. Ask for any particular issue that interests you, or start with the 1847-51 booklet and work through the lot.

SPECIALIZED SELECTIONS

Made up to suit individual want lists, and include varieties of cancellation, of paper, of printing, of shade. Pairs, strips, blocks, covers; whatever your speciality our stock is at your service and should be of some use to even the most advanced specialist.

J. O. MOORE, Inc., Hammondsport, N. Y., U. S. A.

Philatelic Society of Toronto, Canada. There being no other contestants for the place of next year's meeting, these were referred to the committee on conventions.

Upon recommendation for the creation and establishment of a permanent Exchange Department within the A. P. S. for the benefit of its members, the same was referred to the Publicity Committee with instructions to investigate and to report with their findings and recommendations at next year's meeting.

There being no other business to come before the meeting, the convention adjourned till Thursday morning at 10 A. M.

The afternoon was spent at the ball game, some attending the stamp exhibition at the Art Museum and other enjoying a pleasant time at the theatre.

The Auction, conducted by H. A. Diamant for the Hussman Stamp Co., in the evening, was very interesting and attended by all. Many rare and fine pieces were offered and, generally speaking, all lots brought a fair price, United States stamps, naturally, commanding good prices. In all 750 lots were offered, the catalogue value being in the neighborhood of $25,000.00.

Third Day, August 18

The last day's meeting opened at 10 A. M. for the final action and disposal of all unfinished business of the convention, Pres. A. H. Wilhelm, presiding.

After a lengthy discussion on the report and recommendations of the Committee on Appropriations, $500.00 was appropriated towards the expenses incurred by the committee for the entertainment of next year's convention, and a further sum of $1,000.00 towards the cost of a stamp exhibition the coming year.

Mr. McGuffin, Chairman of the committee on the place of next year's convention, informed the members that two invitations had been received—those being from Toronto, Canada, and New Orleans; that Toronto had been chosen last year as the place for the present meeting, but that the convention had reconsidered its action and decided to come to St. Louis owing to the question of legality of holding such a meeting outside of the United States; that since that time legal opinions had been received on this question to the effect that such a meeting would be in conformity with the By-Laws of the Society and upon recommendation of the committee, Toronto was unanimously chosen as the Convention City for 1928.

The committee on Resolutions headed by C. E. Severn of Chicago, submitted, among others, the following resolutions:

An expression of unqualified endorsement of the last administration; more particularly commending the leadership of Pres. A. H. Wilhelm and congratulating him upon the progress of the Society and the fair and impartial manner in which he had discharged his obligations.

A resolution expressing gratitude to Mr. H. A. Diamant of St. Louis for his loyalty and devotion to Philately as shown by his unselfish and untiring efforts put forth in the past.

With a final resolution of appreciation for the work of the committee having in charge the arrangements of the convention, all resolutions were adopted as submitted by a unanimous vote of the members present.

Pres. Wilhelm, in closing the convention, pointed out the aims and ideals of our society—the advantages of membership—its influence for good in the future development and furtherance of our hobby—its record of accomplishment, with the hope for a continuance of the splendid spirit of co-operation and harmony within our ranks that the resulting growth and progress could be measured by proportionate greatness of our achievements.

There being no other business to come before the convention upon motion of W. C. Stone, the forty-second annual convention of the American Philatelic Society adjourned Sine Die.

The A. P. S. Conventicle

THOSE OF THOSE WHO AT-TEND CONVENTIONS WHEN CONVOKED, ASSUMED THE DE-BUTANTE'S AIR OF IMPETULANT
INSoucIANCE WHEN BUOYED
UP BY SAINT LOUIS' GENEROUS HOSPITALITY FOR THE A. P. S.
CONVENTION LAST WEEK.

To the strains of "We Will Gather At the River," ardent philatelists and ordinary stamp collectors approached the Marquette Hotel to engage in momentous badinage and presumptive
raillery for three festive days of stamp talk and kindred subjects and predicates.

Parked and otherwise juxtapositioned
in overstuffed hotel impedimenta, a hundred keen eyed postal frank enthusiasts bought, sold, traded, hypothecated, mortgaged, contracted for, willed and indentured stamps.

EACH SOUGHT HIS BARGAIN, HIS FAVORITE, HIS EROTIC SE-LECTION IN FACT OR IN FANCY
WITH WORD OR WITH CASH, FROM THE STARTING PARADE
TO THE JUDGE'S CLOSING GONG.

A visitor was welcomed in registering under the guidance of Saint Louis
bears and the forbearance of Eilers, Murray, Conley, Diamant, Lacks and Lux.

Graciously they attended to details to bring together the crowd as it merges,

emerges, dissembles and assembles so that anyone might criss-cross his hands
and greet and talk to all at once.

THUS, FAR INTO THE NIGHT
WHILST AT CREPUSCULE, MAT-TERS HAD REACHED EBULLI-
TION AT 25c A CHIP.

On Tuesday, the convention started amid hello's, howeryah's and so's-your-old man. On the dais sat A. H. Wilhelm and Doc Davis and a punch
board operator, and amidst the sound of street car gongs and the sounds of air hammers and falling paving stones,
the convention began.

Time and again, one could imagine himself in a quiet dugout near Chaumont in November, 1918, the air-hammers being machine guns, the falling stones, the zoom of Big Berthas and the gongs, the gas attack signals.

THE CONVENTION PROGRESS-ED STEADILY WITH ADDRESSES AND REDRESSES, WITH COMPLI-MENTS AND SAVORY BUT SED-ULOUS ATTRIBUTES TO THE WORKERS WHO MAKE CONVEN-TIONS POSSIBLE, SO THAT THOSE WHOSE AURICULAR FUNCTIONS RECEIVED NO STAT-IC, COULD MIGHTY WELL AP-PLAUD LUSTILY IN MANUAL IMPINGEMENT.

We listened and listened well.

In three mornings, triple plays, Wilhelm to Hunter to Severn kept the game going, and often one heard the silvery tones of Billy Stone or the guttural incantations of Paul MacGuffin, or the babbling invocations of Harry Konwiser.

Mekeel's Weekly Stamp News

Issued Monday, October 10, 1927

Advertising Copy Must Be In Not Later Than Sept. 28

- ¶ We have found it advisable during the past few years to issue a Special Number to boost the opening of the fall trade.
¶ This year it will be dated October 10 and all copy must be in our hands not later than September 28.
¶ Just let us know how much space you can use and when your copy will arrive as our advertising dummy for that issue is already in use.

WHY A SEASON OPENER?ONE REASON

A Special Number such as we contemplate brings forcibly home to the collecting mind the fact that after all there is no hobby like Stamp Collecting.

STILL ANOTHER

Such an issue gives the dealer a thrill such as Babe Ruth creates when he hits a home run into the bleachers. That languid feeling gives way to pep.

AND YET A THIRD

And of course the WEEKLY benefits by increased business.
And why not? We are all in the same boat and the WEEKLY always gives full value.

METROPOLITAN STAMP COMPANY

1482 BROADWAY (Opposite Times Bldg.) NEW YORK CITY

HERE AND THERE:—

GREETINGS are at hand from Max F. Bier, and he writes us from London:—"Am having a splendid vacation." Mr. Bier will be home the first of September.

WE acknowledge with thanks the receipt of Lindbergh Day airmail covers from Springfield, Ill. One is from Raymond Bahr and the other from Wm. H. Conkling, the cancellation consisting of the special design recently illustrated in the WEEKLY plus a placard at the left upon which is inscribed "Welcome Lindy to Springfield," underneath a picture of Lindbergh, the Statue of Liberty, N. Y., and the Eiffel Tower of Paris.

THE Fresno (Cal.) Bee of a recent date contained a news article about Robin Lampson, who is known to our readers through his connection with the Fellowship Stamp Agency. Mr. Lampson was a member of the relief forces in Russia, working as one of the Quaker contingent of the American Friends Service Committee. A book has just been published by H. H. Fisher of Stanford University giving a complete story of the work of the American Relief Administration in Russia from 1919 to 1923, and a special copy of the book was presented Mr. Lampson.

"A PROPOS my recent articles in MEKEEL'S on "U. S. Stamps used Abroad," Dr. Howard K. Thompson of Boston very kindly submits the following additions to the list of U. S. Military Postal Stations in Cuba, which I think you will like to publish. They are:—No. 1, ?; No. 3, Guantanamo; No. 10, Havana; No. 16, Guanajay; No. 26, Buena Vista; No. 27, ?; and No. 30, Santa Cruz."—DOUGLAS B. ARMSTRONG.

EUROPA AND BREMEN AIR MAIL

(Clipping from J. A. Steinmetz)
DESSAU, GERMANY, Aug. 23.—Thirty-five hundred pieces of mail carried by the Europa and Bremen and brought back to Dessau when the air expedition to America failed, are reposing in a vault in the Dessau Postoffice awaiting ruling from the Federal Ministry of Posts and the eventuality of another effort by Junkers fliers to cross the Atlantic.

German stamp collectors and souvenir hunters paid 74,000 marks (about $17,500) in postage for the mail and no refund will be made for the special postage paid, as neither the Ministry of Posts nor Junkers guaranteed delivery in the United States.

Postal authorities have declined to reveal the amount of money paid the Junkers Company to carry the mail, but it was hinted the airplane builders received about four-fifths of the total amount paid for postage. The Ministry of Posts will decide if the company is entitled to retain this money should no further flight attempt be made.

ST. LOUIS STAMP EXHIBITION

In connection with their this year's convention the American Philatelic Society held an exhibition of rare stamps at the Art Museum in Forrest Park. Altho this is not always undertaken, the St. Louis members signified their willingness to put on such a display for the benefit of those attending the convention and also for the purpose of giving publicity to the hobby to all who might take advantage of the exhibit. Invitations were sent out and the responses of willingness to co-operate were such that the committee was more than pleased with the result that a splendid exhibit was held. The show included "Patriotic Covers" by Hugh Clark of the Scott's Stamp and Coin Co.; "Air Mail Covers" by J. J. A. Klemann of New York; "U. S. Proofs and Essays" by A. L. Liechtenstein of New York; "Specialized Mexico" by H. A. Diamant of St. Louis; "Early Great Britains" by Ralph Eilers of the same city.

Mr. Morrison Pettus of St. Louis, tho not a collector, loaned his collection of St. Louis Bears on cover which of course were more than interesting to St. Louisians as a matter of local pride. Then Chicago brought many fine and beautiful displays, as a matter of fact there were so many specimens that to see them all and long enough to fully appreciate them, was next to impossible. Altho the attendance the first three days was not so great, in all it is estimated that 20,000 people have taken advantage of this rare opportunity to become better acquainted with a phase of this government's activities about which altogether too few have any knowledge.

This exhibition was arranged by Ralph Eilers, Chairman of the Convention Committee in St. Louis, and Paul P. Murray, who was in direct charge of the display at the Museum.

ADVERTISING OF MIXTURES

It is the policy of the WEEKLY not to accept any advertising that relates to pound lots or mixtures of any kind. This fact needs to be re-stated, as we are occasionally receiving advertisements of this character. We feel that the interests of the trade are best served by requiring that the collector shall know just what he is purchasing, and this is not possible with lots as described above. Advertisements must be written in such a manner that our readers may know just what is being offered. It is costing us a goodly sum each year to enforce this rule, but we are satisfied that it is amply warranted.

SHOW WINDOWS OF FORESTRY

In the Nature Magazine for July is an article by Tom Gill under the caption "Show Windows of Forestry." It deals with the Charles Lathrop Pack Demonstration Forest which has been created in New York state, a little to the west of Lake George. The article is illustrated freely and is of unusual interest. The forest is operated by the New York State College of Forestry of Syracuse University. We may add that this is only one of several forests that have been established and they are all proving of great educational value to visiting foresters. As the article says:—"It remained for Charles Lathrop Pack, economist and forest educator, founder and president of the American Tree Association, to coin the phrase 'Forest show window.'" The latest one in the Lake George section is the "show window par excellence." We regret we do not have space to reprint the article in its entirety.

EDITORIAL

The annual convention of the American Philatelic Society just held at St. Louis gave due attention to the business that was presented for consideration and while nothing of a sensational nature was discussed on the floor, yet some of the transactions were fraught with significance. The committee on appropriations succeeded in having an allotment made of five hundred dollars for expenses that may be incurred in entertaining the delegates to the next convention at Toronto and another of one thousand dollars in furtherance of an exhibition at the convention city. While these appropriations may be contingent to some extent upon the success of incorporating them in the budget for the year, yet the feeling seemed to be that it was time to expend some money in the promotion of the philatelic weal. Various funds of the society have grown to such proportions that there is a division of opinion as to whether they should be allowed to accumulate or whether they should be drawn upon for the accomplishment of proper ends. These appropriations may be said to be an entering wedge into the treasury, but it is evident that there are several watchdogs of the treasury who will carefully scrutinize any legislation that has for its aim a demand on the coffers. The directors will have to reconcile the present financial system of the society to the new order of things, as a precautionary measure, in order to make funds available.

When the question of appropriations was before the house, President Wilhelm vacated the chair in order to defend the policy of keeping the funds intact by stressing the thought that in time to come a philatelic home or club could be established as a memorial of the work done by the American Philatelic Society. His remarks were received with enthusiasm and several members volunteered to contribute several thousands of dollars each. With an ambitious objective such as this in view, the propriety of saving becomes evident; and while the suggestion came without previous announcement, it was seen that the picture painted by Mr. Wilhelm was an alluring one. It is probable that the plan will receive attention at succeeding conventions and that it may take form sooner than expected. At least, some of the conservative members have said that a building of the kind, a permanent home for the American Philatelic Society, was one that aroused the inspiration of all the members.

The selection of Toronto for the next convention was actuated in great measure by the wish to rectify the seeming breach of faith in reconsidering the decision made last year to hold it there because of the question of the legality of meeting outside of this country. In the interval, definite information has been secured that the convention may properly be held beyond the confines of the United States and so, the removal of this doubt cleared the way for favorable action. New Orleans was a contender and has a chance in the future and Chicago has entered the lists for an early consideration.

The exhibition was an interesting one and attracted the public as well as the delegates and the lecture by Mr. Conley was well attended. The slides were well chosen and the tribute of close attention was given the lecturer; and it was gratifying to see so many of the younger generation in the audience.

Among the resolutions passed was one of approval for Mr. Warren's publication, "The Pageant of Civilization," which was characterized as the most sumptuous and authoritative book on stamps ever produced in this country for the general reading public.

The trip to the St. Louis post office was a memorable one and the courtesy of the postmaster in holding open house for the delegates on Tuesday afternoon was appreciated. The St. Louis institution is a great one that is modern in all respects and the postmaster takes an intelligent part in all of its concerns.

The social diversions for the ladies were well ordered and the trip to Shaw's Garden and to the open-air opera were for their especial pleasure. The convention picture was not taken on Wednesday morning because of the weather, but on the next morning the members stood at attention on the library steps in the sunshine. Here it is to be said that the weather was comfortable and those that stayed away fearing torrid weather were hoaxed.

The Bourse has become an institution of all recent conventions and it is one of the most interesting sessions of the meeting. The room on Tuesday night presented a busy scene and at midnight some of the avid traders had not deserted their posts.

On August 16, 1927, the Honorable R. S. Regar, third assistant postmaster general, made an announcement orally that may be construed as giving the official view of the commemorative stamp. He said: "I believe the Department is performing an important educational service in making these special series of stamps available and while it is impossible, because of the very large number of worthy subjects, to thus recognize and do honor to every outstanding event with a postage stamp, it is done so far as practicable." Mr. Regar said that while the Lindbergh stamp was to be a permanent issue, it can properly be classed as a commemorative stamp because it celebrates the first non-stop flight from America to Europe. We are able to indicate the policy of the department by quoting Mr. Regar and it is confirmatory of what has been told us by a correspondent from time to time who has a position of authority in Washington.

Furthermore, Mr. Regar said at the same time that "some philatelists earn a livelihood in the study, collection, and subsequent sale of the varieties of postal issues," thereby acquainting all with the fact that the department realizes the existence of the merchantable qualities of postage stamps in distinction to their postal value. Thus, it is to be said that recognition is given to the stamp business which is entitled to the consideration that is given to any other accepted avenue of trade.

The mail that was carried to the "Leviathan" on August 21st was limited to one hundred pounds; and since the attempt to deliver mail to the steamship five hundred miles off the port of New York was in the nature of an experiment, no guarantees of the safe delivery of the mail have been forthcoming from the post office department. Letters to carry both foreign and domestic rates in addition to the charge of ten cents for each half-ounce of weight. If mail is successfully carried, the cancellation of the "Leviathan" will be applied to the pieces; and it was said that the department would make a special effort to guard against commercialism by those who are to mail their letters on this test flight." The mail for the shore-test trip was to be in the hands of the New York postmaster not later than August 20.

At the banquet of the American Philatelic Society, the recipient of one of the few letters carried by Lindbergh to France and then registered to the dressings by Lindbergh from the American Embassy in Paris showed a precious memento.

HARRIS & CO. RENEWS CONTRACT

Well Known Stamp Firm A Great Believer in the WEEKLY

We wrote the firm of Harris & Co. regarding the renewal of the 5,000 lines contract for the coming season. We were well satisfied with the reply from Mr. H. E. Harris. "Yes, I certainly wish to renew my advertising contract. I have been taking it easy this summer; and consequence have done practically no advertising. In fact, our present difficulty is not in selling stamps, but in trying to buy them. However, I expect to take some very substantial space with you during the fall and winter, as I believe in MEKEEL'S thoroughly, and have always gotten good results from it."

August Is Vacation Month

and I expect to be away during that period. Any correspondence of importance, however, will be taken care of and forwarded to me. I will be in St. Louis from Aug. 14th to 19th and my address will be Marquette Hotel, 18th and Washington Ave. A.P.S. members that cannot attend the Convention I will be pleased to represent if they will forward to me their proxies.

A. P. S. BANQUET

Banquet which marked the close of the American Philatelic Society convention in St. Louis was held at the Metropole Hotel last Thursday evening
Sept. 4.

Estimated number of 200 were present, consisting of members, their wives and several guests.

A. H. Wilhelm, President of the Society, had been selected as toastmaster.
Due to a slight indisposal, he asked the privilege to resign in favor of C. E.
Hunt of Chicago, who conducted the banquet in a really admirable manner.
His liberal humor, and novel introduction of the speakers, he held the interest of those present till a late hour.

Remarks were made by W. C. Stone who had his attendance at the first banquet of the society in Chicago, forty years ago when, as he said, Charlie Hunt was in short clothes; P. M. Wolf of Phila., Pa., a close second to Stone's record in number of conventions attended, spoke of his experience in recounting the progress of Philatelic Secretary H. A. Davis of Denver, J. Konwiser, Thos. C. E. Hunter, and "man" MacGuffin followed with their onslaughts of eloquence, providing amusement for the guests. Others spoke of different parts of the Union were on for remarks as the Chairman and any uneasy feelings due to the hostility of their being called on.

W. H. Farquarson of Des Moines, Iowa,
Mrs. Ralph Eilers of St. Louis, returned on behalf of the ladies present.
W. H. Sisson of St. Louis, one of the earliest members of the society, expressed her loyalty and devotion to the Society.

H. A. Diamant of St. Louis turned the serious side of our hobby and spoke in a very interesting manner with responsibilities to the growing generation, pointing out that the burden of the hobby was upon our shoulders and the way for them was upon our shoulders; that the boy of today would be the collector of tomorrow and that it was up to us, in the interest of Philately,
to guide him in the days of his youth,
so that he may follow in our footsteps when we are gone.

A. H. Wilhelm spoke highly of the support that he had received and for the society again expressed appreciation to the St. Louis members for the entertainment furnished to the members.
Toastmaster Severn in his final talk expressed the hope that we will all be present at the next meeting in Toronto,
wishing all "a simple but most sincere farewell" the program was ended.

PERSONALS

Among the early arrivals of the convention were J. J. Klemann and R. L.
Rausch of the Nassau Stamp Co., of New York; Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Wolschieffer of Phila.; Secretary and Mrs. H.
A. Davis of Denver; J. H. Conley of Albany, Ga.; B. L. Voorhees of Chicago;
Tom C. E. Hunter of the same city; A.
W. Jenista of the Hawkeye Stamp Co., Cedar Rapids, Iowa; J. E. Guest and the Mrs., who together, make "We" of the Sales Department, and Mr. and Mrs. L.
J. Flerlage and son of Norwood, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Hassler of Louisville, Ky., are attending the convention.
Both are old in the ranks of Philately,
but still are going strong.

Mr. G. J. Brandeweede of the Robertson Aircraft Corporation attended the banquet and caused considerable interest upon exhibiting one of the only two letters carried by Col. Lindbergh on his epoch-making flight to Paris. They are autographed together with a letter written on the American Embassy of Paris stationery wherein it is stated that the letter was carried by him to Paris, thus of course removing any doubt as to its being genuine.

Incidentally the other letter is in the possession of Mr. Conkling, Post Master of Springfield, Ill., being autographed and sent to Mr. Conkling as a souvenir of that flight. It can readily be seen that either one of these letters is worth something in view of their scarcity.

To Mrs. Ralph Eilers of St. Louis should be given unlimited credit for her work in entertaining the ladies of the convention.

A feature of the Auction was an Air Mail cover carried by Col. Lindbergh on his first flight from Springfield, Ill., to Chicago. This cover was donated by Dr.
R. A. Radasch of Gladwyn, Pa., and auctioned off to J. J. Klemann of New York for $35.00; the proceeds under the donors request were given to charity for the benefit of the flood sufferers of the south.

OUR BOOK REVIEW

We have received from the office of
F. H. Vallancey, 89 Farringdon St., London, England, review copies of three new publications. They are uniform in size and style, well printed, and will make worthy additions to the philatelic library. The books are as follows:—

Early Dates of the Stamps of Victoria, compiled by Henry Harvey, F. R. P. S.
L., price, 25c.

Report of the Nottingham Congress.
This book gives in detailed form the proceedings of the Fourteenth Philatelic Congress of Great Britain held at Nottingham, June 20-24, under the auspices of the Nottinghamshire Philatelic Society. The papers read by delegates are printed in full. Price, 50c.

A Guide to Philatelic Literature. Mr.
Vallancey has rendered philately distinct service in this list of handbooks and articles dealing with Great Britain, British Empire and foreign countries. We have frequently had occasion to refer inquirers for literature to Mr. Vallancey, and this catalog just at hand confirms our judgment in so doing. This book is sent post-free and the literature lover
will do well to add it to his library.

"COVERS BEFORE STAMPS"

We have received from Frederick S.
Eaton, 70 Sachem St., New Haven, Conn., a mimeograph paper called "Covers Before Stamps." It is published in the interest of the Covers Before Stamps Society. There is no subscription price, but a contribution of $1.00 per year is solicited from persons interested to defray costs of printing, postage, etc. The dollar will be refunded at any time if the donor is not satisfied with his returns. Two issues of this unique publication were published in August and we shall no doubt occasionally take advantage of some of the material for reprint purposes. A great interest is being taken in these pre-stamp covers and we congratulate Mr. Eaton and his organization upon the enterprise shown.
The pages are freely illustrated with reproductions of cancellations.

JUNIOR STAMP STUDIES

JAPAN A16
5 Sen Green

Most collectors who are at all familiar with Japanese stamps, would immediately recognize the little wheel-shaped ornament which has appeared on all the stamps issued since 1872. They would at once tell you, also, that it is a conventionalized representation of a chrysanthemum, the national badge—for it can hardly be called a coat-of-arms—of the Japanese Empire. The old nobility were distinguished by their badges or crests of various kinds, and the Imperial family had from time immemorial employed the chrysanthemum as their official badge.

Although the chrysanthemum has been levied upon to furnish the national badge, there is no restriction upon the cultivation and use of the flower otherwise. The plant, which is common to our own gardens, is held in particular estimation by the Japanese who cultivate it to perfection. The chrysanthemum is one of the latest flowers of autumn and it makes up, in a measure, for its tardy appearance by its showy and brilliant effects. The Japanese have a fête of the chrysanthemum in November.

If we now look at the corners of the stamp we shall find a flower in each. This is the cherry blossom, the truly national flower of the Japanese people as distinguished from the official flower of the government. The cherry blossom is supposed to typify the "spirit of Japan." It is almost the first of the flowers, for the festival of the cherry is celebrated early in April, when the loaded trees are a most beautiful sight, the blossoms always appearing before the leaves. Although with us the cherry is cultivated for its fruit, the Japanese cultivate it solely for its blossoms.

Why No U. S. On the Pilgrims?

Replying to the printed question of one of our readers, would advise that the words "United States Postage" was inadvertently left off of the Pilgrim Stamp. It was simply an oversight, which was not noticed, until after the stamps had been issued.—PHILIP H. WARD, JR.

SUBSCRIPTION RENEWALS

Some of our subscribers need to know our rule regarding discontinuances. We discontinue all subscriptions in arrears promptly the second issue of each month. This means that your subscription should be renewed prior to expiration. The expiration number can be ascertained by consulting your wrapper. No free copies of the WEEKLY are sent out and this rule is as fixed as the laws of the M. and P. Our older subscribers understand our rule and the newer subscribers should get acquainted with it.

Stamp News for the Juniors

Is there anything you want to know about stamps or stamp collecting? If so, write the editor. What would you like to see in this department? We have no way of knowing unless you tell us. Mr. Senior Collector, can't you give the boy collector about 50 words of encouragement along practical lines? Address your letter to the Beverly office.

SIDE PANELS

The designs of stamps are usually drawn with the object of concentrating attention on the central view or portrait, but if this, and the inscriptions, do not occupy the whole surface of the stamp, the artist has space to fill, which he often does in a very interesting manner.

Look at the 1c value of the series issued in 1904 by the United States to commemorate the centenary of the purchase of Louisiana from the French. The central feature of the design is a portrait of Robert R. Livingston, and this portrait is so framed and emphasized that the eye is apt to overlook the side panels which occupy the remainder of the space. These are, however, very interesting, for the little picture on the left gives us a view of the swamp country of the Mississippi, so much in our thoughts during the terrible floods recently, while the view at right shows a pioneer wagon in the mountainous country in the extreme northwest of the purchased territory.

Such "fill-ups" do not always take the form of complete pictures. Sometimes the border is elaborated, as in the 1s Victory, New Zealand, where native masks are added in the corners, or as in the 2 franc Air stamp of the Congo State, the design of which includes aeroplane propellers at the sides.

With a good magnifying glass a very pleasant hour can be spent in running through any general collection, and picking out the details which are of interest apart from the central design.—Stanley Gibbons Monthly Journal.

Paper No. 10—Pelure

This is a very thin hard, wove paper, very tough though almost transparent. It has not been very extensively used for stamps and at the moment I can recall no very common stamp printed on this paper to serve as an illustration. There was a printing of the 2c Dominican Republic of 1880 on pelure paper and this variety, catalogued 60c, is probably the cheapest the beginner can obtain for illustration.

A Philatelic Rebus

How many Juniors are really students of their stamps? Our rebus below will tell the story. We have pictured here parts of 18 stamps and to help you out a bit we will tell you that the lower left hand corner stamp is found on a rather common U. S. stamp. Can you locate it and its companions? Here is the rebus:—

You may have three weeks to send in your answers and if you get only one solution, send it in. You may win a prize. Name the stamp or give Scott's Catalog number. You may number your answers 1 to 6, then middle row 7 to 12 and bottom row 13 to 18. Get busy, juniors!

Junior Dictionary

Rostov Issue.—The stamps of South Russia, Nos. 1 to 8, overprinted at Rostov on the Don, at the order of General Denikin.

R. T. M.—These letters on the Venezuela, 1900. "Resellada" issue stand for Ramon Tellos Mendoza, Minister of Interior at that time.

Saargebiet.—The stamps of Germany surcharged "Saargebiet" resulted from a protest lodged by Germany with the League of Nations at the use of the word "Sarre" in the French occupation of the Saar valley.

Salto de la Chorrera.—"Falls of the Chorrera" an inscription on the Panama, 1915, 1/2c stamp.

Schermack.—A name given to a method of separating stamps employed by the Schermack Vending Machine Company. The perforations are of long rectangular form. The stamps are furnished by the government in imperforate sheets and fitted to vending machines with distinctive method of perforating.

Australian Commonwealth

The title given to the federation of the Australian colonies—New South Wales, Queensland, South Australia, Tasmania, Victoria and Western Australia—an event which dates from January 1, 1901. The legislature consists of the Crown (represented by the Governor-General); a Senate of thirty-six members, six being elected by each of the States; and House of Representatives consisting of seventy-five members, the number of these sent by each State being proportional to the population with a minimum of five. The first special stamps for the Commonwealth were issued in 1913.

An Apology

Recently there appeared on this page a list of stamp inscriptions which was properly credited to Mr. Stanley Phillips, but the source of the information was inadvertently omitted. It should have been credited to the book "Stamp Collecting for All," published by Mr. Phillips, manager of the Stanley Gibbons, London. The price of the book is 25c and it may be obtained from the firm of Stanley Gibbons, Ltd., 391 Strand, London, W. C. 2, England. The book in its entirety will be very useful to any Junior. We trust that this apology will make ample amends.

Junior Studies

In coming issues we shall have some "Junior Studies" of stamp designs. If any of our Juniors desire to send in entries they will be considered. Not over 75 words and if published a stamp reward will be given

Athens

I. A city of the State of Georgia having a population of more than 10,000. In 1861 Mr. T. Crawford, the then Postmaster, issued special 5c stamps to facilitate the prepayment of postage prior to the introduction of the general issue of the Confederate States.

II. The most distinguished city of ancient Greece and the capital of the modern Greek kingdom. The name of the city is shown upon the Grecian stamps issued in 1896 and 1906 to celebrate the holding of the Olympic games there.

Perplexing Surcharges

G. A. B.—Gaboon. Certain French stamps were overprinted with letters in 1886, for use in this African colony.

G. F.—Gold Fields. Found on certain early South Australian stamps.

G. P.—Government Printer. And early South Australian overprint.

G. F. B.—Gauze Faka Buleaga (Government Service). A surcharge applied to certain stamps of Tonga intended for official use.

G. P. E.—Guadeloupe. Certain French stamps issued for temporary use in this colony bear these initials.

G. S.—Government Storekeeper. Overprint found on some of the stamps of South Australia.

G. T.—Goolwa Tramway. And early South Australian overprint.

G. W.—Griqualand West. The two stamps intended for use in Griqualand were surcharged with letters. Others issued later only the letter "G."

Best August 1 Advt.

We had a goodly number of entries in the contest inaugurated in our August issue, and our Juniors liked it so that in the fall we shall have another. In making his decision as to best advertisement in that number editor was beset with difficulties. He had to decide in a rather arbitrary manner the various qualifications of graphical arrangement, display, appearance and effectiveness and he came to the conclusion that the two advertisements of Stanley Gibbons, Ltd., and Moore, Inc., were equally meritorious.

None of our contestants mentioned Moore advertisement, and so we are compelled to award prizes to Lyle E. Beal, N. H., and H. F. Rommel, (aged 11) Lansdowne, Pa. We have some of the striking statements made by the various contestants:—

Lyle E. Beal:—"I choose the one of Stanley Gibbons, Ltd. on page 433 because the type is clear and easy to read, is well worded."

H. F. Rommel, Jr.:—"I think Stanley Gibbons, Ltd. has the best advertisement because the firm is paying a good price to announce that in complying with U. S. laws they will not sell any catalogs in the United States."

John A. Horton, Jr.:—"I select the advertisement of Eugene Sekula. His letter to frank a letter with tete-bes stamps must attract patronage."

Carl W. Pickering:—"The best advertisement is that of the S. P. A. Every Junior should write William Lycett and become a member of the society. I have sent in my application."

George Todd:—"I select the advertisement of C. E. Nickles because of its display, leaving no doubt in the mind of the reader as to his proposition."

David Q. Weaver:—"I can say that the advertisement of Edouard Locher is most interesting to me. I always watch to see what his next advertisement will have."

Denman Scudder:—"The advertisement"

We have now received a definite official ruling that the importation of our Catalogue into the United States, in its present form, is illegal.

We regret therefore that we shall be unable to accept orders for the Catalogue from Collectors in the United States, nor will any be despatched by us to addresses in that country.

We realize the great inconvenience which this will cause to the many users of our catalogue, and will do our best to remedy the matter when preparing the edition which will be published in October 1928.

Upn report by the kommittee of apopreeashuns that hav fownd sum $10,000.00 in the strong bocks, a world of elokwence was unleeshed with the result that everywun bekaame generus with muneey. Wun wanted to ereckt a home where broke stamp deekers mite spend thare remaneings das, this proposishun being voted down as it was found to be fineanshally fulish to attempt a bilding of such immense proporshuns, that is, rite at the start. another sujested giving a prize of $10,000 for song that wuld instill, into the harts of the yunger generashun, a desire to try our Sales dept. Wen wun of the more konservativ mem-burs muved that eech member put up $25.00 and that all the muneey be added to wat we alreadie got, wud make a nice sum to invest in sekurites, the matter was dropped, with the suggestshun by the chare that this be gone into more thoro-olie at a futshure time;

The Pres. then kalled for a bell hop who was instrukted to get him the railroad rates from Safrancisko to Nu or Leans and also from aformenshoned city on the Koast to Toronto so that he would be in a posishon to vote intelljent-lie on the plase of the necks konvenshun.

The kommittee made thare report but this was jus waste time as everwun had herd of the wunderful klimate in the south land; the swiet perfum of blum-ing magnolias and the wunderful klam chowdur and fresh feesh and frolicking maidens as they skipped on the beeches, not tu menshun the inwickarating breezes that filled yu with wim, wigur and wital-ity, besides the hospitalite of the sunnie south; all ot which wuz again drawn to the attenshun of the konvenshun in color-ful pickshures of an overrie eemajina-shun. Wile this wuz going on, Tom c. e. Hunter prodused a pickshure postal from Toronto wareon was depickted a familiar seen, which having made the rounds it wuz decided by you-nan-imus vote to hold the necks mieting thare. With a smile, pregnunt with meening's, tu the steno, the Pres said "we hav deecided to go to Toronto in 1928 and it is so ordured." Mrs. Wilhelm leff the rum at this time. Returning in a fuu minits she informed wan of hur frends that she had jus plased hur order for tu resur-vashuns and that she jus wudent miss the necks konvenshun for nuthin.

The sheef Eckseckutiv wen notified of the uneckspeckted ackshuns of his bed-der tu thurds, remarked that sinse it wuz impossibull to make eny progress, the konvenshun resolve itself into a kommittee in the hole, and which being dun, herd the report on resolutshuns, in-kluding the folling, viz:

Resolved that all memburs return all appruvels tu deekers which had bin reported by aforesed memburs as having not bin reseved; that memburs diskon-tinue the further pracktise of selling kounterfits to uther memburs at more then katalog prises of the jenyouine wuns;

W. C. Stone, sensing an outbreak of sentiment with the possiblitie of a renude attempt on the koffers of the treasury, made his kustomary and always ex-peckted moshon to ajorne, wich wuz kar-ried in the youshul karefree fashun.

United States Revenues

I am getting together in behalf of a special client, a very fine collection of the revenue stamps of the Civil War period, and request on approval anything fine in the way of early imperforates and perforates in pairs, strips, and blocks. Blocks of the first issue in perforate condition are also desired. I require any of the inverted center revenues, if in fine condition, and will pay substantial prices for them. The rarities are especially wanted.

United States Postage

I am also in the market for anything unusual in the way of early or late United States issues. While my fondness is more inclined to the mint single and block, I nevertheless want anything out of the ordinary in the way of used specimens and covers. I can use all of the inverted centers, of 1869, 1901, and 1918, and would like two or three copies of the 24c Airplane Invert. Whether you have a collection or an individual item, be sure and write me. The cash is ready for immediate purchase, and the best of bank, commercial and philatelic references will be furnished, if requested.

Don't forget that if you are looking for the unusual in the way of United States postage and revenue stamps, that I most likely have it in stock. Want lists are requested. Most of the fine things in the way of United States stamps that have come on the market in the last several years have passed through my hands. There must be a reason. If you buy or sell, write me.

25c "Niagara Falls," Imperforate Horizontally

I have just acquired from a New England source, a mint vertical strip of three of the 1922-27, 25c green, "Niagara Falls," imperforate horizontally. This is in the light green shade, and I am informed by my correspondent that it was located in Georgia, in the early part of the year. It seems that a portion of the imperforate sheet caught in the perforating machine, was torn off, and then attached to the balance of the sheet, after the sheet had received the horizontal perforations. It was then run through the perforating machine the other way, resulting in the sheet being normal with this small corner receiving the vertical perforations only, thus giving us the strip of three part perforate. It is surprising, when one recalls that the Bureau of Engraving is turning out millions of stamps a day, that so few errors are found.

1912-15, 1c, Imperforate Horizontally
 The Scott Company lists the 1c green, issue of 1912-15, imperforate horizontally, and give it their number, No. 405a. I have recently learned the history of this variety, and mention it as a matter of record.

Only a strip of three of this stamp is known, and it no doubt occurred in the following manner: Before the sheet was run through the perforating machine in order to receive the horizontal perforations, a corner was accidentally torn off, and as a result this corner did not receive these perforations. The operator then attached the corner in its proper place by means of a piece of brown gummed paper tape.

The sheet with the corner portion imperforate was then run through the machine for vertical perforations, which resulted in this corner having normal perforations vertically, but lacking perforations horizontally.

This variety, which is unique, was located by a Washington collector, some years back, and it now rests in a well-known middle west collection.

1922, 1/2 "Sly Wipe" Impression

Mr. H. M. Southgate kindly submits for inspection a vertical strip with margins of the current 1/2c, showing what is known as a "sly wipe," that is, the printer did not polish the plate properly after wiping, and as a result we find a smudged impression on parts of the design. The appearance of over-inking is almost identical on every stamp, looking as though it was the result of an imperfect transfer roll. The figure "1" in each case shows a spot of ink about the size of a perforation on the right of the upper stroke. This regularity is doubtless occasioned by the overflow from a little pool of ink in the medallion which is possibly cut a little deeper at that point. Mrs. L. M. Holmes located this freak at Alfred, New York.

Air Mail Notes

In accordance with schedule previously announced, the attempt was made on Sunday, August 21st, to inaugurate the first shore-to-ship Air Mail Flight. The United States Navy flying boat, PN-10, put off from the Naval Air Station, Squantum, Mass., with mail which had previously been dispatched from New York to Boston by train, after the "S. S. Leviathan" had sailed for Europe.

The plane put off at 6.10 A. M., but returned three hours later, the attempt having been frustrated by the fog barrier. It is expected that a further attempt will be made in the near future.

a substantial amount of mail to be patched via this plane, connecting the steamship at sea. A good postage however, was returned to sender's account of insufficient postage. On letters, it is necessary to pay the postage amount of foreign postage, plus an additional 10c per 1/2 oz. to cover the plane service. This is the first notice that I have seen advising that it is necessary to pay this extra amount for this service.

Mr. Albert W. Draves, kindly send souvenir postal card from Milwaukee mailed on Lindbergh Day, August 21st. The postal extends a welcome to Lindbergh, who visited that city on August 20th and 21st. Unfortunately, no cancellation was used.

Mr. Erwin Strasser has shown covers with the special Detroit Lindbergh postmark, applied not only in genta, but also in violet. The two had not been noted heretofore.

Reverend Mr. Dreyer and Mr. Bacon, kindly send numerous notes to air mail services to be established in the south. One clipping states we are virtually assured of a route from St. Louis to Tulsa, Oklahoma, Memphis. Another clipping calls attention to the bids received by the Department for service between Atlanta, New Orleans, Cincinnati and Chicago and St. Louis and Memphis, the latter be an extension of present route.

Reverend Dreyer writes that the greatest obstacles to overcome is the long time at terminals, which in some instances is considerable, in fact sufficient to partly illuminate the gain on the route. He states that this is one of the chief reasons why the New Orleans commercial and banking interests stated so long in guaranteeing support the enterprise.

An Associated Press notice from Brownville, Tex., under date of August 10th, announces that the Mexican Government has approved the Gulf through Brownville of the proposed Mexico-Houston and New Orleans mail line. The Secretary of Publicities of Mexico City so advised the manager of the Matamoros Chamber of Commerce.

The service in Mexico will be tutored as soon as possible, and the Mexican Government has been informed our own Department that they will up with them at the border.

Canal Zone
 I have received numerous communications asking as to what Canal stamps have appeared from the press. The fact that a few weeks before the perforating machines were changed from the normal perforation 10, several values were issued, has led some to believe that all denominations may be found.

To date, the only varieties from rotary press, perforated 10, with "Canal Zone" overprint known, are the 2c and 10c. The 1c is known perforated 11x10 1/2. So far, these four varieties all that I have seen.

Professor J. R. Frampton and George Brett, call attention to the stamp.

Confederate States

Mr. Stanley B. Ashbrook, the well-known authority on the issue of 1851, is making a study in connection with Mr. Edward S. Knapp, of the 10c Confederate with outer lines. Apropos of the recent finding of a strip of seven of this variety, Mr. Ashbrook writes as follows:—

"This plate was in all probability a trial plate and it consisted of one hundred positions 10x10. The plate was of copper, but the die and the transfer was of steel. Due to the fact that the printers had not perfected their transfer press, which position was in all probability hammered in by hand, resulting in extremely poor transfers which were remedied by re-engraving by hand of each position on the plate with the exception of one. Therefore, 99 positions on the plate were recut and one was not. Each stamp therefore differs from every other one on the plate and each contained recutting all around the design. The top row positions can be identified because the vertical lines do not extend beyond the top horizontal line. This is also true of the bottom row and the first and tenth vertical rows, the horizontal lines of which do not extend beyond the outer vertical lines. Where you have noted two lines and three lines recut are positions where the recutting has been done perhaps a little heavier. If you will examine the strip closely you will notice the numerous retoolings."

DENMARK.—Mr. R. Roberts submits for our inspection the 5kr violet and brown, mentioned last week. The design, perforation and watermark is the same as before.

FALKLAND ISLANDS.—The new printing of the 1/2d, 1d, 2d and 2 1/2d values, Script wmk., noted in our January 15th issue, are now to hand. We are indebted to Mr. B. S. H. Grant, F.R.P.S.L., for the appended details:—

There is very little difference in shade in the 1/2d.

The 1d is in a bright scarlet colour, somewhat similar to the first printing, but clearer and much deeper than the last printing.

The 2d is in a rather more pronounced purple than before.

The 2 1/2d has reverted to dark blue, similar in colour to the 1912 shade of the Mult. Cr. CA, but not so intense as the 1921 indigo (Script).

The difference in the shades is quite evident in blocks, but in single copies it is likely to be confused with the previous Script stamp.—Stamp Collecting.

FRANCE.—Further information regarding the French American Legion stamps is at hand from Rev. J. Dreyer, S. M. The size of the stamps will be 22x36mm and both will have medallion portraits of Washington and Lafayette separated by the Ocean with the S. S. Paris and a plane resembling that of Lindbergh flying above and the Statue of Liberty appearing in the distance. Beside the regulation inscriptions they will also bear the legend; "Legion Americaine Septembre 1927." They are engraved by Dalzers and will be available Sept. 15th. Legion Day, September 19th, has been declared a National holiday. Rev. J. Dreyer informs us also that the information noted above is from the Paris Daily Croix.

JAPAN.—The Philatelic Magazine illustrates the new commemorative stamps mentioned some time ago. They are of four values, 1 1/2 sen lilac (for inland post cards); 3 sen green (for inland letters); 6 sen red (foreign post cards); and 10 sen blue (foreign letters). The two lower values bear the likeness of Baron Maeshima, but the supply of the 6 and 10 sen was so limited that it was sold out by noon of the day of issue. The total issue will be 2 1/2 million stamps.

LATVIA.—Mr. Karl Koslowski advises that to dispose of the few values of de-

SOUTH AFRICA.—Mr. R. Roberts reports that the following values of the pictorial set have been received: 2sh 6p brown and green (Wagon fording river) 10sh brown and blue (View of Cape Town).

SOUTH WEST AFRICA.—Mr. R. Roberts reports the appearance of the 2sh 6p brown and green pictorial with the surcharge in blue and also the 10sh brown and blue of the same series overprinted in like manner. The stamps are the work of Bradbury, Wilkinson & Co., New Malden, Surrey, England.

A. P. S. EXHIBIT AT ST. LOUIS

(The following article appeared in the St. Louis "Post Dispatch," and we are indebted to Eugene H. Funke for the clipping. While there is not very much new material in the article, we think it worth while to reprint and especially as it represents a fine activity in connection with the holding of the convention of the American Philatelic Society in St. Louis.—W. O. W.)

The Art Museum in Forest Park echoes these days to the unfamiliar tread of the stamp collector. It is not the native habitat of the "bug," as the inveterate stamp collector or philatelist familiarly refers to himself, but this week the museum houses for the first time a stamp collection through arrangement with the American Philatelic Society, in convention at the Marquette Hotel.

"It's a great hobby," says W. O. Staab, president of the Milwaukee Society, who has been a "bug" nearly 40 years. "Some people hoard diamonds instead of stamps. But what is there to a diamond compared with a stamp?"

"Here," he continues, with a sweep of the hand around the cases, "is romance, beauty, history, geography, the stories of nations, great men, industry and progress.

"Old stamps are like old wine. They mellow with age. They take on colors that the cleverest of dye makers cannot imitate. Look at these Cape Hope triangles. Blues and browns and greens in all shades. There is color for you."

The history and romance that Staab spoke of are represented in the exhibit on view at the Art Museum in specimens from the extensive collection of Western franks gathered by Victor Berthold of New York, telling the story of the pony express, mining camps of Nevada and California, the winning of the West in Civil War days. Progress is illustrated in items from the collection of "first flights," owned by John Klemann, Jr., of New York.

In the same case with stamps that paid the carriage of letters in the first pony express from San Francisco to New York, accomplished in two weeks, are envelopes from St. Louis, June 18, with the Lindbergh air mail stamp, commemorating his flight over the Atlantic in less than two days.

In the way of beauty, there is an exhibit of early Holland issues, loaned by Louis F. Yeckel.

"As fine a collection of Dutch stamps as exists in the world," comments Klemann, a prominent collector, appraising, with a practiced eye, the artistic effects of Yeckel's collection. "Note how those colors are blended. It is worth $5,000 if it is worth a cent. They haven't got anything better than that in Holland."

Klemann's eye is arrested again when he comes to a group of "Missouri Bears," owned by Morrison Pettus of St. Louis. Pettus is not a stamp collector, but treasures his collection, nevertheless. He found them on old envelopes sent to relatives. "The Missouri Bears," as they are known to collectors, are prized highly. They were issued in 1845 by the local Postmaster and have catalogue values of from $150 to $2,000. The $2,000 stamp is not in Pettus' collection but there is, for instance, the 10-cent gray-lilac, worth $350.

To the casual observer, stamps in the complete plating sets look alike, but not to the "bug." He glances at the valuable collection of "Sidney Views" owned by Theodore E. Steinway of New York, head of the Steinway Piano Co., and picks out the 24 varieties of one set immediately. On this one the hill is unshaded, on that a tiny dot indicates it came from a certain portion of the plate, etc. A restoration of original platings that catches the eyes of the "bugs" is exhibited by Paul McGuffin of Libertyville, Ill.

Stamp collecting is less than 100 years old. Its whole history on a small scale is condensed into the collection on view at the Art Museum. There is the first stamp issued by Great Britain in 1840. The latest is represented in "the first flights" collection. It is an envelope carried by Clarence D. Chamberlin on his experimental flight from the steamship Leviathan off Fire Island, New York, to Hasbrouck Heights, Aug. 1, the first mail flight of an airplane from a steamship at sea to shore.

Patriotic envelopes showing the sectional feeling of the Civil War, including "Jeff Davis Coat of Arms"; an exhibit of original drawings and designs for stamps; an educational exhibit of stamp collecting; a page of Rumanian stamps bearing portraits of Queen Marie, photographed by the Queen when she was in St. Louis, owned by H. A. Diamant of St. Louis; and rarities and special collections of significance to the "bug" who considers every line, marking, shade, and history of the issue, also are on view. The collection will remain in place through Saturday.

In the group of veterans, true 100 per cent "bugs," who shuffle through the gallery with longing eyes fixed on some treasured stamp, is William C. Stone of Springfield, Mass., one of the 10 men who founded the National Stamp Society. He got his start as a collector from stamps sent home by friends and relatives among the seafaring folk of New England.

Consider the Lowly Postage Stamp

IT HOLDS A POTENT INTEREST FOR ADVERTISERS AS WELL AS COLLECTORS

By HARRY P. BRIDGE, JR.

DO YOU ever notice the postage stamp on the letter or piece of advertising matter that comes to your desk?

Perhaps you may casually think you don't—but the chances are that you do. At least you are quick to notice any change in the domestic issues and probably give something more than a passing glance at the little bits of colored paper that bring you a message from the foreign land.

This fact has been proved by mail-order houses who found that metered mail was not as effective as that which bore the customary red or green engraving in proof of postage paid. Some firms which have again reverted to the old order of things also realize that it costs no more to have a new and attractive stamp on their mailing pieces whenever anything of the sort is available, and are on the alert to keep in touch with late issues as they come from the Bureau of Engraving and Printing. A small consideration, of course, yet one not without its importance to the alert advertiser.

On the other hand, even though he may give some attention to new issues and the history behind them, probably not one business man in ten regards the lowly postage stamp as anything more than a necessary evil which exists in order that proof of prepaid postage may accompany his mail. Seldom does he consider these colorful bits of paper as representing one of the finest publicity mediums in the world and one with a circulation which, were it available to individual enterprise, would be something of a space buyer's millenium—from the circulation standpoint if from no other. Nor may he be aware of the fact that, in one instance at least, postage stamps were used to carry private advertising messages.

USED IN COMMUNITY ADVERTISING

Each day in the year, millions of varied postage stamps of the United States of America are carrying the story of democracy not only to those within its boundaries, but to all parts of the world as well. The little-known country of Newfoundland has turned from the drab, uninteresting designs which characterized the stamps of its earlier days to attractive engravings of its scenic beauties which carry their tacit appeal to tourists the world over. The beautiful bi-colored stamps featuring the attractions of the "Isle of Wood and Water" do their bit in bringing vacationists to Jamaica. Panama features the wonders of its famed canal; the numerous states of Africa picture their beauty and resources;

Britain proves the majesty of its empire in a way to make the heart of the true Englishman quicken with pride in whatever of the far flung dominions a letter bearing the bit of colored paper may find him. Even China has realized the practicability of converting a necessary expense into a decided national asset and is utilizing its postage stamps as a means of introducing its famous scenes to a scattered population and to the world at large.

The power of the stamp likewise has made itself felt among the states of Central America where, for a number of years, it has been customary for ambitious dictators and politicians to seize the reins of power with one hand and the available supply of postage stamps with the other. The latter are then immediately stamped with the usurper's name in bold letters as proof of the seizure to those of his prospective subjects who may still entertain doubts as to his ascendancy.

Of particular interest just now in view of the present Nicaraguan unrest is the fact that the designs on some stamp issues of this country are all but obliterated by the multiplicity of rival surcharges—mute but convincing evidence of the hectic history of this nation.

And so on down the line, many instances may be cited where nations—some of which seldom are heard of outside the cross-word puzzle page—have come to the realization that, in their quiet, unpretentious way, postage stamps could be made carry a dignified message to a "circulation" which before was not thought of as existing.

IN PRIVATE SERVICE

Only once have postage stamps been used to advertise private enterprise and, strange to relate, this occurred some years ago in New Zealand. The reverse or gummed side of each stamp of the series of 1893 was placed at the disposal of advertisers who cared to pay the price for such a presentation of their messages.

Naturally, the extremely small surface of the stamps precluded the possibility of anything but the briefest sort of copy, yet a number of well known antipodal firms seized upon the novel opportunity for name publicity in conjunction with their more prosaic campaigns in the generally accepted mediums.

As a result, the ardent swain about to moisten a stamp for affixation to a fiery love epistle might be halted momentarily by the following message glaring at him from the gummed surface: "Macbean Stewart's New Cure for Asthma, Diphtheria, Croup."

The miner, preparing to send a sample

BRITISH NORTH AMERICA

We hear that Newfoundland is shortly to issue a new set of stamps, in fact, some of the 1923 Pictorial issues are already obsolete and hard to get. We can supply the complete set for $1.90 or the set in blocks of four at $7.50. (Supply limited.)

CANADA

This dominion has just issued two new sets. We can supply the Confederation set consisting of 1c, 2c, 3c, 5c, 12c, and 20c values at 55c, blocks of four at $2.10. The Historical set consisting of the 5c, 12c, and 20c values at 50c, blocks of four at $1.90.

Have you got your copy of our U. S. and British North America list, free for the asking? Whilst many of these stamps have shown big rises in the advance sheets, we are still supplying all that we possibly can at the old figures. We expect to have the new edition with new prices ready shortly. This will automatically render obsolete all old prices.

Boston Paid Cancellations

Back in the fifties, Boston cancelled most of the stamps on its mail in black ink with the well known "Paid" cancellation, consisting of "Paid" between bars in a circle. The postmark was in red upon the cover and several varieties are known.

I have a few sets of 3c 1851 covers showing this "Paid" cancellation with different red postmarks, as follows:—

Boston and date
Boston, Mass. and date
Boston, Mass. 3 cts. (small) and date
Boston, Mass. 3 cts. (large) and date
These Four Varieties for 2.00

These covers and stamps are in nice condition and may be returned, if unsatisfactory. [15]

of ore to the assay office was apt to be reminded that he was the exception which proved the rule by this message on the reverse side of the 8p stamp: "Gold Miners use Only Sunlight Soap."

The 2p stamp reminded housewives of the necessity of preparing for forthcoming meals by stating: "Be Sure You Ask for Poneke Potted Meats." This advertiser even indulged in artwork to the extent of having a hand pointing to the name "Poneke."

Other similar messages were used, but whether the government came finally to the conclusion that advertising on its postage stamps was not in keeping with its dignity, or advertisers tired of the novelty, later issues did not extol the merits of merchandise and, in keeping with the trend of the times, New Zealand stamps became something more than mere bits of paper which acted as postage receipts.

SMALL, BUT SIGNIFICANT

There are some who probably will say that it is splitting hairs to consider the postage stamp in preparing direct-mail advertising. Nevertheless, for those who pride themselves on giving care to details,

WASHINGTON, D. C.

they play a small, but important part in the general scheme of things.

A comparatively recent issue illustrates this point very well indeed.

Following the death of President Warren G. Harding, a black two-cent stamp bearing his likeness was issued. Because this was something of an innovation in American postage issues, a sudden demand was created, but with equal suddenness, people stopped asking for the stamp. In fact, many buyers at post office windows specifically requested that they be given the regular two-cent red stamp with the engraving of Washington.

The answer was simple. The novelty of the stamp made it popular at first. Then people began to realize the somber aspect of the black stamp with its mute evidence of national mourning. Little wonder they preferred to grace their letters with more cheerful carriers. Postmasters in some cases found it advisable to send their consignment of the Harding stamp to the parcel post rooms where those sending packages were not so particular.

On the other hand, recent issues have offered special opportunities to direct-mail advertisers or firms using considerable correspondence. Several new stamps have made their appearance within the past year or so and these have included: the Walloon-Huguenot Tercentenary Issue; the 2-cent stamp commemorating the battle of White Plains; the Sesquicentennial Souvenir stamp; the Ericsson Memorial issue, the Lindbergh air mail stamps and others. All of these hold at least a passing degree of interest to even the casual recipient and it costs the advertiser nothing additional to take advantage of this. How many good Americans who saw for the first time the Walloon-Huguenot stamps paused and pondered over the amount of history they had forgotten?

WHEN STAMPS ARE PRECIOUS

An interesting sidelight on the subject of postage stamps lies in the collecting of them by thousands of people throughout the world who retain through maturity this one of the numerous hobbies which added zest to their boyhood—or girlhood—days. Among themselves and a few outsiders on more or less intimate terms with Webster, they are known as philatelists. Some idea may be gained of the energy and money used in gathering representative collections when it is realized that approximately $5,000,000 a year is spent in this country alone for desirable specimens.

Indeed, the evolution of the stamp from the state of being a mere postage receipt to a valuable advertising and publicity medium is due in no small part to the efforts of this army of philatelists in collecting them, thus attaching a greater degree of importance to them. So great were the sales of stamps, used and unused, for collections, it is said, following the World War with its consequent national upheavals, that at least one of the newly formed European states financed its struggling government to a large extent by preparing frequent and bizarre issues of stamps for the express purpose of creating a demand for them among philatelists.

No printer or advertising man ever studied a proof more carefully for errors than the careful philatelist studies the colorful engravings which are his collection—though, of course, from his viewpoint at least, errors in postage stamps usually bring a premium.

Among the better known "errors of knowledge" on postage issues there is the 1½-pence stamp of the islands St. Kitts and Nevis which shows Columbus on the deck of the Santa Maria engaged in scanning the horizon with a telescope—although these instruments were not known until some years after the time of this intrepid voyager.

Again, in preparing a five-cent stamp of an old Newfoundland issue which pictures a large seal, the artist has given the animal a wicked looking set of claws—a zoological feat that would have disheartened the late Charles Darwin.—Western Advertising (Courtesy of Irving W. Johnson).

HERMAN W. BOERS' HARDINGS

An error crept into the story of the Detroit Exhibition. We unintentionally robbed Herman Boers of a gold piece award and quite naturally an apology is the proper thing. We supplement it with a few words about his now famous Harding collection and congratulate him on his success:—

Class III, Sec. 2. Prize award to Herman W. Boers for specialized collection of a single issue—2c Harding, no doubt the best and probably the only one of its kind in existence. It had a sheet autographed by Mrs. Florence Kling Harding, Asst. P. M. G. W. Irving Glover, etc., a cancellation from every capital city in U. S. and colonies and emblems and designs of over 50 pps. It was much admired on the several occasions where it has been shown.

SUBSCRIPTION RENEWALS

Some of our subscribers need to know our rule regarding discontinuances. We discontinue all subscriptions in arrears promptly the second issue of each month. This means that your subscription should be renewed prior to expiration. The expiration number can be ascertained by consulting your wrapper. No free copies of the WEEKLY are sent out and this rule is as fixed as the laws of the M. and P. Our older subscribers understand our rule and the newer subscribers should get acquainted with it.

SPECIAL CANCELLATIONS

Detroit, Hartford, Peoria, Saint Louis, and Springfield used special cancellation stamps on letters mailed on the "Lindbergh Days" of these cities. Three of these were officially authorized by the United States Post Office Department. The other two are strictly private. Covers bearing those that were sanctioned by the Government are of course greatly to be desired for collections of covers. The private ones, — well, use your own judgment.

Issue No. 22 of my news-circular, "Washington Stamp News," tells you which of the above three should be recognized. Twelve issues of WASHINGTON STAMP NEWS, beginning with No. 22, will be sent you for 50c. If you don't like the NEWS you can have your four bits back.

SPECIAL. They have an artist at the Springfield, Illinois, post office. Some of the covers mailed there on "Lindbergh Day" have the special "WE" cancellation in two colors of ink. One side of it is magenta, the other is blue. Clever, what? You may have one of these covers for $1.00.

REPLENISHED STOCKS For The New Season

Each succeeding year we feel we start the season with the most nearly complete stock of United States stamps in the world. And each year we find we have widened the scope of our stock and through careful buying in quantities, when opportunity offers, we are not only able to offer specialists along various lines a better variety to select from, but to offer the general collector or the budding specialist in U. S. stamps many of the sound regular issues at relatively lower prices.

For Specialists

Sound additions have been made during the summer months to our stocks of the 1847, 1851 and 1857 issues, both on and off cover. Of all the stamps from these issues we now have some beautiful examples, some attractive for cancellations, others for conspicuous plate varieties, pairs, combinations, etc. Here are

Some Fine Items

- No. 17. N. Y. 5c Black, a pair on cover; stamps and cover bright and fresh. Stamps close at b. but attractive$75.00
- No. 17. Two fine copies on one cover; town and grid can. 115.00
- No. 18. 5c Providence. A mint block of six; sheet margins on three sides, guide lines, etc. Superb 65.00
- No. 97. Confederate States. 5c Mobile local. A very large copy showing half of next stp. Superb piece 30.00
- No. 33b. 3c orange-browns, two fine copies on one cover, each tied with its own red grid. Unusual item 20.00
- No. 34. 5c red-brown. Superbly margined copy with imprint. One of three known singles. Pen can. but very fine 60.00
- Nos. 40 and 41. A block of six, centered, fresh, full o. g., one row type I, other type II; exceptional piece 210.00
- No. 44. 3c 1857 on strongly laid paper. A rare variety 10.00
- No. 46. 5c Indian red. A vertical pair, superb in color, centering and cancellation. Very choice 75.00
- No. 141. 15c orange, grille. An o. g. block of 4; well centered, fresh looking. Cat. $275net 125.00
- No. 211b. Re-issue of 2c red-brown. Missing in most collections. A centered, o. g. block. Superb 110.00
- No. 211b. Superb, full o. g., centered, singles, each 22.50
- No. 294a. Inverted center 1c Pan American; full o. g. copy, not well centered. New catalog says $100. net 65.00

These are items taken at random from a stock always offering many out of the way pieces. No matter what your specialty, the chances are we have something for you.

PATRIOTICS. — From original sources we have added several fine lots of these interesting Civil and Spanish-American war covers. A fair supply now on hand and we are in the market for collections or small finds.

AIR MAIL COVERS. — Although our sales of these official flight covers have been particularly large during the past year we still have many interesting items. We are in the mar-

FOREIGN STAMPS

Because we have a highly specialized stock of early United States issues leads many to believe we confine our attention to those stamps. Such is far from being the case. We have good stocks of British North America, both on and off cover, including many fine items, and our specialized selections of early European offer many additions to most collections. We are particularly strong in early British, Dutch, French, Italian States, Saxon, Prussian, Balkan states, and other classic issues. In British colonials and South Americans we have many fine imperf. pairs, strips and blocks. Approval selections by countries or to meet your particular wants.

For Years We Have Clung To One Form Of Guarantee

"Your Money Back If You Want It". We do our best to describe accurately and honestly everything we sell, and have the assistance of many specialists in individual stamps and countries, but we are not yet able to claim complete infallibility. Perhaps after another 38 years in the stamp game we may be able to go further.

SWEDEN 1917-1922

For Wholesalers and Small Dealers
5000 Swedish stamps (averaging 50 varieties) of the issues 1917-1922, all on pieces of paper as received by us from the Swedish Post Office. As these have been used on parcel post packages, the higher values being in the great majority.

In sorting a sample lot we counted 5117 stamps between numbers 73 and 159 with a few officials. Over half the quantity is in stamps of a value of 40 ore and higher, the 50 ore being the commonest, with plenty of 110's and 140's.

Satisfaction guaranteed or money and return postage cheerfully refunded. Try a sample lot and you will order some more.

PRICE $7.50 per 5,000.
Quantity limited, so order early.

It is the practice of the WEEKLY to decline all advertising of pound and missionary mixtures. We make an exception to our rule in the above advertisement, as this is a specialized lot confined to one country, is well described and carries with it a cash refund guarantee if required. However, the bars are not down on mixture advertising.—Publishers of MEKEEL'S WEEKLY.

THE STAMP BUG

By E. J. STIDSTON.

Some time ago the writer sent a book
on "Frogs" to a friend who is a patient
in the government hospital in the west.
He is from Portland, Me., a graduate of Bowdoin and Harvard and a bugologist
right. He spends his time hunting bugs and frogs like you and I hunt for the scarce stamp. Well, to get back to the book that was sent him. The stamp placed upon the package was a Houston 50c and I requested that the stamp be returned to me with any others that he might be able to gather. In due course of time the stamp with several others came back and the friend asked the usual questions: What did I want it for?
What good was it? I answered him at length and among other things told him that I was a stamp "bug." This evidently hit his hobby and he sat down and under the above caption wrote the verse below:—

Of all the bugs that buzz o'er land or sea
The Stamp Bug looks most dangerous to me.
Across the sea the giant liners go
Bearing its progeny in safes below.
It travels on the very fastest trains
And flies with borrowed wings of aeroplanes.
Go where you will by land or sea or air
You can't escape; you'll find the Stamp Bug
there.

Its wings with many colored dyes are bright;
With mucilage it holds its victim tight.
Its claws adhere like burdocks, only worse,
And draw the hard earned savings from his purse.

Some kinds of six-legged bugs look good to me,
But not this thousand-legged Philately.
—Phillip H. Pope, Walla Walla, Wash.

A GREAT RARITY

THOUGH UNLISTED BY SCOTT is the so-called 6d "SLAVE MAR-KET" STAMP of JAMAICA.

This stamp was issued in 1921 and sent to the POSTAL UNION only, hence it only exists with the overprint "SPECIMEN". Owing to serious objections by the natives of JAMAICA, it was never placed on sale and Scott #95 issued instead. We have secured from a former postmaster of one of the LATIN AMERICAN COUN-TRIES 2 sets (watermarked Multiple CA and Script).

THE EARL OF CRAWFORD

By CHARLES J. PHILLIPS.

Perhaps the greatest Philatelist-Collector of the modern British school was Sir James Ludovic Lindsay, K. T. Earl of Crawford. He was a distinguished representative of a very ancient family, the Earldom having been conferred in 1398
A. D. upon the thirteenth Lord of Lindsay.

Lord Crawford was a man of very high literary and scientific attainments.
He was a great astronomer and erected on one of his seats in Scotland, one of the finest observatories in the kingdom,

which in 1888 he presented to the University of Edinburgh. He was President of the Royal Astronomical Society in 1878. He was an enthusiastic yachtsman and in his fine yacht—the Valhalla—made scientific research the object of lengthy cruises in the unfrequented seas,
and added great numbers of specimens to the collections of the British Museum, of which he was a trustee, and to South Kensington Museum. He was a famous book collector and possessed one of the finest libraries in the world, located at his English seat, Haigh Hall, Wigan.

WHERE IS "LA AGUERA"?

ROBT. S. GORDON, Middletown, O.

Recently I wrote to the American Con-Madrid, Spain, asking for certain ation regarding the Spanish colon Africa, and especially about "La guera." His reply states that no ination can be obtained of any such y as "La Aguera," nor is there any or settlement of that name known.

aging solely by Scott's Catalog, it ers probable that "La Aguera" has incorporated in "Spanish Western ra," together with Rio de Oro, but ems queer that no such district
be known, especially as the infor-
n transmitted to me was obtained
the Spanish Colonial Office at Ma-
c. Can any of your readers enlighten regarding this? I should greatly ap-te any definite information as to ast or present location of "La

By Dr. Wm. Evans, 313 E. Freemason St., Norfolk, Va.

First let me correct a ridiculous error
in the first paragraph of my notes in the issue of July 25. The two cancellations referred to are on the 2c 1883 red-brown.
Of course they couldn't be on a stamp
not issued until a year after they were used. Please pardon the mistake.

Mr. Richard Walton has sent the drawing of the Schenectady registration stamps shown above. He has it on a cover and it ties two 6c re-engraved of the 1882 issue in very fine condition. It is in purple and is repeated on the cover.
That cover is worth having. Imagine it!

complete this list. Most of them are on has Han. & Na. P. R. R. struck twice on a strip of three 1c 1871. All these are mighty nice items to possess and very seldom seen.

Then there are a few year dated postmarks to be added to the list for those who are interested in them. These have been sent by Messrs. L. A. Heilman, J.
W. Fox, G. L. Habbert, H. C. Woodruff,

The first one was sent by Mrs. Hutchins.
The last two are two of the many used in New York City.

THE REPUBLIC OF LEBANON

By HERMANN FOCKE.

On the Eastern shores of the Mediterranean in Palestine of old there is a strip of land, which up to the Great War
was under the Protection of France,
although a part of the Turkish Empire,
by the name of Lebanon, the name no doubt having been derived from the Biblical mountain of the same name, with Beyruth as a capital, and which by treaty was definitely ceded to France as a mandated territory, but is now practically ruled by this latter country.

This little province, if we may call it thus, is known to the philatelist as "Grand Liban" or Lebanon, and has added to our catalogues during the last three years an over-rich crop of novelties in stamps; beginning in 1924 with the stamps of France, surcharged Grand

piastres and centimes, a few months later, and in order to please or educate the inhabitants, mostly illiterate Turks or Syrians as they call themselves, the name of their country and money was added in their own language or characters in Arabic, and again a short time later, still in 1924, a third issue of new values appeared, and still another in 1925, to be followed almost instantly by a permanent set of 13 values, bringing the total, inclusive of airmail, charity and postage dues for the two years to well upward of one hundred varieties.

Due to fluctuations in the value of the currency, more surcharges were created,
some of them only quite recently, as the:—4P on 0.25P olive-black, 7P50 on 2P50 peacock-blue, 12P on 1P25 green and 15P on 25P ultramarine, and probably still others which I have not seen as yet, because I obtain my stamps only from the mails coming from there to this country.

But now comes the surprise that the country has been made independent, at least nominally, by giving it the name of a Republic, because recent mails have brought a number of these stamps with a black surcharge of République Lib-anaise, so that we may look forward to still another liberal addition to the already long list; I have seen thus surcharged
the 0P50 yellow-green, with view of the City of Tripoli, 2P dark brown, with view of the City Zahle; 4P on 0P25
olive-black, with view of Beyruth; 7P50 on 2P50 peacock-blue, with Ruins of Baalbeck, and 15P on 25P ultramarine, with another view of Beyruth, and no doubt we can rely on it that everything
still available will be thus surcharged, and it would not surprise if shortly we see another surcharge, to which the Arabic characters have been added, and,
naturally, a new permanent set is in the not far offing.

MR. SEVERN ON HIS VACATION

The absence of the Editor of the WEEKLY, on his well earned annual vacation in the wilds of Wisconsin, is the reason we have no Editorials this week, and the space is filled with other news material.

A. P. S. STAMP LECTURE

An illustrated stamp lecture was given under the auspices of the A. P. S. during the convention in St. Louis by Mr. J. H. Conley, now of Albany, Georgia. Mr. Conley for some years past has been closely associated with organization work in Boy Scout circles, which of course gives him a wonderful opportunity to spread the gospel of philately among youthful collectors.

The subject and theme of Mr. Conley's lecture was "Say it with stamps." It could readily be seen that the speaker had spent unlimited time in research and preparation on his topic as he showed by means of illustrated slides photographic and exact reproductions of the various stamps.

In pointing out the value of philately from the standpoint of investment he said that many who possessed millions of dollars have formed collections which could be turned into ready gold sufficient to pay the public debt of many a small nation. On the other hand thousands of day laborers working from sun to sun are finding their chief interest and relaxation in a stamp album whose contents represent only a part of a week's wage. Here is a hobby where men and women, boys and girls, old and young, rich and poor alike meet on one common level where pleasures can be deemed permanent by expenditures which if prudently made, can be turned into money, the equivalent to a splendid investment.

From an educational standpoint, who, he asked, can cover the history of man and nations as therein portrayed? As Mr. Conley changed his slides he illustrated with different stamps of various nations the rise and fall of empires, the progress of the world in its various lines and phases of activity. Naturally all countries place upon their stamps some of their language in order to indicate to postal authorities the amount of postage paid on a certain article sent through the mails, whereby the school boy will unconsciously gather a smattering knowledge of foreign languages as well as a working idea of monetary units used throughout the world.

Some of the many scenes depicted on stamps when classed in groups are as follows:—Statesmen, battles they produced, resulting peace, monuments to the dead and slain, history of their glories, allegories, coats-of-arms founded on martial prowess, maps of countries, flags of nations, water views, landscapes, industries, and rulers of nations, which of course are quite numerous. Also actresses, musicians and poets are frequently advertised through their stamp portraits.

In America we have many stamps portraying the progress of the nation as well as scenes connecting with prominent events of our history, some of which are the founding of Jamestown in 1607 as shown on the Jamestown commemoratives of 1907; the landing of the pilgrims in 1620; Huguenot Walloons; Hudson-Fulton issue of 1909; scenes of the Revolutionary period; signing of the Declaration of Independence; Liberty Bell; Louisiana purchase issue of 1904; Battle of Lexington; Washington taking command of the army. One of the most commonly known is the Columbian issue of 1892 commemorating the landing of Columbus in 1492 and the Trans-Mississippi issue of 1898 as a tribute to the progress of the middle west. In this connection only within the last two weeks the government has put out new stamps commemorating the battle of Saratoga and Bennington.

In all, Mr. Conley's lecture occupied about two hours and it can truthfully be said that it was a feature that was immensely enjoyed by all as it was treated in a new and novel manner. Mr. Conley in this is certainly doing a great deal for the interests of philately and it is especially interesting to see that he takes pride in presenting his talks on stamps to the younger generation and it is certainly to be hoped that his good work will continue.

Written for the WEEKLY CANAL ZONE ROTARIES, 1927

By HARRY E. HUBER.

The first curved plate printed stamps overprinted "Canal Zone," were dispatched from Washington, on December 6, 1926, and comprised 2c (in sheet and 25c and 49c booklet form), 3c and 10c. The 2c was issued in January, 1927, and the 3c and 10c at the Philatelic Stamp Agency, Balboa Heights, on May 9, 1927.

The stamps printed from curved plates were perforated 10, while the others (2c sheet and 25c booklets) in the same shipment were from flat plates, and perforated single line 11.

Between November, 1926, and June, 1927, the perforating machines at the Bureau used with the rotary presses were gradually changed over to 11x10 1/2, to enable easier separation of the stamps.

On May 27, 1927, a further lot of "Canal Zone" (sharp "A") overprinted stamps, were dispatched to the Zone, comprising the following quantities:—

| Series of | Sheets of | Stamps. | Value |
|------------------------|-----------|-----------|--------------------|
| 1922-23. | 100. | | |
| 1c Franklin (rotary) | 5,000 | 500,000 | $ 5,000 |
| 2c Washington (rotary) | 10,000 | 1,000,000 | 20,000 |
| 20c Golden Gate (flat) | 1,000 | 100,000 | 20,000 |
| Series of 1925. | | | |
| 17c Wilson (flat) | 1,000 | 100,000 | 17,000 |
| | | 17,000 | 1,700,000 $62,000 |

The 1c and 2c rotary were with the new perforation, 11x10 1/2, and were issued in the Zone sometime during July. (Unoverprinted the 2c with this perforation was issued in December, 1926, and the 1c on June 10, 1927.)

The 1c 11x10 1/2 has the sharp "A" overprint for the first time, the consignments of 1 million each sent out in 1924 and 1925, were flat "A" overprinted. The 1c and 2c flat "A" were issued July 1, 1924, the 2c sharp "A" September, 1926, and the 2c rotary, sharp "A," 10x10, in January, 1927.

The 17c and 20c were flat plate printed as before, perforated 11. These two values were first issued April 5, 1926, the first requisition calling for 100,000 of the 17c and 50,000 of the 20c.

Back On The Job

Yes, we are back from the A.P.S. Convention in St. Louis, Chicago, etc. We found the weather cool as a cucumber and those Convention fans that predicted we would all melt missed a mighty fine time. Auction Sales were farthest from our thoughts, but the records show we are billed for a Sale (286) on Sept. 28th, so please get in your bids early.

HERE AND THERE:—

WE have received a copy of the British Exchange and Mart, a British magazine in which hobbies of various kinds are given space. The issue of July 23 is at hand, and we note a stamp department conducted by Douglas B. Armstrong, who is well known to our readers. The department in this particular number contains pictures of Jules Verne, one time a stamp collector, and Mr. Pauline Frederick, "who in her spare time collects stamps." We shall take liberty of reprinting a portion of Mr. Armstrong's department copy.

WE are greatly indebted to M. R. Dieter, secretary of the Capital City Philatelic Society, Harrisburg, Pa., for information in regard to some Danzig counterfeits. He writes us that Nos. 1 to 48 have put in an appearance, the source of the output being Lebanon, F. M. Dieter states that the counterfeits may easily be detected and parties interested may correspond with Mr. Dieter at 560 Camp St., Harrisburg, Pa.

RE air mail on London, Can., to London, Eng., flight. There has been prepared a special stamp for this mail. Only 100 have been printed under bond as also is the plate. Every precaution has been taken with the issue, just as it was prepared and printed by the Government at Ottawa. There will naturally very few letters carried on the flight and practically all of them will be complimentary, such as one from the Prince of Wales to King George, etc. Offers up to $25 per letter have been received. Mail from the general public will not be accepted at all, nor are stamps being put on sale. We are right here on the ground and know those who charge personally, but as yet we have not been able to get one letter accepted nor a single stamp. Will keep you advised if anything further turns up. VICTORIA STAMP CO.

THE Bloomfield, N. J., Stamp Club will start the season with its first meeting Thursday evening, Sept. 8, at the Community House, Broad Street. At the meeting the board of officers will announce the desired program for the season. Anyone interested in postage stamps and over 16 is invited to attend our meeting which are held every Thursday evening. The club is a member of the United Stamp Society and receive sales circulars issued by it. At present we have a membership of 15 and desire to double this for the coming season.—T. W. BOORU, Sec.-Treas., 69 Berkeley Ave.

WE are indebted to Joseph Cadek of Astoria, N. Y., for no fewer than six clippings from New York papers. The outstanding one is a picture of the French special stamps to be issued September in connection with the American Legion convention at Paris. Another tells of the airmail stamp collection of Harry A. Truby of New Kensington, Pa. The item says that Mr. Truby's collection contains many pioneers. Two airmail clippings are in the group, one quoting rates for foreign delivery and the other a Leviathan item. Still another item consists of an Associated Press despatch from London relative to the stamp collections amongst the royal families of Europe. All in all, it is an interesting group of clippings.

UPWARD

The tremendous success of the operation of twelve contract air mail routes throughout the United States during the months of May, June and July, 1927, in comparison to the subsidized routes of Europe, is shown in statistics made public today by Postmaster General New.
These figures show that for the month of May there were 46,133 pounds of mail carried on these routes, for which the contractors received $133,738.10. For the month of June there were 55,026 pounds
of mail carried, for which the contractors received $159,201.84, while for July there were 53,521 pounds of mail carried and the contractors were paid $155,183.95.
While the amount of mail carried was less for July than for June, there were but 25 business days in the month of July
as against 26 for the month of June,
which accounts for the apparent falling off in postal business.

There was an increase of 16.3 per cent
in the business of the twelve contract
air mail routes for the month of July, 1927, over that for the month of May,
while the month of June showed an increase of 19.3 per cent in business on these routes over that of May, 1927.

COLLECTIONS!!!

From time to time we have small collections which we prefer to sell entire at a bargain price rather than take the time and trouble to break them up. These do not contain a lot of cheap stamps, but real good ones sometimes listing up to $10 each.
Damaged stamps, where noted, have been removed, the collections as a whole, therefore, being in fine condition. Prices have been made very low in order to clean them up and as we expect many to be interested, we cannot send on approval. We will, however, guarantee satisfaction or money refunded, which shows our confidence in their value.
All are mounted in Scott's International Albums. Just the thing for starting a collection, for filling in with the better stamps where one is weak, or for a small dealer for resale. Order by number.

5. 20th Century. 1901-1920. 4700 varieties foreign. Listing about $1000.00, mounted in three volumes Scott's Loose Leaf International Album. A bargain at 200.00
6. 1920-1926. 1000 varieties listing about $200.00, used and unused. Contains many scarce stamps such as Cayman Is. 5sh M. C. A., Sweden 1920-6 complete except two stamps, etc. Price only 40.00
7. Seebecks. Collection of all Seebecks included for Ecuador, Honduras, Nicaragua and Salvador. A few reprints are included which are marked. Will list over $100. Net price 15.00
8. Sweden. 1855-1924. Complete mint (never hinged) collection of 215 varieties mounted in book just as presented by the Swedish Government to the delegates of the Postal Union Conference in Stockholm, 1924. Watermarks and perforations are not considered separate varieties by the government so no distinctions are made between these. 1855 to 1866 issues are represented by the rare reprints. Includes the rare 55 and 80 ore. Price for these stamps if bought singly from our price list would be about $280.00. Net price for this superb collection only 175.00
9. Sweden. 1855-1925. Collection of 200 varieties in very fine condition. Lists 5.00
10. Foreign, 19th and 20th. 5000 varieties in fine condition, only 22.50

WHEN answering an advertisement mention seeing it in MEKEEL'S.

Six of the twelve routes in the United States, Nos. 3, 5, 6, 8, 9 and 12 performed 100 per cent service during the month of July, according to the figures made public by the Postmaster General. Figures made public by Second Assistant Postmaster General Glover show that the total postal matter handled by seven air mail routes operating from Bourget field, Paris, France, for the month of March, 1927, amounted to less than 800 pounds. For the month of April, there were but 1,282.60 pounds of mail matter handled through this field.

For the month of July, 1927, there were 10 routes in the United States that handled over 1,000 pounds of mail matter, while for the month of June there were 9 routes operated showing more than a thousand pounds of mail matter carried by the contract air mail lines.

Stamp News for the Juniors

This page is primarily for you, the Junior collector. We are interested in what interests you and we want you to take possession of it, if in any way it can serve you. We also invite the Senior collector to extend words of advice, encouragement and stimulation and thus develop in the Junior a real passion for Philately. Austrian Italy

When postage stamps were first introduced into Austria in 1850 a separate series was issued for the Lombardo-Venetian States—known as Austria Italy—which have since been detached from the Austrian Empire and now form part of the Kingdom of Italy. The designs were the same for both Austria and Austrian Italy but while the values on the stamps of the former were denoted in kreuzer, those of the latter were expressed in centesimi, contracted to "Centes." In 1861 the currency was changed to soldi, and in 1867 the ordinary stamps of Italy were used in these States.

Perplexing Surcharges

G. & D.—Gaudeloupe and Dependencies. Certain French Colonial postage due stamps were surcharged with these letters to indicate their temporary use in Guadeloupe.

H.—Hospital. An overprint found on certain early stamps of South Australia.

H. A.—House of Assembly. Another early South Australian overprint.

H. P. N.—Habilitado por la Nacion. These initials were struck on certain Spanish stamps used during the short-lived Republic of 1878.

I. A.—Immigration Agent. Another Departmental overprint of So. Australia used prior to 1874.

I. E.—Interstate Estates. Also found on various early South Australian stamps.

I. R.—Inland Revenue. An overprint found on many British stamps used on official correspondence in connection with the Inland Revenue department.

I. R.—Internal Revenue. An overprint applied to the 1c and 2c stamps of the 1895 issue for the United States. These were temporarily used for revenue purposes in 1898.

I. S.—Inspector of Sheep. An overprint found on various South Australian stamps issued before 1874.

JUNIOR STAMP STUDIES

HEAD OF JUNO, CRETE A7
1900 5+201

This design pictures one of the famous set issued by Crete in 1900-01. It is distinctively a Cretan production, and representative of the island. It is said to have been copied from a silver coin of two drachmas, in the perfect style of Praxiteles, which came from the city of Cnossos, and shows according to some, a head representing the principal goddess of the Island, Juno, the wife of Jupiter; and according to others, the personification of Crete itself.

Habilitado Por La Nacion

An overprint found in many forms upon various stamps of Spain and her colonies after the Madrid revolution of 1868. It means "Authorised by the Nation," the overprints being applied under orders given by the Provisional Revolutionary Assembly.

Sam Styles' Sentimental Stampatale By MISS AMY L. SWIFT.

(Here is a good piece of alliterative composition. If any reader wants to try his or her hand at it we shall be glad to see the result of the writer's industry.)

Sam Styles saw sweet Susan Stubbs setting supper. Sam sighed. "Stay," said Stubbs Senior. Susan smiled, so Sam sat.

"Serene season," said Stubbs, serving stew.

"Simply superb!" said Susan's sister Sarah.

"Sublime!" smiled Susan.

"Sure!" stuttered Sam, surveying Susan.

Seeing Sam's shyness, Stubbs swallowed stew silently. Sarah sedulously seeking suitable subject, said Seth Sears saw Solomon Snook's sister Selina saving stamps.

"Silly!" sneered Stubbs. "Saving stamps show scant sanity."

"Such sentiment surrounds stamps!" supplicated Sarah.

Stubbs sniffed scornfully, saying, "Stuff! Sincere sentiment seeks substantial substance. Stamps seem senseless."

"Sire Snooks should slap Selina," shrilly shouted Stubbs' small son Silas.

"Silas!" said Sarah, shocked.

"Silas, subside," sternly supplemented Stubbs Senior.

Seeing Susan's sarcastic shoulder-shrug, Sam stammered shakily, "Save stamps 'self!"

Susan, somewhat struck, said she saved stamps some, speaking so sweetly Sam's soul soared.

"Swap specimens," suggested Sam shyly.

Susan smiled. Sam said such sport suited Susan supremely, so supper served, Sam shared Susan's seat supporting Sarah's syringa shrub, sociably seeing splendid stamp spectacles. Susan showed Sam some superior stamps; Sam showed Susan some she seized. "Swap!" solicited Susan.

"Surrender seems superior speculation," said Sam, smiling significantly.

"So sudden, Sam!" simpered Susan, softly. "See Stubbs Senior."

So Sam saw Stubbs Senior. Stubbs Senior, slightly surprised, suspended smoking, serenely saying, "Sartin."

Sam, satisfied, saluted Susan steadily several seconds.

Service Sunday.

Some Definitions

Handstamped.—A philatelic expression used to distinguish surcharges applied by means of handstamps as distinct from those printed from type in a regular printing press. Excellent examples of hand-stamped overprints are to be found in the numerous recent issues of Mexico.

Hannover.—(The Teutonic rendering of which as shown upon its stamps is "Hannover") is one of the thirteen provinces forming the kingdom of Prussia. It stretches from Holland eastwards to the Elbe and from the North Sea to Hesse Nassau on the south, its total area being 14,865 square miles, while its population numbers nearly three millions. Hannover issued its own stamps in 1850, but its separate series were superseded by those of Prussia in 1866 on its annexation.

Harper.—One of the thirteen ports in the more or less enlightened negro republic of Liberia at which foreigners are allowed to trade. It is also one of the five towns of the republic which had special registration stamps.

Harrow Perforation.—This is perforation produced by what is known as a "harrow" machine—a machine which perforates the whole of a pane or sheet of stamps at one operation. Its appearance except in the case of an entire sheet or pane is exactly like that of the perforation made by a "comb" machine.

Harrison Prints.—A term applied to certain British stamps printed by Messrs. Harrison & Son to distinguish them from similar stamps printed by Messrs. De La Rue & Co. or at Somerset House.

Harrison & Son.—A firm of London printers who have produced most of the King George stamps of Great Britain.

Hartuma El Arabie.—This inscription is found in Arabic on certain Turkish stamps used in the Arab state resulting from the world war. It means "Arabic Government."

Haute Silesia.—These words are found on the stamps of Upper Silesia.

Haute-Volta.—(Upper Volta).—A French colony in Africa made by setting aside a part of Haut-Senegal et Niger. The Volta is a large river flowing into the Gulf of Guinea.

A "Royalty" Sideline

By H. E. HORNER.

It seems to me that every collector should have a "general collection" and keep the best available specimen of all he can get; but a specialty that can be completed with a reasonable outlay of time and money is very essential if one would keep really interested. A specialty that I have found very much to my liking is a few pages of "Royalty."

I use the best available specimen of the best illustration of every one of royal blood that is found on stamps and have several pages of tables and notes relating to the same. Such a collection can be made complete, or is both interesting and instructive without being absolutely complete. From Queen Salote on seven stamps and Empress Jingo to Victoria on hundreds will provide ample opportunity for the most persistent.

Two Japan Commemoratives

A set of four stamps was recently issued by Japan in commemoration of the 50th anniversary of the country joining the Universal Postal Union. 1½ and 3 sen show a portrait of Ba Mayeshima, first Japanese Minister of Communications and 6 and 10 sen show a map of the world. It is an interesting set.

Paper No. 11—Manila

A light brown tough paper, somewhat with rather rough surface, frequently used for stamped wrappers. It derives its name from the fact that the pulp is made from Manila fibre.

Junior Dictionary

S. F.—On the 1917 issue of Dan stamps appear these letters. They are an abbreviation of "Soldater Frimærke" or "Military Franchise Stamp." stamps in question were not sold to public but furnished singly to the officers by the military authorities.

Sharki-El-Erdon.—An inscription in Arabic on Palestine E. E. F. stamps meaning "East of Jordan."

6 De Marzo De 1845—5 De Julio De 1895.—These inscriptions on Ecuador 1896 issue can be easily translated. The set was issued to commemorate the triumphs of the Liberal party, one in 1845 when it secured temporary supremacy and the other in 1895, its final ascendancy to power.

Smiltien.—This is a small town in Livonia situated on the Abuka River with a population of about 3,500 and occupied by Bolsheviks in 1918. In 1919 under the Estonian Occupation Forces, certain Russian stamps were surcharged for the Lettonian post. The town being without stamps, the commander of the occupying forces ordered Russian stamps lying at the post office to be overprinted and used. The issue was limited, only one value being surcharged the 25 kap.

Staceywise.—These letters are found as watermarks on certain Newfoundland stamps. The complete word is the name of the paper manufacturer.

POSTAL SERVICE

(The following article appeared as an editorial in a recent number of the Montreal "Gazette." It is sent us by B. L. Beard of that city, a well known stamp collector to whom reference is made in the editorial. It is of sufficient interest for us to reprint.)

An article printed on this page on Monday last, calling attention to the fact that it is about seventy-eight years since the Imperial authorities granted Canada the right to administer the postal service, has inspired several correspondents to write in a manner which reflects an interest in the subject that, in one instance, goes right back to the system of couriers—considered to be the origin of the modern post office—organized to secure a speedy communication between Imperial Rome and its provinces.

Not the least interesting letter is one from Mr. B. L. Beard, a philatelist, of Montreal, who gives a chronological sketch of "our postal service history," from which it is gathered that the "most ancient document" relative to "Canadian administration of the post in Canada" bears the date 1750. In that year Benjamin Franklin was Deputy Postmaster-General of North America. Six years later there was one mail per month in Quebec and Montreal and in 1796 M. Finlay was "Postmaster-General" of His Majesty's Province of Canada. At that time there was a weekly service with England and a bi-weekly mail between Quebec and Montreal. There were five post offices in Lower Canada and twenty-seven post offices in Upper Canada. By the year 1827 Canada boasted over one hundred post offices. In 1841 the tariff on mail matter between Canada and Britain was fixed at the uniform rate of one shilling and twopence per half-ounce. Some years later—Mr. Beard gives the date as April 6, 1851—the Imperial authorities conceded to Canada the right to administer the postal service. The first General Postmaster was the Hon. James Morris, and under his administration a new uniform postal rate of five cents per ounce was established, the inland tariff hitherto having been according to distance. It worked out on an average at about fifteen cents for an ordinary letter. The first used Canadian postage stamp states The Gazette correspondent, bears the date April 23, 1851. Mr. Beard's chronological table ends at this date, the story of the evolution of the Canadian postal service, from the rudimentary stages of the early days to its actual state of efficiency, having been outlined in the article already referred to.

The far-reaching effect of cheap postal rates on the business, social and domestic life of the people needs no emphasis at this date, but it may be recalled as a matter for legitimate pride that Canada played a very important part in the efforts that were directed to bring about a reduction in Empire postal rates, and not a little energy was spent in this work by Sir William Mulock, now Chief Justice of Ontario, when he was Postmaster-General some thirty years ago. The boon of a two-cent rate for letters to England, planned by Sir William primarily for Canada, was, if not by anticipation, at all events by consequence, extended to apply to the mail from England. Thus it worked both ways, and with good effect. The cost from Canada was increased to four cents during the war, and subsequently it was reduced to the actual rate, three cents. On both sides of the Atlantic there are advocates for a return to the two-cent rate, and the popular hope will be that Sir William Mulock may live to see the service again put on the basis that he worked so hard to establish in 1896, so that letters may once more be sent to every corner of the Empire for a penny.

STAMP NOTES AND NEWS

Abyssinia.—We have received two more provisional stamps of this country, ½ guerdie on 8 guerdies and 1 guerdie on 12 guerdies. In the former we notice two varieties, one showing a small "2" in "½" and the other, one stamp with a straight foot to the numeral "2" instead of a curly one. On the 1 guerdie on 12 guerdies stamps there is an error with the final "e" of "Guerdie" inverted, also another variety showing a different type of numeral.

Curacao and Surinam.—We are informed that the remainders of the Dutch Indies Floating Safe stamps have been overprinted for use as ordinary postage stamps in both Curacao and Surinam and we assume surcharged with the names of their respective countries. We understand the denominations are 3c, 10c, 12½c, 15c, 25c, 30c and 50c.

Kenya and Uganda.—There has been some doubt during the past few months as to whether the 12c black stamp, No. 169 in our catalogue, is still current. In reply to an enquiry sent to the Postmaster-General of Kenya Colony, we are informed that this value has been withdrawn from use and that it is not likely to be re-issued.

Palestine.—We are officially informed that the surcharged stamps of the 1922 issue were withdrawn from sale on August 1st, and the remaining stock will be destroyed.

Roumania.—A set of twelve stamps has been issued to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the independence of the Kingdom of Roumania. We have seen only eight denominations all of which are dated "1877-1927," Head of King Ferdinand, 25, 30 bani, 2, 3 and 5 lei; Heads of King Charles and King Ferdinand, 1, 7½ and 10 lei. Only one set was sold to each applicant at the Post Office, but we have no doubt that by going round to the back door and with the aid of a little palm oil they could be bought in quantity from the Postal Officials. Our agent at Bucharest tells us that these eight denominations only were sold over the counter, the whole of the stock of the other four values being retained by the postal officials.

St. Kitts and Nevis.—With further reference to the paragraph in our June Bulletin, we are now informed that further printings of the 6d and 2sh stamps are being made and they will no doubt be on sale at the Post Office before very long. We hope this notice will be in time to prevent anybody paying fancy prices for these two stamps.—Whitfield King & Co's Bulletin.

Washington Notes

A few weeks back, mention was made in this column that it had been proposed to the Postmaster General, that the Department issue a stamp in honor of the American Legion, similar to the one being turned out by France. I am now informed that the Department has not acted favorably upon this suggestion, and at the present time there are no contemplated new issues. Hardly a week passes, however, that some suggestion is not received.

The current rotary print stamps with the new perforation 11x10 1/2, are all available at the Agency, from 1c to 10c inclusive. The 6c, the last one to be placed on sale in an unused condition, was finally received by the Agency from the Bureau. As several of these stamps were placed on sale in cities other than Washington for the first time, it would be interesting to know as to the place and time when the stamps were first sold. If any of our clients have first day covers from cities other than Washington, I would like to be informed as to the dates and towns.
